THE APPROACHING CELEBRATION.
 From all indications of preparation we are going to have in Sacramento this week what is generally known as "an old time celebration" of the anniversary of the birth of the Nation. That is to say, we will parade in honor of the day, will glorify at night to manifest our satisfaction with free institutions, and will hear the Declaration of Independence and listen to the words of a chosen orator to quicken patriotic sentiment. A portion of the day is to be given up to rational sports, and business, it is supposed, will be suspended generally. There ought to be no doubt about this last. We should make the day one of complete cessation of business, or at least cease to trade and barter and sweat in the market place, just as far as it is possible. There never was a time when it was more necessary to teach by mouth and every day's precepts, the lessons of patriotism. As the century lengthens this need will grow more and more important for the reason that as the event commemorated the more recedes into the distance of the past, it is more and more necessary to impress on youth and adult alike the truths of free Government and thereby more vividly exhibit the dangers and the fallacies of the pessimists who are forecasting all manner of ills for a republican form of government and proposing all manner of fanciful things in the way of alleged reforms for the supposed betterment of the people. It is each year more important to teach the coming generation that this country is theirs, not only to enjoy, but to preserve, and that it is worth keeping and saving, and dying for if need be.

CONTEMPTIBLE METHODS.
 The Oroville "Mercury" says: The Republican press judges the Democracy by its knowledge of the Republican party. It knows the Republican party is willing to adopt any platform that will bring them money enough to make the campaign on. In the present instance, it is said the price demanded and accepted to be the gold advocates was $5,000,000, by which the silver States were to be corrupted and controlled in the interest of McKinley and the gold bugs, and to the enslavement of the people. The Democratic party is not composed of that kind of cattle. It is the party of the people, believes in "the greatest good to the greatest number," and is not to be corrupted or appalled by British gold, any more than the captures of the ill-fated Major Andre were.

That kind of campaigning nauseates and disgusts self-respecting people. It is the very lowest form of slum-bag political writing. It is really silly, and suggests pity for the intelligence that employs it. "The Republican party willing to adopt any platform," etc., etc. What pitiful resort it is, to be sure, for if political history teaches us anything it instructs us that the Republican party has not been a trimmer and a time-server, or that it has sacrificed at the altar of demagoguery to secure place in the National Government. Even the most pronounced of its opponents in the Democracy who have written of political history, though when charging some of its leaders with corruption, have conceded the consistency, courage and self-sacrifice of the party.

Bless your soul, sir "Mercury," if it had not been courageous, firm, daring and devoted to principle that its membership at least believed in with all sincerity, it would never have achieved the victory of 1896, have preserved its alignment during the war, nor have administered the affairs of the nation for the longest period they have ever been committed to the hands of any party.

"In the present instance it is said the price demanded and paid was $5,000,000." Is there any sane man who believes that? Does our contemporary propose to debate the issues of the camaign now opening on the mean lines that have for their basis the "they say" of political gossip? It ought to be above such low devices. It should be too self-respecting to employ such agencies. It ought to have too much regard for its readers to believe that they will not feel insulted by having such "arguments" laid before them by one of their leading county papers.

Really, when the ability, long experience and political sagacity of the author of the extract we make from the "Mercury" are taken into account, we cannot repress expression of the amazement which fills us, that in such columns there should be permitted such back-alley and contemptible methods of appeal to the voters.

The Directory of the South African Company has accepted the resignation of Cecil Rhodes. That means, if anything at all, that the Directory is convinced that Rhodes is guilty in the public judgment of the attempt to steal the Transvaal, and that the company cannot afford to defy public judgment. Now the English Government should do its duty, and demand the resignation of the Directory, or what is better recall the charter. For it is perfectly certain that if Rhodes was guilty of the Jameson murdering expedition—it was nothing else, there not being any state of war—the Directory, which knew of all his movements and had to pass upon all of his propositions, knew what he was about and approved it. The Directory is, practically, the company, and though some shareholders may not have known of the contemplated theft and the filibustering expedition, most of them, especially the heavy ones did, and every mother's son of them would have accepted his share of the plunder had Jameson succeeded and with no qualms of conscience about being a "fence."

Therefore the right thing to do is for England to take the charter, distribute the goods, reimburse for all that are not susceptible of division, and hereafter administer all South African concerns without the intervention of a chartered company of any kind.

