

MUCH EXCITEMENT IN PLACERVILLE.

It Arises From the Disaster at the Great Fire in Georgetown.

People Aroused to the Danger of Storing Explosives in the Stores.

Supervisors Will Be Urged to Pass an Ordinance Prohibiting the Storage of Powder in a Town-Dealers in Powder Found to Have Been Violating a State Law and Prosecutions Have Been Commenced—A Startling Find in the Woodpile of the Ohio House.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—The special correspondent of the "Chronicle" says: The people of El Dorado County, and especially the officers of the law, are very much agitated over the question of the storing and handling of giant powder and other high explosives that are used so extensively in mining in this region.

The agitation arose from the great fire at Georgetown on June 14th, when every business house in the place was burned down, besides two lives being lost, a number of persons seriously injured, and almost every residence in the town that had escaped the flames wrecked by a terrible explosion of giant powder in D. Sornberger's store.

The disaster led to a public demand for an investigation. District Attorney Carpenter found a State law that provides that a Board of Supervisors may pass an ordinance prohibiting the storing of powder in a town. No such ordinance was ever enacted in El Dorado County. An agitation has been begun in Placerville and other towns in this county to induce the Board of Supervisors at its next session to enact such a prohibitive measure in accordance with the provisions of the State law.

While the matter was being investigated by the authorities it was discovered that every dealer in powder in the county is violating a State law that provides that a record must be kept of all sales of explosives, with the dates and the names and descriptions of the parties to whom powder is sold.

The criminal prosecutions that have already been begun by the arrest of Uhlenkamp will involve a large number of merchants as powder is sold by almost every general merchandise store in the county.

The complaint against Uhlenkamp was sworn to by J. E. Sexton, who will probably be the complaining witness in all the cases. The parties concerned denounce Sexton as an informer, and claim that the prosecutions are actuated by the desire to secure the fine of $250 in each case that is provided by the law to be paid upon conviction to the informer.

The excitement over the matter was increased on Tuesday evening last by a startling discovery in the rear of the Ohio House, a large frame building that is the most extensive hotel in the county. George W. McKee, one of the owners of the hotel, was directing the shifting around of a lot of loose wood in the wood shed preparatory to having a number of loads thrown in when two packages of giant powder were discovered. The dangerous bundles appeared to have been hidden under the wood. The packages contained ten sticks of the powerful explosive. The stuff was handled very gingerly and quickly removed to a place of safety.

Immediately there was much alarm among the hundred and more guests of the house, but a thorough search failed to reveal any more powder anywhere.

At first there was much mystery as to the object of storing the powder in the wood pile, but an examination of the packages revealed some memoranda that got Informer J. E. Sexton into serious trouble. It seems that the powder had been bought at the stores of Nick Fossett at Smith's Flat and W. D. Montgomery at Placerville, and was intended to be used as evidence against the merchants in the cases against them for failing to keep records of sales of explosives.

Dan C. Greenwalt, who bought the powder, stated that he had been given the money by Sheriff Hilbert, who directed him to turn the powder over to Sexton, which was done. The powder was thus traced to Sexton and it was believed that he placed it in the wood pile, although he was a boarder and lodger at the house and was thereby as much endangered as any of the rest of the guests. He does not admit the fact, but it is supposed that he put the powder in the wood temporarily with no malicious motive, intending simply to keep it for use in the case against the merchants.

The proprietors of the Ohio House now threaten to prosecute Sexton criminally under a law that provides that a person is guilty of a felony who "recklessly or maliciously" places explosives in a public place.

A lively meeting of the volunteer fire companies of Placerville was held last evening, at which resolutions were passed severely denouncing Sexton for his action. A small fire occurred in the basement of the Ohio House during the time the giant powder was stored there. The firemen say that if the blaze had not been extinguished before it communicated to the wood shed in the rear their lives would have been endangered by a terrific explosion.

