

REPUBLICANS IN UNIFORMS.

The Central Clubs Organize a Division for Parades.

Adoption of a Uniform—Conference of Sound-Money Club Members.

A joint meeting of the Twentieth and Twenty-first Assembly District Central Republican Clubs was held last evening for the purpose of forming from the membership of both clubs a uniform division which should be ready at all times to turn out when the occasion demanded.

W. A. Anderson, Chairman of the Twentieth District Club, called the meeting to order, and stated that dispatch should be had in the matter of forming a uniform division of the two clubs, as it was desired they should turn out and march in the procession on the 17th of next month, at which time Congressman Johnson would address the people of the home city.

C. H. Holmes was chosen Chairman of the meeting, and Harry G. Soule Secretary, after which considerable time was consumed in getting down to business. The matter of uniforms was touched upon, and it was found that while a number of business houses were represented, only one had sample uniforms on hand.

It was finally determined to open the roll for the uniformed division, and in a few moments fifty names had been attached, after which the matter of selecting a proper uniform was taken up and acted on by the meeting as a Committee of the Whole.

The proposition of those business houses which had no samples present were not considered, while those offered for inspection were placed upon different members, who in turn were placed upon tables and looked over by the crowd.

The next step necessary being permanent organization, T. H. Berkey was unanimously chosen President and M. N. Winans Secretary.

A Committee on Membership, consisting of three, was appointed, as follows: Charles A. Root, J. M. Henderson, Jr., and John Barrett.

President Berkey also announced as a Committee on Headquarters J. L. Gulls, J. O. Coleman and George Egan.

No further business coming before it, the meeting adjourned after a call had been issued for a meeting of the uniformed division for to-morrow evening for the purpose of electing a Captain.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Associated Sound Money Clubs of the Railroad Shops was held last evening for the purpose of electing an Advisory Board to act in conjunction with the officers of the Executive Committee of the several organizations.

The meeting organized by electing E. L. Reguin President, Charles Joy Vice President, D. J. Davis Secretary, C. M. Truby Treasurer and William Warmby Sergeant-at-Arms.

It was shown by the reports of the Secretaries of the different department clubs that the aggregate membership at present amounts to 1,763. Considerable enthusiasm and great interest was shown in the proceedings.

As completed, the Advisory Board consists of the following members: Blacksmith shop, William McCaslin; rolling mill, Duncan Grant; boiler shop, John West; car machine shop, Ben Miller; car shop No. 5, F. Hawes; roundhouse, J. S. Clark; foundry, Richard Thornton; locomotive machine shop, James Camp; slipping department of the lumber yard, J. Morris; car shop No. 3, E. Dundas; paint shop, M. L. Jenkins; upholstery shop, L. W. Grothen; sawmill and cabinet shop, George Gray.

The Executive Committee will meet this evening for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the trip to Stockton on the 10th of October.

MONTGOMERY'S GOOD LUCK.

Story of a Wheel, a Car, an "Error of Judgment" and a Wreck.

When a man does a foolish thing it is sometimes softened by denominating it "an error of judgment." Mr. Montgomery of 1026 H street may take his choice of terms, for he admits all that is related below. He was coming down H street on Sunday behind a crowded electric car. It was a heavily loaded car; the platform were filled with people. The motorman, as in duty bound, looked ahead and kept his eye on the track before him and on street crossings as he approached them. Mr. Montgomery ran up on his bicycle behind the loaded vehicle, but being speedier than the car he passed alongside of and close to it, and when but a few feet in advance he attempted to cross in front. The wheel refused to take the rail, slipped, and over went Mr. Montgomery. The horrified motorman suddenly saw a confused heap six feet in front of him right on the track. It was simply impossible to stop the car in time to avoid it.

Fortunately for Montgomery the new "catcher" took him and his bicycle, lifted him up and tossed him to one side of the roadway, but his wheel went beneath the catcher and the cut wheels made it food for the scrap-pile. In fact,

It was just a little worse demoralized and smashed than any wheel ever was before.

Montgomery got up, shook himself, found no bones broken, admitted that he alone was to blame, and thanked God (and the cow-catcher) that saved to the world one more man who made "an error in judgment."

