

Our store closes at 6 o'clock p. m., Saturdays excepted.

SPECIALS ON SALE TO-DAY (MONDAY)

Men's Blue Overalls.

Heavy Copper Riveted Blue Denim Overalls, sizes 30 to 40 waist, 29 to 35 length. The regular price, $1.25. MONDAY'S PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Men's Flannel Underwear.

Men's Heavy Gray Twilled Flannel Undershirts and Drawers, red, brown or blue. Regular price, $1. MONDAY'S PRICE, 75 CENTS.

Ladies' Dress Shoes.

The $2.50 Ladies' Dress Shoes which were on sale a week ago at $1.95 proved so popular that we decided to place another sale. -Viel Kid, in lace or button, coin or brocade toes, neat kid or patent leather tips, cloth or kid tops. Price, as before, $1.95.

Boys' Double-Seat and Knee Pants.

Boys' Dark Cheviot Knee Pants, double seat and knee; just the thing for school wear; sizes 4 to 14. MONDAY'S SPECIAL PRICE, 35 CENTS.

Boys' Hats.

Boys' Wool Hats, suitable for school or knockabout wear, usually sold at 50 cents. Special price, 25 CENTS.

Overheard at Bar Harbor.

He—Give me a kiss. She (decidedly)—I won't. He—You shouldn't say "I won't" to me; you should have said, "I prefer not."

Hard Luck.

"I see here in the paper that some fellow has a corner in wheat," said Mrs. Beapond. "Gosh!" replied Farmer Beapond. "Sorry for him. I had a whole field, and what I'd had more."—Philadelphia North American.

As He Understood It.

"Maw, what did you tell Mrs. Neddore that we oughtn't to monkey with the English styles for?" "I didn't, Willie. I said we ought not to ape the English styles." "Well, what's the difference?"—Chicago Tribune.

The "Arena" for October (Boston) continues the battle for reform. Hon. Charles A. Towne's article, "The New Ostracism," is in the author's best vein of critical analysis. Herman E. Taubeneck continues his statistical attack on concentrated wealth. Judge Walter Clark sends out a plea for the establishment of public rights over semi-public interests and institutions. The article, "Prosperity: the Sham and the Reality," is by Dr. Ridpath. Mary Platt Parmelee's article on the "Political Philosophy of the Father of American Democracy," is an original argument for popular liberties. E. O. Flower in "The Latest Social Vision," discusses the merits of Bellamy's "Equality."

"The Dawn Hand in the Church," by Rev. Clarence Lathbury, attacks the domination of the dead past over the living present in the church. "Hypnotism in Its Scientific and Forensic Aspects," is the subject of an article by Marion L. Dawson. "Satan's Demon Possession: How It Existed in China," by William Lee Howard, M. D. Reports of the Illinois College of Psychology; the Chicago School of Psychology; and the Kingston School of Suggestive Therapeutics; "Telepathy, Clairvoyance, or What?" by W. J. Colville. The editor discusses the theories of theosophy as set forth by Mrs. Besant, and the Inquiry Department is especially given up to experiences in mind reading and clairvoyance. The tone of the magazine is skeptical as to truth of these alleged phenomena.

"The Kindergarten Review" for October (Springfield, Mass.) has a fine portrait of the late Emily Shirreff, the great kindergarten apostle. There is an accompanying paper on her life and times, and papers appear also on counsels to teachers, "Character in Direct Music," "Study of Nature," "Mother's Play," "Use and Abuse of Symbols," and many other subjects. The "Review" is an admirable educational magazine, varied, bright, progressive, and edited with notable ability.

Cassell's "Family Magazine" for October (The Cassell Publishing Company, New York and London) is freely and handsomely illustrated. Its serials, short stories, poetry, "Gatherer" department of novel inventions; its paper of travel, biography; articles on architectural art, geography, manufacture, etc., make it one of the best family magazines of the age.

"Inside of a Hundred Homes," the first of a succession of articles picturing interiors of the most artistically furnished houses in America, is one of the notable features of the October "Ladies' Home Journal" (Philadelphia). Another of special interest introduces "The New Tenants of the White House" through photographs of the McKinley household. The conclusion of the series, "The Bell's chat is of her preparations and departure for Europe. Mrs. Lyman Abbott begins a series of "Peaceful Valley."

