

ANOTHER RUSSIAN SLAYER.

His Terrible Crime Committed Yesterday Near Arno Station.

Two Japs Robbed—One Murdered and the Other Wounded—The Assassin Escapes.

Now the officers are on the lookout for a murderer who was last evening said to be heading in the direction of this city.

About 1 o'clock yesterday he shot and killed a Japanese named Tanibayashi and wounded another named T. Kuwana, after having first robbed them.

The two Japanese and the murderer were traveling together toward this city. They came from about Fresno and had been traveling together for two days.

When they reached the point named the white man, who is said to be a Russian, drew a pistol and forced the two Japs to give up what they had.

Tanibayashi was killed instantly. His companion, Kuwana, was shot in the back, probably after he had started to escape.

For two hours or more the wounded man lay on the wet and cold ground, near by his dead comrade, until a tramp came along and found them.

Justice Meyer visited the spot and took the dead man and his wounded companion to Galt. The latter was placed on the evening train, brought to this city and taken to the County Hospital, where the bullet was extracted.

Justice Meyer telegraphed the facts to Sheriff Johnson, and the latter at once notified Deputy John Quiggle of Galt to go in search of the murderer.

Contagious Blood Poison.

Mr. Frank B. Martin, who is engaged in the jewelry business at 926 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington City, where he is well and favorably known, was a victim of that worst form of disease.

Last evening was a very enjoyable one at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Adams, corner of Ninth and H streets.

At the residence of Miss Mary Kleinsorge, 1319 L street, the L. M. and O. Whist Club held its regular meeting last night.

The Duplicate Whist Club was entertained yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. M. J. Dillman, 1202 O street.

Best be appreciated, when I state that my throat and mouth were full of sores and my tongue was almost eaten away; I had not taken solid food for three months.

"I felt that I was incurable, and was in great despair, when a friend recommended S. S. S., stating that it would certainly cure me. I began its use, and when I had finished the fourth bottle, I began to improve, and by the time I had finished eighteen bottles, I was thoroughly rid of the disease; of course, I was not sure that I was cured, but am now convinced, as no sign of the disease has ever returned for four years."

S. S. S. is the best blood remedy in the world, and my cure was due solely and alone to it."

Contagious blood poison is the most horrible of all diseases, and has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It has always baffled the doctors, and until the discovery of S. S. S., was incurable.

For fifty years S. S. S. has been curing this terrible disease, even after all other treatment failed. It is guaranteed purely vegetable, and one thousand dollars reward is offered for proof to the contrary. S. S. S. never fails to cure contagious blood poison, or any other disease of the blood. If you have a blood disease, take a remedy which will not injure you. Beware of mercury; don't do violence to your system.

the hospital, who gave a description of the murderer and told how he and his companion were shot.

The Russian is described as a man of medium size, with a dark mustache and wearing a stiff or derby hat.

Mr. Maguire at Arno telephoned the "Record-Union" at 9 o'clock that he had seen no one pass that station coming in the direction of this city, but it would have been easy for the murderer to slip by before the tramp reached there with the news of the crime, as Maguire is often busily occupied in the store for hours at a time.

It may be that the Russian is already in the city, but Sheriff Johnson thinks he is hiding somewhere in the vicinity of the murder, or has struck out across the country away from the railroad.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

(Readers of the "Record-Union" are requested to send to this office personal notices, engagements, society notes and home gatherings of every kind.)

It was indeed a surprise to their many friends to learn of the marriage of Arthur Dunn and Miss Maybelle Tebow, which occurred here a short time ago, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. B. Banks of the Baptist Church.

A very pleasant little birthday party was given Margorie Lord at her home, 1126 F street, yesterday, she being 7 years old. There were quite a number of her little friends present to help make it one of the happy times she was to enjoy, and in this they did not fail.

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH.

A Milk and Dairy Inspection Ordinance Presented.

One Also Proposed for the Creation of the Office of Meat and Market Inspector.

The City Board of Health held its regular monthly meeting last night, Drs. Huntington, Ross, Waggoner, Parkinson and Ward being present.

The reports of Inspector Herr and Plumbing Inspector Tolley showed a large number of inspections made.

Two plumbers who had put in inch-and-a-half vent pipes were ordered to put in two-inch pipes in compliance with the ordinance.

An ordinance was presented providing for the inspection of milk and dairies and of dairy cows, which is patterned largely on the San Francisco ordinance which has been doing such good work.

The board wish to caution all property-owners having plumbing done, either new work or repairs—against accepting their plumbing bills unless the plumber has exhibited his certificate of inspection of the work.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Phoenix" is maintaining its old reputation as a drawing card. It has "taken" well at the Clunie Opera-house.

Thursday evening at the Metropolitan Theater Eugene O'Rourke's Metropolitan Comedy Company will appear in the Irish comedy drama, "The Wicklow Postman."

Sousa's Band concert at the Metropolitan Theater yesterday afternoon was lightly attended, but in the evening there was present a large audience.

Over in the far southeastern portion of the county, near Michigan Bar, the body of the late Mrs. Edith Smith was held at rest in the presence of many mourning friends.

Mrs. Smith was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Fay of this city and a sister of Mrs. Jennie Bryan and Mrs. Julia Volberg of Alameda, Mrs. Minnie Calhoun of Pittsburg, Maggie Fay and Ned Perry of Sacramento and M. Perry of Folsom.

hulation and with so much of calm had such complete mastery of a band organization as Sousa has of his. The "March King" responded to encores with great liberality, and when on these occasions he introduced his own marches the applause began with the first notes of the music; the recognition being immediate. Sousa's Band is a superb organization and gives entire satisfaction. Miss French, the soprano soloist, and Miss Duke, the solo violinist, created exceedingly favorable impressions, and were warmly complimented by the audiences. But Pryor, the trombone soloist, wins the laurel over all. His skill with the slide trombone is wonderful; his style is very superior. He develops qualities in the instrument that very few others have. His tonguing is a surprise. We noted an instance in which he played a passage of very broad range entirely through without once moving the slide. The programme gems afternoon and evening of the band playing were "The Last Days of Pompeii," especially the third number in that suite; "The Directorate March"; the new "Kings Cotton March"; the suite "Three Quotations," and especially the second division of the suite, and "Kinkel's Water Sprites."

