

HOW THE DAY WILL BE OBSERVED.

The New Year Ushered in by Prayer and Song.

Receptions To-day and Evening—Business of All Kinds Will be Suspended.

This is the day which about two-thirds of the people had set apart on which to begin that somewhat mythical occupation of turning over new leaves.

A small minority of each community show their respect for the departing year, with all its sins and sorrows and occasional rays of happiness, by holding watch meetings and greeting its successor with songs and prayer.

At 10:30 o'clock to-day special services will be held at the German Lutheran Church at Twelfth and K streets, and after the sermon by Rev. C. F. Oehler the Lord's supper will take place.

The members of the Young Men's Christian Association are anticipating a pleasant time to-day. They will hold two receptions—the first from 2 to 4 o'clock, and the other commencing at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

This evening the children of the Founding Home will have their Christmas and New Year celebration combined. There will be a tree with presents for the little ones, and all persons interested are invited to be present.

In Concord Hall, in the Foresters' building, the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will hold a reception from 7 to 9 o'clock.

This afternoon and evening the members of the Sutter Club will keep open house at their elegant rooms in the California State Bank building, as is their custom on New Year's Day.

The Wednesday Night Club did not have anything to do with New Year's coming on their club date, but the members have been taking unusual pains to have their New Year party to-night an especially enjoyable one.

All the public offices, courts and most places of business will be closed to-day, and many whose occupations or business interests make it difficult for them to get away at other times will take advantage of this general and legal holiday to visit friends out of the city.

MAY PROVE FATAL

Serious Accident to George Hanlon, the Elderly Farmer.

The sad news was brought to the city last night by Charles E. Spencer that George Hanlon, the well-known and widely-esteemed farmer whose home is on the old Placerville road, about three miles from Router station, met with an accident yesterday that may cause his death in a few hours.

He struck on the back of his head and shoulders, snapping the ligaments of the neck, and was unconscious last evening. It was feared he would not be able to survive his injury.

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT

One That Was Received by a Well-Known Local School Teacher.

Miss Sarah M. Jones, Principal of the Fremont School in this city, and a graduate of Oberlin College, Ohio, received on Monday as a holiday present, a document that greatly surprised and equally gratified her.

The eastern portion of the monument was brought from Boston by the Southern Pacific Railroad free of expense to the engineers. It stands fully 6 feet high, and is 6 feet 4 inches by 4 feet 2 inches at the base, and the cap is 3 feet 9 inches by 2 feet.

PROMISED TO DO BETTER

Justice Davis Warns a Boy of the Danger of Perjury.

Albert and John Shaw were found guilty in the Police Court yesterday of malicious mischief in throwing stones through the window of a Chinese laundry at Eighth and M streets, but sentence was withheld, on their promise of good behavior.

After the acceptance of the grave was decorated by the committee, the gentlemen left on the afternoon train to report to the division which sent them here. They promise to send to the local firm of marblemen some testimonial of the appreciation of the engineers for the work.

M'CURDY AND KOCH

Their Cases Were Continued Yesterday Until Friday.

The cases of W. J. N. McCurdy and L. Koch, for resisting an officer, and of Koch for carrying a concealed weapon, were continued yesterday in the Police Court till January 3d.

They are the ones who resisted a Deputy Sheriff who was placing an attachment on the Yosemite Saloon, Koch endeavoring to draw a pistol on the officer.

ENGINEER SAM CLARKE'S MONUMENT

It Has Been Erected in the Cemetery at Stockton.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Well Pleased With Its Execution.

The resting-place of Samuel Clarke, the brave locomotive engineer who was buried beneath his engine when the first train out of this city during the memorable railroad strike in July, 1894, was wrecked by some of the strikers over in Yolo, is now ornamented by a beautiful and imposing monument in the cemetery at Stockton.

The monument was but recently completed by a Stockton firm, and on Monday it was formally accepted by a committee, consisting of I. Jordan, William Hatfield and Emile Frick, from Leland Stanford Division, No. 283, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who went to Stockton for that purpose.

The sum of $600 was raised for the monument, and the sarcophagus was purchased to mark the spot in which the martyred engineer lies buried. The monument is of Barre granite and the base and curbing of the lot of California granite. The design is by the Stockton firm of Dickson, Woodhull & Cramer, and all of the work except the carving of the Barre granite was done by it.

The eastern portion of the monument was brought from Boston by the Southern Pacific Railroad free of expense to the engineers. It stands fully 6 feet high, and is 6 feet 4 inches by 4 feet 2 inches at the base, and the cap is 3 feet 9 inches by 2 feet.

On the broader side of the die appears the following inscription:

SAMUEL C. CLARKE, MEMBER OF Leland Stanford Division, No. 283, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Died performing his duty at Trestle No. 87, A. YOLO COUNTY, JULY 11, 1894. COURAGE. FIDELITY.

It was the intention of the engineers, says the Stockton "Independent" of yesterday, to have the acceptance of the monument attended with some degree of ceremony, but, as the completion was delayed until after the commencement of the rainy season, the ceremonies were dispensed with.

After the acceptance of the grave was decorated by the committee, the gentlemen left on the afternoon train to report to the division which sent them here. They promise to send to the local firm of marblemen some testimonial of the appreciation of the engineers for the work.