Edward W. Bok points out to young men where the best chances of success await them, and counsels young women who object to the word "Society" in the marriage ceremony. William George Jordan tells of the "Wonders of the World's Waste." In a lighter vein are Charles Dana Gibson's Dickens drawing, "Caleb Plummer and His Daughter," Mary E. Wilkins' sketch of a New England apple-paring in "Sweetwater," Hamlin Garland's serial, and a deliciously reminiscent poem, "Leisurely Lane," which W. L. Taylor has illustrated. Mrs. S. T. Rorer solves the economic problem of feeding a family of eight at an aggregate cost of $1 a week in "The Spirit of Halloween games and pastimes, and others touching every phase of woman's work and home life."

"The North American Review" (New York) has this table of contents for October: "Man and the Machine," by Bishop Henry C. Potter; "Immigration and the Educational Test," Prescott F. Hall, Secretary Immigration Restriction League; "College Discipline," the President of Stanford University; "The Torpedo Boat in Naval Warfare," B. M. Micon; "Canada and the Dingley Bill," John Charlton, M. P., Canadian Bill; "Commons: Another View of the Union Label," Starr Hoyt Nichols; "The Coming Sea-Power," Charles H. Cramp; "The Clayton-Bulwer Treaty," Mayo W. Hazeltine; "To Abolish the Plague of City Nuisances," J. B. Gardner, M. D.; "The Silver Question—Its Present Status," the Hon. R. P. Bland; "India's Case for Silver," A. S. Ghosh, Professor of Economics, Calcutta University; "Important Results of the Jubilee," Andrew Carnegie; "The Teacher's Office," E. L. Cowure of the Teacher's Office; "Dr. Cyrus Edson: 'Taxing Human Legs,'" Wm. Everett Hicks.

"Self-pity and sensitiveness are dangerous foes of healthy growth," writes Henry Austin Adams in his editorial review in the October "Donahoe's Magazine" (Boston) wherein he deplores the tendency of many to harbor the thought that they are undervalued. In the same department Mr. Adams touches upon various other subjects of living interest. Adelaide Bassford writes entertainingly of the picturesque scenery of Mexico. Rob Lear draws a pleasant sketch of "Old Georgetown," the famous Jesuit college. M. S. McGuirk makes some suggestions about "Church Music." Marcus Daly treats of "Some Appreciations" of the poets and quotes from their best known works. Rev. Charles Warren Currier writing of "the Brooks and Taney's" contributes the second of his papers on "Historic Catholic Families." Florence Bain Seymour dwells on the growth of religious orders. The short stories are entertaining, particularly "The Shadowy Third," by May Belleville Brown, and "The Truth About Delling," by Mary F.

Nixon. "The Scarlet Glove" gains interest. Rev. Mortimer E. Twomey, Albert Doyle, Marie J. Downing and L. G. Kelly contribute poetry. William Hopkins introduces friends of his department to a notable company of people in print. Susan L. Emery furnishes some interesting information relative to the tragic death of the Carmelite heroines. The "Question Box," "Book Reviews," and other departments complete an excellent edition.

Among the magazines just fresh from the press is the October "Table Talk," which is most valuable to housekeepers, for its pages are rife with useful and interesting matter for them, as for instance, under the first head comes "The Fine Art of Serving Eggs," "Dishes, Dainty and Nourishing," by Mrs. M. A. W. Rodger; "Housekeepers Inquiries" and "New Menus and Seasonable Recipes," by Cornelia C. Bedford; "The New Bill of Fare," by Mrs. M. C. Myer, which is full of the latest ideas and newest interest to women under the second, "A Driving Tour," or an "October Outing," by Mrs. Burton Kingsland; "An Approved China Drink," by Martha Boeckle Flint, and "Diamond-Back Terrapin," by Calvin D. Wilson. Any of our readers unacquainted with the magazine will receive a sample copy free, if they send name and address to Table Talk Publishing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Harper's Bazar" of October 2d as is usual with the first number of the month, gives additional space to the "Department of Women's Clubs," which is rapidly assuming the form of an authoritative resume of this most important branch of social activity. Among the notes on fashion, which, after all, are the features which makes this paper almost indispensable to every household, is an illustration and description of a specially charming reception toilette, designed by La Compagnie Lyonnaise, Paris. Besides this "dream" for the favored few, there is a profusion of illustrations of beautiful costumes and details within the reach of the many.

Caspar Whitney, author of the interesting book on English athletics, "A Sporting Pilgrimage," and of "On Snow Shoes to the Barren Grounds," has just out (in the interests of "Harper's Weekly") on what may be called a sporting pilgrimage around the world. On his way to Vancouver he will make studies of sport in the West, stopping at Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, San Francisco and Seattle. From Vancouver he will sail for Japan, and thence to China and Siam, following into the heart of Asia. The last issue of the "Weekly" was a handsome number and given over mainly to sporting articles.