Whether that was in attempting to cross as he did, whether it was in trying to slip by the car when it was impossible for the motorman to see him, Montgomery and the reader may take their choice. Whether the act of Montgomery is not to be properly more harshly termed, anyone can decide.

This is far pleasanter writing than if done had before him, the task of recording the result of a Coroner's inquest over the body of Mr. Montgomery—thanks to the new catcher, and not to Montgomery's error of judgment. Unfortunately there are a great many Montgomerys, and the wonder is that some of them are not killed outright daily.

COUNTY RAILROAD TAXES.

Exclusive of the Shops, Etc., the Assessment is $1,221,277.

The Supervisors yesterday declared the rate of taxation and mileage of the railroads in this county, as fixed by the State Board of Equalization.

The entire length of the main track of the Central Pacific Railroad in the county is 41 miles. The assessment is $17,408 53 per mile, or total of $713,750. The mileage is apportioned among the school and road districts as follows: City of Sacramento 2 1/2 miles, Arcade School District 5 1/2, American River 3 1/2, Center 4 1/2, Elder Creek 2 1/2, Elk Grove 1/2, Florin 2, Grant 3, Galt 3, Hickeyville 2 1/2, Jackson 2 1/2, Sylvan 1/2, San Joaquin 3 1/2, Victory 2 1/2, Junction 2, Antelope 1 1/2.

Road Districts—Road District No. 4 20 1/2 miles, Road District No. 5 18. Northern Railway Company—in the county, 45 1/2 miles; rate per mile, $8,046 73; total, $366,278; mileage apportioned as follows: City of Sacramento 2 1/2 miles, Alder Creek School District 3 1/2, American River 3 1/2, Brighton 3 1/2, Capital 1/2, Granite 5 1/2, Kinney 3, Howard 4 1/2, Washington 2 1/2, Junction 2, White Rock 4, Galt 2 1/2, Grant 1, Alabama 5 1/2, Laguna 6 1/2, Buckeye 3 1/2.

Road Districts—Road District No. 4 27 1/2 miles, Road District No. 5 19. There is but one-half mile of the California Pacific in the county, and the assessment thereon is $1,777 77 per mile, or $8,889.

The Pullman Palace Car Company is taxed on 41 miles of road service in the county, at the rate of $75 85 per mile, a total of $3,110. The mileage apportioned to the various districts is the same as in the case of the Central Pacific.

JAILED AGAIN.

Arrest of Willie McNamara, Who Got Away From Whittier.

While Deputy Sheriff Schilwike was hunting for the escaped prisoners who he thought a glimpse of a youth skulking among some cars on the north levee.

The officer soon recognized in him the lad Willie McNamara, who on the 9th of July last was committed to the Whittier Reform School for three years, and who recently escaped therefrom. He arrested him, and Willie is again in the County Jail.

McNamara says that since his escape he has been to Nebraska. This was not believed until a well-known railroad man corroborated his statement by saying he had seen the money paid at Truckee for his passage. When asked why he did not remain in Nebraska, young McNamara said it was too cold there, and that he had returned to get his overcoat.

THE DROWNED MAN.

His Name Was Doreato Cesera, Not "Serenia."

The paragraph that appeared in the "Record-Union" yesterday morning requesting information as to the identity of Doreato Serenia, whose body was found in the river near Chico, and who was supposed to be a member of one of the Odd Fellow lodges here, soon brought a score of messages to the office.

The fact was developed that the drowned man's name was not Serenia, but Cesera, and that instead of being an Odd Fellow he was a member of the Knights of Pythias. He was a deckhand on the steamboat Dover and was drowned in the Sacramento River at Monroeville last January. The body was so decomposed that the identity of the victim could only be established by the clothing.

SIMPLE ASSAULT.

J. F. Troutman Leniently Dealt With by a Jury.

Judge Hinkson's court was occupied all of yesterday by the trial of J. F. Troutman, accused of assaulting his employer, J. W. Peer, with a deadly weapon. The prisoner was prosecuted by District Attorney Ryan, and defended by Harry G. Soule.

The jury were out but a few minutes when they returned a verdict of guilty of simple assault. The fact that Troutman was surprised at the result does not signify that his surprise was not of an agreeable kind.

GAVE THE WRONG NAME.

