

TWO MORE OFFICIAL REPORTS

Concerning the Marshall Monument and Folsom Prison.

The Old Gold Funder Safe From Roving Bands of Cows—Prison Expenditures.

Guardian Philip Teuscher of the Marshall Monument at Colusa has handed in a report, which will be appended to the report of the Governor to the Legislature. The report is as follows:

"As soon as I had received my commission as Guardian of the Marshall Monument I began to perform the duties assigned to me by first watering all plants and shrubs that were in need of it, and then began to improve Marshall's old cabin by replacing the porch and laying a stone wall underneath the whole building and renovating it generally. I have made a desk in the reception-room, and have procured a register in which visitors may write their names and addresses.

"On the southeast side of the hill from the monument I have graded quite a large piece of ground preparatory to planting a grass plot and flowers, and intend to erect a rustic summer-house, from which visitors may view the country for miles around while enjoying their rest or eating luncheon.

"I have taken away the old gate leading to the monument and put in a new substantial one, which makes a vast improvement and safeguard against depredations by stock of all kinds. I am keeping the road leading to the monument in good condition, and keep a close watch during the rainy season."

FOLSOM PRISON REPORT.

Warden Aull of the Folsom State Prison has furnished a summary of the Directors' report, which will also be appended to the Governor's report to the Legislature. The summary is interesting in that while it is brief it contains all the data concerning the institution. It is as follows:

Statement of sundry matters taken from the books of the clerk of Folsom Prison, and approximate estimates of future necessities of said prison:

Total number of prisoners on hand at the close of the forty-sixth fiscal year, 840.

Total number of prisoners on hand at the close of the forty-seventh fiscal year, 965.

Approximate number of prisoners for the two ensuing years, 1,000.

Amount of appropriation for forty-sixth fiscal year, $110,000.

Amount of appropriation for forty-seventh fiscal year, $109,500.

Amount of money used from the earnings of the prison in addition to the appropriation for the forty-sixth fiscal year (1894-1895), $4,846 63.

Amount of money used from the earnings of the prison in addition to the appropriation for the forty-seventh fiscal year (1895-1896), $9,097 01.

Total for the two fiscal years, $14,543 64.

Per capita per diem cost for the forty-sixth fiscal year, 36.22 cents.

Per capita per diem cost for the forty-seventh fiscal year, 32.05 cents.

Cost of feeding prisoners for the forty-sixth fiscal year, per capita per diem, 07.62 cents.

Cost of feeding prisoners for the forty-seventh fiscal year, per capita per diem, 07.64 cents.

Cost of guarding prisoners for the forty-sixth fiscal year, per capita per diem, 16.3 cents.

Cost of guarding prisoners for the forty-seventh fiscal year, per capita per diem, 15.1 cents.

Expenses of the prison other than feeding and the guarding prisoners, per capita per diem, for the forty-sixth fiscal year, 12.3 cents.

Expenses of the prison other than feeding prisoners, per capita per diem for the forty-seventh fiscal year, 09.76 cents.

Appropriation required for the ensuing two years (this estimate is based on the probable increase of 100 prisoners), $240,000.

Prisoners were employed during the last two years in the erection of buildings, improvement of grounds, building and operating rock-crusher and quarrying stone.

THE ROCK-CRUSHER.

Rock-crusher appropriation, construction fund, $25,000.

Rock-crusher appropriation, revolving fund, $5,000.

Total, $30,000.

Cost of plant, exclusive of operating expenses, $25,000.

Plant began crushing June 10, 1896.

Amount of rock crushed up to December 1, 1896, 29,513 tons.

Price sold at, 25 cents per ton.

Total value of output, $9,878 25.

"At the date of this report, December 7, 1896," says the Warden, "we have the quarry fairly opened. We find the air-compressor in use at the State power-house is not of sufficient capacity to furnish power to operate the rock-crusher and the Ingersoll drills at the same time. It takes all the full capacity of the air-compressor to run the rock-crusher alone, leaving the granite quarries and other work about the prison without power. It will be necessary to supply another air-compressor as soon as possible. This will double the output of the crushed rock metal.

"At 25 cents per ton on the cars at the plant sufficient revenue is derived from the operation of the plant to pay all the expenses, and will furnish enough surplus to provide for the full amount of the revolving fund by the close of the present fiscal year."

ALL A MISTAKE.

The Salvation Army Did Give Aid to the Second-Street Family.

There has evidently been some misunderstanding regarding the matter of the aid given to the sick and destitute family living in the rear of 918 Second street. On Wednesday the "Record-Union" called attention to their condition, as it had been reported, believing that some of the charitable organizations would inquire into the matter and extend whatever relief might be necessary.

It was learned that on that day the Salvation Army people helped the family, and they were given credit therefor in Thursday's issue. In the meantime the Catholic Ladies' Relief Society extended help to the family in the way of provisions, etc., and a member of the society who visited them was told by some one of the family—or so understood it—that they were the first and only ones that had assisted them.

Supposing that it was some other family the Salvation Army folks had helped on Wednesday the statement just referred to was published yesterday as a matter of justice to the good women of the relief society. But as a matter of fact, the statement did an injustice to the Salvation Army. One of the officers of that organization did visit the distressed family on Wednesday morning, and finding that they most lacked fuel, at once had a cord of wood sent to the house.

