

VETERAN ODD FELLOWS' BANQUET.

They Celebrate Their Thirteenth Annual Reunion.

Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year - A Pleasant Occasion, With Toasts and Responses.

The thirteenth annual reunion and banquet of the Veteran Odd Fellows of Sacramento took place last night at their hall in Odd Fellows' temple, a very large attendance being present.

The lodge was reported by the Secretary, E. J. Clark, to be in a flourishing condition, there being eighty-seven members. During the past year six members have died and eleven new members have been admitted.

The lodge was instituted on November 9, 1883, and has steadily progressed ever since and now numbers among its members many who are well known and prominent in the order both in Sacramento and the State.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Peter Newman; Vice-President, S. S. Nixon; Secretary, E. J. Clark; Treasurer, M. Miller.

When it came to the election of the Marshal there was a spirited contest between John F. Dreman and H. C. Wolf, which it needed five ballots to decide. Dreman was finally elected.

After the adjournment was concluded, the assembly adjourned to the banquet hall, where a repast awaited the members that drew forth many praises for the cookery of the lady who prepared it, and which was thoroughly enjoyed.

After the most ravenous appetites had been duly appeased, toasts and speeches were in order. An elaborate programme had been prepared by the President, W. H. Sherrburn, but as he had been unavoidably detained, being absent from the city, the programme was necessarily an impromptu one.

C. M. Harrison was called on to preside and proved equal to the occasion. He said that Odd Fellowship aided good citizenship and made better men of its members. He drew a picture of the motives and ambitions that actuate men, from boyhood up, and the benefits that the order brings to them.

R. Dray called on to respond to the toast "The Man of Business," and said he considered it unfair to call on him, as he was entirely unprepared. He would do his best, however.

He would ask "What brought you here to-night? Was it to get something to eat? Was it to afford assistance to a needy brother? No, it was the spirit that never deserts an Odd Fellow as long as he lives. It was the spirit of fraternity of brotherly love that permeates every member of the order and attracts him to his fellow members; that makes him a better man. This is as it should be. The passions that are not for the good of man should be controlled, and as far as can be, blotted out. The man who cannot control them, is a failure as a man. The spirit that animates Odd Fellowship helps its members to do this. It leads them to hold up and strengthen their weaker brethren and guard them from temptation. This is its mission and it fulfills it when Odd Fellows carry out its principles.

Albert Hart responded to "What Odd Fellowship Does for Citizenship." He said that he had nearly marked the fortieth year of his Odd Fellowship. His experience showed him that it made men better citizens and elevated the standard of their morality. He then recited a humorous poem that was applicable to the occasion and that "brought down the house."

A quartet composed of F. J. Bellhouse first tenor, E. F. Ashworth second tenor, J. T. Griffiths first bass and E. L. Gerlich second bass, with W. D. Crowe as accompanist, rendered some fine selections that were received with liberal applause.

W. W. Coons, George Dean and others were called on and made interesting remarks and the assembly broke up at a late hour, voting the reunion a success.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Metropolitan Theater to-morrow evening there will be an entertainment for the benefit of St. Paul's Episcopal Church that will undoubtedly draw, as it will deserve, a large audience. It is for a worthy cause, it is patriotic in character largely, it is to be spectacular, and it will engage the services of about a hundred of the prettiest children in the city, besides a great many young women and adults who will participate, in all between 250 and 300 people. Seats for the entertainment can now be secured at the box-office of the theater. The whole stage direction, as has been the whole stage preparation, will be under the superintendence of the Misses Matthews of Chicago, who have managed several such entertainments and always with success, the latest being in San Jose. The spectacle is modeled after the famous "America" spectacle that was given in the Auditorium at Chicago during the World's Fair. Of course while the inspiration has been drawn from the "America" spectacle, the entertainment of to-morrow night will be much modified from the original and adapted to the season, the occasion, and to local possibilities. But for all that it will be very beautiful, very interesting and very entertaining. There will be with a full brass band, a male quartet, many novel marches and parades by fairies, brownies and grotesque and allegorical characters. In the midst of a garden scene, with darkness setting down and fountains softly playing, the fairies suddenly appear among a throng of children, who yield them place and precedence. With them come the brownies, and as the fairy revel begins "America" is taken up and sung by the children, and Columbia appears enthroned in republican state and attended by her court of representative characters standing for free institutions. Columbia and her attendants take up the music lead at that point, and by invocation Justice, Charity and other characters appear. Then begin a series of novelties in the way of marches, dances and the like, with the introduction of topical subjects. One of the novelties is the whip drill dance, another the dudes' drill dance, and these and others will present to some extent business and local interests in an amusing and wholly inoffensive way. One of the features is the funeral march at night, another is the rainbow drill and dance, a storm, the appearance of Cupid, and a military scene presented by one of our local companies with accompanying music. There will be stunts, posing and living pictures and other novelties, the whole closing with the spectacular scene "Peace," with Columbia presiding over a people happy in peaceful and useful pursuits. Of course this is but an outline of the features of the entertainment, not all parts and novelties of which have been named.

