

GEN. WEYLER AND SENOR ROBLEDO.

Two Men Upon Whom the Eyes of Spain Are Now Fixed.

The Former's Return May Cause an Overthrow of the Cabinet.

Chivalry of Juan Delgado, a Cuban Leader, Illuminates the Barbarous War in the Island—Hoists the Flag of Truce and Dresses the Wounds of Prisoners and Returns Them to Their Commander.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A dispatch to the "Herald" from Madrid says: The two men upon whom all eyes in Spain will shortly be fixed are General Weyler and Senor Robledo. Of these, it is impossible to interview the former, as he is at this moment on the high seas. But Senor Robledo said to the "Herald" correspondent: "General Weyler is at this moment the one man in Spain upon whom the earnest scrutiny of every Spaniard is expectantly fixed. In spite of what has been said against him in the United States, he represents the type and embodiment of Spanish national honor. All the parties in Spain, Republicans, Carlists and others, know this quite well, and are endeavoring to secure him for their own, and are making tentative efforts to win him over to their side. It is impossible to predict which party he will favor, and it is all the harder to make an approximate prediction, because Weyler is essentially a soldier and a very little of a politician. I am inclined to think, however, that he will favor the party of which I am the champion. My only grounds for thinking so are that such political ideas as he is known to profess would best chime in with the ideas of my party.

"General Weyler represents the essence of the Spanish Liberal character. Especially is this noticeable with regard to the army. Of course, even in the army he has enemies. But the large majority of the soldiers is at his back and devoted to him. Therefore, as I say, he is destined to play a most important part in the subsequent affairs in the peninsula. "I should never trust the United States, and have no doubt whatever as to the nature of their designs on Cuba." Senor Robledo believes that there will soon be an overthrow of the cabinet, if nothing more serious, soon after Weyler's return.

DELGADO'S CHIVALRY. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A dispatch to the "World" from Havana says: The chivalry of a Cuban leader, Juan Delgado, has illumined this barbarous war.

Delgado and his forces had a hard fight with the Spanish regulars in the Hianbre hills, near Managua. In a brilliant charge, and after hand-to-hand battling, Delgado captured a Spanish Captain and fourteen soldiers. Most of the prisoners were severely wounded by machetes.

While Weyler was here scores of wounded Cubans were stabbed to death by bayonets or shot as they lay stretched on the field, but it fared differently with Delgado's prisoners. His surgeons were not too busy with their own wounded to dress the wounds of their enemies. Then, while the fight was still raging, Delgado hoisted a flag of truce and under it returned to their wounds the fifteen men with their wounds dressed, and they had a chance for their lives. The splendid chivalry of this action touched the Spanish commander, who retired, sending this word back to Delgado by the wounded men's escort: "I will fight no longer to-day with an enemy who has treated wounded Spanish soldiers so nobly."

Alejandro Rodriguez, the Cuban leader, mached thirty Spanish guerrillas near San Felipe. Strong forces were sent after Rodriguez, and it is now announced triumphantly and officially, that the Spaniards killed twenty of his soldiers near Managua on November 10th.

A plot is on foot to capture or kill Traou Arango and Nestor Aranguren, the two Cuban leaders who have been so active in the vicinity of Havana. Beside harassing the Spaniards their presence so near this city utterly confounds all the official statements about "pacification," the subsidence of the rebellion, and similar Spanish twaddle. The best efforts of the Spanish have failed to kill or capture Arango and Aranguren on the field. So this plot was put on foot to buy their followers to betray them.

Just so General Castillo was betrayed by a false friend into the hands of the civil guards. The traitor clinked Spanish coin in his pocket and openly boasted of his perfidy in this city.

Those in the plot against Arango and Aranguren are the alleged autonomists Rafael Fernandez, Hernandez Velasco, who aspires to be an officer of the guerrillas, and a certain Canjaly, a friend of Aranguren's surgeon. But the Cuban leaders know of this plot. Three days ago Felix Gevaunt was sent by the Government as an emissary to Aranguren, who promptly hanged him. Two others sent by the Government have not been heard of.

CUBA MUST STAY WITH SPAIN. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A dispatch to the "World" from Havana says: General Pando, Chief of Captain-General Blanco's staff, says: "I am identified with the Government and with the illustrious General Blanco because both represent cleanliness, without debility and energy without cruelty. I have always believed that policy is a factor in the plans of every General-in-Chief, and the policy of to-day compatible with an energetic military action consists in being generous with the repentant and inexorable with the obstinate. This is the policy of the Government and of General Blanco, which I propose to follow, seconding it with the loyalty which has always characterized my public actions.

