

SHERIFF WHELAN'S BILLS REDUCED.

The State Board of Examiners Does Some Winter Pruning.

Street-Sweeping Machine Contractors Will Not be Paid if They Sweep in the Daytime.

The meeting of the State Board of Examiners yesterday was attended by Governor Budd, Secretary of State Brown and Secretary Markley.

Several claimants of the reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. L. Weber, a year ago, were in attendance, but the matter was postponed till next Friday.

Deputy Sheriff Schwilke appeared to explain an apparent discrepancy in some bills of Sheriff Johnson's, and stated that he was detained in Los Angeles by the sickness of an attendant who went with him to take some children to the Whittier School.

A question arose as to how Mr. Eckert, the consulting engineer of the State Prison Directors should be paid, some bills having been presented for his services on the fund for the rock-crushing plant.

Dr. Ruggles' bill for investigating the charges against the Foundlings' Home was presented, the amount being left blank, to be fixed by the board. It was fixed at $20 a day, taking into consideration the time spent from his practice and the work of making the report.

Tom Scott, the plumber, appeared to explain a bill that had been laid over, but the Governor said that he had put an expert to examine the work, and he and Secretary of State Brown had also investigated the matter and were satisfied that everything was correct.

Secretary of State Brown called attention to the fact that the street sweepers were being used on Ninth street in the day time, raising clouds of dust for passersby to go through. "It is outrageous," said he, "but I do not know to whom I should apply to have it stopped, and I have been waiting for a meeting of the board to bring it up."

He was informed by the sweeper that he was under contract with the city, and that the Street Superintendent had control of it. "Well, the matter can be easily fixed," said the Governor. "If it is not stopped, we will refuse to pay the bill when it is presented."

The inventory of the Viticultural Commission of all the property in its hands, to be turned over to the State University, was taken up. It comprised originally half a page, but after Winfield Scott, the Secretary, was called before the board to explain why he had not included more property, he made another inventory, the present one covering twenty-four pages. It was decided to compare it with the report of the Secretary of the State University, to whom the property was turned over.

In the original report occurred the word "library." In the second report the library list covers fifteen pages. Some of the books are very rare or unique, and are exceedingly valuable, as they could not be replaced.

As Sheriff Whelan of San Francisco refused to send the names of the deputies' bills, saying that he considered them his property, the bills, amounting to over $100, were cut down about $200.

A PIONEER'S MONEY. Dr. W. W. Light's $40,000 Estate in the Courts.

The Kentucky heirs to the estate of the late Dr. W. W. Light, who died in this city last June, yesterday met the first serious judge in their contest over the will in Refugio Johnson's court. The durrum of the legatee named in the will to the allegations made by the contestants was sustained, and five days given the latter to answer.

Dr. Light left an estate valued at about $40,000, consisting of real estate situated in Sacramento and Placer counties. The heirs named are Elizabeth Girardey, the deceased's sister, residing at Bethel, Clermont County, O., and her children, W. O. Girardey of this city, and Georgia Strickland of Cincinnati.

The deceased bequeathed to his sister, Elizabeth Girardey, all of his property, and if after her death any remained it was to be divided between her children, share and share alike. George Girardey, William B. Davis and I. G. Shaw were named as executors of the will.

Mary E. Light, a Kentucky niece of the doctor, on behalf of herself and some other relatives in that State, petitioned the court against the probate of the will on the alleged ground that her uncle was mentally incompetent and had been unduly influenced in favor of his sister and her children. The undue-influence allegation was subsequently withdrawn, however.

MORE COLONISTS. Another Party to Start for Sacramento Very Soon.

In a few days a second colonists' excursion will leave Chicago for this country. The people are coming to make their homes with us, and they bring with them character and capital. They come from about fifteen different States. It looks as if this was the beginning of a new era of prosperity for Central California.

The coming spring months will see a large number of excursionists in this city. They have, in fact, been coming right along. There are many visitors daily at the Capitol, and they are all greatly pleased. A member of a party said on Christmas Day: "It is the first time we ever saw roses in bloom out of doors in December, or ripe oranges on the trees. What a wonderful climate you have!"