There was a large audience in the Clunie Opera-house last night to witness the beautiful spectacle of "The Crystal Slipper." The applause that greeted the rich transformation scene was as sincere as it was continuous during the five changes of the act. Nothing richer, handsomer or more chaste has been given here in any scenic spectacle. There were some changes in the cast of the play last night, but nothing that affected the smooth and satisfactory production of the piece. Miss Powers is now the Fairy Queen, and a handsome one. In such characters she is notably successful. The Phoebe-Finauds, the whirlwind acrobats and graceful pantomimists, were applauded to the echo, and surprised and greatly pleased the spectators. Eldridge in his specialty act was recalled again and again. This is the last week of the play; seats are taken already well in advance, and the promise is for full houses the remaining nights. It will be deserved. The Eldridge-Hallett management had three hard weeks preceding Christmas, along with all theatrical companies in the State, and that the holiday spectacle will enable them to recover losses and continue the season is a matter that will gratify amusement lovers, who desire that at least one theater shall remain open the winter through.

Four members of the Eldridge-Hallett Company quit yesterday because of some arrangements in salaries, for from two to one and a half weeks. Their places were at once supplied, and the troupe suffered no harm from the small strike. It was ill-advised, inasmuch as Manager Todd certifies that the Messrs. Eldridge and Hallett have paid up arrears as closely as was possible. They have had prior to Christmas week, as everyone knows, three or four dull weeks, when, as is true of many other troupes, arrears accumulate, a common matter in the lottery of theatricals. But, he adds, these gentlemen have acted honorably throughout, and paid far heavier arrears to these very people, who had, therefore, no reason to complain or to attempt to cripple the management at a time when it is recovering from a dull season, and is paying every cent to its people rapidly. The places of the retiring four have been filled acceptably, and the result of the ripple is to reflect credit upon the ladies and gentlemen of the troupe who stood by Eldridge and Hallett and enable them to make the holiday spectacle the success it has proved to be.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Louis Wagner Captures a Thief Who Stole His Watch.

Last night about 7:30 o'clock one of the firemen at the Water Works saw a man pass the door of the boiler-room toward a locker that was outside, and told Louis Wagner, who was on duty, what he had seen. Wagner went toward the locker, when the fellow, who was inside, tried to push the door shut and hide himself. Wagner pulled it open and asked him what he was doing there, and was answered that he was looking for his hat, where he had been lying down.

Wagner, however, who had hung his clothes up there, noticed that they were lying on the floor, and picking them up, found his watch gone. He told the fellow, who was moving away, to stop, but he stepped to the door and Wagner heard the watch fall as he threw it behind the door.

Wagner took hold of him, when he struck a powerful blow, which Wagner parried, and the other fireman coming to his assistance, the fellow was taken to the police station, after a hard fight, where he gave his name as Theodore Norther. The watch was found behind the door, where he threw it.

ONE HUNDRED MILES.

A Party of Wheelmen Ride to Stockton and Back This Morning.

Ten members of the Capital City Wheelmen started at midnight last night on a one hundred-mile or "century" ride to Stockton and return. They expect to finish the round-trip in time for breakfast in this city.