"I cannot, nor do I wish to, concur with the foolishness of making declarations, but, without wishing that it should be taken as a professional faith, I should say that I have always been inspired with sympathy toward administrative autonomy of our basque provinces. This opinion is new, because in the Spanish Cortes I have always favored the greatest decentralization in administrative colonial functions.

"It is a very grave error to suppose that the political concessions of the Spanish Government have been given to an enemy to secure peace. They are given to the loyal and to the repentant, but for the incendiaries, the dynamiters, Spain reserves the action of force, energetic and without temporizing measures.

"Cuba, then, to avoid being a chaos or theater of bloody strife, ought to remain Spanish, because only by belonging to Spain can she be guaranteed her commercial relations with the civilized world, especially so when the Isthmus of Panama shall be no longer an isthmus of the two oceans joined in some manner.

"The United States is more interested than any other nation in Cuba remaining under the Spanish flag, because the Americans prefer to assure the prosperity of their commerce by making enemies of Europe. About independence let us not speak, because no person of sane judgment ought to take into consideration such a hypothesis." BLANCO'S ORDERS AS TO GRINDING.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A dispatch to the "Herald" from Havana says: Much incredulity is expressed publicly as to the ability of the Government to persuade or compel grinders to resume planting and to afford them protection. The action of the insurgents does not seem to have been taken into consideration, and without their consent, in exchange for tribute, no amount of Government protection can suffice to prevent the burning of cane.

Already the work of incendiarism is beginning to be felt. Smoke has been rising from the southwest of Havana, distant apparently about twenty miles, and it is reported that the rebels are burning plantations. Even assuming that the revolutionists would permit reconcentration to flock to the plantations, it is said to be impossible to harvest the crop, owing to the extermination of oxen.

Application to the decree of amnesty still hangs fire. General Blanco is anxious to get the American prisoners off his hands, but is fettered by red tape. The number of prisoners being in the hands of the naval authorities, and many formalities must be gone through before they are released. It is expected, however, that they will soon be at liberty. Louis Somellian, who is a prisoner here, is in the same predicament, being in the hands of the civil authorities. The only other two Americans are in Santiago de Cuba, and their release has been ordered.

General Blanco's investigations into the condition of Spain's army in Cuba have already revealed a deplorable condition of the troops. Not only are frauds in connection with the payment of troops being brought to light, but proof is being obtained that of the 200,000 men sent to General Weyler only a small percentage are now fit for actual service. The towns are garrisoned principally by convalescent soldiers, weak in many instances to offer more than a feeble resistance to the attacks of the rebels.

One of the first army surgeons says that one of the most difficult tasks of the military administration will be to care for Spain's invalid troops. In not one of the many hospitals in Havana, for example, are there any available beds. On November 6th the military governor of this city received a message to the effect that 500 sick and wounded soldiers were on their way to Havana. He communicated this fact to the hospital authorities, only to receive the reply that it was absolutely impossible to receive another man.

The military commander in Guines reports that patients in the military hospital there are entirely without medicines and other necessities, and that the food supply is entirely inadequate. Proprietors of stores have notified the hospital authorities that they will not furnish any more goods on credit. In other towns the condition of affairs is similarly indicative of the growing feeling in Havana against the United States. Your correspondent is able to state that the chief of the Volunteer Fire Brigade in this city, on Friday, dismissed from the ranks two naturalized American citizens. These two men were Cuban born, but hold naturalization papers.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA. A Serious Tension Exists Between the Two Governments.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says serious tension exists between Japan and Russia, owing to the latter's effort to control the Korean customs, and that some of the leading Japanese Ministers are urging the adoption of strong measures, even to the extent of war with Russia. It is added, however, that the Marquis do discounts this step, and urges instead that Great Britain, the United States and Japan make joint representations to Russia on the subject of Corea.

LATE JOHN B. KETCHAM.

A WOMAN WHO CLAIMS TO BE HIS WIDOW.

Declares That the Wedding Took Place at Milwaukee in September Last.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Mabel Estelle Wallace, at whose home John B. Ketcham died Saturday, and her claim that she is the widow of the deceased man, has brought to light her romantic history.

According to Mrs. Wallace, the ceremony by which she became the third Mrs. Ketcham was performed in Milwaukee on September 24th by a Methodist minister. The latter's name, however, she does not remember, but says he can be easily found, and her claim to Mr. Ketcham's estate of $500,000 established.

