

ENTITLED TO REGISTRATION.

The Educational Qualification is Not a Bar Thereof.

County Clerks Cannot Refuse to Register Citizens Who Cannot Read and Write.

The five Italians, Giovanni Squavali, Raimo Onesti, Antonio Bonassi, Raffaello Cassella and Gabriele Cucchetti, against whom William J. Webber on Saturday began mandamus proceedings to have their names stricken from the great register, will probably be allowed to vote to-day.

In response to the allegation in Hinkson's court yesterday and decided in favor of the defendants. The complainant was represented by Alexander Gardner & Miller, and the defendants by W. A. Anderson, C. T. Jones and Charles P. Kearney.

In sustaining the position taken by the defense, the court said: "The order to show cause why the names of those of the defendants that appear on the great register should not be stricken therefrom because, as alleged in the complaint, they cannot read the Constitution, was vacated and set aside for the following reasons: "First—The copy of the complaint served on the defendants was not subscribed by the plaintiff nor his attorney."

"Second—The complaint having been served on the defendants late on Saturday afternoon, they have not had sufficient time within which to prepare for trial.

"Third—While the Constitution prescribes as one of the qualifications for electors that they must be able to read the Constitution, the statute provides among other things that the clerk shall enter in the great register 'The fact whether or not the elector desiring to be registered is able to read the Constitution in the English language.' But it does not direct the clerk to refuse to register a man because he cannot read the Constitution in the English language, and obviously for the reason that a man might not be able to read the Constitution when he applies to be registered, yet, he might learn to read it by the time he offers to vote, and the Constitution does not require him to be able to read the Constitution when he applies to be registered, but when he offers to vote, and the Legislature has no authority to prescribe other tests than those prescribed by the Constitution for a man's right to vote and to say that though he might be able to read the Constitution when he offers to vote, yet because he cannot do so when he applies to be registered, is prescribing a qualification not authorized by the Constitution."

The opponents of Mr. Johnson can find but one thing upon which to hinge antagonism to him, and that is that he wisely preferred in Congress the Powers bill for the settlement of the railroad indebtedness to the radical and destructive measures. By the Powers bill he saw that the Government can be amply secured, which it is not now, for the payment of the sum due; that it can get its money in rapid instalments, and that the Pacific Railroads will not be crushed and pass into the hands of Eastern men whose interests are not in common with California. This is the one and only thing they can bring against Mr. Johnson, and Sacramento is asked to down him upon such a sensible, business proposition, one devoid of politics or any other element except that of business sense.

DUTY OF THE CITIZEN.

Grove L. Johnson and His Work for the Farmers.

(From the Sacramento Sunday News.) The first duty of the citizen is to his home. Show us a man who is loyal to his home place and we will show you a man who is loyal to his country. We believe that loyalty to the home place is to be tested in Sacramento next Tuesday as it has never been tested before in Sacramento.

There are two candidates for Congress. One, De Vries of Stockton, comes as the champion of the Central Pacific under foreclosure. The other, Grove L. Johnson, tells the people that he will, if elected, oppose the foreclosure of the Central Pacific—that is, he will favor the settlement of the road's obligation to the Government upon a business basis, by extending it, requiring new security and giving the property a chance to pay out its debt. What do these two courses represent to the people of Sacramento? If Mr. De Vries succeeds in his avowed course it means the abandonment of the great railroad shops as far as Sacramento is concerned. There is no false alarm about this. The Southern Pacific works together in the same shops with the Central Pacific because they are both under one control. If the Central is forced to sale by foreclosure and becomes a rival corporation it a moral certainty that the companies will not dwell in harmony. The citizen of Sacramento who is loyal to the place of his home will vote for Grove L. Johnson. There is nothing uncertain or ambiguous about his position. We know where he stands. He is opposed to any scheme, however couched, that would injure Sacramento or stay her splendid progress. All that he has been or ever hopes to be he owes to Sacramento and he will not forsake her now.

It has been pointed out so many times that the general interest of the Second Congressional District demands the return of Mr. Johnson to Congress that we shall not commit the stupidity of reshaping that proposition, for everybody in his heart knows it. But there is one thing that we cannot overlook, and which we are sorry to say, has not been adequately presented in this campaign, although it is more important to all the people than any of the issues that have been crowded to the front. Mr. Johnson introduced a bill in the last Congress providing for the equalization of protection by extending its benefits to the farmers, who get absolutely none of it now. With the farmers prosperous we would all prosper. Writing to a friend, Mr. Lubin of this city, whose plan for equitable protection is embodied in Mr. Johnson's bill, says: "I can say this much for Mr. Johnson: In the Fifty-fourth Congress he did more than any man in either house to promote the interest of agriculture."