Collision Last Night, but No Serious Damage Resulted. Two drunken men in a buggy came to grief last evening by driving squarely in front of a cemetery street car at Tenth and W streets. When within a few yards of the car, and while approaching it from in front, the one who handled the reins drove right upon the track and reversed the motor, and as the car was not going very fast, he was able to stop it in a few yards, but not before the horse was struck and knocked down, the driver having turned him broadside to the car. The front wheels of the buggy were crushed and the men thrown out. The driver of the vehicle was soon on his feet and ran away, and nothing more was seen of him. His companion, who gave the name of H. Brighton, said the other man's name was Woods. He said they had quarreled on Front street, and Woods invited him for a ride, that they might talk the matter over. Neither of the men were hurt, but the horse was scratched and cut some about the legs.

Long Tour Aweel. Sigmund Bachman and E. Pilz, on a tour around the world, arrived in town last evening and for hours entertained members of the Capital City Wheelmen with accounts of the pleasures and perils of their journey. They leave today for San Francisco.

A Pistol Shot. Last night a pistol shot was fired in the vicinity of Tenth and S streets, but no one could be found who was able or willing to explain by whom or for what purpose the shot was fired.

Amusements. The Clunie was quite comfortably filled last night to witness the initial performance of Miss Kate Purcell and company in "The Queen of the Plains." The play is of the wildly romantic, thrilling order so dear to the upper house and was most vociferously applauded from the locality, while receiving a fair amount of commendation from the less demonstrative dress circle. It is the story, like many others, of the revenge of a daughter for her mother's murder; incidental to the accomplishment of such dutiful devotion, the scene and characters assume many changes and not a few of the characters sustain a change of locality and usefulness by the knife and bullet route at the hands of the avenging mountain maid and her few but steadfast and earnest friends. The free and easy mingling camp scene is not forgotten nor is the palatial gambling hall still to view. The Hibernian good soil still remains in the cast and affords display of righteous indignation carried out by physical ability to right a wrong. The detective is there and so are the usual camp and city rascals, the hero and heroine do not mar the usual course of things by not having a tough time a love making, sustaining many misunderstandings and by not failing to fall into a loving embrace at the end of the last act, for it would be highly surprising to do so any other time, as well as to destroy the firmly established expectations of border dramas. The cast is large and Miss Purcell makes some very remarkably quick changes of costume. She assumes her part easily and does not overact. Of the gentlemen of the troupe Messrs. Kyle, Sullivan, Stoman and Ross have about all there is to do, but do it well. During the evening there were several specialties by Miss Carrie Higley-Diamond and if the encores received were an indication of their hearty reception she has no fear of being a "roast" in Sacramento. In the vocal line Mr. Stoman was happily received and enthusiastically applauded from all parts of the house. Silver and Clark, song and dance specialties, are as clever as ever shown here and were compelled to repeat their performances almost to their exhaustion. "The Queen of the Plains" will be repeated this evening and the balance of the week, and should prove a great drawing card for the house.

Amusements. The Clunie was quite comfortably filled last night to witness the initial performance of Miss Kate Purcell and company in "The Queen of the Plains." The play is of the wildly romantic, thrilling order so dear to the upper house and was most vociferously applauded from the locality, while receiving a fair amount of commendation from the less demonstrative dress circle. It is the story, like many others, of the revenge of a daughter for her mother's murder; incidental to the accomplishment of such dutiful devotion, the scene and characters assume many changes and not a few of the characters sustain a change of locality and usefulness by the knife and bullet route at the hands of the avenging mountain maid and her few but steadfast and earnest friends. The free and easy mingling camp scene is not forgotten nor is the palatial gambling hall still to view. The Hibernian good soil still remains in the cast and affords display of righteous indignation carried out by physical ability to right a wrong. The detective is there and so are the usual camp and city rascals, the hero and heroine do not mar the usual course of things by not having a tough time a love making, sustaining many misunderstandings and by not failing to fall into a loving embrace at the end of the last act, for it would be highly surprising to do so any other time, as well as to destroy the firmly established expectations of border dramas. The cast is large and Miss Purcell makes some very remarkably quick changes of costume. She assumes her part easily and does not overact. Of the gentlemen of the troupe Messrs. Kyle, Sullivan, Stoman and Ross have about all there is to do, but do it well. During the evening there were several specialties by Miss Carrie Higley-Diamond and if the encores received were an indication of their hearty reception she has no fear of being a "roast" in Sacramento. In the vocal line Mr. Stoman was happily received and enthusiastically applauded from all parts of the house. Silver and Clark, song and dance specialties, are as clever as ever shown here and were compelled to repeat their performances almost to their exhaustion. "The Queen of the Plains" will be repeated this evening and the balance of the week, and should prove a great drawing card for the house.

