The fence at Sixteenth and N-street school was ordered repaired. Director Sherburn, for the Committee on Furniture and Supplies, reported that four six-foot benches were wanted at Twenty-seventh at J, flag rope at the High School and Twenty-fourth and N streets and a blackboard at the Kindergarten. A number of chairs were needed by the different schools and some furniture for the Foundlings' Home School.

Whitbeck moved that the board go in a body to look at the lots, and that the matter be referred to the Building and Repairs Committee, to be reported on at the next meeting. Carried. The Superintendent reported that the city wanted the use of a little building in the rear of the Perry Seminary for storing the tools of the Street Department. The Mayor said that the city would move the stuff now there into the Seminary building. The request was granted. The janitor at the Foundlings' Home school had quit and it was necessary to have some one to do the work. The matter was referred to the Superintendent.

The matter of allowing Mrs. Harmon, the teacher of stenography at the night school, an assistant, was taken up and she was allowed extra compensation for two months at $10 a month. Applications for positions were received from Flora Hartwell, Anna Aitken, Mrs. S. Wurst and Mrs. Jessie Fortson as teachers and S. Proctor for janitor.

President Davis suggested that the abstract of title to the lot at Ninth and Tenth, O and P streets, where the colored school used to stand, be referred to the Judiciary Committee, with power to secure the abstract. The Superintendent suggested the expenditure of $200 from the library fund for library books. Director Driver suggested that some educational journals be purchased for the various schools for the teachers' use. He believed that it would be an incentive to them to keep abreast of the times. He moved the matter be referred to the Library Committee.

The disposition of the library fund was referred to the Library Committee with power to act. President Davis said that he had understood that maps published by the United States Government could be had by the educational department at a nominal cost. Grove L. Johnson had promised to investigate the matter and he (Davis) suggested that the Library Committee look into the matter. Director Perkins said that the Washington Primary School, at Thirteenth and G streets, needed a piano very badly and he thought it should be furnished with one. He moved that one be purchased at a price not to exceed $200, the organ being taken in exchange. So ordered.

It was decided that hereafter the record would pay the full rent of the room occupied by the Superintendent, part of which has hitherto been paid by him.

The Chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Repairs was authorized to employ A. W. Livermore to attend to all repairs at a salary not to exceed $75 per month. The board then adjourned.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

(Readers of the "Record-Union" are requested to send to this office personal notices, engagements, social notes and home gatherings of every kind. Write on one side of the paper, and give your name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.)

Another jolly gathering was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gill in Washington, Yolo County, on Tuesday night. Their daughter, Mrs. Albert Stoll, assisted by Mrs. Fannie Clary of San Francisco, entertained a few friends. The cheerful little home was tastefully decorated with sprinklings of smilax and assorted potted plants. Whist, music, a game and a general social time was enjoyed by all. The success of the evening's pleasure was due to the manner in which the programme was carried out by the hostess. A fine collation was served during the evening. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edinger, Mr. and Mrs. Gill, Dr. Robert Wait and wife, Al. Stoll and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Wait, Dr. F. L. Atkinson and wife, M. S. Clary, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Annie Todhunter, Miss Minnie Todhunter, Miss Cantrell, Mr. Irene Leonard, William V. Kellogg, Mr. Duffy, Charles Wait and Mr. Lavalle.

The Deux Temps Club gave a very successful and enjoyable leap year party last night at Turner Hall. The hall was handsomely decorated, and the affair was in charge of sixteen young ladies, and the manner in which they managed it showed that a great deal of interest had been taken in the event, for nothing was lacking to make the evening a pleasant one. The committees were: Reception—Maggie Brennan, Mamie Kleper, Nellie Readman, Lizzie Cook, Annie Burke, May Taylor and Mamie Kellher; Floor Director, Annie Ryan; Floor Managers, Annie Green, Nellie Fitzgerald, Mary Artz, Vernia L. Little, Blanche Billou, Kitty M. Kyne, Maggie Sweeney and Clara Van Walbeek.

Yesterday afternoon the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Clark was the scene of a quiet wedding. The contracting parties were their daughter, Ethel and Charles N. Thompson, Deputy City Auditor. The spacious parlors were richly decorated with flowers of various descriptions, each room in a distinctive color. The front parlor was in pink and white, Japanese magnolias, St. Joseph lilies and carnations dominating. In this room under a beautiful floral piece, in the shape of a lovers' knot, suspended from an arch of smilax and maidenhair fern, the ceremony was performed. The spacious parlors adorned the hallway leading to the dining-room, where yellow was the prevailing color. At either end of the table a dainty candelabrum, with yellow shades, poured forth exquisitely softened light. A large vase of jonquils in the center added to the charming effect.

The bride's dress consisted of white pearl passermenterie, trimmed with pearl passermenterie. Her hair was worn in high coilure, and she carried a bouquet of white violets and maidenhair fern tied loosely with white satin ribbons. After the nuptial service the bride and groom departed for a week's trip to San Francisco and vicinity. Rev. H. N. Hoyt, who had been in San Francisco for a few days, came up for the occasion and returned yesterday afternoon. The presents were numerous and costly. Supreme Justice and Mrs. T. B. McFarland and Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Welch of San Francisco were among the guests.

