The Santa Cruz Water Carnival Opened With a Large Parade, Followed by the Coronation of Queen Josephine—Judge Wallace Dismisses the Perjury Charge Against Assessor Siebe.

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Los Angeles does not propose to be behind in the hunt for murderer Dunham. A report was current here this afternoon that a rancher near Florence had met and talked with the sextuple murderer, who had stopped by the wayside to rest. The murderer was a regular walking arsenal, which fact caused the rancher to interview ex-Marshall Gard, who has Dunham's picture. The farmer declared that the stranger he had met was headed for this city, and was none other than the Simon-pure Dunham, Marshals, detectives, Sheriffs and the whole constabulary of Los Angeles are on the lookout for the missing fender to-night, spurred to extra activity, perhaps, by the vision of the big reward for Dunham's scalp.

SANTA CRUZ WATER CARNIVAL. Festivities at the Seaside City Open With the Crowning of the Queen.

SANTA CRUZ, June 17.—A splendid ceremony Queen Josephine was crowned this afternoon at her palace on the river's bank. Preceding the coronation was a parade, the first event of which was the landing of seven companies of naval bluejackets and marines from the Philadelphia and Monadnock. Thousands of people were on hand to see them come ashore.

Before the companies landed a delegation of citizens, headed by Director-General Bowman and Mayor Clark, went on board the flagship Philadelphia and formally invited the naval force to participate in the observances of the day.

The bluejackets were met at the wharf by the local battalion of naval reserves and the militia and the parade was then formed under the marshaling of C. A. Rice, who wore, as did his aids also, the elegant habiliments of old Venice.

At the lower plaza the bluejackets gave an exhibition drill, and then the procession moved to the carnival arena, which was filled with an immense crowd.

Queen Josephine, with her maids of honor and other attendants, sailed up the river in her magnificently decorated barge, followed by scores of splendidly ornamented floats, barges, boats and other craft.

A landing was made at her palace, and there the coronation ceremonies took place, being marked with great magnificence.

She was presented with the keys of the city by Mayor Clark. Duncan McPherson, who was Doge of Venice, delivered an address of welcome, in which he recounted the glories of old Venice. Ben K. Knight, the Prime Minister, spoke and Irving M. Scott delivered an oration, Bunker Hill being the topic, and Romovier's hand played.

Late Smith Sentenced. SEATTLE, June 17.—Federal Judge Hanford today sentenced First Mate William Smith to one year imprisonment and to pay a fine of $1,000 and costs for causing the death of the sailor Maude, who in order to escape Smith's fiendish brutality jumped overboard from the ship Benjamin Seawell when the vessel was upon the high seas.

Trial of Packard. BAKERSFIELD, June 17.—The trial of H. L. Packard, ex-Deputy County Clerk, on a charge of falsifying records in coyote scalp certificates, came up today. The entire day was spent in obtaining ten jurors, and the venire was

THIS MORNING'S FIRE. Two Houses Burned and Another Badly Damaged.

Shortly before 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in an unoccupied one-story frame cottage on the south side of F street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth, owned by a man named Schulz. The building, which was worth perhaps $1,000, was burned. Adjoining it on the east was a story and a half frame cottage owned by W. H. B. Callum and occupied by a widow named Osborn. It was nearly destroyed, but was insured. It was worth about $1,500.

On the west of Schulz's house is a two-story frame occupied by a family named Mayberry. It was badly damaged by fire and water.

was, he added, entirely satisfactory to him.

General Johnson, Thought to Have Been Killed in Cuba, Turns Up Safe at Havana—General Dimond's Physicians Give No Hope of Any Change for the Better in His Condition.

The tariff plank was agreed to unanimously, and a strong declaration was made for a protective duty on wools and woolens.

NEW YORK, June 17.—William C. Whitney, who had taken passage for Europe on the Teutonic, which sailed for Europe this morning, said this forenoon: "I decided late last night to remain at home and go to the convention at Chicago. I do not think that I can help matters much, but I have yielded to the requests of many friends who have been at me for several weeks to be present when the convention meets. All this muddle in the party has got into it over the silver question, and may, in my opinion, result in its disruption, and if I can be of any assistance to those who are in the struggle to reform matters I shall be glad to do so. Nothing said by Mr. Cleveland has influenced me, as I have not heard from him, directly or indirectly. His renomination is, to my mind, impossible."

Mr. Teller spoke with deep emotion, and the sincerity of his purpose was so manifest that his words produced a deep impression. He spoke of his connection with the Republican party. It was the party of his young manhood; the party of his choice; it was the party with which he had been affiliated for thirty-five years; it was a party that had given him honor and had served him loyally. "But," he exclaimed in a voice of deep earnestness, "the time has come when I shall be obliged to leave it if it declares for the single gold standard."

NEW YORK, June 17.—The sudden changes in Mr. Whitney's plans is regarded as an indication that the Democrats of the East anticipate one of the hardest fights in the history of the party. David B. Hill, Senator Gorman, Ex-Senator Matthew Ransom and Colonel James Murdock held a long conference with Mr. Whitney yesterday afternoon.

He explained in conclusion that he had not originally intended to speak at such length, but that he was carried away by the importance of his subject. It was purely a matter of conscience and principle. There was no question of personal ambition involved. He thought he was wrong; he believed not. Time was passing so rapidly that he and the framers of this plank were right.