Amusements. The Clunie was quite comfortably filled last night to witness the initial performance of Miss Kate Purcell and company in "The Queen of the Plains." The play is of the wildly romantic, thrilling order so dear to the upper house and was most vociferously applauded from the locality, while receiving a fair amount of commendation from the less demonstrative dress circle. It is the story, like many others, of the revenge of a daughter for her mother's murder; incidental to the accomplishment of such dutiful devotion, the scene and characters assume many changes and not a few of the characters sustain a change of locality and usefulness by the knife and bullet route at the hands of the avenging mountain maid and her few but steadfast and earnest friends. The free and easy mingling camp scene is not forgotten nor is the palatial gambling hall still to view. The Hibernian good soil still remains in the cast and affords display of righteous indignation carried out by physical ability to right a wrong. The detective is there and so are the usual camp and city rascals, the hero and heroine do not mar the usual course of things by not having a tough time a love making, sustaining many misunderstandings and by not failing to fall into a loving embrace at the end of the last act, for it would be highly surprising to do so any other time, as well as to destroy the firmly established expectations of border dramas. The cast is large and Miss Purcell makes some very remarkably quick changes of costume. She assumes her part easily and does not overact. Of the gentlemen of the troupe Messrs. Kyle, Sullivan, Stoman and Ross have about all there is to do, but do it well. During the evening there were several specialties by Miss Carrie Higley-Diamond and if the encores received were an indication of their hearty reception she has no fear of being a "roast" in Sacramento. In the vocal line Mr. Stoman was happily received and enthusiastically applauded from all parts of the house. Silver and Clark, song and dance specialties, are as clever as ever shown here and were compelled to repeat their performances almost to their exhaustion. "The Queen of the Plains" will be repeated this evening and the balance of the week, and should prove a great drawing card for the house.

Amusements. The Clunie was quite comfortably filled last night to witness the initial performance of Miss Kate Purcell and company in "The Queen of the Plains." The play is of the wildly romantic, thrilling order so dear to the upper house and was most vociferously applauded from the locality, while receiving a fair amount of commendation from the less demonstrative dress circle. It is the story, like many others, of the revenge of a daughter for her mother's murder; incidental to the accomplishment of such dutiful devotion, the scene and characters assume many changes and not a few of the characters sustain a change of locality and usefulness by the knife and bullet route at the hands of the avenging mountain maid and her few but steadfast and earnest friends. The free and easy mingling camp scene is not forgotten nor is the palatial gambling hall still to view. The Hibernian good soil still remains in the cast and affords display of righteous indignation carried out by physical ability to right a wrong. The detective is there and so are the usual camp and city rascals, the hero and heroine do not mar the usual course of things by not having a tough time a love making, sustaining many misunderstandings and by not failing to fall into a loving embrace at the end of the last act, for it would be highly surprising to do so any other time, as well as to destroy the firmly established expectations of border dramas. The cast is large and Miss Purcell makes some very remarkably quick changes of costume. She assumes her part easily and does not overact. Of the gentlemen of the troupe Messrs. Kyle, Sullivan, Stoman and Ross have about all there is to do, but do it well. During the evening there were several specialties by Miss Carrie Higley-Diamond and if the encores received were an indication of their hearty reception she has no fear of being a "roast" in Sacramento. In the vocal line Mr. Stoman was happily received and enthusiastically applauded from all parts of the house. Silver and Clark, song and dance specialties, are as clever as ever shown here and were compelled to repeat their performances almost to their exhaustion. "The Queen of the Plains" will be repeated this evening and the balance of the week, and should prove a great drawing card for the house.

