

AN INDEX

—TO SOME OF—

SACRAMENTO'S RELIABLE FIRMS.

CIGARS. SMOKE THE LEE STANLEY CIGAR, made only by CLARK & STANLEY, the largest cigar manufacturers on the Pacific Coast, 922 K street.

COAL. WELLINGTON, CASTLE GATE, Newcastle, Rock Springs and Anthracite. THOS. COULTER, 1420-1429 J street.

COLLECTORS. OLDEST AND BEST ESTABLISHED Collection Agency. All kinds of claims handled with dispatch. PARIS & SPINKS, 601 J street.

DRUGGIST. STOP THAT COUGH WITH A BOTTLE OF Glycerol of Tar at 50 cents. HAMMER'S Drug Store, Fourth and K streets.

FLOUR MILL. PHOENIX MILLING CO. GEORGE SCHROTH, President; F. KOHLER, Secy. GEORGE SCHROTH, J. G. SCHROTH, W. C. SCHROTH, J. H. ARNOLD and J. KOHLER, Directors. Thirteenth and K streets.

FRUIT BOXES. MANUFACTURERS OF ALL KINDS OF Fruit and Packing Boxes, Baskets, Crates, etc. Capital Box Factory, 1221 J street. ROBIE, Manager, 1700 Second st. Tel. 33.

FURNITURE. A COMPLETE LINE OF FURNITURE and Bedding at the old stand, W. D. COMSTOCK'S, corner Fifth and K streets.

GROCER. FLOUR, FEED, GRAIN AND ALL kinds of Groceries and Provisions. Capital Telephone 18, Sunset St. THOMAS LYNN, corner Fourteenth and O streets.

HAY. THERE! IF YOU WANT HAY THAT your horse will eat, by bale or ton, C. E. ADAMS, 1106 and 1108 J street.

ICE CREAM. AND CANDY. MAGNIFICENTLY fitted-up Summer Garden in rear of Confectionery. OTTO'S, 908 J street.

IMPERIAL PLOWS. ALSO, SOLID COMFORT PLOWS AND Hardware of all kinds. STANTON, THOMSON & CO., 308 to 312 J street.

LIQUORS. WHOLESALE IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS of Wines and Liquors. Silver Sheaf Bourbon Whisky. H. WEINRICH, 514 J street.

MILWAUKEE BEER. SOLE AGENT FOR THE PRODUCT of the Pabst Brewing Co. Families supplied with bottled beer. GEORGE WISSELMANN, Cale Royal, Seventh and J sts.

OPTICIAN. D. M. BISHOP, 96 J ST. GLASSES made to order; warranted to fit correctly. Prices moderate. Testing the Eye free of charge.

OYSTERS. THE ONLY PLACE IN THE CITY for fresh-shelled Oysters. Oysters in every style. SACRAMENTO OYSTER HOUSE, 817 K street.

PRINTERS. AND STATIONERS: THE BEST AND cheapest in either branch, at DAY & JOY'S 808 K street.

PIANOS. STEINWAY, EMERSON, GABLER, LUDWIG & CO. and other Pianos from $200 upward; also, Estey Organs. A. J. POMMER, corner Ninth and J streets.

PAWN BROKER. READY MONEY ADVANCED ON valuables. Articles pledged sold after six months for amount loaned, plus the interest. UNCLE IKE'S, Third and K.

PORK PACKERS. EUREKA HAMS, PORK, LARD AND Bacon, also fresh refrigerated Meats of all kinds. MOHR & YOERK, 1024 J street.

PRODUCE. WHOLESALE FRUIT AND PRODUCE Dealers. Articles pledged sold after six months for amount loaned, plus the interest. UNCLE IKE'S, Third and K.

PLUMBER. FINE PLUMBING GOODS, HOT water heating and gasfitting. GEORGE B. STACK, 1022 Sixth street.

RUBBER STAMPS. SIGN MARKERS, RUBBER TYPE. NO amateur stamps made here! FRANK H. WING, old P. O. building, Fourth and K.

REAL ESTATE. AGENCY OF THE DILLMAN TRACT and headquarters for small suburban farms. JAMES E. MILLS, 201 J street.

STOVES, RANGES. A FULL LINE OF COOKING AND Heating Stoves and Ranges at HOLLBROOK, MERRILL & CO., 21-23 J street.