GORMAN WILL ALSO ATTEND. BALTIMORE, June 17.—The statement that William C. Whitney had decided to postpone his trip to Europe in order to take part in the deliberations of the Democratic National Convention caused the statement this afternoon that Senator Gorman, too, would be a participant in the Chicago debate of gold versus silver. The Senator, it is said, will accept the vacant position as delegate-at-large created by the death of Charles H. Homer to serve in the caucus.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts explained that no choice was left to the committee but to adopt the plank in question. He expressed his high appreciation of Mr. Teller, and stated his belief that he was acting from conscientious motives, but that the Republicans had come to the parting of the ways, and in that way parted from Mr. Teller.

Senator Gorman has repeatedly asserted that he would not go to Chicago, but the impending fight over the adoption of the platform to be announced has, it is claimed, caused him to change his plans.

Mr. Cleveland of Nevada asserted that such a plank in the State could not be kept in the Republican column. Lemmon of California said the Western men had come here under the belief that the committee would be friendly to silver. He explained his connection with the last three Republican campaigns in California, that they had done what they could to keep the State in line, but the effect of this action would be to wipe out a Republican majority of 40,000 and make the State Democratic.

Children Invited to Celebrate the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary.

Canon of Utah, like Teller, created a profound sensation by the earnestness of his remarks. Several times his voice was choked with emotion, and he proceeded with great difficulty. He pictured out that Utah had been converted from a Democratic Territory into a Republican State, but that it would be retrogradely lost if the party were committed to the gold standard. He bitterly deplored the necessity which compelled him to leave the party of his choice, but existing circumstances left him no alternative.

ROME, June 17.—The Most Eminent Cardinal Satelli, Washington, D. C. I hasten to inform your eminence, in order that you may in the most fitting manner give notice that on the seventy-fifth anniversary of his first communion, the holy father deigns to grant a plenary indulgence to all the children who on the 21st of this month shall make their first communion; and an indulgence of seven years and seven quarantines to all the faithful who on that same day shall partake of the sacraments praying for the intention of his holiness.

He had failed to find any utterances of McKinley's to the contrary. If McKinley was unfavorable to silver, there was nothing in his record to show it. Before a vote was taken on Teller's 16 to 1 substitute Darlington of Pennsylvania arose and replied specifically to Senator Teller's declaration that the Republican party had fallen under the domination of "Lombard and Wall Street."

Received Two Bullets in the Coat, But Was Uninjured.

La Folette then, addressing himself specifically to the money plank, moved to amend the last section by striking out the words "now in circulation," so that it should read that "all our silver and paper currency must be maintained at a parity with gold," etc.

NEW YORK, June 17.—A special cablegram to the "Herald" from Havana says: General Johnson reached here late Tuesday night by special train from Matanzas. He was a passenger on the regular train from Matanzas for this city which was blown up by dynamite by insurgents, and his escape from the instant death was remarkable. He received two bullets in his coat, but was not injured.

La Folette argued in support of his amendment that a wrong construction might be placed upon the plank as it stood. He feared it might be construed as a plank to contract the circulating medium so that no more silver could be coined or paper money issued. It would hurt the Republican party in States where it would be hard pressed, although it would make no difference in his own State of Wisconsin.

CHARLESTON (S. C.), June 17.—The steamship Commodore left this port for ports unknown to-night. She was released by the United States authorities on bonds two weeks ago, she having been seized last winter on the charge of being a filibuster. It is believed here that she has taken on a large cargo of arms and ammunition for Cuba while she has been lying in the harbor.

Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts opposed the amendment. He did not wish to be placed in the position of encouraging any further coinage of silver by the Government. Arguments in a similar strain were made by Merriam of Minnesota and Patterson of Illinois. Gear of Iowa and Brewer of Michigan supported the amendment.

British Venezuelan Controversy. KINGSTON (Jamaica), June 17.—According to advices received here, that territory in dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela has been entered by a force of troops of the latter country. The Venezuelan soldiers compelled a party of British surveyors who were at work in the district to surrender. The surveying party retreated, and appealed to the authorities for support.

The Chairman agreed with La Folette that the words should be stricken out, and this was accordingly done. The vote on the adoption of the gold plank was amended was then ordered, and it passed—yeas 40, nays 11. The negative vote was cast by the foregoing silver men who favored the Teller substitute, with the addition of the member from Oklahoma.

Rumors of a Massacre Denied. LONDON, June 17.—A dispatch received here from Tunis denies that there is any truth in the rumors circulated here regarding the massacre of the Marquis de Mores and thirty of his followers.

The discussion on the remainder of the platform was not especially interesting, and it was adopted without division, a number of the silver men having already absented themselves from the meeting.

General Dimond Slowly Sinking. NEW YORK, June 18.—At 2 o'clock this morning General Dimond was still alive, but was slowly sinking. The doctors held out no hope of any change for the better.

plank, and expressed his regret at this difference of opinion within the party.

Before the sense of the committee was taken on the gold plank Mr. La Folette of Wisconsin arose to a personal explanation. He desired attention to a statement made by Teller that himself and Gear of Iowa had performed the principal work in the preparation of the tariff law of 1890, which had been popularly credited to McKinley, and said that while the members of the committee discharged the duties entrusted to them faithfully it was not true that any one man on earth had prepared as much of the measure as McKinley, but that his ideas and spirit dominated everything in connection with the bill when the sub-committee was preparing the schedules, and before they were submitted to McKinley. The same rare ability enabled him also when it was taken into the House to press it through the body without amendment. Such statements as Senator Teller made, La Folette continued, was an injustice to McKinley. They had been continually repeated, and it was time now that the country should be acquainted with the real facts connected with the formulation of the bill which bore Major McKinley's name.

La Folette then, addressing himself specifically to the money plank, moved to amend the last section by striking out the words "now in circulation," so that it should read that "all our silver and paper currency must be maintained at a parity with gold," etc.