Amusements. The Clunie was quite comfortably filled last night to witness the initial performance of Miss Kate Purcell and company in "The Queen of the Plains." The play is of the wildly romantic, thrilling order so dear to the upper house and was most vociferously applauded from the locality, while receiving a fair amount of commendation from the less demonstrative dress circle. It is the story, like many others, of the revenge of a daughter for her mother's murder; incidental to the accomplishment of such dutiful devotion, the scene and characters assume many changes and not a few of the characters sustain a change of locality and usefulness by the knife and bullet route at the hands of the avenging mountain maid and her few but steadfast and earnest friends. The free and easy mingling camp scene is not forgotten nor is the palatial gambling hall still to view. The Hibernian good soil still remains in the cast and affords display of righteous indignation carried out by physical ability to right a wrong. The detective is there and so are the usual camp and city rascals, the hero and heroine do not mar the usual course of things by not having a tough time a love making, sustaining many misunderstandings and by not failing to fall into a loving embrace at the end of the last act, for it would be highly surprising to do so any other time, as well as to destroy the firmly established expectations of border dramas. The cast is large and Miss Purcell makes some very remarkably quick changes of costume. She assumes her part easily and does not overact. Of the gentlemen of the troupe Messrs. Kyle, Sullivan, Stoman and Ross have about all there is to do, but do it well. During the evening there were several specialties by Miss Carrie Higley-Diamond and if the encores received were an indication of their hearty reception she has no fear of being a "roast" in Sacramento. In the vocal line Mr. Stoman was happily received and enthusiastically applauded from all parts of the house. Silver and Clark, song and dance specialties, are as clever as ever shown here and were compelled to repeat their performances almost to their exhaustion. "The Queen of the Plains" will be repeated this evening and the balance of the week, and should prove a great drawing card for the house.

LIST OF LETTERS. Remaining in the Postoffice at Sacramento October 11, 1897. LADIES' LIST. Adams, Miss Lizzie; Adams, Susie; Alexander, Mrs. R. M.; Ayres, Mrs. Jennie; Baile, Miss Alice; Bowers, Miss Myrtle; Brown, Miss Gertrude; Campbell, Miss Etta; Clark, Mrs. Julia; Currie, Mrs. Lottie; Deola, Miss Phillander; Donner, Miss Clara; Fidler, Mrs. J. R.; Figueroa, Mrs. M. E.; Forbes, Miss Lily; Freeman, Mrs. M. B.; Gibbrecht, Amelia; Glover, Miss Mae; Grant, Mrs. H.; Hall, Mrs. R. B.; Hamilton, Miss Beth; Hauser, Laura; Hathaway, Mrs.; Hayward, Mrs. Annie; Hinzges, Mrs. J.; Holzhauser, Miss Anna; Horton, Mrs. Martha; Jackson, Miss Emma; Kelly, Miss Margaret; Kelley, Mrs. M. J.; Kidd, Mrs. Lottie; Kimball, Mrs. Mame; Lichenstein, Mrs. May; Louise, Miss Lily; Lyons, Miss Amber; Lynde, Miss Rosie; Lyman, Miss; Macbeth, Mrs. F. H.; Mathena, Mrs. Lottie; McConnell, Mrs. Julia; McKisick, Mrs. McLennan, Miss Minnie; Melchert, Mrs. Anna C. Murphy; Mrs. Wm. J. Otis, Mrs. Whittier; Paxton, Miss Nora; Pidger, Mrs. Laura; Porter, Miss Addie; Powell, Mrs. H.; Prior, Mrs. Bello Francis; Prentiss, Mrs. Frank; Ratto, Mrs. Minnie; Reitz, Mrs. Wm.; Robertson, Mrs. John; Routt, Mrs. Angie; Scott, Mrs. Eva M.; Scheller, Thilo; Spellman, Mrs.; Steffens, Mrs. Betty; Sweet, Miss Nina V.; Sullivan, Mrs. Mary; Valentin, Miss; Ward, Miss Annie; Weber, Miss Louise; Williams, Mrs. H. G.; Woodward, Miss Maud; Yates, Mrs. A. M.

