

BACK FROM THE MOUNTAINS.

Commissioner Manson Returns From Mono and Inyo.

A Line of Mountains Over Two Hundred Miles Long Without a Road That Crosses It.

Bureau of Highways Commissioner Marsden Manson returned yesterday morning by way of Reno from his trip into Mono and Inyo Counties in pursuance of the work of the bureau.

To a representative of the "Record-Union" he said that the trip was an exceedingly laborious one, but was interesting in many respects. He had altogether from twenty-five to thirty miles of sleighing and the early mornings were very cold. In one instance reaching 5 degrees below zero. Above 7,000 feet in altitude and from that to 8,000 feet there was sleighing, the snow being packed a foot and a half deep, but below that there was little snow.

In Inyo County the meeting was poorly attended and was more like an informal talk, on account of the difficulty of getting notice of his arrival sent to the people. They wished to have the meeting postponed, in order to secure a larger attendance, but he could not delay. It should have been called at Bishop, the principal town, and will be held there the next time.

In Mono County it was better, and there was a good turnout, a large proportion of the audience being ladies. It was laughingly said that the ladies use the roads more than the men do. The subject was not only an interesting one for them, but for the mining interests. There is a travertine quarry two miles easterly from Bridgeport, the only working quarry known in the United States, and a large and valuable one. Travertine is an ornamental building stone, and the hot springs are still going on with its formation. The only way of getting it out of the country is to take it to Carson, over ninety miles, or by way of the Sonora Pass to Stockton.

"In examining the passes through the Sierra Nevada Mountains that enter these counties," said Mr. Manson, "I find that from the Sonora Pass, near the southern corner of Alpine County, to Walker's Pass, in Kern County, a distance of over 200 miles in an air line, there are no open wagon roads crossing the Sierras. The bureau feels it to be its duty to take up the study of remedying this state of affairs.

"This long, impassable reach in the Sierras is similar to the reach of 300 miles across the Coast Range, without practicable wagon roads, from Ukiah to beyond the northern limit of our State, at Grant's Pass, in Oregon. Through both of these now impassable mountain ranges there exist practicable lines for roads which, if constructed, will rapidly aid in the development of industrial conditions on both sides.

"The construction of such roads will necessarily involve the co-operation of several counties, as several of the mountain counties are too poor to undertake it themselves and the richer counties that are to be benefited by the new routes of communication can well afford to aid the construction.

"The present roads, like all mountain roads, receive more attention than do the roads in the valleys and slightly rolling lands. This is due to the fact that unless mountain roads are fairly well located and constructed, they are impassable. Systematic location and management will, however, vastly improve the industries of the tributary country and start it on the road to prosperity.

"It is impossible in the mountains to go through the solemn face of fencing off a streak of dust or mud and officially dignifying it with the name of 'road,' after driving a few vehicles over it. The mountain roads have to have a reasonable amount of work done on them to make them passable, although many miles of wagon tracks through alkali dust and sand are spoken of and referred to in the law as 'roads.'

"Our mountain roads—like Topsy—'just growed.' First they were cow and sheep paths. Then the brush was cut out a little and a few stones were thrown out and they became trails and finally they were widened and a few cut-offs made and they were termed roads. In making the new roads suggested, over the long reaches now unsupplied, an excellent opportunity is offered to make them with regard to the three prime principles of road location and construction.

"These three prime principles are: First, to locate the road upon the best grade and alignment that the shape or topography of the country will allow; second, to grade and drain the road bed so that water will not injure it by flowing along or across it; third, to make the surface of the road of the hardest and most durable material to be found in the country traversed by it.

"The mode of 'breaking' a road through heavy snow is also an important one in the study of mountain roads through the Sierra regions and in the northern part of the State, adjacent to Mount Shasta. Several thousand miles of road are operated in California through snow ranging from one to several feet deep. Stages and spring sleighs substituted for them. The bureau therefore recognizes that an important service can be rendered to the residents of these portions of the State by making an inquiry into the most effective methods of opening roads after severe storms, and it will endeavor to make some practical suggestions along those lines."

