

LUCRETIA BORGIA A WORLD BEATER.

The Famous Ten Broeck's Four-Mile Record Laid Way in the Shade.

Reduced Four and Three-Quarter Seconds at Oakland.

Boots & Son's Four-Year-Old Filly Circles the Track Four Times in the Phenomenal Time of 7:11, Finishing Good and Strong, and Showing No Undue Exhaustion From the Terrific Pace—Results on Other Tracks.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Lucretia Borgia, brown filly, 4 years old, by Imp. Brutus out of Ledetta, bred and owned by William Boots & Son of San Jose, now holds the world's record for four miles.

After Lucretia Borgia's splendid showing with a poor rider up in the Ingleside Stakes at four miles three weeks ago, the owner determined to send his filly for the record, believing that with a good rider she could lower the coast and perhaps the world's record.

The record for four miles against time (7:15) has stood for twenty-one years, having been made by Ten Broeck, the celebrated distance horse, on September 27, 1876, at Louisville, Ky. The competition record for the same distance has stood for twenty-three years at 7:19 3/4, made by Fellowcraft at Saratoga, on August 20, 1874.

Mr. Boots was confident after Borgia's good showing in the Ingleside Stakes that she could do much better than 7:20 1/4, the Pacific Coast record, and induced the California Jockey Club to guarantee a purse of $1,000 should the world's record be lowered.

The trial against time was the fourth on the card, and when Lucretia Borgia came out of the saddling paddock with Jockey Clawson, weighing 85 pounds, up, she was greeted with applause.

The filly was sent away at once, and young Clawson took a double wrap on the reins, but even then the filly pulled him clear out of the saddle, so full of run was she. Clawson timed the first mile with rare judgment, completing the circuit in 1:50 flat. He had been instructed to keep his mount within the 1:50 mark for each mile, but on the second round Lucretia pulled so hard on the bit that the jockey let out a notch, and covered the second mile at 1:45 gate, or 3:35 1/4 for the two miles.

The game filly was paced on the third mile by her half brother, Peter II, and made the circuit in 1:47 1/2, time for the three miles being 5:22 3/4. Still the game descendant of Imp. Brutus showed no signs of faltering, but came right on and hitched up with Instillator, another Brutus progeny, and was carried the last mile in 1:46 1/4, or 7:11 flat for the four miles, lowering the fastest previous record by 4 1/2 seconds.

Lucretia finished good and strong, and showed no undue exhaustion from her terrific race against time. The performance is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that the new record holder is a filly, which is entirely without a precedent in the annals of turf history, as hitherto the necessary stamina possessed by her sex to traverse the long route has been ridiculed by horse breeders and followers of the turf.

It is safe to predict that Lucretia Borgia's record will stand for many years to come, since long distance racing has practically gone out of fashion, such races being in vogue only in California at present.

The weather was fine and the track fast. Results: Five furlongs, Jeridero won, Chapple second, Gold Boy third. Time—1:02 1/4. Six furlongs, Reel won, Anabasis second, Dolore third. Time—1:10. HOME BOUND CONDUCTORS.

The Atlanta Special Reached Here Yesterday.

They Were Entertained by the Local Lodge and Testified Their Appreciation.

The Atlanta special, consisting of six cars and bearing 128 Georgia conductors and their families, arrived in this city at 11:45 yesterday, on their way home from the Grand Division of the Order of Railway Conductors at Los Angeles.

There might have been a number of Georgia conductors among them, but, if so, they were not in evidence, although one young man wore the shoulder straps of a Captain.

Whether they were Majors or not, they were jolly good fellows, who are out for a good time and are thoroughly enjoying it, and the ladies of the party are not a whit behind them.

The Reception Committee appointed by the local lodge of the brotherhood here met them at the depot and took charge of them. The visitors bore a variety of badges of all colors, denoting their membership, while the Sacramento were a bit bashful with the Sacramento "Simp Nevada Division, No. 195, O. R. C., Sacramento, Cal. Welcome to our Capital City."

Arrangements had been made by the Reception Committee for the entertainment of the visitors and a number of carriages and carriages were in waiting. It did not take long to escort the visitors to the vehicles and they were taken first to the Crocker Art Gallery, where they spent some time in admiring the pictures, and many of them expressed regret that they were unable to spend several hours there. Taking the carriages again, they were driven to the Capital, where W. D. Nichols, who escorts visitors through the building and points out its beauties in so entertaining and instructive manner, showed them through the legislative chambers and courtrooms. Many of them ascended into the dome and viewed the city from that elevation.

Those they went to Sutter's Fort, where they were much interested, both in the fort itself and in the curiosities that were pointed out by the attentive guardian.

After leaving the fort a drive through the residence portion of the city brought them to the Buffalo Brewery, where they were made interested in the process of making ice and malt extract. The management had issued an invitation to them, and provided ample refreshments, which the visitors paid due attention to and were loud in their praise thereof.

After leaving the brewery the party was taken back to the depot, and the train left about 5 o'clock.

The visitors expressed great admiration for the beautiful shade trees and other excellences of the city, the grandeur and beauty of the Capitol and the park surrounding it, the well-kept terraces and grounds and the brilliant masses of color presented by the flowers. They were profuse in their expressions of appreciation of the reception accorded them, and said they had experienced nothing like it during their trip.