GENTLEMEN'S LIST. Baker, W. J.; Beard, J. L.; Beckford, Dick; Beck, Charles; More; Blanchard, C. L.; Beck, Miss Arthur; Silvio; Brown, Frank; Burns, Frank; Carlos, Joe; Cave, J. H.; Chamberlain, Thos. M.; Chambers, J. B.; Christianson, J.; Clark, E.; Cockerill, J.; Crouch, Harry; C. J. Joe; Curtis, M. E.; Cyrus, M. E.; Day, Bob; Dennis, George; Dresher, Ben; Eiler, J.; Elde, P. A.; Eberhart, Fred; Elin, Ira P.; Ewers, J. A. (2); Foley, Michael; Folsen, Harry; Goodwin, Casper K.; Goslick, J. D.; Greer, Capt. I.; Hanson, G.; Hayward, A. E.; Harbeck, John; Harden, Fred; Hodger, Charles; Holmes, W. J.; Horton, Charles; Hostetter, Ben; Infield, J. T.; Jackson, Charles H.; Jessup, Richard P.; Kelsch, Charles; LARRY, J.; Landau, Nate; Lester, Thos. J.; Lintisa, Arthur; Loth, Wm.; Lux, Englebert; Mack, Charles; Matthews, A. J.; McCracken, J. F.; McLamara, John; Meeley, J. Mitchell; B. L. Moon; J. W. Muller; Chas. Murdock, J. W.; Naval, Dick; Nett, Tino; Noe, Edward T.; Osborn, Wm. E.; Packard, J. D.; Payne, Yenas W.; Platt, G. W.; Pottery, Jug; Powers, Wm.; Purcell, John Francis; Reed, Al; Reed Frank; Ragnner, C. C.; Rockwell, Edward C.; Roberts, Geo. M.; Roberts, Henry; Robinson, Chas. E.; Schiba, F. M.; Shakespeare, N. H.; Silliman, Jos. M.; Simpson, W. T.; Singer, M. S.; Smith, Harvey D.; Smith, L. E.; Snyder, H. N.; Soorleder, Ed.; Stark, O. E.; Stein, C. W. and Sons; Storzer, J.; Strong, Charles; (2); Vesch, F.; Swing, Jimmie; Sylvester, C. E.; Tracy, C. T. K.; Viskery, Henry; Walker, William; Wallace, J. B.; Walke, William; Williams, Ferdinand; Willis, Percival W.; Woods, Johnie; Wright, Rev. P.

FOREIGN. Anna Cardoza da Silva; Mr. Rosa Elisio; Comas Espoza; Sor P. Tomas Gallardo; Isala Barsuglia; Negro Nicolo; Japanese—Mr. Eto; T. Yakisara; Yarrow; J. Kubo.

Miscellaneous—Bull Grant Farm Implement Co. Third and fourth class—Mrs. J. R. Fidler, THOMAS FOX, Postmaster.

ONLY ONE DOLLAR A YEAR—THE BEST VALUE FOR THE MONEY.

