LOUISVILLE, Oct. 23.—The racing at the track of the Louisville Driving and Fair Association was again good to-day. The weather was perfect, but the crowd was light, not more than seven hundred people being in attendance. The track was fast, the fields large and the finishes close and exciting. Carrillon, who won the third heat of the 2 1/2 mile trot yesterday, took the two first heats to-day, also the race. The 2 1/2 mile was carried over until to-morrow, Macaron having two heats to his credit. PERTINENT SUGGESTIONS.

Wheelmen Should Favor Proper Restrictions. The following suggestions, made by the San Francisco Examiner, ought to commend themselves to the bicycle readers in this city: The bicycle clubs should give their approval unhesitatingly to all reasonable restrictions on riding in or out of the city limits. They can thus strengthen their position in demanding full protection of themselves and their wheels. There seems to be some difference of opinion among the club members whether lamps are necessary at night for the safety of the rider or not. Whatever may be the weight of opinion on this point, there is no doubt at all that they are essential for the safety of pedestrians and others. A bicycle cannot be heard or seen in the dark, and a light is needed to prevent people from getting in the way of the silent steed. A limit of speed in the city is also needed, and should be accepted without protest. Street cars are limited to eight miles an hour; in the down town districts reduced to half that rate. It is a good idea to go over the crossings faster than a walk, and even in the Park the speed is limited to ten miles an hour. There is no reason why reckless wheelmen should be come with good health. It is easily seen when a woman has perfect health her face and figure show it. The painful disorders that afflict womankind make themselves seen as well as felt. Blurred eyes, blotched or sallow face, and a wasted form, follow them. This is the time to turn to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which builds up and strengthens the system, and regulates and promotes every proper function. It is a quieting, soothing nerve. It corrects and cures, safely and surely, all those delicate disorders, weaknesses, irregularities and diseases peculiar to the sex. For young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life"; and every woman who is "run down" or overworked, it is something to remember that there is a medicine that will help you.

"FEMALE WEAKNESS."

Mrs. Byron Danard, of Milford, Prince Edward Co., Ont., Canada, writes: "A few years ago my health failed. I was troubled with female disease in its worst form, having been afflicted about fifteen years. I was also troubled with constipation, loss of appetite, dizziness and ringing in my head, nervous prostration, hysteria, loss of memory, palpitation of the heart, together with that tired feeling all the time. I consulted several physicians—no one could clearly diagnose my case, and the medicines failed to give relief. After much persuasion I commenced using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have taken five bottles and am a well woman doing my household work from a run-down condition. I have been restored to health. I feel it my duty to recommend your 'Favorite Prescription' for ladies afflicted with female diseases as I have been."

allowed to charge through the streets at a speed of fifteen to twenty miles an hour, and there is a real danger in the practice to themselves and to others. Many accidents have occurred already, and it is important that others be prevented. If these restrictions are accepted in good faith, the wheelmen can demand more stringent regulations to suppress the offenders who strew tracks and broken glass in the streets, and to give prompt redress against the vicious drivers and others who will not run down a wheelman or show how near they can come to smashing a wheel without touching it.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Several That Were Made by Governor Budd Yesterday.

Governor Budd has appointed Colonel John T. Harrington of Colusa a Trustee of the Home for Feeble-Minded Children at Glen Ellen, vice George W. Gibbs, term expired. Colonel Harrington is Judge-Advocate-General on the Governor's staff.

The Governor has also appointed Jacob B. Reinstein of San Francisco a Regent of the State University, vice George J. Ainsworth, deceased. The new Regent and Mr. Ainsworth were close friends and graduates in the same class at Governor Budd in 1878. Mr. Reinstein, who is a prominent lawyer, was President of the University Alumni Association from 1892 to 1894.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Rosedale or the Rifle Ball" at the Clunie Opera-house again to-night. The play has won favor again. We know of no drama of light and breezy character such as this that wears better. The Caldwell Stock Company presents it nicely, and attracts large audiences nightly.

