

STATE SPORTSMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

It Will Be Held Here During the State Fair.

One Day to be Devoted to Shooting Inanimate Targets, and Four to Live Birds.

The programme and prize list for the fourteenth annual tournament of the State Sportsmen's Association has been issued.

The tournament will be held at Agricultural Park on the 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th of next month, during the first week of the State Fair, and will be the biggest event of the kind ever held in the State.

The value of the money and other prizes offered amounts to about one thousand dollars, and the gentlemen having charge of the arrangements have received assurances that there will be a large field of competitors, embracing all the best shots of the State.

The tournament will be open to everyone.

Of the four days during which the shooting will be in progress, the first will be devoted to bluecock or inanimate target shooting. There will be seven events of this character, as follows:

FIRST DAY.

First event, ten bluecocks—Entrance, $1.50.

Second event, twenty bluecocks—Entrance, $2.00.

Third event, ten singles and five pairs—Entrance, $2.00.

Fourth event, ten pairs (three men), twenty bluecocks—Entrance, $1.50.

Fifth event, ten bluecocks—Entrance, $1.50.

SIXTH DAY.

First event, ten live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Second event, fifteen live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Third event, "Fay Diamond Medal," twenty live birds—Entrance, $5.00.

Fourth event, ten live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

FIFTH DAY.

First event, ten live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Second event, twenty-five live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Third event, twenty live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Fourth event, ten live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

FOURTH DAY.

First event, ten live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Second event, twenty-five live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Third event, twenty live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

Fourth event, ten live birds—Entrance, $1.50.

SPECIAL PRIZES.

In addition to the above liberal cash prizes, the State Sportsmen's Association has donated a fine William Powell & Sons' English breechloading shotgun.

The Monique City Rod Company (an Eastern firm) has donated a $25 eight-piece split bamboo fishing rod.

Schaw, Ingram, Batcher & Co. of this city contribute a fine 35-caliber D. A. Smith & Wesson's automatic revolver.

E. T. Allen & Co. of San Francisco give a $20 split bamboo rod, and Baker & Hamilton a ten-pound drum of Dupont's smokeless powder.

Where the number of entries do not exceed fifteen the prizes will be divided into 50, 30 and 20 per cent, when there are more than fifteen entries the division will be 40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent. In the latter case the special prizes will go to the winners of the 10 per cent portion of the prizes.

The shooting will begin promptly at 9 o'clock each morning, in order that each day's programme may be concluded, if possible, before the close of the day.

The State Sportsmen's Association rules will govern all matches.

The Fay diamond medal contest is always an interesting one, as it affords the winner more money than he can win in any other match. The conditions under which it is shot for are that all the entrance money goes to the winner of the medal. This year it ought to net the holder close upon $200.

The most exciting match of this year's tournament, however, will be the 25-bird race on Saturday, September 7th.

Every man that enters this contest will add $10 to the purse, and there will probably be twenty or thirty men to face the traps, possibly more. To the entrance money there will be added $100 in cash. As the race will be at twenty-five birds, it will be a very close one, and a fair shot will have a chance to win.

A few years ago a few good shots, or so of trap-shots who were half-dozed depended on to win most of the money in a tournament of this kind, but a new man is growing out now and the generation of experts have come to the front who are capable of holding their own with the best of the old-timers.

Sacramento has some of these good shots, and others are scattered over the State.

The sportsmen of the State like to come to Sacramento, for the best tournaments yet held under their association's auspices have been those that have taken place in this city, if an exception may be made in the case of the great club trophy meeting at San Jose some years ago when the Pacific States captured the beautiful prize.

COUNTY OFFICIALS.

They Cannot Sell Their Wares to the County.

At the request of John E. Baker, District Attorney of Modoc County, Attorney-General Fitzgerald has rendered the following opinion on the law prohibiting county officials from selling their wares to the municipal government of which they are officers:

"Regarding the claim of E. Lauer & Sons for merchandise sold in the county of Modoc, in which corporation E. Lauer is a member of the Board of Supervisors of Modoc, and a controlling interest; also, the claim of Benjamin Lauer, his son, a member of the corporation, who bought goods from the corporation and sold them to the county. When paid for the goods by the county he credited the corporation with amount charged to himself.