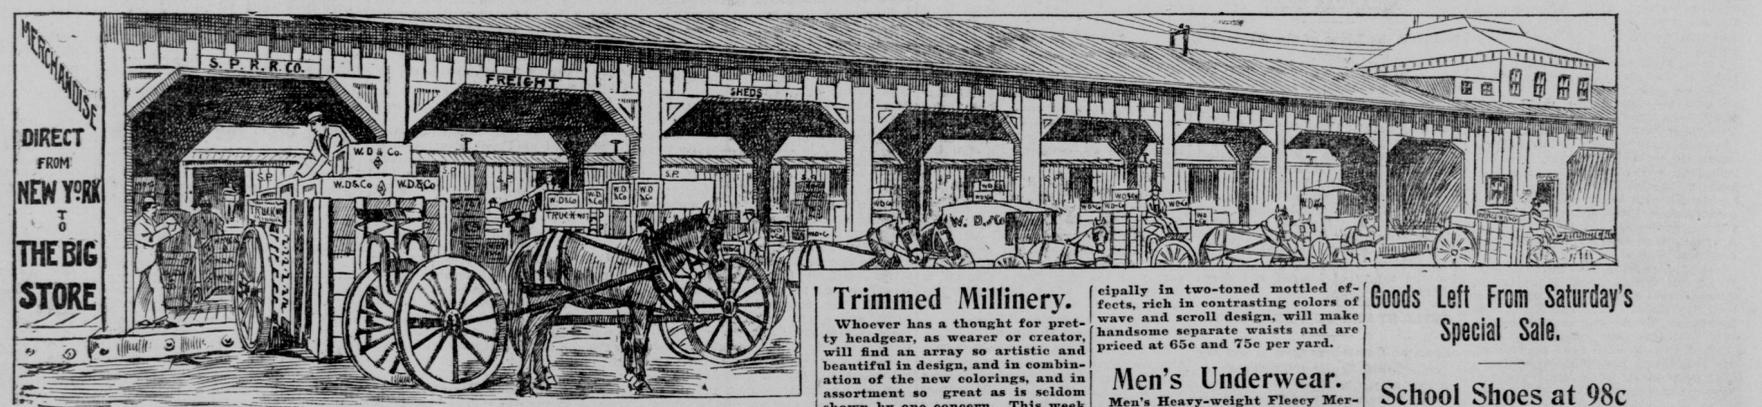

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious. THE BEET BOOM. Satisfactory Reports Are Expected From the Cavassers. Yesterday being Sunday, no reports were received from the sugar beet cavassers, who went out to interview and endeavor to interest farmers in the proposition to plant ten thousand acres of beets and thus secure the erection of a factory here costing a million dollars, and with a capacity of a thousand tons per day. It is believed, however, that encouraging reports will be received in a day or two from this and Yolo Counties. The offer is such an advantageous one, and means so much for the farmers, that it does not seem possible there can be much difficulty in securing the requisite number of acres. Beets are a sure crop, for one thing, and then the growers are certain of a home market for every pound they can raise, with a guarantee from the railroad company of a 50-cent per ton rate on all shipments to the factory within a distance of twenty-five miles. Good prices are also a certainty, and the better the quality of the beets the better the price. The ten-thousand-acre proposition should be snapped up readily, and doubtless will be.

Target Shooting. The following scores were made at the military range yesterday: Troop B (pistols)—Sergeant F. Pike 44, Sergeant O. Boden 44, Sergeant F. Morrison 41, Sergeant F. Hunt 36, Sergeant H. Lee 35, Sergeant J. Baugher 34, Corporal T. Kelly 42, Corporal S. Jennings 35, Corporal E. Kane 19, Corporal F. Gracia 19, Private E. Schenker 37, R. Lee 36, C. Jenning 36, U. Hackman 33, J. L. Sullivan 35, A. Carr 32, J. Hastenplug 32, Evans 31, W. E. Williams 30, Young 24, Clegg 26, Prewitt 23, J. March 22.

D. M. BISHOPP, Optician, 806 J STREET. If you have trouble with your eyes, headache or glasses do not fit, call and see us. We will tell you whether you need glasses or medical treatment. EXAMINATION FREE. Glasses warranted to fit correct.

THE BIG STORE. THE NONPARELL. THE BIG STORE.

NEW GOODS FOR FALL. Hundreds of cases of new fall goods have been carted to our doors and unpacked in the past few days, all bought under the most favorable circumstances, bought for cash and bills discounted, bought before the new tariff law put an extra import tax on them, bought from first hands, thus saving the middleman's profit. We never showed more varied stocks, more attractive goods, nor such great quantities as now load every foot of room in THE BIG STORE, and the low prices that are now being quoted as a result of the above facts will be duplicated by but few, few. Our buyers did well their work and the fruit of their labors—the edict. "There'll be no high prices here." Our motto shall remain the same. "Once leaders always leaders with the highest class of merchandise at the very lowest prices."

Your Fall Dress. 'Tis time you were getting it and this is the place to get it. Each year the beauties in staple and novelty dress goods multiply. The array becomes actually bewildering. It is an easy matter to accumulate mere numbers, but we always devote special care to having every style the right style, a style that ought to be here—and you'll find a rare display, all at a saving of about one-third.

At 50c per Yard. You'll find several complete lines of 40-inch Novelty Weaves and a choice collection you'll find—pretty mottled and checked effects in

All-wool Cheviot, combining the new shades of green, blue, dahlia, olive, navy and brown, shot with brilliant mohair in varied designs; pretty two-toned Checks, changeable Covert Cloths, all in the newest colorings.

At 60c per Yard. Seldom is such beauty displayed at the price as is shown in this line of 40-inch Novelty Mohair Suitings, patterns which vie with and are reproductions of much higher priced fabrics. Ground colorings of the line are new blues, olive, myrtle, brown, navy, etc., all shot with brilliant black mohair, in designs of scroll, tufted and fancy effects.

At 75c per Yard. 46-inch French Henriettas. Fashion's decree is that these plain fabrics, with a satin finish and luster almost equal to satin itself, shall be largely worn this season. We show at this price many colors, both new and old—myrtle, olive, tan, brown, navy, dahlia, bluet, cardinal, ox blood, new blue, army blue, royal purple—as well as a large assortment of evening shades. This is superior quality and weight to any ever shown at the price.

At $1 per Yard. While fancy mixtures in Dress Goods still predominate, fashion begins to turn to self-colored or plain styles, and they'll soon resume their popularity. This line of 48-inch Granite Jacquards are in all the new and staple solid shades, with a network of pretty designs in mohair luster of same color.