"If this is the way they treat strangers here," said one, "I should like to come here to live."

"We have experienced the greatest kindness from all the people of the State, but this caps the climax," said another.

"Your people possess the art of making life pleasant to others and have treated us royally," said a third.

They declare that our flowers and fruits are wonderful and delicious. "I had some strawberries in Los Angeles," one remarked, "but I have had nothing that tasted as a strawberry here, and I reached here." A few heavily loaded cherry trees attracted much attention.

Those who came in the party were as follows: R. H. Conner and family, J. C. Cotheran, W. R. Smith and family, Joe Ham, Zack Martin and family, T. J. Howell and family, C. V. Rainey and family, H. V. Jones and family, E. Burkmaster and family, J. R. Dillon and family, W. C. Warren and family, T. Mianhan, W. H. Dohbs, D. S. Walraven and family, E. A. Warwick and family, J. W. Harrison, D. M. Vining, T. M. Randall, C. E. Griggs, G. C. Hamilton and family, A. Adams, J. Brannan, E. F. Bieser, J. J. Brannan, C. L. Bruner, W. D. Hicks and family, Savannah, W. A. Wright and family, Waycross, G. A. W. M. Ennis, James O. Waller, George V. Beal and family, A. N. Kendrick, W. C. Davis, J. H. Humeit and family, G. M. Brant, J. N. Steel, Macon, Ga.; A. Rankin, High Point, N. C.; F. Grmekr, M. W. Hutchins and family, B. B. Jones and family, L. V. Hatcher and family, Augusta, Ga.; W. T. Dillard and family, Montgomery, Ala.; W. E. Stoddard and family, F. Seals and family, Selma, Ala.; H. M. Hanbury, W. R. Friedman, Birmingham, Ala.; W. Jones, Charles G. Kinzel and family, Knoxville, Tenn.; A. J. Corbit and family, Nashville, Tenn.; A. H. Watkins and family, Louisville, Ky.; Geo. D. Hawks and family, Weldon, N. C.; John F. Stumps, Roanoke, Va.; J. H. Debbins, Brunswick, Ga.; B. AMUSEMENTS.

The Wilber Comic Opera Company has improved nightly from the first, and is now presenting as well sung and acted a comic opera as any one may wish to see. Last night the satisfaction of the audience was very pronounced. Miss Rockwell was thrice recalled in the second act, so effectively did she sing her opening air. Mr. Ellis, the tenor, has become a deserved favorite, and his song, "I'm a Nobleman From Mexico," in the first act, puts him into the highest favor with his audiences. The female chorus, strong from the first, is still better than at the opening, and its "We Are the Darlings of the Pasha," is nightly encored. The male chorus has much improved, gaining confidence and abandon. Mr. Deane, the baritone, has wholly dropped out, and his place is straggling now very effectively. His "My Love is Like the Lily Fair" was last night deservedly encored. The septet at the beginning of the second act last night was so well given that repetition was demanded, and the same was true of the quintet, "Life is Sunshine," and the duet between Miss Rockwell and Mr. Ellis, "Oh, Mexico." No company we have had here has so richly costumed any opera as does the Wilber troupe "Said Pasha." It is indeed in the case of all the leading characters brilliantly dressed. To-night "Said Pasha" for the last evening but two.

PUMPED OUT. Ralph Miller was Prevented From Going to the Morgue.

Ralph Miller, a young man of German extraction, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by swallowing two ounces of laudanum.

He was working on a refrigerator car standing in the railroad yard on the levee at Twelfth and A streets, and about 3 o'clock stopped work and informed his fellow-workman that he intended to commit suicide. They paid no attention to his threat until he took from his pocket a three-ounce bottle containing laudanum and drained the contents.

The police patrol was sent for with a view of taking Miller to the Receiving Hospital, but instead he was taken to the Railroad Hospital near by, where he was relieved of the poison.

Miller was then removed to his home on Eighth street, between D and E. He was employed by the Fruit-Grocers' Express Company. Dependence is supposed to have been the cause of the rash act.

DIVIDED EQUALLY. But the Division Did Not Satisfy Maupin's Partner.

W. N. Maupin was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Barbara Bruder charging him with petit larceny. The woman, who conducts an employment agency, states that Maupin stole a dollar from her.

Maupin, on the other hand, declares that he was connected with Barbara Bruder in conducting the employment agency, with the understanding that the profits of the business would be evenly divided each night, so happened that yesterday's profits amounted to $2, and that the woman demurred when he went to draw down his dividend. He, however, took the money he claims to have justly earned, and she swore out a warrant with the result already stated.

AN UNPOPULAR LAW. At Least, That Was the Jury's View of the Matter.

Lincoln White, the lawyer, was tried before a Police Court jury yesterday on a charge of having violated the ordinance providing that no accumulation of garbage or filth shall be allowed on property situate within the city limits, and was promptly acquitted.

The defense, which was conducted by Attorney F. S. Sprague, made no denial of the testimony offered by the prosecution, but the defendant had allowed heaps of manure to remain on his property for three weeks at a time, but took the broad stand that under the ordinance governing the case any man who kept a cow, or who had straw and manure, might be adjudged guilty under the law. The jury was out only a few minutes.