"After an investigation of the case I have rendered the following opinion: "First—That under Section 46 of the County Government Act of 1883 the claim

ECZEMA

Most Distressing of Skin Diseases Instantly Relieved by

Quicura

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS

A warm bath with Quicura Soap, and a single application of Quicura (ointment), the great Skin Cure, followed by mild doses of Quicura Resolvent (blood purifier), will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure when all other methods fail.

Down the Grade.

A young woman named Mamie Nolan was arrested by Officers Douglas and Bals last evening for creating a disturbance in a house in the alley between J and K, Ninth and Tenth streets.

She was so intoxicated that she had to be carried into the police station from the patrol wagon.

Wants Her Wealth.

Ellen M. Wilson has commenced suit in the Superior Court to recover from William Donaldson, C. Donaldson, John Dos Donaldson and Richard Ros Donaldson $25,000, which she claims to be her share of the estate of her late husband, who she claims they took without her consent, and for $75 damages and costs.

TICKET SALEPERS.

How the Railroad Company Expects to Beat Them.

General Passenger Agent Goodman of the Southern Pacific Company has issued an order to all the conductors on the railway to the effect that all first-class single tickets sold at full tariff rates between points in Oregon to Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, including El Paso, or any California points in Oregon or any other of those States shall be limited to thirty days, and all such tickets now unused in whole or part may be redeemed at a proper value upon application to the General Passenger Department or local agents.

This plan will abolish almost entirely the scalper's business, and it is aimed directly at them. Instead of selling the return half of a ticket to a scalper, under the new rule it may be sold at a rebate to the company.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Arrivals at the Golden Eagle Hotel yesterday: W. H. Coats, Saguino; G. F. Kleinberger, W. E. Valentine and

THE CITY IN A NETWORK OF WIRE.

Progress of the Work for the Night of the Carnival.

Capitol Park Will Present a Dazzling Picture of Beauty—Arches Going Up.

A new business has suddenly sprung into existence in this city, and electricians are now about as plentiful as plumbers.

All over the city may be seen these days groups of men stringing electric wires in front of buildings or "shinning" up poles with the agility of South American monkeys. Much of the work they are doing is for the coming carnival, but a good portion of it is to be permanent, for the electric era is now dawning on Sacramento.

Capitol Park will surely present a brilliant spectacle on the night of the carnival. The men at work there now have the stately Capitol building enshrouded in electric wires, studded at frequent intervals with incandescent lamps, and when the current is turned on at night the effect will be bewilderingly grand and beautiful.

From the top of the golden dome a powerful searchlight will throw its glare over the city and light up the country villages miles away. Many of the centers and pines in the foreground of the park are already wired, and on the night of the carnival their green foliage will sparkle with myriads of lights, the lighting giving a weird and charming effect to that already beautiful spot.

Havenor & Mier have nearly completed the work on the electric lighting of the park to be one of the best pieces. It will indeed be a "starry" banner, more beautiful than anything of the kind ever before witnessed in this city.

Workmen are now busily engaged in erecting the Native Sons' arches that are to be such a feature of the Admission Days festival, and will be even more so at night when illuminated by hundreds of electric lights in carnival colors.

More than 100,000 feet of wire, and business street have, in the language of the day, "got a move on" themselves that promises wonderful results. Almost every applicant for a license to be a Director-General Coleman for electric light globes for decorative purposes. The prospect is that J and K streets will be brilliantly lit up with electricity on carnival night.

If Sacramento does not surprise not only the natives, but all the "foreigners" as well, who come within her gates on the night of September 9th, then appearances go for naught. For this electric illumination is something that no other community can duplicate. Its significance lies in the fact that the illumination is not to be of lights from electric currents generated by the agency of steam, but by the harnessing agency of nature's own great power—the arcing waters of a mountain torrent that flow ceaselessly down through the rock-walled canyon of the American.

The artificial energy that moves the electric car system of San Francisco and lights many of its buildings would make no sense but for the harnessing agency of nature's own great power—the arcing waters of a mountain torrent that flow ceaselessly down through the rock-walled canyon of the American.