New Gloves. Our popular Two-clasp Pique Glove at $1 is our pride. They are made for us by one of the best manufacturers in France from selected stock. We fit each pair at the counter and guarantee them.

Woolen Waists. You'll soon lay aside your Summer Shirt Waists for warmer ones. Our fall stock is here and principal among them are: Ladies' Wool Waists, plain with yoke back and derby front, in navy, black and red. Price $1.25. Ladies' All-wool Waists, in navy and brown, shot with black, yoke back, derby front, detachable collar. Price, $2.25. Ladies' All-wool Waists in navy, green and red, yoke plaited back, derby front, with three clusters, five rows each, of narrow wavy braid, a very effective trimming, detachable white collar. Price, $2.50.

Knitted Skirts. Women's Solid Color, Pink, Blue, White and Red Knitted Skirts. Also Black, with fancy border. They are 27 inches long, falling a little below the knee, and are wonderful for warmth and comfort. Price, 85c.

Visit Our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT This Week.

Trimmed Millinery. Whoever has a thought for pretty headgear, as wearers of artistic and beautiful in design, and in combination of the new colorings, and in assortment so great as is seldom shown by one concern. This week we show some very special inducements in Ladies' Hats, trimmed with velvets, ribbons, wings and quills, at $2.50, $3 and $3.75. Also, for the little folks will be pretty Trimmed Hats at $1.50, $1.75 and up in price. It will pay you to visit this department this week.

New Skirts. Novelty weaves in new patterns we show in great variety. They are in colors of ground, navy, green, heliotrope, brown, etc., overshoot with black mohair effects, neat and of fall's best patterns. Perfect of hang and in finish. Price, $1.98, $2.25 and $3.50.

Figured Mohair. Also the ever popular Figured Mohair Skirts in black, with their rich, silky brocaded effects. We quote four prices—$1.45, $2.50, $3.50 and $4. Elegant in appearance, as well as durable. Dust shedding.

Silk Skirts. In handsome brocades, very rich garments at $6.50, $8.50, $9.75 and upward.

Silk Waists. New Silk Waists innumerable in black and fancy Roman striped and checked. Priced $3.98, $5 and upward.

Men's Underwear. Men's Heavy-weight Fleecy Merino Undershirts and Drawers, in white or gray, well made, full cut, warm, comfortable and durable for fall wear. Price per garment, 50c each. Men's Wool Undershirts and Drawers in natural gray and camel hair, good heavy garments, well made and finished. Many a time you've paid $1 for the same kind. Our price 75c per garment.

Vicuna Color. Men's Vicuna color wool Undershirts and Drawers, warranted not to shrink or fade, well made, full size, dependable garments. Price, $1 per garment.

New Capes. The fact of buying your cape here will be a guarantee of satisfaction in itself, as our entire stock has been selected with a critical care. Style, quality and durability go hand in hand and from the cheapest to the best you will find a uniformity of lowness in price which you'll not find elsewhere. In both cloth and plush the variety is such as will insure you a choice at your price.

Domestic Items. Cream Domet Flannel, soft and fleecy, 5c yard. Cotton Blankets, gray and white, 50c pair. Comforts, double bed size and heavy, $1.50. All-wool New Plaid Eiderdown, 50c yard. Flannelette, plain or fancy and fleecy, 10c yard. Roman Stripe Percales, 36 inches wide, 12 1/2c yard.

Goods Left From Saturday's Special Sale. School Shoes at 98c. Instead of $1.50, is the special price to-night on these Children's never wear out School Shoes, made of kangaroo calf, button, spring heel, square or round toes, with tip, solid soles and sole leather counters. Impervious to the wet. A value very unusual. Sizes 8 1/2 to 11. Special at 98c.

Ladies' Hose at 18c. Instead of 25c per pair, as you usually pay for the same kind. They are Ladies' Fast Black, Full Finished, Long, Elastic Hose, the kind which no one ever thought to sell for less than 25c, but they are yours, special, at 18c per pair.

Union Suits at 98c. Instead of $1.50 is the way you'll find the red and blue, spring heel, high neck, long sleeve, ankle length and just the garment for comfort, fit and satisfaction, at a satisfactory price. Special, 98c suit.

Vests. Also for children, fleece-lined Jersey-ribbed Combination Garments, high neck, long sleeve, ankle length, warm, comfortable and perfect fitting. Comes in eoru only, in ages from 3 to 10 years. 50c the suit.