

PLAYED WITHOUT AN ERROR.

GILT EDGES WHITEWASH THE LODIS BY 15 TO 0.

The Monarchs Swooped Down from the Hills and Walloped the Nathans.

Sacramento's favorite baseball "colts," the Gilt Edges, added another button to their string of victories, when they tried conclusions with the Lodis on the Oak Park diamond yesterday afternoon. It was a clean sweep, and at no time in the game was the result doubtful.

The batting and base running of the Gilt Edges players, while excellent, was helped out by costly errors on the part of the Lodis, and when at the end of the ninth inning the visitors had a large cipher to their credit, nobody seemed much surprised.

Score summary table for Gilt Edges vs Lodis. Columns include player names and statistics like runs, hits, errors, and bases on balls.

Overmeyer pitched great ball for the visitors, and repeatedly fanned the Gilt Edges out in one-two-three order, but his support was of the rank description. The ball would slip through the basemen's hands as though it had been greased, and the fielders were out to miff everything that came along.

Good games are promised, as the diamond is in the best condition. Visiting teams will be billed at different dates, and all that the management can do to give to the public the best of ball games will be done.

Baseball rivals in the grocery business, the John Rileys and Leon Lewises, played yesterday morning at Alkali Park, Fifteenth and C streets. The Rileys defeated the Lewises by a score of 10 to 8.

The X-Rays defeated the Blacksmith nine at Twenty-eighth and Q streets yesterday morning by a score of 20 to 6. The battery for the X-Rays were Treichler and Podd, and for the Blacksmiths Heisch and Baker.

The Hale Bros. baseball team chartered a boat yesterday, and with about seventy-five friends and "rooters" went up the river to play the Knights' Landing club. The local team was not victorious; neither was it defeated, and after the closest, most exciting game played in the State this year, the game at the end of the sixteenth inning was declared a draw, the score standing 3 to 3.

The Touts defeated the Clark & Stanley nine at Fifteenth and P streets. The score was 13 to 10. The feature of the game was the batting of Al Anderson of the Touts.

The Yolo Girl Athlete Now at Vassar College. A San Francisco paper yesterday contained a half-page portrait and sketch of Miss Rowena Reed, of Washington, Yolo county, girl now at Vassar College.

Victorious Corkers. The Corkers of this city went to Winters yesterday and played a State tournament game with the local club, the Judy Bros. nine. Once more the Corkers covered themselves with glory—and dust. They defeated the Judy's by a score of 32 to 16.

Other Games. At 8 o'clock in the morning the Wholesale and Retailers occupied the Oak Park diamond, and, regardless of the fact that the Wholesaleers were helped out by several players of the Columbia Club, the game was a pretty one. It was a pretty even thing up to near the end, when the Wholesaleers

QUAILED BEFORE THE POLICE

CHARLES BOHM STOOD OFF THE DEPUTY CONSTABLES.

But the Bluecoats Were Too Much—Excitement Over an Attempt at Burglary.

There was a mint of excitement at Oak Park yesterday afternoon, the primary cause of which was that the vaudeville troupe now playing in that village has the trunks containing the wardrobes and other stage paraphernalia in a room used for that purpose.

At about 4 o'clock Deputy Constables Snook and Boggess discovered that an attempt was being made to break open the trunks, and they raided the room. According to their story, they were busily engaged in an attempt to find out what was inside of the big trunks, and as the officers rushed in there was a general scattering.

Two of the alleged thieves made their escape, but the third was less fortunate. He was secured, handcuffed and tied to a tree with a piece of rope which was found lying around loose, and the officers turned their attention to his two comrades, one of whom had disappeared, while the other mounted a horse and started toward town.

They gave chase, and in the meantime they engaged the individual, who was tied to the tree, got out his pocket knife, severed the rope, and at the latter accounts still had his liberty, together with the handcuffs.

The man who rode away was subsequently found to be Charles Bohm, who resides at Twenty-ninth and E streets. He rode directly home, and was inside his house when the officers arrived. They informed him that he was under arrest, and he asked to see the warrant. Of course there was no warrant, and Bohm declined the arrest.

Just how it happened is not known, but Deputy Boggess' revolver was discharged about that time, and the bullet crashed through the edge of the door. Bohm sprang back and reappeared almost immediately armed with a shotgun, and bluntly told the officers that if they would get the hell out of his house he would blow their heads off.

The Deputy Constables concluded that discretion was the better part of valor just then, and retired to a respectful distance. They held a council of war, and decided to order reinforcements. Accordingly the police station was rung up to the nearest telephone, and the patrol wagon, with Officers Hardy and Nagel occupying prominent positions therein, started for the front.