STAINED ART GLASS. LEADED COLORED GLASS FOR churches, dwellings, public buildings and memorial windows. SULLIVAN-KELLY CO., 915-919 Second street.

TAILOR. GENTLEMEN'S SUITS MADE FASHIONABLY and to fit perfectly. A large line of Fall Fabrics just received. OTTO DIAMONDS, 520 J street.

DIAMONDS. WATCHES, JEWELRY, SILVER AND Silver-plated Ware. The largest stock and most tasteful assortment. H. WACHHORST, 315 J street.

EGGS. REMEMBER, FRIENDS, THAT EGGS are fresh every morning at TARBIE'S EGG DEPOT, 1223 J. Eggs bought and sold.

QUAKER BREAD. AND VIENNA BREAD. THE ONLY in town to get the genuine is at the PIONEER BAKERY, 124 J. Old telephone 633 black, new 287.

WOODENWARE. WILLOW GOODS, PAPER BAGS, STATIONERY, Twine, etc. THE A. S. HOPKINS CO., 311-313 J street.

SALOON. FRANK MOORE OF THE "FULL-MAN," 305 K street, will be pleased to meet his friends at the race track in the ladies' wine room; headquarters American Derby, to left of main entrance.

MORGAN OF GRAND ISLAND.

It is Thought Probable That the Dead Robber Was He.

Did the Other Two Come to Sacramento on the Overland Train That Night?

While there are many rumors concerning the identity of the bandit killed by Engineer Ingalls in an attempt to hold up the overland train on Saturday night last, the railroad officials appear to be a unit in the belief that the first theory, borne out by facts already published, that he was F. J. Morgan, formerly of Grand Island, Neb., is the correct one.

In fact, Assistant Superintendent Jones said yesterday that there was not one particle of doubt about the matter, regardless of what has been said, or written to the contrary. He, however, qualified his statement by saying that it was possible that Morgan had operated under an assumed name in other sections of the State, and that he may have been the same man who recently held up a number of stages in Stanislaus County, and resided for a time at Hill's Ferry, whom he took orders for typewriting machines.

So that the theory advanced by one of the shrewdest detectives in the State that the dead man and Huntoon are the same person may after all prove true, while it may also be shown that Huntoon was none other than Morgan, traveling under an assumed name.

The further statement that Huntoon and his two accomplices frequented a saloon on I street a few days previous to the attempted hold-up and were seen a number of times by the barkeeper in earnest consultation, would further the claim that Huntoon was the man who was killed, while it in no wise detracts from the universally accredited theory that the dead man's name was in reality Morgan, and that he hailed from Grand Island, Neb.

The further fact that the dead man is said to have been fully identified by the barkeeper as one of the three men who were seen in the saloon, would tend to bear out the theory that Huntoon and Morgan were one and the same man.

In the meantime the detectives are working upon the stub ends of a number of clues, anyone of which may, or may not prove of value.

On the night of the attempted robbery about 12:30 o'clock a. m., a man of medium height wearing a black slouched hat, black coat and brown trousers, with sharp eyes and a very large nose, slouched into the ladies' waiting room at the railroad depot, and carelessly threw himself into one of the seats, at the same time saying to two gentlemen who happened to be present:

"Have you heard anything of the hold-up down the track?"

When informed that some rumors of the kind had been received, the questioner observed that he had heard the business mentioned in town.

A few moments later another and taller man entered the room and he and the first mentioned held a whispered conversation in one corner of the room. By this time a crowd had gathered, to be on hand when the extra train bearing the dead robber entered the station, and the two men, who were strangers, separated, taking different corners of the room, and apparently fell at once into sound slumbers.

The two gentlemen felt certain that the inquisitive stranger and his partner knew something of the attempted robbery and were on hand to learn something concerning the man who had been shot. They accordingly notified Felix Tracy, Superintendent of Wells-Fargo Express Company in this city, and Captain of Police Ash. Both Tracy and Ash closely inspected the strangers who seemed to sleep through it all, but did not seem to think there was anything suspicious about them.

There the matter rested, but the two gentlemen who watched the suspicious characters feel certain that had they been jailed on vagrancy charges the officers would not now have far to go to locate the two missing men.