The people of the State, upon the information of W. F. Fitzgerald, Attorney-General, have commenced suit against the Truckee Lumber Company, and the State Line Mill Company, asking that they be enjoined from allowing their shavings, sawdust, slabs, edging, waste and other deleterious substances to pass into the waters of the Truckee River.

The plaintiffs state that the defendants are doing business and operating sawmills in the county of Nevada, in this State, and that the river is stocked with fish; that they willfully and knowingly allow to pass into the river large quantities of refuse of the class named, knowing that it will destroy the fish, to the damage of the people of the State and in violation of their rights; that said refuse poisons the water and renders it unfit for use, and that by reason of such acts defendants are poisoning, destroying and exterminating the fish, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and are a public nuisance.

It is also alleged that said defendants threaten to continue to let the said poisonous and deleterious refuse pass into the stream, to kill and exterminate the fish, to the irreparable injury of the public, and to be restrained from so doing by this court.

Plaintiff therefore prays that a preliminary injunction be issued by the court, restraining the defendants, their employees and all persons acting in aid or assistance of them, from placing in or allowing to pass into the Truckee River, or allowing to pass into it, any refuse, shavings, slabs, edgings or other timber or deleterious substances which destroy the fish or pollute or render unfit for use the water of the Truckee River, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and that on final hearing the injunction be made perpetual.

Judge Hinkson has issued the injunction held under their association's auspices have been those that have taken place in this city, if an exception may be made in the case of the great club trophy meeting at San Jose some years ago when the Pacific States captured the beautiful prize.

MUST STOP POULING THE TRUCKEE.

Injunction Against the Truckee Lumber Company.

Complaints Filed by the Attorney-General, and a Temporary Injunction Granted.

The people of the State, upon the information of W. F. Fitzgerald, Attorney-General, have commenced suit against the Truckee Lumber Company, and the State Line Mill Company, asking that they be enjoined from allowing their shavings, sawdust, slabs, edging, waste and other deleterious substances to pass into the waters of the Truckee River.

The plaintiffs state that the defendants are doing business and operating sawmills in the county of Nevada, in this State, and that the river is stocked with fish; that they willfully and knowingly allow to pass into the river large quantities of refuse of the class named, knowing that it will destroy the fish, to the damage of the people of the State and in violation of their rights; that said refuse poisons the water and renders it unfit for use, and that by reason of such acts defendants are poisoning, destroying and exterminating the fish, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and are a public nuisance.

It is also alleged that said defendants threaten to continue to let the said poisonous and deleterious refuse pass into the stream, to kill and exterminate the fish, to the irreparable injury of the public, and to be restrained from so doing by this court.

Plaintiff therefore prays that a preliminary injunction be issued by the court, restraining the defendants, their employees and all persons acting in aid or assistance of them, from placing in or allowing to pass into the Truckee River, or allowing to pass into it, any refuse, shavings, slabs, edgings or other timber or deleterious substances which destroy the fish or pollute or render unfit for use the water of the Truckee River, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and that on final hearing the injunction be made perpetual.

Judge Hinkson has issued the injunction held under their association's auspices have been those that have taken place in this city, if an exception may be made in the case of the great club trophy meeting at San Jose some years ago when the Pacific States captured the beautiful prize.

COUNTY OFFICIALS.

They Cannot Sell Their Wares to the County.

At the request of John E. Baker, District Attorney of Modoc County, Attorney-General Fitzgerald has rendered the following opinion on the law prohibiting county officials from selling their wares to the municipal government of which they are officers:

"Regarding the claim of E. Lauer & Sons for merchandise sold in the county of Modoc, in which corporation E. Lauer is a member of the Board of Supervisors of Modoc, and a controlling interest; also, the claim of Benjamin Lauer, his son, a member of the corporation, who bought goods from the corporation and sold them to the county. When paid for the goods by the county he credited the corporation with amount charged to himself.

