Reviews, Magazines and Current Literature of the Day.

It is probable that no review of the present month is so rich in able discussions of social, economical and political problems of special interest as the "Arena" for March (B. O. Flower, Boston). Among the subjects treated with vigor, forcefulness and frankness we mention: Dr. John Clark Ridpath, the eminent historian's third paper on the history of "The Bond and the Dollar"; Professor Frank Parsons' masterly arraignment of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Justice Walter Clark, LL.D., on "The Property of Mexico," magnificently illustrated; B. O. Flower's paper on "A Successful Experiment for the maintenance of Self-Respecting Manhood" (illustrated); "Why the South Wants Free Silver," by United States Senator Marion Butler; Miss George D. Herron on "The Social Value of Individual Failure," and a discussion by George B. Waldron, A. M., on "Wealth Production and Consumption by the Nation," illustrated by numerous diagrams and tables.

The "American Journal of Sociology" for March presents a group of articles more varied and valuable than either of the four preceding numbers has offered. The table of contents is: "Social Control," Professor E. A. Ross, Stanford University; "A Belated Industry," Miss Jane Addams, Hull House; "A Programme of Municipal Reform," Hon. Franklin MacVeagh; "Scholarship and Social Agitation," Professor Albion W. Small; "The German Inner Mission," Professor Charles R. Henderson; "Sociology and Psychology," Professor Lester F. Ward; "Social Evolution," Rev. George McDermott, House of the Faithfuls, New York; "The Christian Doctrine of the State," Professor S. Haller Mathews; book reviews, digests of notable investigations, discussions and reports in the sociological field. This last department is a new feature in the "Journal" and puts its readers in possession of the best thoughts of the leading thinkers on social questions throughout the world. University of Chicago Press.

Harper's "Round Table" dated March 17th contains an article entitled "Foretelling the Weather," by W. J. Henderson, who describes in a popular way the methods employed and instruments used by the men who are so familiarly known as weather prophets. In the same number "The Construction of a Great Roadway" is described by J. Farnly Paret. With the aid of excellent photographic illustrations Mr. Paret instructs the reader in regard to the progress of a roadway, from the finest road in America to the New York speedway. Mollie Elliot Scowall contributes a splendid story under the title of "A Boy of 1775." There is an interesting installment of the new serial by Kirk Monroe entitled "Rick Dale," and A. J. Ensign contributes "The Voyage of Hiram and Dave."

"The United Service," a monthly review of military and naval affairs (1510 Chestnut street, Philadelphia), is at hand for February, and has this table of contents: "The Old Still," by Edward Field, Captain Fourth Artillery, "General Jackson at New Orleans," by David Graham Adee; "Five Weeks with the Cuban Insurgents," by Hon. Hubert Howard; "Famous Words of Great Commanders," by Ben C. Truman; "Reminiscences of the 'New Orleans' Off Charleston," by George E. Belknap, Rear-Admiral United States Navy; "Naval Progress in 1895," by Lewis S. Van Duzer, Lieutenant United States Navy; "Service Salad."

Horatio Alger, Jr., contributes to the March number of the "Writer" (Boston) a practical and suggestive article on

"Writing Stories for Boys." Nella I. Daggett, editor of the "Home," continues the series of "Editorial Talks With Contributors," and the managing editor of a leading Pittsburg daily shows where there is a demand for serial stories by American authors. There is a personal sketch, with portrait, of Miss Anne Hollingsworth Wharton of Philadelphia, together with a personal sketch of Eli Nye. There are articles entitled "Punctuation and Puns," and "Ornamental Book Covers." The usual departments of the magazine are full of helpful hints for those engaged in literary work.