"Triby" is billed for the Metropolitan Theater for the 30th inst.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Williams of San Jose are at the Golden Eagle.

Nicolas Quirola, Postmaster at Todd's Valley, is spending a few days in Sacramento.

John Merkley, Harry Koenecke, Malon Williamson, Charles Parkinson, William Parkinson and Henry Lohmeyer have returned from a two-weeks' trip to Lake Tahoe.

The Ideal Club is being reorganized under a new name, the "Wednesday Night Club." The members gave a series of eight parties at Turner Hall in former seasons, which were very successful affairs. The committee is composed of Henry Feldhusen, William A. Keillogg, W. F. Peterson and E. Wright.

BRIEF NOTES.

William Christ is to be examined to-day on the charge of murdering his wife.

The weather is favoring the men employed in building the new railroad bridge, and rapid progress is being made.

The Grass Valley Union says "Governor J. O. Coleman, ex-Postmaster of Sacramento, and George K. Rider, a wealthy capitalist of that place, have been here on mining business."

WAR ON RAILROADS.

Unjustifiable Action of the Railroad Commissioners.

The Southern Pacific Company, in self-defense, has issued an evocative writ of protection of the courts against the arbitrary action of the Railroad Commissioners. The United States Circuit Court has issued a temporary restraining order, and the Commissioners are required to show cause why this injunction should not be made perpetual. It is clear enough that the Commissioners, in adopting a resolution to put in force a general reduction of 25 per cent in the rates of the Southern Pacific system in this State, proceeded in defiance of constitutional law. If the commission had power to make and enforce any such reduction, it would be a violation of the property rights of the public, and it is an opportunity to be heard, it might with as much legal right and reason reduce the rates 50 per cent, 75 per cent, or 90 per cent. Obviously, such an action amounts to a partial confiscation of the property without due process of law. The commission went into office with its judicial functions virtually abdicated. Its members were pledged by political conventions to the lowering of freight rates, less of any showing of equity or necessity that could be made by the railroad company. And one of them is known to have a large direct personal interest as a producer in the lowering of freight on wheat, the first exercise of arbitrary power to which he applied his hand.

The people of California are supposed to be desirous of encouraging the building of more railroads, and in support of inducing Eastern capital to invest in transportation enterprises here. But what sort of inducement is afforded by the practice of a Railroad Commission making an arbitrary cut of 25 per cent in existing rates, without so much as an inquiry into the reasonableness of the charges so cut down? The legal principle is that the exercise of power to regulate the rates of transportation, or charges for gas, water or other needs supplied by corporations, must at all times be reasonable. And "reasonable" is construed to mean such rates as admit of a profit on the business in question, over and above interest on the capital invested and the expenses of operation. It is evident, therefore, that the action of the commission is a full hearing, and a careful calculation, before any such body as a Railroad Commission may lawfully and rightfully proceed to reduce rates in this or that line, and that such reductions must be made. The flagrant violation of this self-evident principle, by the State Railroad Commission, is a blow to the reputation of California as a State that respects the rights of property.

THE TENT TOO SMALL

Over a Hundred Turned Away From the Vivian De Monto Show.

Long before 8 o'clock last evening every seat in the tent at Fifteenth and M streets was occupied and when the performance opened there was no longer even standing room. An entirely new programme was presented, including laughable character sketches, songs, acrobatic and sleight of hand feats and winding up with an uproariously funny farce.

In the course of the evening Dr. Clark, the proprietor, announced that both he and his associate surgeon were regularly graduated physicians and proved the truth of his utterance by the exhibition of numerous diplomas of graduation from such eminent colleges as Bellevue, N. Y., McGill, Montreal, and Heidelberg, Germany. He also offered to treat free of charge the cases of cancer, tumors, cross eyes, deafness, and in short almost any of the common physical afflictions.

Reference was given to prominent and wealthy citizens successfully treated, including Postmaster and Walter Fargo agent in California and Nevada towns recently visited. Both physicians are members of the German-American staff of physicians and surgeons of San Francisco.