"After an investigation of the case I have rendered the following opinion: "First—That under Section 46 of the County Government Act of 1883 the claim

ECZEMA

Most Distressing of Skin Diseases Instantly Relieved by

Quicura

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS

A warm bath with Quicura Soap, and a single application of Quicura (ointment), the great Skin Cure, followed by mild doses of Quicura Resolvent (blood purifier), will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure when all other methods fail.

Down the Grade.

A young woman named Mamie Nolan was arrested by Officers Douglas and Bals last evening for creating a disturbance in a house in the alley between J and K, Ninth and Tenth streets.

She was so intoxicated that she had to be carried into the police station from the patrol wagon.

Wants Her Wealth.

Ellen M. Wilson has commenced suit in the Superior Court to recover from William Donaldson, C. Donaldson, John Dos Donaldson and Richard Ros Donaldson $25,000, which she claims to be her share of the estate of her late husband, who she claims they took without her consent, and for $75 damages and costs.

TICKET SALEPERS.

How the Railroad Company Expects to Beat Them.

General Passenger Agent Goodman of the Southern Pacific Company has issued an order to all the conductors on the railway to the effect that all first-class single tickets sold at full tariff rates between points in Oregon to Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, including El Paso, or any California points in Oregon or any other of those States shall be limited to thirty days, and all such tickets now unused in whole or part may be redeemed at a proper value upon application to the General Passenger Department or local agents.

This plan will abolish almost entirely the scalper's business, and it is aimed directly at them. Instead of selling the return half of a ticket to a scalper, under the new rule it may be sold at a rebate to the company.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Arrivals at the Golden Eagle Hotel yesterday: W. H. Coats, Saguino; G. F. Kleinberger, W. E. Valentine and

THE CITY IN A NETWORK OF WIRE.

Progress of the Work for the Night of the Carnival.

Capitol Park Will Present a Dazzling Picture of Beauty—Arches Going Up.

A new business has suddenly sprung into existence in this city, and electricians are now about as plentiful as plumbers.

All over the city may be seen these days groups of men stringing electric wires in front of buildings or "shinning" up poles with the agility of South American monkeys. Much of the work they are doing is for the coming carnival, but a good portion of it is to be permanent, for the electric era is now dawning on Sacramento.

Capitol Park will surely present a brilliant spectacle on the night of the carnival. The men at work there now have the stately Capitol building enshrouded in electric wires, studded at frequent intervals with incandescent lamps, and when the current is turned on at night the effect will be bewilderingly grand and beautiful.

From the top of the golden dome a powerful searchlight will throw its glare over the city and light up the country villages miles away. Many of the centers and pines in the foreground of the park are already wired, and on the night of the carnival their green foliage will sparkle with myriads of lights, the lighting giving a weird and charming effect to that already beautiful spot.

Havenor & Mier have nearly completed the work on the electric lighting of the park to be one of the best pieces. It will indeed be a "starry" banner, more beautiful than anything of the kind ever before witnessed in this city.

Workmen are now busily engaged in erecting the Native Sons' arches that are to be such a feature of the Admission Days festival, and will be even more so at night when illuminated by hundreds of electric lights in carnival colors.

More than 100,000 feet of wire, and business street have, in the language of the day, "got a move on" themselves that promises wonderful results. Almost every applicant for a license to be a Director-General Coleman for electric light globes for decorative purposes. The prospect is that J and K streets will be brilliantly lit up with electricity on carnival night.

If Sacramento does not surprise not only the natives, but all the "foreigners" as well, who come within her gates on the night of September 9th, then appearances go for naught. For this electric illumination is something that no other community can duplicate. Its significance lies in the fact that the illumination is not to be of lights from electric currents generated by the agency of steam, but by the harnessing agency of nature's own great power—the arcing waters of a mountain torrent that flow ceaselessly down through the rock-walled canyon of the American.

The artificial energy that moves the electric car system of San Francisco and lights many of its buildings would make no sense but for the harnessing agency of nature's own great power—the arcing waters of a mountain torrent that flow ceaselessly down through the rock-walled canyon of the American.

The people of the State, upon the information of W. F. Fitzgerald, Attorney-General, have commenced suit against the Truckee Lumber Company, and the State Line Mill Company, asking that they be enjoined from allowing their shavings, sawdust, slabs, edging, waste and other deleterious substances to pass into the waters of the Truckee River.