In the March "Sanitarian" (Dr. A. W. Bell, Brooklyn, N. Y.), we find, among many other valuable papers, these articles: "Foods: Nutritive Value and Cost," Professor W. O. Atwater; "Infection Spread by Books"; "Disposal of Waste in Country Places," Harvey H. Bayshore; "Medical Aspect of the Nicaragua Canal," E. H. Still; "Turkish Bath," Louis Lewis; "Song of the Microbes," from the "Record-Union"; "Suggestive Statistics of the Dependence of the Mineral Springs of the United States," A. C. Peale; "High Buildings," New York "Chamber of Commerce"; "Treatment of Diabetes Mellitus," A. B. Garrod; "Hay Fever," M. Joad; "Serumtherapy," P. Pate; "Sudo-Diphtheric Bacillus," M. Faye; "Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites," London "Lancet"; "Milk Baths as a Remedy," "Medical Press and Circular"; "Pure Water, Safety Valve," "Protonuclein in Tonsillitis," T. Corbally; "Substitutors," Battle & Co.

The number of "Harper's Bazar" for March 21st contains a variety of fashions for the spring wardrobes of ladies and children. Several elegant theater and reception toilets for Paris are given. A new feature in the "Bazar," and one which promises to be popular, is a regular weekly article devoted to the doings of young people in society, especially reporting clubs, entertainments and societies formed by girls, either for amusement or for charitable endeavor.

Kenyon Cox's decorations for the Congressional Library are shown, in process of reproduction, in "Harper's Weekly" for March 21st. The same number of the "Weekly" contains an illustrated article on "Winter Campaigns in the Russian Army."

Do You Want to be a Martyr? Probably not! But if you do, try and get the dyspepsia by unwise feeding. Then you'll suffer martyrdom with a vengeance. Some people are martyrs to this complaint from childhood to the grave, suffering from all its attendant horrors of heartburn, wind and pain in the stomach, weary slumber and nightmare, capricious appetite, nervousness, lassitude and sorrowfulness. No necessity for all this. The complaint, obstinate as it is, when the ordinary remedies are ineffectual, bears upon it invariably yield to the great stomachic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which restores tranquility to the gastric region and nerves, regulates the liver and bowels, both of which are disturbed by weakness of the stomach, and promotes appetite and an increase of flesh. That "toxin of the soul," the dinner bell, that it peals upon the ear, sends no premonition of dire qualms after a comfortable meal if you have tried a course of the Bitters, which also banishes biliousness, rheumatism, nervousness, malaria and kidney trouble.

BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED AT THE office of the City Clerk until 5 o'clock p. m. on MARCH 20, 1896, for new boilers of 300 horse-power, aggregate, for Water Works. Bidders furnishing estimates on return to the City Clerk must figure on basis of fifteen square feet of heating surface being equivalent to one horse-power. Said boilers required to carry 150 pounds of steam at working pressure, with all necessary valves, pipes, fittings, etc., complete. Bidders must set up in working order on or before June 10, 1896. Bidders must furnish their own specifications, and specify the kind of boiler bid on, whether return tubular or water tube boilers. A certificate for 10 per cent. of amount of bid must accompany each bid. The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Shipping Wheat Lower and Dull, With No Foreign Demand.

San Francisco, March 19th. Shipping Wheat is lower and decidedly dull; there is no foreign demand; receipts are light. Milling Wheat is scarce and driving held at the quotations. Barley is steady, with continued light receipts and scarcity of choice bright feed; occasional sales are made at 7 1/2c. The English demand for brewing is falling off, but it is probably only temporary. Oats are stationary at yesterday's advance. Potatoes continue rather weak; liberal supplies of late have kept prices down. The same may be said of Onions. Asparagus is in lighter receipt and prices are steadier; receipts were 820 boxes. Beans are in light receipt and prices are steady; receipts were 820 boxes. Apples attract little attention; they are becoming scarcer. The Orange market is in a regular shape; good seedlings are scarce and in demand; Navels are also in light supply and move well; frozen stock is not so plentiful as it was; there were about 1000 boxes in by steamer. Every day and one car to the market. Apples are very dull and the light receipts are all that market. Trading in the market is very light. Butcher continues weak, particularly Creamery feed, while not actually lower, is tending that way. A slight increase in the receipts of Cheese is noticeable. Eggs are stationary at the prevailing figure for store eggs is 10 1/2c. Small sales of ranch are still made at 12 1/2c.