Mrs. Wallace is the widow of James R. Walkup, former Mayor of Emporia, Kan., and a wealthy man who died in 1885, under somewhat strange circumstances, his youthful bride was arrested and tried for murdering him, but she was freed. She married him when she was only 15 year old, although he was almost 30. She was a widow at 17, and to avoid unpleasantness, she assumed the name of Wallace.

She came to Chicago, after she had spent considerable money in Europe, and purchased the residence at 3142 Indiana avenue, which she furnished in splendid style. Of late she has been seen several times at the office of Mr. Ketcham, whose divorce litigation with the second Mrs. Ketcham, the Toledo, O., society leader, was a sensation a few months ago.

Mrs. Wallace, or Ketcham, declares that the certificate of her marriage to the deceased, and a will, and testament, leaving all his estate to her, is locked up in a safety deposit vault down town.

"John desired that I should not tell his mother or his relatives of the marriage," she said, "but his brother had been here to visit him before he died. John will be buried in my lot in Rose Hill Cemetery, where I expect to lie beside him when my time comes."

Mr. Ketcham's death will be investigated by the coroner. The circumstances surrounding his illness and the manner of his death are deemed such as to warrant it. To-day Chief Deputy Coroner Mandelbaum was sent to the residence of Mrs. Wallace or Ketcham on Indiana avenue. The deputy, it was alleged, was unable to get any satisfaction from the servants of Mrs. Ketcham, and he advised the coroner to make a postmortem examination.

Coroner Boise said his reason for investigating the death of the millionaire was that some of the reports of the cause of the death contained immunities of sufficient strength to warrant a search for their foundation. No member of the family, he said, had asked that the death be investigated, but he thought, for the benefit of the public, all question of the nature of Mr. Ketcham's illness and demise should be settled.

George H. Ketcham of Toledo, who arrived at the Auditorium to-day, has not been seen at the coroner's office.

TWO CENTS A MILE.

Interchangeable Mileage Tickets on Sale by Western Lines.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The interchangeable mileage ticket of the lines in the Western Passenger Association has been placed on sale to-day for the first time. The ticket gives to the purchaser a net rate of two cents per mile, and is very simple in its operation. The form of the ticket is that invented by General Passenger Agent of the Rock Island Road, and will, it is expected, keep the brokers at a safe distance.

It is announced that the arrangements which Chairman Caldwell is making in New York for the regulation of the immigrant traffic will have the best of the Western routes, which have heretofore been the subject of much complaint.

It is said that the Chairman will make arrangements that will be satisfactory to the Southern Pacific, as well as to the roads which are members of the Emigrant Association, and if this is accomplished it is likely that there will be much trouble over the matter in the future. In the past it has been the failure of the Western lines to reach an agreement with the Southern Pacific regarding this business that has caused a heavy loss of revenue to both sides of the argument. The matter will be definitely arranged by the middle of this week.

The lack of freight cars from which nearly all of the Western roads have suffered, is being remedied by the Aetna-Union Car Company, which has just received a large number of new cars, and the greater part of its locomotives in the future. The work will be done at the shops in Topeka.

WEINSTOCK, LUBIN & CO. Fine Tailor-made Suits for Women. This week we are opening an entirely new line of Tailor-made Suits from one of the foremost importing houses in America. Judging from the remarks of all who have seen them we believe these to be some of the handsomest garments shown this season. Imported chevots, black diagonals, English coverts and boucles are some of the materials; but it is to the style and finish of these perfect-fitting dresses that we specially desire to call attention. Prices $16.50 to $27.50. We Offer To-day Kid Gloves at 68c. Much talk has been heard on the recent change of the tariff on kid gloves. Some dealers have admitted that they cannot sell a creditable glove for $1 a pair. Not long since we made a purchase of gloves that ran into thousands of dollars. Of course the price favored us, otherwise we would not have bought them. Now, then, we offer you an opportunity to share with us in the savings. These are regular $1 a pair gloves, with the popular two-tone, three-row embroidery backs, closing at wrist with two snap button fastenings. You have a choice of colors, such as white, black, navy blue, green, English reds, browns or tans. Sizes, 5 1/2 to 7 1/2. To-day's Price, 68c. If you desire we will fit the above gloves to your hands and replace any that may show imperfection. WEINSTOCK, Lubin & Co., 400-412 K St., Sacramento.