"Voters of our State should bear in mind that the prosperity of California depends almost entirely upon the prosperity of agriculture. Mr. Johnson seems to understand this, and his zeal in behalf of this primary industry as displayed by him in the last Congress should win for him the support of every intelligent voter."

Mr. De Vries belongs to a party that refuses to recognize any kind of protection to farmers or to anybody else. We have advocated the Lubin plan for two years and if it were the law to-day things would be different with the farmers. We want to see Grove L. Johnson returned to Congress in order that he may promote that great cause. If the farmers realized this there would be precious few farmer votes in the Second District cast for De Vries. We desire to see him returned, too, in order that he may follow up the intelligent and systematic course of river improvement that he has projected and, again, we desire to see him returned because he is a Sacramento man and stands for Sacramento interests.

The next Congress will be largely Republican. Of that let us be assured and not deceive ourselves. It is certain that it will be a Republican House and a Republican Senate. The larger majority, however, will be in the House. Now what can Mr. De Vries do for Sacramento and the district, he being in the minority, a new comr, untried and unskilled in the ways of Congress?

AMUSEMENTS. "East Lynne" was played at the Clunie Opera-house last evening by the stock company, and will be presented each evening this week. It is well mounted and cast. Mrs. Gleason is notably successful in the leading role and has thoroughly good support throughout. Little Mildred, the child actress, is an important figure in the drama, and more in this piece than anything which she has been seen her proved her capacity.

Manager Todd has made arrangements by which he will give away to the patrons of the house 300 portraits, disposing of 100 a week for three weeks. These portraits are to be in crayon, 16x17 inches each, and are to be made from photographs to be furnished by the recipient. These portraits will be distributed equitably among the holders of thirty cent admission tickets during three weeks on and after the 9th instant. There will be twelve of the tickets called for portraits given each evening and four extra ones Sunday nights, making 100 a week. The distribution will be impartial and on a plan that all will recognize as perfectly fair.

Weather Reports. The highest and lowest temperature for each day since the 24th of October have been: October 24th, highest temperature, 72; lowest, 50; 25th, 68, 49; 26th, 69 and 48; 27th, 66 and 49; 28th, 70 and 49; 29th, 69 and 48; 30th, 68 and 44; 31st, 68 and 52; November 1st, 65 and 44; 2d, 65 and 46.

The rainfall for the month of October was 55 of an inch, making 1.06 inches for this season, as against 1.47 inches to an equal date last year.

The election of a Republican Congress is as essential to the recovery of prosperity as the election of McKinley. Keep that in mind and waste no votes on side issues.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Deception Easily Practised Is the offer of a reward for "any case of catarrh not cured" by certain "cures." Nothing is said regarding the number of bottles required, and therein lies the deception. BRYAN IN HIS OWN HOME.

His Precinct, Ward, City and County Against Him.

And a Democrat Thinks Even the State Will Also be for McKinley.

It looks pretty blue for a Presidential candidate who cannot carry either his own precinct, ward, city, county or State. Yet this is the way it looks for Bryan, the man with the one idea.

On the 14th of last month the "Record-Union" published a letter from Judge Coffin of Lincoln, Neb., to B. F. Beans of Elk Grove, in which the writer stated that a careful poll of the precinct in which the Democratic-Populist candidate lives shows that McKinley had a large plurality over him and the Prohibition candidate.

This statement is corroborated by a letter received yesterday by Sheriff Frank T. Johnson from his cousin, F. E. Johnson, a business man of Lincoln. Mr. Johnson was not long since a member of the Democratic National Committee, and is now a prominent Democrat and citizen of Nebraska. He says in his letter:

"Yes, the election is red hot here, but not all for Bryan. I am a Democrat, but can't follow Mr. Bryan in his silver craze. There are other parts of the Chicago platform that are not Democratic. If they are I have simply been mistaken all my life, and we have lots of Democrats here who think the same way."

Mr. Bryan is one of our nearest neighbors, half a block away. He will lose his precinct, the ward and the city—the latter by at least 1,000. The Republicans claim the county by from 2,000 to 2,500, and I don't think there is any doubt but Bryan will be beaten in the county 1,500.

"The State is going to be very close, but it now looks as if Bryan will lose it. He has been losing ground fast during the last thirty days. "I hope California will cast a decisive ballot for honest money—not a depreciated dollar. It is a battle royal in Nebraska, and I hope and believe it will be carried for sound money and not be found in the repudiation column after the polls close on November 3d."
