

"Big as a Barn Door."

Battle Ax PLUG

For 10 cents you get almost twice as much "Battle Ax" as you do of other high grade goods. Before the days of "Battle Ax" consumers paid 10 cents for a small plug of the same quality. Now, "Battle Ax"—Highest Grade, twice the quantity. That's true economy.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

EXPRESSIONS OF INTERIOR CALIFORNIA NEWSPAPERS.

Comments Upon Things Local, Governmental, Practical, Theoretical and Current.

Marysville Appeal: Large pictures for small men is the motto of the big newspaper offices. Newspaper illustration has almost run mad.

ELEVENTH TIME.
Calaveras Chronicle: For the eleventh time the representatives of the Republican party have assembled in National Convention, formulated a platform of principles and nominated a Presidential ticket. There are no new departures in the platform, it is merely a repetition of the doctrines which have been followed by the party since its birth and which have given the country its longest and greatest period of prosperity. While, of course, no ticket could have been nominated that would not have disappointed some good Republicans, certainly no ticket could have been named that would have pleased more Republicans than the one that was named.

RIGHT.
Colusa Herald: The party that successfully solved the slavery question will easily solve the money question.

NO APOLOGUES.
Alameda Telegram: McKinley's broad Americanism, to which a useful career bears honorable evidence, is of the kind that finds the warmest commendation in the hearts of the people. His record is clean, and the role of apologist will not have to be assumed in his behalf.

THEIR CHOICE.
Orville Register: Not since the nomination of General Grant has there been such confidence and assurance manifested in the Republican party in victory as is now felt with William McKinley as the choice of the protectionists.

POPPY-COCK.
Placerville Nugget: All this poppy-cock about Hanna being the boss of the Republican Convention is tiresome. Mr. Hanna was the manager for a man selected by the people long before the convention convened. What a fine spectacle any man would make of himself making his own fight for candidate for the office of Chief Magistrate of this great Nation! Bah!

WIDE TIRES IN EUROPE.
Santa Rosa Democrat: The smoothness of European roads is due in great measure to the use of wide tires. In France every wagon and market cart is a road maker. The width of the tires there runs from three to ten inches, most four-wheeled vehicles having a six-inch rim and a rear axle several inches longer than the front axle.

In Germany, where the main roads are models of smoothness, every wagon for heavy loads must have at least a four-inch tire. Even the light vehicles are required to use tires not less than two and one-half inches wide.

The laws of Austria require wagons built to carry loads of more than two and one-quarter tons to have tires not less than four and one-half inches wide, and if the wagons are intended for loads of more than three and one-half tons the tires must be six and one-quarter inches wide.

In Switzerland the width must not be less than one inch to each draught animal. Wagons for the transportation of heavy articles must not have tires of less than six inches.

If American cities would have hard, smooth roads, they, too, must adopt the broad tire.

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA.
Los Angeles Express: As was anticipated, the triumph of the Liberals in Canada, which appears to be an overwhelming as the triumph of the Republicans at the Congressional elections in this country in 1894, means a closer trade union between Canada and the United States on the basis of reciprocity. Such a proposition as that will be of mutual benefit to both countries. Indeed, the position of Canada, governed entirely by sentimentality, has never been logical. There has never been any reason why Canada should not have joined the Union and become a part of this republic, except the influence of the English officeholders and the sentimental affection for the old country.

In every respect, Canada's interests and tastes and inclinations should lead her to prefer independence with America to dependency with England, and there is no reason why the latter country should care very much whether she becomes a part of this country or remains a portion of the empire.

NO ACCIDENT.
Santa Cruz Sentinel: Hon. William McKinley is not an accident or an expediency man taken up on the ancient plea of availability, but the logical candidate of the hour and the direct representative of the popular will. With but one or two exceptions, when a national crisis needed a Lincoln or a Grant, the history of our politics furnishes no more signal triumph of the people than the nomination of McKinley.

