Summer Vacations.

Eds. "Record-Union": I see by this morning's "Record-Union" that the time for the "summer vacations" was restored "to the same time that they had been for years past."

I admit that the teachers are more capable of judging of the amount of work to be done in a given time under the present plan of the courses, but all know that during the month of July very little is accomplished except the prodding of the dull and lazy pupils so they can pass.

April 30th.

ALLEGED BURGLAR CAPTURED.

Justice Davis Orders Vags and Drunks to Move On.

George Morris, William Jones, William Morris, John Galgani, James Malt, J. McCarney, James Haynes and George Parker were arraigned before Justice Davis yesterday morning, and all admitted that they were vagrants.

John Black, Tom Sullivan and John Doe, the latter of whom had only just been discharged from the State Prison at Folsom, admitted their guilt on charges of drunkenness, and were sentenced to ten days each in jail.

tion the most unrelaxing study and strenuous effort. No one knows better than the applauded prima donna what such severe work means to the nerves and to the strength.

The following letter from Lillian Nordica must be gratefully read by hosts of women.

Writing to the Wells & Richardson Co., from Boston, on February 24th, Nordica said:

"It certainly gives me great pleasure to testify to the health-giving effects of Paine's celery compound. I truly believe it to be the best of all spring remedies."

Sweet as health is, many men and women sit with their hands in their laps ailing, discouraged and sad, and do not arouse themselves to get rid of diseases that might certainly be cured—that are, in fact, being cured in hundreds of cases, in every city of this country, during these very spring days, by this same Paine's celery compound that Nordica so truly believes in.

Neuralgia, rheumatism, sleeplessness and dyspepsia indicate very clearly their own alleviation. These troubles come when the bodily vigor is low and the nervous system is more or less wasted.

As in every case of nervous debility, the one thing to do is to replenish the system with nutriment from which strength may be derived, and a firm stand be made against these diseases. Nothing in the entire range of medicine accomplishes this result nearly so well as Paine's celery compound.

Don't suffer nervous debility to go on. Take warning from dyspepsia and nervous headache. Look out for that tired, played-out feeling that so frequently appears as spring approaches.

If the winter has left you weak and languid, Paine's celery compound will restore strength to your nerves, will purify the blood and make you well.

Paine's celery compound quickly sends fresh nutriment to each one of the innumerable nerve fibers; it arouses the organs of digestion and assimilation to brisker action, and enables the wasted body to take on flesh and recover from a depressed sickly frame of mind. It is remarkable how soon that doleful, apprehensive feeling vanishes after taking Paine's celery compound.

Women in charge of homes and careworn, complaining people find recovery from long sickness hastened and their strength permanently established by the use of this greatest nerve restorer and blood purifier the world has ever been blessed with. Try it, and when you go to the drug store for Paine's celery compound see that you get it.