To add to the complications, it is reported that attorneys are engaged in preparing papers for the institution of a number of damage suits against D. Sornberger of Georgetown, in whose store the explosion of powder occurred. The insurance money was paid on the Sornberger building, but payment was refused for the damages to residences caused by the flying bricks, iron store doors and other debris. The insurance companies claim that such damages cannot be collected upon a fire insurance policy, and if the companies are found not to be responsible for the loss the damage suits will be pushed against Sornberger, the owner of the store in which the explosion occurred.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY. Conference Meeting Begins at Nashville To-day. NASHVILLE (Tenn.), July 4.—A meeting of the committee appointed at Memphis to call the conference of the People's party, which meets here tomorrow, was held here to-day. The following were present: W. S. Morgan, F. W. D. Mayes, J. S. Coxey, Alex. Steinberger, J. H. Fells, Milton Parks and Joe Parker. Mr. Mayes presided and Mr. Parker acted as Secretary. The object of the meeting was to map out a programme. The committee decided to recommend J. S. Bradley of Texas for Temporary Chairman and Joe A. Parker for Temporary Secretary. A large number of delegates have arrived and many are scheduled to come on late trains to-night. Congressman Ward of Alabama, John Seltz of Texas, and Mr. Coffman of Arkansas, are here. Ignatius Donnelly is en route and "Cyclone" Davis is expected before the conference adjourns. There seems to be a great deal of uncertainty concerning the attendance of Tom Watson and Senator Butler and opinion is about evenly divided as to their attendance. Those here, while they discuss what the convention should do quite freely, do not seem agreed upon what it will do, the prevailing idea seems to be party reorganization in order to put an end to dissension which has arisen in the party on account of occurrences within the past year. It is said that the sessions may be somewhat stormy, but no action can be taken except the addition of resolutions, though some including F. W. D. Mayes, think it not improbable that resolutions criticising the actions of some members of the National Committee will be adopted. The anti-fusion sentiment is strong and some action will be taken, it is believed, in favor of independence and against fusion.

The delegates to the National Press Reform conference will meet tomorrow, but nothing will be done other than taking part in the general conference, to which most of them are delegates.

SUCCEEDED AT LAST.

National Christian Citizenship League's Celebration. CHICAGO, July 4.—The officers of the National Christian Citizenship League are very much pleased at the result of their efforts to secure a Fourth of July celebration along the lines of their platform of principles. Their correspondence for the past month has been very heavy, letters coming from all sections of the country endorsing their principles and telling of efforts to carry them out. Edwin D. Wheeler, the President, said to-day: "The league began its work for a new Fourth three years ago. Interest increased each year, but the results this year are brighter than others. The South has joined the North and the East and West in the plea for higher citizenship, and the application of Christian patriotism to public affairs. General C. H. Howard, P. S. Hudson and Hon. Elihu A. Moore prepared the celebration programme carried out in many towns and villages yesterday and which will be carried out in thousands more on Monday. Many thousands of sermons were preached to-day and many of the strongest men among the clergy and laity, Catholic as well as Protestant, furnished telling messages which were read to the congregations. Our correspondence shows that the religious denominations, young people's organizations, temperance societies, etc., are strongly interested in the movement. The aim of the league is to get all the people together on a common basis of non-partisan demand for pure government and the success of this year shows that we are progressing toward that end."

A RACE WORTH SEEING. Robert J. and John R. Gentry Will Try to Beat Two Minutes. CHICAGO, July 4.—The following entries have been made for the free-for-all pacing race to take place at Washington Park on Saturday, July 24th: Star Pointer, 2:02½; Joe Patchen, 2:03; and Frank Agan, 2:03½.

In addition to the free-for-all and 2:11 pacing race the club has arranged a special for John R. Gentry, 2:04½, and Robert J., 2:01½, each to pace a mile accompanied by a running mate, the consideration being a purse of $3,000, and an extra $1,000 to either of both of them if they beat 2:00. It was hoped all five of these noted flyers would enter for the free for all, but it was found that Lewis J. Tewksbury, the owner of John R. Gentry and Robert J., had the choice of accepting any one of three engagements for an exhibition by his horses on the same day. Therefore, in order that their presence might be assured, the special was arranged for them. The 2:11 pacing class will close on Saturday, July 10th.

THE FOURTH IN LONDON.

Dr. Milburn Says America Rejoices in Her Independence. LONDON, July 4.—The celebration of Independence Day took the form in the Robert Browning Social Settlement of a meeting in favor of arbitration. William T. Stead, editor of the "Review," presided. He embarrassed Rev. Dr. Milburn, Chaplain of the United States Senate, who was present, by appealing to him to assure the meeting that the United States Senators who voted for the treaty represented a majority of the people and the bulk of the intelligence of the United States.

Dr. Milburn made no reply to this, but in the course of his address he said the descendants of Englishmen in the United States were as loyal to many English traditions as Englishmen themselves, but that America rejoiced in her own independence. In the course of the evening the representatives of the Women's Press League of Chicago presented portraits of Washington and Lincoln to the settlement.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

CARNEY AND FITZGERALD PLAY HANDBALL FOR IT.