CAN BE FOOLED BUT ONCE.
Ukiah Press: The commitment of the Democratic party to free silver by so many State conventions is in a large degree the expression of antagonism to Cleveland. The rank and file of the Democratic party are making of Grover the scapegoat for the party. Upon his head are laid all the evils of the deficit producing Wilson tariff law, and the piling up of the bonded debt for which it was responsible, and he is to be driven forth into the desert as a propitiation for the sins of his party. Besides this, the Democratic leaders are agonizingly anxious to "change the issue." They fought and won the battle of 1892 under the banner of low tariff, and were championed and led by Cleveland himself. They humbugged and deceived the people completely. Never in our history has an unsound political theory been so quickly exposed and found worthless. Not one of the main Democratic arguments for low tariff, presented from every stump in 1892, is not scouted today as false and pernicious by the people. Face to face with the certainty of deserved and overwhelming defeat at the hands of a deceived and outraged people, the only hope of the Democratic leaders is in a new issue. They desire to make the people forget all about the tariff failure.

A TIN ROMANCE.
Tulare Register: Do you remember, gentle tariff reformer, what a hubbub was raised about tin when the McKinley tariff law was passed in 1890? Do you remember how in 1892 Democrats scouted the idea that any tin was really made in America and that all the talk of factories starting up was pretense? Well, by the grace of that law which started this industry, and the grace of the stand which the Gorman Senate took against reducing the tin schedule until after 1894, there are now 150 tin factories in America and America is nearly ready to supply her home market with tin. And what has been the effect on the tinplate industry of Wales? Why, of 512 mills which were running in 1890, 273 have closed down altogether and 91 more are running on short time at decreased wages. That is unfortunate for Welsh workmen cannot be questioned, and no good American will rejoice at the hardship inflicted upon them, but it was a mighty good thing for American workmen and the paramount duty of America is to look after her own wage earners. England can go and do likewise.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

(Readers of the "Record-Union" are requested to send to this column personal notices, engagements, society notes and home gatherings of every kind. Write on one side of the paper, and give your name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.)

At Army Hall last evening the gallant boys of Company G, Second Infantry, N. G. C., gave one of the most successful and pleasant entertainments of the season. The entertainment was complimentary throughout, and the best talent in the city volunteered their services for the occasion. Many of the selections and features were encored, and all were well received by the three hundred ladies and their escorts who were present. It was ladies' night, and the fair ones showed their gratitude by packing the hall and leading in the applause. Sergeant Kellogg acted as master of ceremonies, and acquitted himself in a very creditable manner. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the programme, and every one went away happy. Hoping that the boys of Company G would not make the entertainment the last of the season. The programme was as follows: Opening remarks, Lieutenant E. Stearns; piano duet, Miss Alice Jordan and William V. Kellogg; recitation, Arthur Miller; instrumental trio, E. Valenzuela, M. Olla and J. Garcia; whistling solo, James Hastings; selection on the cello, Dr. Prentiss; contortion act, Master Garrie Frawley; instrumental duet, Mr. Coggeshall and Miss Buchanan; comic song, Dan Daugherty; clog dance, Ben Lynn; Company G's Quartet, T. P. Holder, Thomas Milliken, Charles Ellsworth and William Miller; violin solo, George Fleming; piano solo, Professor John Becker; bass solo, William Miller; sentimental song, Maria Herrera; piano duet, the Misses Deane; vocal happy Dan Daugherty; club swinging, Albert F. Kleinsorge; The Drum Major of the Capital City Drum Corps in his manipulations of the baton won much praise.

PERSONAL MENTION.

F. A. Boole of Red Bluff is at the Golden Eagle.

August Svensen left yesterday for a month's stay at Bartlett's Springs.

Secretary of State L. H. Brown and wife will leave for San Francisco today.

Mrs. E. D. Kennedy and son are visiting relatives in San Francisco and Oakland.

Mrs. F. G. Fay and children have gone to Pacific Grove, where they will remain during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. McClatchy and children leave this evening for a month's stay at Soda Springs, Shasta County, their favorite camping ground.

Mrs. A. H. Den of Santa Barbara and her mother, Mrs. E. V. Devine of this city, left yesterday for the former place, where Mrs. Devine will visit for a month with her daughter. The latter (formerly Winnie Devine) had been on a short visit to her old home.

AMUSEMENTS.