The starters were: Captain Readman, Lieutenant Elliott, Les Young, Louis Andrews, W. Higbert, W. Pierson, G. Jackson, Louis Payen, Thomas Welch and L. S. Upson.

IT DID NOT WORK.

Thomas Said He Bought the Boots Before They Were Stolen.

C. H. Thomas was found guilty in the Police Court yesterday of stealing a pair of boots from a shoemaker named Fleck, and sentenced to three months in the County Jail. He told the usual story of meeting another man with blankets, who sold him the boots very cheap, but could not explain how it was that he met this man and bought the boots before they were stolen, or why he wanted to sell them again.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Arrivals at the Golden Eagle Hotel yesterday: Bolton Rogers, Seattle; F. B. Choate, Sacramento; W. A. Muller, A. M. West, San Francisco; E. B. Dover, New York.

Not a Candidate. There will not be much left of that opposition ticket to the regular nominees of the Chamber of Commerce by the time the day of election comes round. C. A. Luhrs, who was named therefor, for Chairman of the Committee on Municipal and County Government, has declined to accept the place. Several persons who had been named for different offices had previously declined.

County Settlements. The following counties have settled with the State their first installment of taxes for 1895: Yuba, $27,831 34; Shasta, $34,710 91; San Bernardino, $78,135 85. Four County Treasurers failed to settle: Merced, Merced, San Luis Obispo and Plumas.

CONCERNING CORPORATION COUNSEL.

R. T. Devlin Sends a Communication to the Trustees.

He Asks Them to Notify Him Whether or Not They Will Want Him.

In case the City Trustees should decide to retain Robert T. Devlin in his present position as Corporation Counsel, Hiram W. Johnson, whom Mayor Hubbard will appoint to the place, intends invoking the aid of the courts to oust him. At least he is credited with having so declared himself yesterday.

Devlin rests his case entirely with the Trustees, under his recent contract with the present Mayor, and apparently feels quite secure in his position. He has prepared a communication to the board which will be submitted at its next meeting. It is as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the City of Sacramento-Gentlemen: For the last eighteen months I have been acting as attorney for the city of Sacramento in matters in which the city was legally interested, under an ordinance passed by your honorable board. My dealings are principally with the Board of Trustees, as they, under the Charter, have charge of the litigation affecting the city. My employment continues for no fixed time, but simply during the pleasure of your honorable board.

I should like to have an expression from yourselves as to whether my services are longer desired; if not, I shall transfer such matters as are in my charge to any person that may be designated.

The ordinance providing for the appointment of an attorney declares he may be summarily discharged by the board at any time, and as there will be a new administration commencing this day, I should like to have you, as soon as possible, acquaint me with your wishes so that I may govern myself accordingly. Should the board not desire my services continued the Mayor will appoint some person to take my place, and I shall do anything that may be required to acquaint him with the city's business and litigation.

While the Board of Trustees cannot, in the first instance, select an attorney, yet when he is selected with their consent, he is the attorney for the board, and acts as such no longer than they wish.

Hopeing that you will let me know your wishes, and thanking you for the courteous treatment I have received in the past, I remain, yours truly, ROBERT T. DEVLIN.

SACRAMENTO ORANGES. They Are in Competition With Others at the Atlanta Exposition.

J. A. Filcher, Manager of the California exhibit at the Atlanta Exposition, has acknowledged the receipt of several cases of oranges from Sacramento County, forwarded through the courtesy of J. R. Horsburg, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific, and went forward in the baggage car of the passenger train which left this city on the 9th instant.

These oranges were placed among those from other parts in the citrus fruits competition, and as they were of exceptional fine quality will no doubt be heard from when the list of awards is published.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kilgariff are back from their wedding trip to the East.

T. D. Cass of Marysville, the "Record-Union" agent, was in town yesterday. Assemblyman R. I. Thomas of Nevada County was in the city yesterday. Don M. Morris left yesterday afternoon to spend New Year's Day in San Francisco.