While Heavily Handicapped, the Latter Put Up a Nearly Perfect Game.

NEW YORK, July 4.—William Carney of Swineford, County Mayo, Ireland, who for the last few years has been a resident of Chicago, and James Fitzgerald of Tralee County, Kerry, Ireland, met at Casey's handball court in Brooklyn this afternoon in the final half of the rubber of fifteen games which decided the world's championship at handball.

Three weeks ago to-day these met at Kennedy's ball court in Chicago, when Carney won six of the seven games played. To-day Fitzgerald was confronted with a heavy handicap, as he had to win seven straight games in order to get the title of champion. Fitzgerald arrived in this country last winter, and is at a disadvantage with the American game because at the back of the Irish courts there is an open space, while under the American rules there is a solid wall. He acquitted himself very creditably, however, and despite the fact that he was beaten, the game which he put up was almost perfect.

Carney, having won the last game of the Chicago series, opened with a low delivery which puzzled Fitzgerald. On the second ball Fitzgerald returned it quickly and killed it in a rally, after which he made four aces. This game was won by Fitzgerald by a score of 21 to 14. Fitzgerald opened the second game with an ace, to which Carney responded with ten. There were eight hands played in this game and both men put up such excellent play that it kept the experts guessing which would win. Fitzgerald played an almost faultless game and puzzled his service so frequently that he changed the Chicago man, but the latter outplayed him and won with three aces to spare.

Phil Casey, who on Fitzgerald's arrival in this country relinquished the championship, declared that this was the grandest game of handball he had ever seen, and his opinion was shared by all the experts who saw the game. The third game was won by Fitzgerald—21 to 14—as was also the fourth—21 to 17. Fitzgerald's stock had a rise, and some of the Chicago's man's partisans bet 2 to 1 on their man, although at the start they were betting as much as 5 to 1. Fitzgerald scored five aces in his first hand of the fifth game and Carney made two.

After a rapid exchange of inside play Fitzgerald went out in his second hand and Carney scored four. Fitzgerald did some very pretty work in the next four hands, but went to pieces a minute later, allowing Carney to score ten aces. In the fast rally Fitzgerald shut Carney off with a close kill when the Chicago man was lacking two aces of the championship. Fitzgerald then on service made two, and Carney, with good all round play, shut out Fitzgerald's chances of success by scoring two on excellent in and out play, winning the match with a score of 8 to 4, which included the six games which he won in Chicago. Score to-day's play: Carney 14, 21, 14, 17, 21; Fitzgerald 21, 18, 21, 21, 14.

WARRIORS AT WORK.

Red Men Listen to a Patriotic Sermon by Rev. C. L. Miel.

Each of the three local tribes of Red Men, as well as the daughters of the Fuchsias, were well represented at St. Paul's Episcopal Church last evening in response to the invitation of the rector, Rev. C. L. Miel, which had been extended to the Miel. Rev. Mr. Miel preached an eloquent, interesting and appropriate sermon, from the standpoint that the Gospel of Christ is the world's Declaration of Independence. He followed his idea to its natural conclusion, submitting that Christ taught immortality to set men free from the stifling idea that this life is all.

The pastor stated that the Declaration of Independence given to the world by Christ is no respecter of persons, and that the same promise is held out to all. Its primary element, he said, is love of truth, or of everything real and genuine—a love of the actual things in life. Life, he held, is but the beginning, and in it a man does little more than cut his eye-teeth. It is really intended as a school for that which is to follow.

The visitors paid the closest attention to the remarks of the pastor, and were evidently greatly pleased with the excellent sermon presented to them.

His Hard Luck.

"Up against it again," gloomily remarked the man who pronounces "athlete" in four syllables. "How is that?" asked the woman who wears white gloves with black stitching. "Thought I had a sure thing the other day, and was thrown as usual. Was in a bicycle store when a young fellow came in to buy a cyclometer. Said his had given out after he had ridden 500 miles. Was trying for a season's record, and had to begin over again. Salesman said he could fix it. Took new cyclometer, fixed it on wheel, opened the thing in the store, and began to turn. Reeled off 500 miles in no time. Thought I saw my graft. Went to a guy I know, and bet him I could ride more miles in a week than he could. It was to be decided by our cyclometers. Bought new cyclometer, went up in attic and began to turn. Struck a hot box at the 257th mile, and stuck fast. Never happened to a cyclist before. Just my luck."—Buffalo Express.