The best first night house of the engagement of Davis-Bullock Company greeted it at the Opera House last evening. Evidently the theater-going public has at last awakened to the fact that this troupe's first nights are as good as any subsequent ones as to performance, since the company is playing a repertoire with which it is perfectly familiar. The play was the rattling farce comedy, or rather low comedy, "Turned Up," which Nat Goodwin has made famous. Mr. Moulton was the Caraway Bones of the comedy, and Miss Harrington the widow who was not a widow, and whose marriage husband was personated by Mr. Sellery capitally. In that part he sang a baritone solo and won warmly deserved applause for it. These two, Mr. Sellery and Miss Harrington, were all that the exacting could ask for in the parts, but the roaring fun of the piece was cyclonic about Moulton's Bones, which was the most absurd and ridiculously funny character imaginable. In that part he sang a topical song, a parody on "Sweet Marie," that took immensely and will be heard on the street before the week is out. Miss Myra Davis as Sabina led nothing wanting in her part. In one scene she does as clever a bit of work as is ever seen in comedy. Mr. Loneragan was the unhappy George Medway, who was made half insane by the endeavor to ascertain just what his relationship to his several parents was, and the very absurd part he made the most of. Miss Stuart was charming as Ada Baltic, and was gowned so tastefully and richly as to win complimentary remarks from the ladies in the audience and the admiration of the men for her taste. Fanny Yantes' Cleopatra was as clever a bit of eccentric character as acting in black face as one might wish to see. The play took excellently, was warmly applauded and served to keep the risibilities of the audience at the highest pitch of exaltation of merriment the entire evening. The same comedy will be played tonight.

THEY BUMPED.

The Pay-Car Locomotive Strikes a Couple of Freight Cars.
Yesterday afternoon a switch engine in the railroad yard on the river front, in making up a train, left two cars standing on the main line while two others were being shunted on a side switch. While this was being done, the pay-car came into the city on the main line and plumped into the two freight cars without so much as saying, "By your leave."

The engineer of the switch engine, it is said, turned loose his whistle when he saw the danger, but it did no good. It is a rule that all trains shall slow down upon entering the yard, for the reason that the track is liable to be in use by the yard crew at any time.

PROPOSED SCRAP.

Talk of a Match Between Rubenstein and Anthony.

The San Francisco "Post" stated last evening that a Sacramento man has issued a challenge offering to match Henry Rubenstein against Jimmy Anthony for $500 a side, the men to fight at 105 pounds. A mill between the two bantams, says that paper, would be a good one, as they are aggressive fighters and quite willing.

Anthony came to the coast as the Australian champion in the bantam class. Rubenstein won the coast amateur championship over the best bantams that could be produced, and should be able to give the kangaroo man a good battle.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

Kidder and Thomas Will Have to Sue for Their Money.

The State Board of Examiners held a meeting yesterday, but nothing important transpired except the reading of the opinion from the Attorney-General. It was to the effect that John F. Kidder, as Debris Commissioner, and K. I. Thomas, Secretary to the Commission, were not entitled to the $1,800 and $750 claimed by them respectively as salary, on the ground that the appropriation did not begin to run till the national appropriation was made. They will carry the matter into court.

TWO WOMEN OF NOTE.

Wives of the Republican Presidential and Vice-Presidential Nominees.

Mrs. William McKinley, the invalid wife of the man most in the public eye in America to-day, is hardly less obscure than her husband is famous. Illness, not lack of merit, is the cause, for she is loved and praised by all who know her.

Mrs. McKinley was Miss Ida Saxon, of Canton, and by all odds the prettiest girl in Ohio, as one would readily believe, who would look upon her face, now worn with long invalidism, but still beautiful. Though always delicate, her actual invalidism dates from the birth and death of her second daughter, nearly eighteen years ago. The other little girl died at the age of 3, wrecking the happiness of Major McKinley and his wife for years. Mrs. McKinley is wrapped up in the career of her husband and his devotion to her is beautiful to see.

MRS. GARRET A. HOBART.
Mrs. Garret A. Hobart, wife of the Republican nominee for Vice-President, is a woman of culture, at once dignified and tender. At 45 she has the carriage of a sprightly woman of 30, and the figure, too. Her color is a girl's, her face a firm, well chiseled one, is most expressive. It may be very sad, then a smile lightens it, and the eyes, which are very bright, seem to dance with merriment.