The talk of the enemies of McKinley now is that he was nominated on the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo, and therefore these superstitious rattlepates exclaim he will meet his Waterloo in November. It is significant, if anything, of the Waterloo that will meet the Democratic-Populistic double-ended combination that is now taking shape under the manipulation of political amalgamators.

FRUIT ARRIVING RAPIDLY.
 This Week Will be a Busy One for Shippers.

Bartlett Pears Coming in Fast, and a Prosperous Season is Anticipated.

This promises to be a lively week for the fruit men, both growers and shippers. The one good fruit crop of the State this year is that of Bartlett pears, for which the season is just opening, and they are beginning to come in from down-river fruit ranches faster and faster. Before the week is out all the hands will be on the jump and probably working double shifts to keep the fruit from accumulating faster than it can be shipped.

"Prices are a little better to-day in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, and much better in Chicago, on sound fruit," said the manager for Porter Bros. yesterday. "It pays to ship sound fruit, and I believe that we are going to ship more sound fruit this season than ever before. I believe we are going to have a season that will be a prosperous one for the growers. We will not have much competition with Eastern fruit according to the reports. Pears are coming in freely from down the river, and by the last of the week they will keep us busy. The first ones are not as large as they will be later, but they are of good quality."

At Earl Bros. it was ascertained that the Eastern markets were about the same. The Boston market was looking up a little, and the shipments are increasing. Appriots are a little low, as the market was rushed somewhat, but better prices will prevail in a day or two probably. The Georgia and Delaware crop of peaches is not so heavy as was expected, on account of the cold weather and curculio, and there will not be over 600 carloads.

Eighteen carloads of fruit were shipped from here yesterday, of which five were for Chicago, there being one of apricots, one and one-fourth of plums, two and one-half of pears and one-fourth of a car of mixed fruits. Five were shipped to New York—one-half of a car of cherries, three-fourths of a car of peaches, one-fourth of a car of peaches, two and one-fourth of plums, three-fourths of pears and one-fourth of mixed fruits. Boston will get three cars—one-half of a car of apricots, one-fourth of peaches, one of plums, one of pears and one-fourth of mixed fruits. St. Paul gets one car—one-fourth of a car of apricots, one-half of plums, one-fourth of mixed fruits. Other points get five cars all told.

Porter Bros. have consigned to Wood, Gray & Co. of this city a shipment of oranges of a new variety that is destined to take a high place in the estimation of lovers of the fruit.

It is called the "Late Valencia," and is grown at the San Gabriel Mission by John R. Dobbins, although two or three other orchards of young trees have been set out by others. It is practically a seedless orange, ripening, as its name indicates, much later than the other varieties, and has a thin, smooth skin, a very sweet, juicy pulp and a distinctive flavor that is very pleasant to the taste—qualities that will make it a good shipper and a favorite wherever it goes.

WINE GOES FREE.
 George Wine, who on Sunday last was arrested on suspicion of having broken open a freight car on the river front and taken therefrom a box of baking powder, was called before Justice Davis yesterday morning, given a lecture and advised to leave the city. No complaint had been filed, the evidence being deemed insufficient to secure a conviction.

The Children's Friends.
 At the office of O. W. Erlwine, in Odd Fellows' Temple, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children will hold a meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening. A full attendance is desired, as there are urgent matters to be considered.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

George W. Flicher, son of J. A. Flicher, Manager of the State Board of Trade, and F. L. Sanders, son of C. C. Sanders of Placer County, have taken the management of the Placer "Herald" of Auburn, W. A. Shepard retiring. The "Herald" is a strong, active and intelligent foothill paper, devoted to California interests and thoroughly in harmony with all wise, progressive movements. Both of the new managers are sons of Placer County pioneers, and neither of them is a novice in the newspaper business.

"The Weekly Independent" is the title of a new paper just started at San Bernardino, with J. H. Stewart as editor. It is a free silver and Populist paper, and announces that its aim is to do all it can "to help the masses."

It is very gratifying to learn that the demand for macadam road material upon the State's rock-crushing plant at Folsom is far in advance of the capacity of the works. This disposes of the fear entertained by some that the rock would not be called for by the people.

Cold comfort the Democracy and the Populists get out of the Oregon election. What they first claimed as a victory turns out to be a clean-cut triumph for the Republicans in the late election, not a Democrat or a Populist being chosen.