Another message was flashed into Sheriff Johnson's office, and in an incredibly short time the county jail and Smith were urging a hack driver to do a little better than his best to reach the scene of hostilities.

The patrol wagon reached the objective point first, and when Bohm saw the blue coats and brass buttons he walked straight to the county jail, and that he would submit to arrest by the officers, but not to any jim-crack deputies.

Kelly and Smith were on the ground by this time, with a warrant issued by Judge Gandy, charging Bohm with attempting to commit burglary, and the latter was taken to the county jail to await his preliminary examination.

Ball was fixed at $1,000, and Poundmaster Cooksly, Bohm's employer, risked for bondsmen until a late hour last night, but so far as is known his search resulted in failure.

Preparation for Visitors. Arrangements for receiving the members of the Sacramento reception committee at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, corner of Sixth and L streets, at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning, are being made by the committee.

REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

Satisfactory Inspection of Those of Collector Stairley.

Internal Revenue Agent Seawell, of Washington, D. C., the Government expert, who has been examining the records of the office of Collector Wellborn, of the First California District, spent Saturday afternoon and evening examining the books of the office of Collector Stairley, of the Fourth District, in this city.

He counted all the beer tax paid, cigar, special tax, tobacco and card stamps on hand, and found all the collections properly accounted for, and the cash account correct and square to a cent. He also examined the office records, which he declared to be neatly and accurately kept.

This is very satisfactory to Mr. Stairley, in view of the embezzlement of Cashier Norton, of the First District, and the condition of that office in consequence. The work was entirely completed by 8 o'clock, and Mr. Seawell departed on his tour of inspection by the evening train. He said Collector Stairley deserved the greatest credit for the perfect manner in which his accounts were kept, and the office conducted, and that he (Seawell) would so report to Washington.

Alleged Woman Beating. Robert Russell was arrested by Officer Green yesterday and charged with battery by Stella Gordon. The woman's eyes were quite black from the effects of the beating alleged to have been given her by Russell. The latter is out on bonds.

TRAP AND TARGET.

Washington Gun Club's Shoot—Military Scores.

The bluecock shoot of the Washington Gun Club yesterday was largely attended. There was a good attendance and some of the scores were fairly good. The Yolo lads are improving, and by another season there will be several good shots among them.

Match at 10 bluecocks: Peek, Newton, Grubler, Wisenbender, Castor, Keuchler, Dolan, Barker, Barlow.

Match at 15 bluecocks: Peek, Grubler, Castor, Soule, Newton, Grubler, Dolan, Barker, Barlow.

THE PELICANS. Only a few members of the Pelican Gun Club showed up at the live bird shoot yesterday. Three of them shot a twenty-bird match, with the following result: The birds were strong flyers: Rubstaller, J., 11; Gerber, J., 11; Gerber, W., 11.

BURIED IN BUTTE. Funeral of the Late Thomas McShane at Brownsville.

The funeral of Thomas McShane, who died in this city on the 20th inst., took place from Old Fellows' Hall, in Brownsville, Butte County, under the auspices of Brownsville Lodge, I. O. O. F. Rev. J. A. Keast, who officiated, spoke from the text: "Surely the Lord has been in this place, and I knew it not." He poured forth a flood of words, and his words were full of meaning and pathos. "Our friend Lazarus slepeeth, but I go that I may awake him out of sleep." He quoted, in conclusion, a few lines often repeated by the deceased on similar occasions.

"Man's ingress into life is naked and vain, His progress through life is trouble and pain. His egress out of life we know not where, But here, done well here, may he do well there."

Let us echo his words, said the clergyman. Thomas McShane was born near Forestburg, Butte County, Cal., June 14, 1864. He died June 20, 1897, aged 33 years and 6 days. He leaves to mourn his loss Mr. and Mrs. Peter McShane, his aged father and mother, three brothers, John, James and P. J. McShane, of Forestburg, and a son, Oscar McShane, of San Francisco, besides innumerable friends.

The funeral cortege was next to the largest ever known in Brownsville. The deceased's bereaved relatives have the deepest sympathy of all who knew Thomas McShane, and they are many.

CALLED DOWN. A Vulgar Street Orator Taken in for Using Bad Language.

Samuel Murrell, who has established quite a reputation as a street-corner orator, loaded up on bad liquor yesterday and proceeded to make "Rome howl" at the vicinity of Fourth and K streets. His language was of the most obscene nature, and Dr. Sutliff, who was passing, ran up the patrol wagon, and before the wagon had started, overhauled the orator at Seventh and K streets where he was turned over to Captain Fisher. Murrell will tell his troubles to Justice Davis this morning.