In this connection it may be mentioned that when the overland train on which the attempted hold-up occurred arrived in the depot, some difficulty occurred in uncoupling the engine, on account of the curve on which it stood, making it kind. A stranger stepped up to the train man who was endeavoring to uncouple the cars and offered to assist him. A bystander who saw the occurrence states that the man had a large nose and answered the description of the one who was afterward noticed in the depot.

It is not at all impossible that the two robbers, instead of jumping off the train and remaining near the scene of the robbery, either swung under the cars and rode into or nearly into the city on the brake beam or else rode on the lower step of the car, where they did not attract any attention, the car being deserted by the passengers, and jumped off when the train came into the depot and showed themselves boldly in the crowd, as the safest plan for avoiding detection, and also as a means of proving an alibi in case suspicion were directed toward them. If that were the case, their staying around the depot and apparent indifference, while really listening and gaining information from remarks of the bystanders, would fit in well with their action in coming directly to the city and the very boldness of their course would be most conducive to their safety and be most likely to divert suspicion from them.

UNDER THE SOD. The body of the dead bandit was buried yesterday under the direction of Coroner Clark in the Helvetia Cemetery, and a plain board bearing the inscription "F. J. Morgan" was placed at the head of the grave.

PICKPOCKET ARRESTED. A San Francisco Crook Comes to Grief Here.

The police have relieved the visitors attending the State Fair of one menace to the security of their coin.

It was done by the arrest of W. J. Crookman, who the officers say is a well-known pickpocket.

This man they assert has been ruled off the race track at San Francisco and is constantly under the surveillance of the police of that city.

Yesterday Officer Logue caught the man in the act of picking a woman's pocket at Agricultural Park. He arrested him and made a careful search, but could not find the property of which the lady was relieved, which was a fine pair of gloves. The man was released by the officer with the understanding that Officer Higgins should shadow him. This plan succeeded, for Officer Logue then he divested himself of the evidence of his guilt by throwing the gloves on the ground. He was promptly arrested and is now held under a charge of larceny at the City Prison.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. McManus gave a party and reception on Monday evening to Miss Ada McDonald of Folsom, at their residence at Twentieth and K streets, and it proved a very enjoyable affair. Those present were: Charles Baker, Ada Turner, W. Hunger, Ada McDonald, Johnnie Renfro, Lena Kelly, Harry Sheehan, Lillie Heisch, Charlie Johnson, Dave Hildebrand, Mary Jenkins, George Klebs, Will Cox, George Billou, Ella Podd, Annie Dosh, George Ghiesing, Alice Plummer, Anne Hardy, Ray Renfro, Herman Noack, Frank Lee, Alice Hoffman, Adelle Klebs, Mary Dunphy, Toody McManus, May Sexton, Nellie Dunphy, Mrs. Klebs.

The Diamond P. Social Club will give a pumpkin pie social and dance at Washington Hall, Perkins, to-morrow evening, at which a very pleasant time is anticipated.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Charles Sedgwick Aiken of San Francisco is in the city.

Henry Brink and Dr. O. C. Hawkins of Biggs are in the city.

W. A. Curtis, wife and children have returned from Pacific Grove.

Judson Brusie and wife have returned from their visit to Pacific Grove.

M. L. Marsh of Nevada City is visiting his daughter, Mrs. B. H. Preston, Preston.

J. H. Ryan, wife and daughter left yesterday for a week's visit to San Francisco.

H. W. Rivett has returned with his family from a camping trip to Wentworth's Springs.

Mrs. Wm. H. Mills and Miss Eva Withrow of San Francisco have been taking in the fair. They returned home yesterday.

M. Adler of San Francisco is visiting the city and talks of making Sacramento his home. Mr. Adler is said to be a very fine violinist.

E. D. Sweetser of Santa Rosa, editor of the "Sonoma County Farmer," is in the city attending the State Fair. Mr. Sweetser is President of the Sonoma County Horticultural Society and Commander of Ellsworth Post, No. 20, Grand Army of the Republic.

RASH HA' SHANAH.

Jewish Citizens Celebrate Their New Year's Day.

According to the Jewish calendar yesterday was the 5657th anniversary of the creation of the world. In other words, it is the Hebrew New Year, and the faithful met to commemorate by appropriate services the anniversary of which they never fail to make so much.