The object of the performance was stated as being to advertise the curative powers, skill and remedies of the doctors. Although understood to be but an auxiliary feature, the entertainment given by the Vivian de Monto Company exceeds anything of a similar character that Sacramento has seen for many a day.

It is a clean, wholesome, highly entertaining and meritorious performance, with nothing to offend the most fastidious, and may be visited by ladies and children without fear of objectionable features.

Entertainments will begin Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock, with a grand admission free to all seats of the tent. Sunday evening Dr. Clark will deliver his great illustrated lecture, free of charge, to men only. Another free illustrated lecture will be given to women only on Tuesday evening.

The performances of the company will continue next each night. Next week a brass band and orchestra will be added, and for new variety the company will feature a clever lady dancer and singer. The diamond ring was won last night by a young boy. Another will be given away to the lucky coupon-holder of to-night.

THE ACADEMIA

It Resumes Its Sessions—A Programme of Music and Recitations.

The Academia met for the first time in its new club year last night, assembling at Chickering Hall. Professor Pond presided, and gave notice that at the meeting on the second Wednesday in November the annual election of officers would be held.

There was a good attendance, and an enjoyable programme of music and recitation under the direction of a committee headed by Mr. Anderson. There were no essays last night, but a dramatic gathering being simply the starter for the new year, and as an introduction to the weightier literary exercises of the regular course.

Mr. Greicher sang two baritone songs in good voice and with taste. Miss E. M. Connelly gave two readings, one pathetic, one humorous, with the skill and effectiveness for which she is noted as a reader. Miss Asht sang a pleasing and pretty song, and Mrs. C. A. Neale and Mrs. Turrell gave a duo on two pianos, playing with marked effectiveness, but declining to sing in concert.

Mr. Howe made his first appearance before the Academia. Here is a new face, certainly to the reporters of the press. She gave a sentimental reading, and in response to two anonymous gave humorous and eccentric character readings. She has a sweet and expressive voice, is possessed of mimetic powers in large degree, is a graceful reader, and is a most successful and rapid acquisition to the literary circle of the city.

The entertainment committees for the next two meetings were announced as follows: November—C. M. Campbell and Missa Conrad; December—Miss Knob, Butler; December—Miss Crowell, Mrs. H. S. Davis and Mrs. Hancock, Harrison and Drinkie. The Academia will meet regularly hereafter in Chickering Hall on the second Wednesday in each month.

conquest, but the new setting and scenes among which the story is laid, and the bright, winning magic and versatility of her imagination have given it that quality which recreates the old and invests it with novelty and human interest. It is much to have written a first novel so full of pleasing charm. Dodd, Mead & Co., New York, publishers.

He is wholly insensible to loving and tender influences who cannot read with satisfaction and zest the stories Kate Douglas Wiggin writes. The latest by this author—there are none like her, she is so strikingly original—are in a volume from the press of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston, under the title "The Village Watch Tower." The stories are six in number, the title story being followed by "Tom to the Blueberry Plains," "The Nooning Tree," "The Forerunner Run," "A Village Stradivarius," and "The Eventful Trip of the Midnight Cry."

A more restful and charming collection of short stories in which strong drawing of homely characters predominates, it would be difficult to name.

Bret Hart's latest work comes to us from the publishers, Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston. It is a novel entitled "Clarence." The scenes are laid in California and the East and in the time of the War of the Rebellion. It is a typical California story in some respects—that is as Hart writes types for the State. It is a very charming tale, full of dramatic interest, indeed rather more dramatic than most of this author's later works. It would make a splendid foundation for a war drama.

"Now, Mr. Fisk," began the lawyer who conducted the cross-examination, "is it not a fact that you harbor a female who goes by the name of Mrs. Fisk?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you not support her?"

"I do, sir."

"Is she your legal wife?"

"No, sir," Jurors scowled.

"You will admit that, although you have never been married to her, she lives with you?"

"Yes, sir."

"That is all. You may step down."

The legal light looked victoriously at the jury.

"One moment, Mr. Fisk," said the opposing lawyer. "What relation exists between you and the lady referred to?"