On Sunday night a man giving the name of E. W. Swain was arrested charged with having assaulted a woman with a knife. Yesterday morning he stated in court that his true name was McVeigh, and that he used Swain's name to shield himself.

A bottle at hand and a dose in time has saved thousands of people from thousands of "sick-spells." This preparation is no secret. It is to-day what it was 75 years ago—the best preparation of ginger-germ it is possible for man to make. It is made by the FRED BROWN CO., Philadelphia.

AMUSEMENTS.

A fine large audience in the Clunie opera-house last evening witnessed the presentation by the stock company of one of the most moving, well-proportioned and high-sentimental dramas that has been played here in a long time. "Divorced" is a play full of human interest. It tells the story of a husband and wife deeply, devotedly loving, who are separated without guilty act by either by the scheming of an adventuress.

It tells how, after much suffering, the parted ones were reunited and the guilty destroyer of a home punished. It is a natural, reasonable play, appealing to the very best emotions and quickening the most commendable sympathies of human nature. The play is well mounted and is admirably played. A vein of light comedy relieves it of any monotony, and affords Miss Harrington, Mr. Stewart and Miss Rankin excellent opportunity to introduce some very comical musical character features. Miss Harrington and Mr. Stewart, by the way, are very clever in the comedy roles, and as a soubrette Miss Harrington is a decided success. Miss Daiglish has done nothing here better than as the heroine of the play. She invests it with a feeling that moves every auditor, and she reads the sentimental passages of the text with an effectiveness highly creditable to her taste and artistic credence. Mr. Longman is at his best in the role of the deceived husband, and gives the part characterful force that is satisfying. We have not seen any happier make-up than Mr. Stockbridge's counselor. He maintains the role of the middle-aged, faithful lawyer admirably. Mr. Gibney in the old man role of the play leaves nothing wanting; it is a capital assumption. Mr. Gleason's low comedy part is full of grotesque humor, and he makes the most of it. Mina Gleason has the thankless role. It entails no sympathy, quickens no feeling in her interest, and is calculated to evoke manifestations of strong disgust. It is high tribute to her skill to say that. She is the heavy-weight of the play, and she makes it as cold, calculating and hard-hearted as the author of the text could possibly desire. Mr. Hallett has a light part, but he makes it prominent and of interest. The piece itself is ribbed and clothed throughout with fine apostrophes to the home, to true affection, to devotion and loyalty, and is richly garnished with graceful lines, poetic and fervid, but at no time runs to the extreme of sentimentality. The play will be repeated to-night.

J. S. Sanford, business manager of Miss Kathryn Kilder "Madame Sans Gene" is in the city arranging for the production of that greatly successful drama and comedy in this city next week. That the famous play may be given in its entirety and with all the original scenery, the company has canceled one night here. It could not produce it in full and with its true stage fittings on two nights and make connection with other dates.

INDIAN PETE.

His Jag Puts a Chinaman on the Road to Prison.

Sunday afternoon Pete Hall, a Shasta Indian, was taken to the police station fighting drunk, and having slept off the effects of his potations came up smiling before Justice Davis yesterday morning.

It was a clear case of the infraction of the State law prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to Indians, and during the examination of the aborigine Justice Davis incidentally inquired where he got his liquor.

"Oh, from a Chinaman up there," replied Pete, uncoincidentally. He said just enough to get two days in order to admit of investigations, and he got it.

After court adjourned Hall was questioned by Bailiff Hardy, and said he had no objection to buying more liquor of the Chinaman who had obliged him the day before, and accordingly he was supplied with the collateral and sent out to repeat the performance, being shadowed by Hospital Steward Robinson.

Hall went up I street to a place between Third and Fourth, and there dived into a cellar, and after following a dark and winding passage he finally brought up before a fully equipped gin plant, from the proprietor of which he purchased another bottle of fire-water.

At this interesting part of the proceeding Robinson appeared on the scene, seized the bottle—which Ah Yung, the proprietor, admitted he had just sold to the Indian—and then marched the offender to the police station, where he was accommodated with a cell.

The officers consider that they have a sure case against Ah Yung, and a term in the penitentiary is the lightest sentence which a court is allowed to impose in case of a conviction.