Rash Ha' Shanah, as the Hebrews call their New Year, is a feature of great religious significance with all members of their religion, orthodox or otherwise, and never fails to receive a full and sincere tribute of reverence and respect.

And men fail to receive a full and sincere tribute of reverence and respect.

Articles of Incorporation.

The following articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the Secretary of State:

The Mariposa Electric Power Company. Formed to secure water rights and electric plants to supply towns and mines with water, electric light and power. Principal place of business, San Francisco. Directors—Charles T. Linder, Oakland; George L. Ecker, Wallace B. Taylor, Harold C. Ward, San Francisco; A. H. Ward, Alameda. Capital stock, $1,000,000, of which amount $500 have been actually subscribed.

Golden Ancient Channel Mining Company of California. Formed to connect general mining and milling business. Principal place of business, San Jose. Directors—F. J. Smith, J. M. Hawkins, P. C. Smith, Evergreen, Santa Clara County; T. A. Rogers, Mountain View; Guy H. Salisbury, San Jose; Rufus Flisk, Eden Vale; J. H. Chailon, Spanish Ranch, Plumas County. Capital stock, $100,000, of which amount $2,928 75 have been actually subscribed.

Bear Harbor and Eel River Railroad Company. Formed to build and operate a standard gauge railroad from a point in Mendocino County at the eastern terminus of the cable railroad operated by the Bear River Lumber Company, to the mouth of the Indian Creek at its junction with Eel River, to be about fifteen miles in length. Principal place of business, San Francisco. Directors—James Hunter, Vallejo; Thomas Pollard, San Francisco; E. J. Dodge, Alameda; Calvin Stewart and A. B. Cooper, Fort Bragg. Capital stock, $200,000, of which amount $100,000 have been actually subscribed.

Notaries Appointed.

Governor Budd has appointed and commissioned the following Notaries Public: George W. Henderson and William A. Sexton of San Jose; H. F. Osgood, San Luis Obispo; A. C. Turner, Nevada City; Ward Chapman, W. H. Brewer, E. E. Bostwick and T. D. Mott, Jr., Los Angeles; John K. Alexander, Salinas City; Howard Harron, San Francisco; Frank Murphy, Watsonville; Robert A. Costar, Prattville, Plumas County; S. Cadwallader, Fall River Mills, Shasta County; Charles Keane, San Jose; Eugene R. McNamara, Crescent City, Del Norte County; T. D. Reymont, Los Angeles; H. L. Nelson, Randsburg, Kern County, and Kate M. Hendsch, San Diego.

Sacramento Boxers.

The new Rio Vista Athletic Club is to have a boxing night on the 19th between well-known amateurs. Stewart Carter of the Olympic Club and L. A. Payen of Sacramento, welter-weights, will be the principal attraction. Joe Reay of the Olympics and Jim Gavin of the San Francisco Athletic Club, middle weights, will have a "go," and Frank Thurman of the Olympics and W. Henley of Sacramento will meet at 115 pounds.

Wants an Accounting.

W. B. Miller, who was appointed administrator of the estate of Clara G. Comassi, deceased, has commenced suit against Louise Searle, executrix of the estate of Alvin C. Searle, deceased, for the settlement of the accounts of Alvin C. Searle, as executor of the estate, and for a decree settling and determining his accounts as executor and the payment of all money and property due from him.

Wants a Divorce.

Mamie Sexton has commenced suit in the Superior Court against Charles M. Sexton for divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. She also asks for the custody of their two-year-old child and $30 a month alimony. Clarken & Ross are her attorneys.

Cottolene is the best gift of modern chemical science to the culinary art. The best cooks use it because the food prepared with it is more appetizing, healthful, and economical. THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, St. Louis, Chicago, Montreal, San Francisco, Portland, Oregon.

McKINLEY AND PROTECTION.

The Stand Taken by an Independent Journal.

(From the Amador Record.)