These tourists are anxious to learn all they can about our city and State, and it is wise to be ready to give them all the information possible. They often ask for leaflets and circulars. Mr. Herkner prepares a new leaflet every few months, in which are facts and illustrations of public building, and these are distributed among them.

The way Los Angeles won was by keeping before the visitors the advantages of Southern California, and this should be done up this way.

POSSIBLY A LIBEL SUIT.

But the Story is Too Thrilling to be Cast Aside.

The following item was handed in for publication by an aspirant for reportorial fame. The story is brief, but full of venom. If the gentleman named therein feels that he has a serious grievance, he may seek satisfaction in suit for criminal libel. But if he should prefer to wallop somebody, the name of the author will be yielded up to him so quickly that it will make his head swim.

The story, as it was received, with its artistic title, reads: "SCRATCHED HIMSELF WITH HIS TOE NAIL." "Edward Carragher of the Saddle Rock Restaurant is laid up in bed. He scratched himself in the calf of his leg with his toe nail, and his leg is badly swollen, but last night he was much better."

The office shares are at Mr. Carragher's disposal, and he is at liberty to use them on-the-author of the item. The latter's name was secured—not for publication, but as "evidence of good faith," and particularly to protect the editorial force from being jumped on.

SCHOOL OF DESIGN.

Promise of a New Class—The Y. M. C. A. Class.

The Sacramento School of Design has resumed its regular sessions at the Art Gallery. Miss Blanch, the assistant instructor, now takes her vacation, and during her absence Professor Jackson will instruct the Saturday class, beginning this morning.

The free-hand drawing class, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, begins its work Tuesday evening at the Art Gallery. Negotiations are on foot, with reasonable prospects of success, for a special water-color class for the School of Design, to be taught one day each week by the artist Raymond G. Harris.

The water-color class of San Francisco, the noted water-colorist. Water-color work has been a part of the regular curriculum of the school, but it is the plan to make Mr. Jorgensen's class a special one. Applications for seats in it should be made at once, as it is desired to have a class organized during the coming week.

MOCK TRIAL.

Somebody's Liberty Will be in Danger This Evening.

At the Congregational Church this evening the young men of the Sunday-school will hold a mock trial. The characters represented will be as follows: Judge, J. H. Pond; Clerk, Frank C. Osborn; Bailiff, Wm. Popert; Messenger, George Hoyt; Defendant, Wm. K. Lindsay; Prosecuting Attorneys, Max Webster and Raymond G. Harris; Defense Attorneys, J. W. Butler, Arthur F. Atkinson; Witnesses for the Prosecution, Miss Allen Towle and Messrs. Downer, W. Julian, Duda and Enos; for the Defense, Miss Letta Ross and Messrs. Waring, Russell, Upson and Tryon; Jury, Messrs. Harris, Hubbard, Miller, Nichols, Hoyt and Bates, and Messrs. Harris, Nichols, Dierssen, A. Lindsay, H. Julian and Lorenz.

A PREVALENT EVIL.

The Views of the "Record-Union" Indorsed and Emphasized.

A recent comer to this State, in a letter to an Eastern journal, referring to the dining station at Truckee, says: "Here in order to get to the dining-room, the ladies and children of our party through a saloon with its accompaniment of bear-eyed loafers, tobacco smoke, whisky bottles and bad smells."

Commenting upon this criticism, the "Record-Union" makes the following remarks: "There is nothing which strikes the Eastern emigrant so forcibly as the openness and badness of the saloon-association with everything public in California. Wherever a saloon is kept in a station-house, ladies and children are forced to hear the rough, profane and vulgar language which is an inseparable accompaniment of a saloon, and the Eastern visitor is strongly repelled by this coarseness, brutality and vice. The people of California are so thoroughly inured to the accessories of drunkenness that they scarcely realize the impression which the eternal presence of whisky makes upon the newcomer. There is scarcely an eating station along the line of any road west of the Rocky Mountains that is not an annex to a saloon. In most cases the passengers must pass through these saloons to get to the dining-room. It is not oversensitiveness or over-niceness on the part of decent people that they do not like to pass through a saloon to reach a dining-room. It is a perfectly natural and highly commendable instinct, and it is to be regretted that the people of California have not more of that same instinct."