"We do not, for ourselves, care about a thing of this kind," said one of the officers yesterday, "only we dislike to have the public think we preach charity but do not practice it. So we investigated the Second-street case as soon as we read of it in the Record-Union, and at once sent the family a cord of wood, as fuel was what they most needed."

"The Catholic Ladies' Relief Society did also aid them to the extent of several dollars' worth of provisions. We are always glad to work hand in hand with any or all bodies that are ready and willing to help the poor and needy, and we like them all to have credit for what they do. But we are raising money for just such cases, and desire the public to understand that it is being used for that purpose.

"I suppose there was some misunderstanding in regard to the Second-street case, for I cannot conceive why any of the family should intentionally place the army in a false light. Our aim is to do all the good we can, either alone or in conjunction with others engaged in the same cause."

Two Minds Diseased.

Superior Judge Johnson and a committee of doctors yesterday examined A. B. Leach and J. J. Kold for insanity, with the result that they were both committed to an asylum for treatment.

The former has an idea that several women are infatuated with him and are camping on his trail, and the latter imagines that enemies are trying to poison him. There are lots of men about town who are suffering from the same sort of insanity as that which affects Leach, but possibly it is as yet of a milder sort.

L. S. Sheldon's Funeral.

Rev. H. H. Hoyt of the Congregational Church officiated yesterday at the funeral services of the late L. S. Sheldon, the well-known and popular conductor, who was killed on the railroad near Auburn a few days since. A large number of his deceased friends were present, and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen attended in a body. They also contributed an elegant flower piece.

The pall-bearers were Grove F. Ekins, G. A. Capen, A. Burgess, J. H. Benney, A. E. Gascoigne and C. W. Shore.

Seeking Information.

Governor Budd is in receipt of a letter from Joseph G. Kane of Cincinnati requesting information as to whether a claim has been left to Mary Lavine by Thomas Lavine. The latter died somewhere in the mines a number of years ago, but is now dead.

The employes about the Governor's office disclaim all knowledge of Mary's claim, and know of no way in which the facts may be obtained.

Wanted in Oregon.

Governor Lord of Oregon has issued a requisition upon Governor Budd for the return to that State of George Silvert, wanted in Clackamas County for the alleged crime of seduction.

The Governor has also honored the requisition of the Governor of Oregon for the return to that State of Charles Yokum, now in jail in Angel's Camp, and wanted in Douglas County, Oregon, for the crime of larceny.

Sears' Sentence Continued.

Sentence in the case of Thomas Sears, recently convicted of vagrancy in the Police Court, was yesterday morning continued indefinitely. There is small chance of Sears returning within the year to listen to his sentence, as he has forfeited a deposit of $100 for his appearance. The woman he is alleged to have kicked is said to be doing as well as could be expected.

Petty Embezzlement.

A warrant sworn to by Sufus Sorenson, charging Ire E. Purdin with embezzlement, has been issued.

It appears from the documenting question that Sorenson left a coat and vest, a revolver and a razor and strop with Purdin for safe-keeping, and that the latter left the city without having returned the articles. Purdin is believed to be in San Francisco.

The Peddling Cases.

In the Police Court yesterday morning the cases against B. Friedmaner and Joseph Travis, charged with peddling bananas within the limits prescribed by ordinance, was continued until Wednesday next at 1:30 p. m. They will be tried by a jury.

Notary Resigned.

J. A. Thatcher, Notary Public of Redwood City, has sent in his resignation to the Governor, as he anticipates leaving the State. The resignation was accepted.

DAN FORD'S LUCK.

A Convict Who Need Not Serve His Second Sentence.

Judge Johnson yesterday ordered the discharge of one Dan Ford on habeas corpus, a man who received a double sentence in San Francisco for robberies. On one charge he was convicted and a few weeks later he pleaded guilty to another charge. On the first he was sentenced to three and a half years, on the second to two years, the latter term to begin at the expiration of the former.

The courts have held that in such cases, where a person receives a second sentence in that manner they are concurrent.

Ford has about completed his first term of imprisonment and will be free to go as soon as it expires. His attorney was Charles T. Jones.

Novelty in the Squash Line.

There are now on exhibition in the windows of the Chamber of Commerce on J street, between Second and Third, three peculiar squashes that are attracting considerable attention and comment. They are crown-shaped, and appear to have been artificially formed by having rope bound around them while growing. They were grown by H. Hundertmark, who resides at Twenty-ninth and E streets. He says the growth was natural, but does not know the name of the variety.

Freight for the East.

During November Sacramento shipped by the Southern Pacific Railroad 7,829 tons of freight for Eastern points. There were 870 tons of canned fruit, 679 of dried, 300 of deciduous (fresh) fruits, 1,018 of wine, 620 of ores, and 248 of hops.

"You Don't Become a Slave to their Use!"

The above words have been truthfully spoken concerning Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets by one who has had abundant opportunity to observe their more favorable action as compared with that of other pills.

Most pills and medicines in use for constipation, in the long run, "make a bad matter worse." Unlike such agents, Dr. Pierce's Pellets exert such a tonic or strengthening effect upon the membranes of the stomach and bowels, as to produce lasting benefit. Their use can, therefore, be gradually discontinued. With most pills the longer they are taken, the more dependent upon their use the patient becomes. Not so with the "Pellets." Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual constipation.

The Pellets cure costiveness, or constipation, biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic.

They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Sold by all dealers.