MUSEUM ASSOCIATION.

Annual Meeting—Resolutions Concerning Judge Armstrong's Death.

The California Museum Association held its annual meeting last evening at the City Art Gallery.

The annual report of the Board of Directors was read, also the report of the Secretary. The meeting, after some discussion, then ordered an adjournment for the election of officers until the evening of the 19th inst., when a new Board of Directors will be elected.

The report of the directors referred touchingly to the death of Judge J. W. Armstrong, one of the founders and long a director of the association, and submitted a memorial resolution, which, on motion of Sparrow Smith, and seconded by J. E. Mills and Daniel Flint, was unanimously adopted.

The resolution read as follows: "Resolved, By the California Museum Association, in annual session assembled, that it learns with profound sorrow of the death of Hon. J. W. Armstrong. He was one of the founders of the association. He was one of the first signers of the roll of membership. He, with David Lubin, originated the plan by which the E. B. Crocker Art Gallery was transferred to the city for the uses and purposes of the association and the community. With Hon. A. P. Catlin he drew the deed of trust after long and profound consideration of all the matters involved. He served the association as its legal adviser without fee or reward. He was a member of the first Board of Directors, and served as a director for many years. He always felt and manifested a deep interest in the association and contributed to it of his ability and his means freely and gladly. The association recognized him as one of its most steadfast friends and earnest workers. In his conduct in the association we found him a public-spirited, patriotic citizen, a searcher after truth, a high-minded man, a wise counselor, a patient and faithful officer and a member commanding our esteem and respect at all times. Deploring his death, the association hereby instructs its Secretary to transmit this resolution to his afflicted widow, and communicate to her and his family, the sympathy and condolences of the organization. It instructs him likewise to spread this resolution on the minutes of the association, and to have a memorial page thereof, suitably inscribed."

THE REAPER.

Recent Deaths and Burials of Well-Known Persons.

As the result of a stroke of paralysis Charles J. Wilke, the well-known manufacturing jeweler, died quite suddenly at his home on Monday night.

He was a native of Germany, and 54 years of age. His wife, three sons and three daughters survive him—George, Chris, Charles and Nellie Wilke, and Mrs. S. Wild and Mrs. L. Eskridge. The funeral will take place at 2:30 p. m. today from the family residence, 1328 K street.

Ingrain Carpets. Are now largely used for bedrooms. The advancement made in designs in these goods has much to do with their present popularity. This season we are showing a greater number of patterns than ever before. Bring in the measurements of your rooms and we'll be glad to give you the exact cost of replacing your old floor for one of our handsome two-ply all-wool—75c a yard, sewed and laid, for the very best quality. We have ingrain as cheap as 40c, others at 55c yard, sewed and laid. Probably you have bought carpets elsewhere and have been so well pleased that you've concluded to go there again. We have people that feel that way towards us. But we want our customers to LOOK at the other stores' goods. And we want you to come here. That's fair! Isn't it? SNOWBALL FIGHTS. Scrimmages Caused by Yesterday Afternoon's Fusillade. W. H. Bradley, ex-Police Captain, does not take kindly to snowballing, especially when he is made a target for the balls.

A lively hailstorm about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon afforded an opportunity for boys—and some men who would be boys again—to indulge in snowballing, as the fine hailstones were piled up along the sidewalks in fair-sized drifts. The opportunity was not neglected, either, for nearly every man and boy on the streets indulged in the sport and pelted one another.

Among those who received "soakers" was Bradley, while in the vicinity of Seventh and K streets. He got one unusually "hot" one, and it made him mad. He thought he knew who to thank for it, so he crossed the street and planted his fist in the face of Charles Stanfield, a hackman. Stanfield resented the familiarity and mixed things with the ex-Captain in a very lively fashion. The scrap attracted a big crowd, also Officer Talbot, who arrested both men for disturbing the peace.

Stanfield denies that it was he who landed the "soaker" that roused Bradley's ire, and several others who were present also say that he did not snowball Bradley. It looks as if the latter made a mistake in his man.

Another fight occurred down at the freight shed on Front street about the same time. James Mullin, who was once known to fame as one of the Mediation Committee of the Railway Union at the time of the big railroad strike, was passing along the street when someone from a second-story window threw a snowball and hit him.

Mullin ran up stairs and tackled a clerk named Ranlett, whom he accused of having hit him with the snowball, but met with a very warm reception. It is said that some of Ranlett's office companions went to his aid, and that the ex-Mediation Committeeman received a pretty rough handling. There were no arrests in this case.

Several other fights occurred on account of the flying snowballs, but they had no serious results.

Weather Notes. The Weather Bureau reports show the highest and lowest temperatures yesterday to have been 50 degrees and 31 degrees, with brisk to high winds and cloudy weather prevailing.

The barometrical readings at 5 a. m. and 5 p. m. were 29.657 and 29.639 inches, respectively.

The highest and lowest temperatures one year ago yesterday were 67 degrees and 47 degrees, and one year ago to-day 66 degrees and 46 degrees.

The halstorm yesterday was quite a novelty, the temperature at the time being 41 degrees, or 9 degrees above the freezing point.