It is almost ludicrous, this struggle of the Democratic press to change the issue of the campaign and put to the rear everything but the silver craze. The Democracy is not in position to discuss the tariff question. Its experimenting in that direction in the past makes it play shy of the present. Its desperate effort to obscure the great issue, protection to American industry and production, really excites pity, and its coquetting with the Populists and the "ismists" of all degrees suggests the vain endeavor of an ancient maiden to win a lover—"anything for a man"; "anything for place."

A dream about pigeons flying in the air forebodes speedy news of a pleasant character.

FINN AND HIS PALS
 Discharged, But One of Them Re-arrested for Perjury.

Ed. Finn, John Plummer and Joe Lannigan, the three boys charged with having attempted to rob a Japanese named T. Morisuti, at Twelfth and D streets two weeks ago, were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning.

Morisuti testified that Plummer held his arms, Finn hit him on the nose and Lannigan reached into his pocket, taking therefrom his purse in which was $3 80, beside several Japanese coins. He, however, made a fight for the purse and succeeded in getting it away from Lannigan, after which the boys ran away.

Several railroad switchmen testified to having had trouble with the boys shortly after the alleged attempt to rob the Jap, and that they had seen Morisuti walking along the track with blood on his face. None of them, however, had seen the difficulty between the boys and the Jap.

Officer Wilson testified that Plummer had told him that Finn had said prior to the alleged attempted robbery, "Come on, boys, and I'll give that Jap the 'strong arm.'" The boy did not say whether Finn had carried out his intention or not.

Officers Bagley and Maley testified to having arrested the boys, and it was sought to be proved by the latter that Plummer had confessed that they had robbed a man at Eleventh and H streets on the previous night, but objection was made by the defense and sustained.

The defendants all denied the robbery when put on the stand, but Finn admitted that he struck the Jap, saying that his comrades were several yards away.

The case was submitted without argument and the prisoners were discharged. Plummer was arrested immediately upon his release, however, on a charge of perjury in relation to his testimony. Finn was taken to the County Jail to serve out his ninety-day sentence for contempt of court in not appearing before Judge Hinkson as a witness in the Davis robbery case.

LEGAL HOLIDAY.
 Governor Budd So Declares July 7th to Be.

Governor Budd yesterday issued the following proclamation, reciting the reasons why he has declared July 7th to be a legal holiday:

"July 7th, D. 1846, Commodore Sloat, U. S. N., in the name of the United States of America, raised the flag of our Union at Monterey, Cal., and occupied the territory under claim of the National Government.

"July 7th, A. D. 1896, marks the semi-centennial anniversary of this most important event in the history of our State, and should be set apart as a day of rejoicing by our people.

"Now, therefore, I, James H. Budd, Governor of the State of California, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of said State, do hereby proclaim Tuesday, the 7th day of July, a holiday."

Men are often wiser than they act. They know how to be happy but sometimes they are miserable. They know there is no happiness worth the name without health; yet they neglect health. They allow dyspepsia and biliousness and constipation to get a hold on them and make life wretched. These three complaints usually come together. Constipation affects the stomach and liver. That brings on bilious attacks and indigestion, headaches, nausea, dizziness, queer sensations of weakness and pallid features. Your nerves are unstrung, your system is sluggish. You lose ambition. The fact is your whole constitution is being slowly undermined. What you need is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They cure constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness in the only sure, permanent way. There is nothing violent or irritating about them, they work mildly though quickly. They tone and strengthen the bowels to carry on their functions naturally. They gently stimulate the flow of bile from the liver and the digestive juices of the stomach. You don't become a slave to their use as with other pills. They make you regular and then you can leave them. They are the difference between Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and the something "just as good," which a sharp druggist tries to substitute. Don't let him do so with you.

If you want to keep your health and strength without consulting the doctor so often, the best thing you can do is to write to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a copy of Dr. Pierce's great book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." Send at once one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. It is a large book of 700 pages, with over 200 illustrations. It is the same book of which 68,000 copies were sold at $1.00 each. The only difference is in the binding, which in the free edition is of strong manila paper.

There is no other such complete family doctor book in the English language. It is a veritable medical library complete in volume. Send now before all are given away. They are going off rapidly, therefore, do not delay sending in your order. It is also a generous offer, limited to 500,000 copies.