At her residence, 1100 H street, Mrs. Dr. Baldwin gave her little daughter, Eleanor, a surprise party yesterday afternoon, it being her eighth birthday. The dining-room was beautifully decorated, mostly in pink, and when the sight struck the happy little group all stood spellbound for a moment, then rushing suddenly in took their seats at the finely spread table before them. The little girls present were: Mary Lindley, Lelia Lindley, Eula Glide, Helen Smith, Marion Wood, Dorothea Mills, Hazel Mills, Gladis Hale, Raipha Hale, Margery May and Addie Waters.

A pleasant surprise party was given Miss Eda Quire by her numerous friends on Tuesday evening at her home, 502 P street. Music, dancing and various games kept the participants in the best of spirits and sharpened the appetite for the good things served up during the evening. The following were present: Gertrude Harris, Gertrude Meyer, Lizzie Meyer, Laura Brown, Blanche Butler, Lillie Byrne, Annie Cox, Arlie Dorland, Margaret Griffin, Annie Harvey, Nellie Lauser, Olive Miller, Carrie Marquitz, Mimmie Popert, Grace Renschler, Myrtle Whipple, Eda Quire, Leonard Dorsey, Dave Hildbrand, Charlie Linquist, Eddie Dias, Hiram Johnson, Charlie Johnson, Al. Joy, Eddie Sprague, Joe Kennedy, Chester Renschler, George Lawrence and Joe Quire.

Naomi Chapter, No. 36, Order of the Eastern Star, has always been noted for the warmth of its hospitality and the attractiveness of its entertainments, but this year it is excelling its own glorious record in this regard. Mrs. Mattie Carrier, the Worthy Matron, is an energetic and untiring officer, and her efforts have been heartily seconded by her subordinate officers and by the ladies of the chapter in general. The chapter meets twice a month, and at each meeting some new entertainment is prepared for the members and guests. Two weeks ago the "brothers" gave the "sisters" a surprise by presenting them with a beautiful banner and seating them at a very delightful banquet. The "sisters" were charmed and were so liberal in their praises of the efforts of the male contingent that the latter thought they had really done something so fine that the ladies would not be able to excel it. Last night, however, they learned that there is no use in trying to compete with the ladies of Naom Chapter in the line of entertainment. It was their turn to be surprised. The features of the evening, outside of recitations, vocal and instrumental music, were a gypsy camp, with a series of living pictures and a Japanese high tea. A stage had been erected at one end of the beautiful hall. First on the programme was a piano solo by Miss Alice Jordan, followed by a song by Mrs. Mary Jordan. When the curtain was again drawn it disclosed a party of gypsies seated around a camp fire and singing a gypsy chorus. Then followed a recitation, "Zara's Earrings," by Miss L. Hobart; song, by Mrs. J. W. Guthrie; guitar duet, by Mrs. J. A. Green and Miss Pearl Wagner. At this point a young man entered, seeking to know his fate from the Gypsy Queen. She told her fortune, but he wished to know something of his future bride. The Queen then shows him, as in a vision, living pictures of all sorts and condition of feminine beauty, one after another. A shepherdess, a college girl, an artist, a widow, a Spanish lady, a prima donna, a housewife, a dancing girl, a tennis girl, a sporting girl, a milkmaid, a flower girl, a cook, an angel, a German girl appear, but none of them suit his fancy. At last a charming girl appears, at whose feet he falls and on bended knees asks her to be his bride. Just then a gypsy woman, who has been silently and moodily watching him, springs to her feet and sings to the young lady the well-known "Gypsy's Warning." Then followed the Japanese high tea. The banquet hall had been very elaborately decorated with the Japanese umbrellas and fans and an abundance of acacia in bloom. Each guest was decorated with a Japanese butterfly. The ladies of the committee, dressed in rich Japanese costumes, served bouillon, Russia tea and plain tea. The delightful affair was under the direction of the following committee: Mrs. J. A. Green (Chairman), Miss Jordan, Mrs. William Eddy, Mrs. Clara Kober, J. P. Moore, E. Wilson and Mr. Metto. One of the great features of the evening was the performances of Max E. Hornlein as Ah Sid and Colonel J. W. Guthrie as Ah Jim. They were dressed as Chinamen, Hornlein's disguise being perfect. He sang a Chinese song with great effect. James Beston Merritt, Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of E. S. of California, was present with his wife, as well as many other visitors. The affair was a complete success in every way and will long be remembered.

A very pleasant home wedding took place last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Guilder, 607 I street. Miss Clara Gillilan of this city, a niece of Mrs. Van Guilder, and Frank W. Cook, a nephew of the same, were united in wedlock, Rev. A. C. Herrick officiating. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white duchess silk, trimmed with rosettes of chiffon, pearl passermenterie and white violets. The maids of honor were the bride's little cousins, Belle Van Guilder and Beryl French. They were attired in pink silk, and each carried a basket of pink carnations and maidenhair fern. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the bride's home, which was tastefully decorated with an abundance of smilax, arnations, camellias and palms. The bridal couple on entering the front parlor stood under an arch of calla lilies, where the ceremony was performed. This room was exquisitely arrayed in white. After the nuptials had been pronounced the few immediate friends and relatives present repaired to the back parlor and partook of a sumptuous wedding feast. There were many presents, all of which were very costly, among them being a gold watch and Trilby necklace, given by the groom. The newly-wedded couple will remain here until to-night, when they will depart for their future home lately built at Loomis.