The plaintiffs state that the defendants are doing business and operating sawmills in the county of Nevada, in this State, and that the river is stocked with fish; that they willfully and knowingly allow to pass into the river large quantities of refuse of the class named, knowing that it will destroy the fish, to the damage of the people of the State and in violation of their rights; that said refuse poisons the water and renders it unfit for use, and that by reason of such acts defendants are poisoning, destroying and exterminating the fish, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and are a public nuisance.

It is also alleged that said defendants threaten to continue to let the said poisonous and deleterious refuse pass into the stream, to kill and exterminate the fish, to the irreparable injury of the public, and to be restrained from so doing by this court.

Plaintiff therefore prays that a preliminary injunction be issued by the court, restraining the defendants, their employees and all persons acting in aid or assistance of them, from placing in or allowing to pass into the Truckee River, or allowing to pass into it, any refuse, shavings, slabs, edgings or other timber or deleterious substances which destroy the fish or pollute or render unfit for use the water of the Truckee River, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and that on final hearing the injunction be made perpetual.

Judge Hinkson has issued the injunction held under their association's auspices have been those that have taken place in this city, if an exception may be made in the case of the great club trophy meeting at San Jose some years ago when the Pacific States captured the beautiful prize.

MUST STOP POULING THE TRUCKEE.

Injunction Against the Truckee Lumber Company.

Complaints Filed by the Attorney-General, and a Temporary Injunction Granted.

The people of the State, upon the information of W. F. Fitzgerald, Attorney-General, have commenced suit against the Truckee Lumber Company, and the State Line Mill Company, asking that they be enjoined from allowing their shavings, sawdust, slabs, edging, waste and other deleterious substances to pass into the waters of the Truckee River.

The plaintiffs state that the defendants are doing business and operating sawmills in the county of Nevada, in this State, and that the river is stocked with fish; that they willfully and knowingly allow to pass into the river large quantities of refuse of the class named, knowing that it will destroy the fish, to the damage of the people of the State and in violation of their rights; that said refuse poisons the water and renders it unfit for use, and that by reason of such acts defendants are poisoning, destroying and exterminating the fish, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and are a public nuisance.

It is also alleged that said defendants threaten to continue to let the said poisonous and deleterious refuse pass into the stream, to kill and exterminate the fish, to the irreparable injury of the public, and to be restrained from so doing by this court.

Plaintiff therefore prays that a preliminary injunction be issued by the court, restraining the defendants, their employees and all persons acting in aid or assistance of them, from placing in or allowing to pass into the Truckee River, or allowing to pass into it, any refuse, shavings, slabs, edgings or other timber or deleterious substances which destroy the fish or pollute or render unfit for use the water of the Truckee River, in violation of the rights of the public and contrary to the law of the State, and that on final hearing the injunction be made perpetual.

Judge Hinkson has issued the injunction held under their association's auspices have been those that have taken place in this city, if an exception may be made in the case of the great club trophy meeting at San Jose some years ago when the Pacific States captured the beautiful prize.

COUNTY OFFICIALS.

They Cannot Sell Their Wares to the County.

At the request of John E. Baker, District Attorney of Modoc County, Attorney-General Fitzgerald has rendered the following opinion on the law prohibiting county officials from selling their wares to the municipal government of which they are officers:

"Regarding the claim of E. Lauer & Sons for merchandise sold in the county of Modoc, in which corporation E. Lauer is a member of the Board of Supervisors of Modoc, and a controlling interest; also, the claim of Benjamin Lauer, his son, a member of the corporation, who bought goods from the corporation and sold them to the county. When paid for the goods by the county he credited the corporation with amount charged to himself.

"After an investigation of the case I have rendered the following opinion: "First—That under Section 46 of the County Government Act of 1883 the claim

ECZEMA

Most Distressing of Skin Diseases Instantly Relieved by

Quicura

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS

A warm bath with Quicura Soap, and a single application of Quicura (ointment), the great Skin Cure, followed by mild doses of Quicura Resolvent (blood purifier), will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure when all other methods fail.