William McDonald, Assistant Manager of the National Ice Company of Oakland, is visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. John T. Whitney of Rocklin is making daily visits to Sacramento on account of the very serious illness of her father, S. B. Smith of 1317 Seventh street.

The Sans Souci Club gave a New Year's party last night that was a decided success. The attendance was large and the committees attentive to the comfort and enjoyment of their guests. The hall was handsomely decorated with evergreens and Jones, Fisch and Watson's Orchestra poured out dulcet strains from behind a bower of plants to animate the flying feet of the merry dancers.

BRIEF NOTES. Six carloads of wine and several of hops were shipped East yesterday. Sheriff Johnson has been appointed assignee for the creditors of Ida Wallace, an insolvent debtor.

Action on Friday. Bell & Co. announce that on Friday, at 10 a. m., they will sell at auction at 827 J street the entire stock of cook and parlor stoves, stove fittings, tinware, hardware and mechanics' tools of all kinds; also, horse, harness, wagon and store fixtures.

A Guardian's Accounting. S. Luke Howe, attorney for W. H. Treichler, guardian of George M.

Treichler, a minor, has filed a statement showing the results of his administration. The total receipts of property and money that have come into his hands amount to $2,120 37. All of the real estate and $97 80 are still on hand. The account will be heard on Friday, January 10th.

State Employees Let Out. Twenty-nine young women employed in the State Book Bindery, twenty-five of the thirty-nine male bookbinders, and a larger proportion of the printers and pressmen in the State Printing Office, were laid off yesterday. It is understood that the duration of the lay-off is uncomfortably indefinite.

Condition of T. T. Crump. There has been no material change in the condition of T. T. Crump, who shot himself in the head a few days ago. When not under the influence of opiates he is rational, and this fact strengthens the hope of his family that his brain was not injured by the unfounded bullet.

Death From Heart Disease. At an early hour yesterday morning James Jerome McDermitt (also known as Jerome Kelly), a printer, died suddenly of heart disease. Deceased leaves a wife and two children in San Francisco. He was well known to the craft in this city.

Mrs. Parsons Passes Away. The death of Antelope is announced of Caroline Parsons, wife of John Parsons, at the age of 68 years. Mrs. Parsons was a most estimable lady, who enjoyed the respect of all who knew her. The funeral will take place at the ranch to-morrow.

Car and Wagon. A couple of men from down about Freeport, who were riding in a wagon, collided with a street car yesterday at Eleventh and J streets. The chief injury sustained was by one of the horses, its leg being badly cut.

A Whist-Player's Thrusts. Dr. Parr had the largest notion of his own skill at whist and the smallest tolerance for a poor opponent. A lady once asked him at a party how he fared. "Pretty well, madam," was the pleasing reply, which he made loud enough for his partner to hear, "considering that I have three adversaries."

In another occasion he was playing with Dr. Warner, the rector of Bath, who hazarded a finesse which did not come off. In a minute Parr had flashed upon him. "Dick," said he, "you have the cunning of a Bath sharper without his skill." The next hand that Warner held was a fine one, and Parr's features assumed their natural placidity. In a tone of condescension he drawled out, with his usual lisp: "I acquit you of trickery, Richard; would that I could of stupidity."

There is no law against gambling in Montana, according to a decision of the Supreme Court of the State. The law on the subject supposed to have been passed last April was lost, in some mysterious way, among the legislative committees.

THE PRIZE KANSAS CITY BABY OF MO. Cured of Disfiguring ECZEMA BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES. Our baby when three weeks old was badly affected with Eczema. Her head, arms, neck, limbs, and nearly every joint in her body was raw and bleeding when we concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. We began with CUTICURA (ointment) and CUTICURA SOAB, and after the first application we could see a change. After we had used one week more of the sores had healed entirely, and ceased to spread. In less than a month, she was free from scales and blemishes, and to-day has as lovely skin and hair as any child. It was shown at the Orange Fair, and took a premium as the prettiest baby, over sixteen others. It is sold by all Druggists. Beware of cheap imitations. Price 25c. Sold everywhere.