She is sincere and unaffected to a degree. She is well versed in politics and devotes much time to charity and church work. They are Presbyterians. Her son, Garret Augustus Hobart, Jr., and her husband are her two idols. She is greatly loved by the people of Paterson, and, in fact, by all who know her, in fact, by all who know her.

Articles of Incorporation.

The following articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the Secretary of State:

Sulphur Springs Development Company. Principal place of business, San Francisco. Capital stock, $100,000, with $50,000 subscribed, and E. G. Lukens of Oakland, M. W. Belshaw, C. S. Benedict and E. C. Hutchinson of San Francisco and Alfred Abby of Guerneville as Directors.

The Universal Mail Equipment Company. Principal place of business, Stockton. Capital stock, $100,000, with $25,000 subscribed, and Miles S. Cody, F. E. Clarke, W. C. Ramsey, George Grupe, W. D. Buckley, Walter F. Shibley, J. R. Thurston and H. C. Newman of Stockton as Directors.

Petition for Letters.

Letitia Redding, by her attorney, C. A. Elliott, has petitioned the Superior Court for letters of administration on the estate of James M. Redding, deceased. The value of the estate is about $300.

The Pay-Car.

The railroad pay-car has arrived with coin for the company's employes in this city.

Excursion to Lake Tahoe.

Leaving here at 10 p. m. Friday, July 3d, returning at 5:50 a. m. Monday, July 6th. Fare for the round trip from Sacramento, including Pullman berth each way, stage ride and the delightful steamer trip around Lake Tahoe, $11.50, allowing a visit of twenty-four hours at any one of the resorts on the lake. ### Refrigerators.

Only Two Pieces of the Trainor Property Sold.
The interest of the late Charles Trainor in various pieces of property owned jointly by him and Chris Green was offered for sale, at auction yesterday by D. J. Simmons & Co., but only two pieces were sold.

A half interest in the building now occupied by the Sullivan-Kelly Company on Second street, near I, with an ell at 205-7 J street, brought $14,200, purchased by the Occidental Building and Loan Association.

Charles McKay bought a 20x100-foot lot on O street, between Fourth and Fifth, for $1,000, renting for $132 per year.

A bid of $5,000 was refused for property fronting on 1025 to 1029 Front street and 101 to 107 K street, because the administrator thought it was too low, and a bid of $6,000 from Henry Meyer for the Empire Market property 120 to 124 K street, was refused for similar reasons.

A Former Sacramento's Death.

W. A. McWilliams, an early resident of this city, and County Auditor from 1848 to 1874, died in San Francisco yesterday after a brief illness. Since leaving here he had held a clerical position with the Southern Pacific Company. His wife and adult sons and daughters survive him.

The funeral will take place Wednesday morning from the residence of his brother-in-law, J. F. Toomey, 1224 H street, at 10 o'clock, thence to the Cathedral, where services will be held. Friends and acquaintances can view the remains between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock at above address.

Furniture at Auction.

R. E. Greer & Co. announce for 10 o'clock to-day a great sale of furniture and carpets in the eighteen-room house at 612 1/2 K street, consisting in part of walnut, cherry, oak and ash bedroom suites, Brussels and Ingrain carpets, cook stoves, gasoline stoves, pillows, sheets, pillowcases and hairtop mattresses.

Thashed Him Soundly.

Leon Lewis was fined $5 in the Police Court yesterday morning for battering Joseph Malone. The evidence showed that Malone had taken Lewis' delivery wagon from his yard on Twelfth street without permission, and driven down town. When he got back Lewis made the matter a personal affair and gave him a sound thrashing.

Cars for Beets.

In some of the southern counties there will be a large beet crop this summer, and in order to move the crops the Southern Pacific Company is having 116 flat cars prepared at the shops in this city.

Oak Park Postoffice.

The reason of the recent change in the Postoffice at Oak Park was a shortage in the accounts of the late Postmistress. The bondsmen of Mrs. Glackin are L. L. Lewis and J. H. Henry. The sum is small.

Granted a Divorce.