The "Republican" desires to add such emphasis as it may to the "Record-Union's" comments. Our California custom of running a saloon annex to almost any variety of business would be more honorable in the breach than in the observance. It is anything but attractive to the better class of immigrants from the Eastern States; in fact, its tendency is toward repulsion. Nor does it bespeak a high grade of civilization. The saloon business is a variety that is more wisely kept in the background, but we force it upon every one, and we do nothing to improve it as if it were one of the crowning glories of the State. While we put a drinking place in a majority of eating-houses and make our quasi-public trips East long-continued revels, we must accept with such grace as we may the very poor quality of advertising that this sort of thing gives to us.

BRIEF NOTES.

Ah Sin has been sent to jail for six months for petit larceny. J. W. Keating yesterday pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license, and was fined $100. Galt Lodge, No. 113, A. O. U. W., has installed the following officers: P. M. W. J. Sawyer; M. W. L. J. Young; Foreman, S. E. Winston; Overseer, J. Beckwith; Recorder, A. A. Clough; Financier, James Ferguson; Receiver, J. Brewster; Sr. Guide, S. P. Allen; J. W. K. McKinstry; O. W. A. Randolph; Dr. E. Burnett, Medical Examiner.

A Reduced Gas Bill. Secretary of State Brown told Governor Budd yesterday at the meeting of the State Board of Examiners that the gas bill for the Capitol last month was only $31, as against $150 for the corresponding month last year.

The bill to the State for gas in the succeeding month, when the Legislature was in session, was no larger, even Governor Budd would not have kicked against it.

ROADS IN SOUTH COAST COUNTIES.

Lack of Method, and Waste of the Public Money.

What Highway Commissioners Maude and Irvine Found During Their Journey.

Highway Commissioner and Civil Engineer J. L. Maude returned from the first portion of the official visitation of southern and coast counties yesterday. The Commissioners are now all here, Chairman Manson having returned from the northern visitations on Thursday.

Mr. Maude expresses great satisfaction with the visitations made by Commissioner Irvine and himself in the central and south coast counties. He says that a great deal of valuable data was gathered. At all points the Commissioners were well received and their work greatly facilitated by the people. The desire for reform in road matters, and the inauguration of more economic methods is general and outspoken among all the people. Indeed, the Commissioner is deeply impressed by the spirit of the people in this regard.

Mr. Maude does not wish, in anticipation of the work of the bureau when it comes to compare data and study economic methods, to much remark upon the detailed results of inspection thus far. He says, however, that these facts are established—the right methods of public funds; that in but few localities does an economic and correct road system prevail; that in every section it is possible with present revenue to secure greatly more beneficial results, and that people and officials are alike now coming to believe this truth where before it was denied.

The best work under Supervisor direction yet found on the south coast, if not anywhere, is in Santa Cruz County, where the Supervisors, notably Messrs. Linscott and Stanton, are proceeding according to scientific and economic methods. The best bridge work seen was in steel on the Questa Grade, between Paso Robles and San Luis Obispo.

In Ventura County the Commissioners noted with great satisfaction the influence of intelligence under Supervisor Powers, who has in the past impressed his mind and practice, and is impressing their economy upon the people. In Monterey County the poorest or least economic system and work was found. It is in Supervisor Porter's district, but they believe that reforms will be instituted there with the advice of the bureau, if it is necessary.

The Commissioners were gratified by finding Supervisors Irving, Field and Widden of Monterey ready to cooperate in the institution of economic methods in road matters. Some good road work was found in Santa Barbara County, and the Commissioners were especially pleased with the plans and ideas of Supervisor Del Quista. All throughout the trip material in plenty was found that ought to be and can be used, though little of it now is, in permanent road construction.

Weather Notes.

The Weather Bureau reports show the highest and lowest temperatures yesterday as follows: 52 and 40 degrees, with light northerly winds and clear weather prevailing. The barometrical readings at 5 a. m. and 5 p. m. were 30.31 and 30.28 inches, respectively. The highest and lowest temperatures on one year ago yesterday were 52 and 40 degrees, with .04 of an inch of rain, and one year ago to-day 54 and 45 degrees, with 2.62 inches, and one year ago Sunday 54 and 46 degrees, with .02 of an inch, making for those three days 2.68 inches.