The "Record" being the only independent newspaper in Amador County, it stands to reason that its opinion when expressed on political questions carry a weight and influence among the voters which no strictly party organ can expect or hope to equal. Independence in questions of public policy does not signify, as many unthinking people imagine, indifference or a non-committal attitude on the part of a journal in discussing the issues now dividing the two great political parties of the country, and which all men agree are fruitful for weal or woe to the American people according as the right policy or the wrong policy shall triumph. The lines dividing the Republican and Democratic parties on national questions are so diametrically opposed to each other that no one can be so blind or so partisan in his make-up as not to acknowledge to himself that but once before in the history of our country were questions of such vital interest to the welfare of the nation ever presented for the intelligent and patriotic consideration of its citizens. Silence or indifference in such a crisis would be criminal. The "Record" being independent of party trammels and unbiased by party rancor—which too often blinds the judgment and deadens the conscience of men—proposes from this month to devote its best energies to the success of the Republican national ticket. The "Record" will support William McKinley for President of these United States because he represents the true American idea of patriotism and national integrity—moral, financial and territorial. The "Record" will advocate the election of McKinley because he believes in extending the nation's influence and broadening its sphere of control without the dangers of a mercenary competition with cheap foreign labor. We will support the Republican nominees because they are non-believers in the cheapening of home productions whether of field or factory, through opening wide the doors to foreign importations of labor, of material or the products of one or both. If it be a crime in the eyes of the people for a man to uphold by words and act the high standard of American wages, only to be realized by protection to the fruits of the wage-earner's toil, then the Republican standard-bearer must plead guilty to being the most reckless of criminals. The "Record" glories in the fact that the nominees whom it will support in this political campaign for the high office of President and Vice-President of the Republic are not of the class who believe that low prices, cheap goods, cheap labor or even cheap money are the synonyms for national prosperity. Finally, the "Record" will support the Republican national ticket because its nominees stand upon a platform embodying as its cardinal principles all that is honest in the country's economic and financial policy and all that is glorious in its past history or worthy of place in its future aspirations.

EVERYBODY'S COLUMN.

Under this heading the "Record-Union" will publish short letters from correspondents on topics of interest to the general public. The matter in these communications will be understood to represent the views of the writers. All communications must be accompanied by the name of the writer, not for publication unless so desired, but as a guarantee of good faith.—Eds.

The Financial Question.

Eds. "Record-Union": If you will allow the necessary space I would like to express a thought on the financial question.

Last evening, in reading the columns of your "esteemed contemporary," the "Bee," the following statement claimed my attention:

"In this campaign of fabrication which is being so zealously prosecuted on behalf of McKinley, no one statement has been reiterated more persistently than that the reason why the silver dollar is at par to-day is that it is redeemable in gold, and the reason that it would not be at par under free coinage is because it would not be so redeemable. Now the plain fact of the matter is that silver dollars are not redeemable in gold, and they never have been. The Government has made no more pledge to redeem them in gold than it has signed a contract to redeem all its gold with silver. Even the sub-treasuries of the United States refuse to give out gold for silver at their pleasure, and they can refuse to give out silver for gold when they think it best so to do. Gold and silver are interchangeable, because the dollars are of equal value—not made so by the bullion standard of the metal that is in them, but so created because of the stamp of the Government which affixes and settles their value. If the Government stamp can make a valid dollar now out of 53 cents of silver, 'worth a dollar all the world over'—as the gold bugs declare that it does—it can repeat the operation just as successfully under free coinage."

Now, leaving out of consideration the correctness or error of the main statement contained in the paragraph quoted (that silver dollars are not redeemable in gold), it seems to me that an implied contract dependent upon the honor of the contractor for its fulfillment should be as binding as a specific promise. And our Government is, at least, bound just that manner. Why? How did the present "standard dollar" come into circulation? The Government certainly did not gratuitously distribute its own property. The bullion from which it was coined was purchased by the Government at a depreciated rate (for instance, 53 cents), made into a silver dollar and remained the property of the Government until it was bought from the Government with a gold dollar.

Efface the stamp of the Government, and the "standard dollar" is worth but 53 cents. Then, what but the stamp of the Government is to represent to him who has parted with his gold dollar the other 47 cents? Then, why does not the stamp of the Government constitute a promise that it will maintain that silver dollar at a parity with the gold dollar, or, if it fail to do so, will make good the loss. And, as a matter of principle and a matter of fact, would it make any difference whether, upon such failure, the loss were made good to the original gold-owner by delivering to him the 47 cents' worth of silver retained by the Government upon the assurance that the 53 cents' worth marked "one dollar" should pass for that amount—or whether his gold dollar were returned to him? The Government would be morally obligated to do one thing or the other.