Down the Grade.

A young woman named Mamie Nolan was arrested by Officers Douglas and Bals last evening for creating a disturbance in a house in the alley between J and K, Ninth and Tenth streets.

She was so intoxicated that she had to be carried into the police station from the patrol wagon.

Wants Her Wealth.

Ellen M. Wilson has commenced suit in the Superior Court to recover from William Donaldson, C. Donaldson, John Dos Donaldson and Richard Ros Donaldson $25,000, which she claims to be her share of the estate of her late husband, who she claims they took without her consent, and for $75 damages and costs.

TICKET SALEPERS.

How the Railroad Company Expects to Beat Them.

General Passenger Agent Goodman of the Southern Pacific Company has issued an order to all the conductors on the railway to the effect that all first-class single tickets sold at full tariff rates between points in Oregon to Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, including El Paso, or any California points in Oregon or any other of those States shall be limited to thirty days, and all such tickets now unused in whole or part may be redeemed at a proper value upon application to the General Passenger Department or local agents.

This plan will abolish almost entirely the scalper's business, and it is aimed directly at them. Instead of selling the return half of a ticket to a scalper, under the new rule it may be sold at a rebate to the company.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Arrivals at the Golden Eagle Hotel yesterday: W. H. Coats, Saguino; G. F. Kleinberger, W. E. Valentine and

THE CITY IN A NETWORK OF WIRE.

Progress of the Work for the Night of the Carnival.

Capitol Park Will Present a Dazzling Picture of Beauty—Arches Going Up.

A new business has suddenly sprung into existence in this city, and electricians are now about as plentiful as plumbers.

All over the city may be seen these days groups of men stringing electric wires in front of buildings or "shinning" up poles with the agility of South American monkeys. Much of the work they are doing is for the coming carnival, but a good portion of it is to be permanent, for the electric era is now dawning on Sacramento.

Capitol Park will surely present a brilliant spectacle on the night of the carnival. The men at work there now have the stately Capitol building enshrouded in electric wires, studded at frequent intervals with incandescent lamps, and when the current is turned on at night the effect will be bewilderingly grand and beautiful.

From the top of the golden dome a powerful searchlight will throw its glare over the city and light up the country villages miles away. Many of the centers and pines in the foreground of the park are already wired, and on the night of the carnival their green foliage will sparkle with myriads of lights, the lighting giving a weird and charming effect to that already beautiful spot.

Havenor & Mier have nearly completed the work on the electric lighting of the park to be one of the best pieces. It will indeed be a "starry" banner, more beautiful than anything of the kind ever before witnessed in this city.

Workmen are now busily engaged in erecting the Native Sons' arches that are to be such a feature of the Admission Days festival, and will be even more so at night when illuminated by hundreds of electric lights in carnival colors.

More than 100,000 feet of wire, and business street have, in the language of the day, "got a move on" themselves that promises wonderful results. Almost every applicant for a license to be a Director-General Coleman for electric light globes for decorative purposes. The prospect is that J and K streets will be brilliantly lit up with electricity on carnival night.

If Sacramento does not surprise not only the natives, but all the "foreigners" as well, who come within her gates on the night of September 9th, then appearances go for naught. For this electric illumination is something that no other community can duplicate. Its significance lies in the fact that the illumination is not to be of lights from electric currents generated by the agency of steam, but by the harnessing agency of nature's own great power—the arcing waters of a mountain torrent that flow ceaselessly down through the rock-walled canyon of the American.

The artificial energy that moves the electric car system of San Francisco and lights many of its buildings would make no sense but for the harnessing agency of nature's own great power—the arcing waters of a mountain torrent that flow ceaselessly down through the rock-walled canyon of the American.

The people of the State, upon the information of W. F. Fitzgerald, Attorney-General, have commenced suit against the Truckee Lumber Company, and the State Line Mill Company, asking that they be enjoined from allowing their shavings, sawdust, slabs, edging, waste and other deleterious substances to pass into the waters of the Truckee River.

The plaintiffs state that the defendants are doing business and operating sawmills in the county of Nevada, in this State, and that the river is stocked with fish; that they willfully and knowingly allow