A TOUGH CUSTOMER.

Found in a Box-Car Out Near Snowflake Park.

If anyone has the curiosity to know how it feels to get slugged on the jaw by a powerful man's fist, perhaps Johnny Judge can tell him to-day.

Last evening the Police Station was informed by telephone that a Deputy Sheriff had several tough characters "surrounded" out near the old Snowflake Park grounds and wanted help. The patrol wagon was sent out with Officers Maley, Bagley and Fitzgerald. At Twenty-ninth and R streets they found quite a number of persons assembled, and there they met Judge, who is a Deputy Sheriff. He was keeping watch over a box-car, in which was a man named Pat McCormick, who was thought to have a bad case of "jim-jams."

The officers enticed the fellow out of the car with their clubs and got him into the wagon. He wasn't very crazy, but simply an ugly fellow laboring under the effects of a long and severe jag. He seemed to "have it in" for Judge, and on the way down town made several attempts to assault him, but was prevented by the officers.

After he had been placed in a cell, however, Judge went to the door and opened it for the purpose of asking McCormick a question. He got in his query, but McCormick's answer was a straight punch from the shoulder. It came so unexpectedly that Judge couldn't dodge it, and Pat's hard fist landed squarely on his jaw. If Judge had had the privilege of mixing things with the ruffian the probability is that the latter would have been carted out to the County Hospital, but he prudently withdrew.

SCANDINAVIAN SOCIETY.

Organization of a New Benevolent Society.

Slowly Improving.

The many friends of Michael Judge, who was stricken with paralysis last Tuesday, will be glad to know that his condition is improving and that he can move his left arm and leg a little, although it will probably be two or three weeks before he can leave his bed. What makes his condition more distressing is the fact that Mrs. Judge is also very ill.

Change of Venue Granted.

Judge Catlin yesterday made an order granting the petition of the General Electric Company for a change of venue to the United States Circuit Court of the case of H. Schlep against the company for $50,000 damages.

Schlep claims to have been seriously injured through the carelessness and negligence of the defendants.

Awarded His Child.

The matter of the habeas corpus case of G. W. Davis against Mrs. A. M. Yates for the possession of the petitioner's infant child, held by the respondent, its grandmother, was before Judge Johnson yesterday.

The result of the hearing was that Mrs. Yates surrendered the child to its father without a contest.

Probate Cases.

Clara E. DeBall, widow of the late Frank DeBall, has petitioned the Superior Court for an allowance of $100 per month for family maintenance.

Sarah P. Goodell has petitioned the Superior Court to have the property of her late husband, N. D. Goodell, set apart to her.

A Short Session.

There was a brief session of the Police Court yesterday. George Windy was fined $2.50 for disturbing the peace and Ah Wah was sentenced to forty days in jail for stealing a chair from Paxton McDowell.

New Citizens.

Frederick W. Bryant, a native of England, was yesterday admitted to citizenship in Judge Johnson's court.

Leo Herzog, a native of Germany, was made a citizen of the United States in Judge Catlin's court.

A Case Dismissed.

By consent of the parties thereto the case of J. M. Hastings against Mary E. Gregory was yesterday ordered dismissed in Judge Catlin's court.

Pay-Car Coming.

It is understood the railroad pay-car will be here during the latter part of next week.

The Shakers are a Happy Community.

It is said, but the shaker who shakes because he can't help it by no means a happy individual. So shakes the person troubled with chills and fever. The quivering and shivering sensation is followed by no less a plague, namely, burning fever, which is followed by a perspiration bath that leaves the unhappy sufferer "as weak as a cat," a most unfortunate simile, by the way, as the cat, for its particularly muscular animal. Under the above circumstances, vital stamina is soon used up. What to recuperate it? Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which eradicates malarial disease in every form and repairs its terrible ravages upon the system. Derangement of the liver always accompanies malarial disorder. To the relief of this complaint, as well as constipation and dyspepsia, the Bitters is admirably adapted. No less efficacious and thorough is it for kidney trouble, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia. A wineglassful three times a day.