Judge Johnson yesterday entered a decree of divorce in favor of Victoria Hamilton and against Albert E. Hamilton. She is also given the custody of their minor child.

Picnic at Isleton.

At Smith's Grove, near Isleton, a picnic will be held on the Fourth of July. A San Francisco band has been engaged, and there will be dancing till midnight.

New Citizen.

In Judge Johnson's court yesterday W. T. J. Tame, a native of England, was admitted to citizenship.

Finance Made Easy.

"An old colored man in my place down in Texas," said Captain "Dick" Ayres of the Lone Star State at the Metropolitan, "was explaining the silver question to a lot of his Senegambian colleagues not long since.

"It's jes' dis way," said Uncle Ephraim. "Dis yere 16 to 1 bizness is powerful simple when you understands it. It means dat if de silver men has dere way you kin git sixteen silver dollars for one gold dollar. In dat case it am true dat de silver dollars am wuf only fifty cents, but even at dat you comes out $8 ahead ev'ry time you changes a gold dollar for a silver one."

"Old Ephraim's hearers listened with some incredulity to this explanation and one of them appealed to me to know if the old man was stating facts. Not wishing to injure the patriarch's reputation for financial sagacity I refused to offer any opinion."—Washington Post.

True to His Religion.
A Hebrew presented himself at the Lewiston end of the ferry last Saturday, and wanted to go across.
"Your fare," said Mr. Kenney, the tollman.
"It is contrary to our religion to pay money or take money on this holy day," said the Hebrew. "On Monday, I will pay you."
"If thought," said Mr. Kenney, "that I would see what his religion was worth. I let him go. On Monday he walked way down here to give me the 3 cents."—Lewiston Journal.

A dream of a smooth, clear river is indicative of future happiness and general success.

BIRDS THAT PERCH ON WAVES.

Their Ocean Journeys Described by Edwin Arnold.

Sir Edwin Arnold, in an account of his voyage to America, which appears in the London "Daily Telegraph," says: "Every day we see playing round the ship and skimming up and down the wave-hollows companies of lovely little terns and sea swallows, the latter no larger than thrushes. These fearless people of the waste have not by any means followed us from the land, living, as gulls often will, on the waste thrown from the vessel.

"They are vague and casual roamers of the ocean, which, spying the great steamship from afar, have sailed close up, to see if we are a rock or an island, and will then skip away again on their own free and boundless business. Yonder tiny bird, with purple and green plumage, his little breast and neck laced with silver, is distant 1,000 miles at this moment from a drop of fresh water, and yet cares no more for that fact than did the Irish squire who lived twelve miles from a lemon.

"If his wings ever grow weary, it is but to settle on the bosom of a great billow and suffer it for a time to rock and roll him amid the hissing spindrift, the milky, flying foam and the broken sea-leaf which forms and gleams and disappears again upon the dark slopes. When he pleases, a stroke of the small foot and a beat of the wonderful wing launch him off the jagged edge of his billow, and he flits past us at 100 knots an hour, laughing steam and canvas to scorn, and steering for some nameless crag in Labrador or Fundy, or bound, it may be, homeward for some island or marsh of the faraway Irish coast.

"Marvelously expressive of power as is our untiring engine, which all day and night throbs and pants and pulses in noisy rhythm under the deck, what a clumsy, imperfect affair it is compared to the dainty plumes and delicate muscles, which will carry that pretty, fearless sea swallow back to his roost!"

She Didn't Want to Pay Fare.

A few days ago a little girl, alone, boarded a Third-avenue car at Eighty-eighth street. She seemed self-possessed, notwithstanding the fact that she was several times tumbled into the laps of passengers by the jolting of the car. After a scramble she landed safely in a seat at the end of the car farthest from the conductor. She swung her legs to and fro as only a little girl can, and looked about at her fellow passengers.

When the conductor came for her fare the little tot looked up at him, seemingly amazed at his presumption, and shook her head in the negative. The conductor persisted in holding out his hand. The child's feet swung faster, her face grew red, and in a stage whisper she informed him that her "papa" had just been made a policeman by "Mr. Roostervelt."

There she stopped, thinking that information was sufficient. But she was mistaken.—New York Herald.