If our silver friends could eliminate from their minds the theory that something can be obtained from nothing, they would be better fitted to inject "Bryande of silver" into the veins of that "great throbbing thing called the public," and less liable to fall into the error of believing that the moral liability, and consequently implied promise of redemption, on the part of a Government whose credit is unquestioned, has no effect whatever toward the maintenance of the integrity of its money values; better able to explain, perhaps, the strange logic upon which they base a comparison of the present system of "10 to 1" with that which would obtain under the Demo-Populistic free-coinage scheme, whereunder the Government would be subject to no greater liability than that of accomplishing a good job in the minting of the "coin of the people"—which, by the way, would still be the property of its owners, and would not become the circulating medium of the people until they had rendered the equivalent of the perhaps (?) fictitious value stamped upon it—if not in gold, then by the "sweat of their brows." TRUEMAN SOPHISTICUS.

Sacramento, Sept. 7, 1896.

More Plaza Sleepers.

W. J. Carter and James Sullivan were arrested yesterday for day dreaming in the Plaza. Theirs is the third case which will come up before Justice Davis for the same offense within the past week, and the police propose to continue the good work until hobos and loafers seek other quarters in which to take their portion of rest.

Wants a Permanent Job.

A young man living in Delmont, North Carolina, has written to Richard Dale, Secretary of the Howards, asking him to secure him a situation, preferably as clerk of a mining company, and asking what charges the association makes for providing immigrants with permanent jobs.

A Legal Holiday.

To-day is a legal holiday, being Admission Day, and it will generally be observed as such in all the State offices, courts and city and county offices, as well as many business houses. The Postoffice will be open at the same hours as on Sundays.

The Venomous Breath of Malaria.

Does not infect the system of those who use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a precaution against it. Nor is it less useful as a remedy where intermittent and remittent fever has fully established itself, in consequence of a neglect of preventive measures. It checks the paroxysms with astonishing certainty, and eradicates this type of disease, even in its most inveterate form. This medicine is an essential boon to the emigrant population of the far West, where fevers of a malarial type are particularly prevalent, but the recognition of its merits is so far from being limited, that it is known and appreciated at its true value throughout the length and breadth of America. Travelers by land and sea, miners and sojourners in unhealthy localities, esteem it highly, and are its most constant purchasers, and in many a rural household, far and wide, it is the chosen family specific.

EVERYBODY'S COLUMN.

Under this heading the "Record-Union" will publish short letters from correspondents on topics of interest to the general public. The matter in these communications will be understood to represent the views of the writers. All communications must be accompanied by the name of the writer, not for publication unless so desired, but as a guarantee of good faith.—Eds.

The Financial Question.

Eds. "Record-Union": If you will allow the necessary space I would like to express a thought on the financial question.

Last evening, in reading the columns of your "esteemed contemporary," the "Bee," the following statement claimed my attention:

"In this campaign of fabrication which is being so zealously prosecuted on behalf of McKinley, no one statement has been reiterated more persistently than that the reason why the silver dollar is at par to-day is that it is redeemable in gold, and the reason that it would not be at par under free coinage is because it would not be so redeemable. Now the plain fact of the matter is that silver dollars are not redeemable in gold, and they never have been. The Government has made no more pledge to redeem them in gold than it has signed a contract to redeem all its gold with silver. Even the sub-treasuries of the United States refuse to give out gold for silver at their pleasure, and they can refuse to give out silver for gold when they think it best so to do. Gold and silver are interchangeable, because the dollars are of equal value—not made so by the bullion standard of the metal that is in them, but so created because of the stamp of the Government which affixes and settles their value. If the Government stamp can make a valid dollar now out of 53 cents of silver, 'worth a dollar all the world over'—as the gold bugs declare that it does—it can repeat the operation just as successfully under free coinage."

Now, leaving out of consideration the correctness or error of the main statement contained in the paragraph quoted (that silver dollars are not redeemable in gold), it seems to me that an implied contract dependent upon the honor of the contractor for its fulfillment should be as binding as a specific promise. And our Government is, at least, bound just that manner. Why? How did the present "standard dollar" come into circulation? The Government certainly did not gratuitously distribute its own property. The bullion from which it was coined was purchased by the Government at a depreciated rate (for instance, 53 cents), made into a silver dollar and remained the property of the Government until it was bought from the Government with a gold dollar.

EVERYBODY'S COLUMN.

Under this heading the "Record-Union" will publish short letters from correspondents on topics of interest to the general public. The matter in these communications will be understood to represent the views of the writers. All communications must be accompanied by the name of the writer, not for publication unless so desired, but as a guarantee of good faith.—Eds.

The Financial Question.

Eds. "Record-Union": If you will allow the necessary space I would like to express a thought on the financial question.

Last evening, in reading the columns of your "esteemed contemporary," the "Bee," the following statement claimed my attention:

"In this campaign of fabrication which is being so zealously prosecuted on behalf of McKinley, no one statement has been reiterated more persistently than that the reason why the silver dollar is at par to-day is that it is redeemable in gold, and the reason that it would not be at par under free coinage is because it would not be so redeemable. Now the plain fact of the matter is that silver dollars are not redeemable in gold, and they never have been. The Government has made no more pledge to redeem them in gold than it has signed a contract to redeem all its gold with silver. Even the sub-treasuries of the United States refuse to give out gold for silver at their pleasure, and they can refuse to give out silver for gold when they think it best so to do. Gold and silver are interchangeable, because the dollars are of equal value—not made so by the bullion standard of the metal that is in them, but so created because of the stamp of the Government which affixes and settles their value. If the Government stamp can make a valid dollar now out of 53 cents of silver, 'worth a dollar all the world over'—as the gold bugs declare that it does—it can repeat the operation just as successfully under free coinage."

Now, leaving out of consideration the correctness or error of the main statement contained in the paragraph quoted (that silver dollars are not redeemable in gold), it seems to me that an implied contract dependent upon the honor of the contractor for its fulfillment should be as binding as a specific promise. And our Government is, at least, bound just that manner. Why? How did the present "standard dollar" come into circulation? The Government certainly did not gratuitously distribute its own property. The bullion from which it was coined was purchased by the Government at a depreciated rate (for instance, 53 cents), made into a silver dollar and remained the property of the Government until it was bought from the Government with a gold dollar.

Efface the stamp of the Government, and the "standard dollar" is worth but 53 cents. Then, what but the stamp of the Government is to represent to him who has parted with his gold dollar the other 47 cents? Then, why does not the stamp of the Government constitute a promise that it will maintain that silver dollar at a parity with the gold dollar, or, if it fail to do so, will make good the loss. And, as a matter of principle and a matter of fact, would it make any difference whether, upon such failure, the loss were made good to the original gold-owner by delivering to him the 47 cents' worth of silver retained by the Government upon the assurance that the 53 cents' worth marked "one dollar" should pass for that amount—or whether his gold dollar were returned to him? The Government would be morally obligated to do one thing or the other.

If our silver friends could eliminate from their minds the theory that something can be obtained from nothing, they would be better fitted to inject "Bryande of silver" into the veins of that "great throbbing thing called the public," and less liable to fall into the error of believing that the moral liability, and consequently implied promise of redemption, on the part of a Government whose credit is unquestioned, has no effect whatever toward the maintenance of the integrity of its money values; better able to explain, perhaps, the strange logic upon which they base a comparison of the present system of "10 to 1" with that which would obtain under the Demo-Populistic free-coinage scheme, whereunder the Government would be subject to no greater liability than that of accomplishing a good job in the minting of the "coin of the people"—which, by the way, would still be the property of its owners, and would not become the circulating medium of the people until they had rendered the equivalent of the perhaps (?) fictitious value stamped upon it—if not in gold, then by the "sweat of their brows." TRUEMAN SOPHISTICUS.

Sacramento, Sept. 7, 1896.

More Plaza Sleepers.

W. J. Carter and James Sullivan were arrested yesterday for day dreaming in the Plaza. Theirs is the third case which will come up before Justice Davis for the same offense within the past week, and the police propose to continue the good work until hobos and loafers seek other quarters in which to take their portion of rest.

Wants a Permanent Job.

A young man living in Delmont, North Carolina, has written to Richard Dale, Secretary of the Howards, asking him to secure him a situation, preferably as clerk of a mining company, and asking what charges the association makes for providing immigrants with permanent jobs.