

MARCUS A. HANNA ELECTED SENATOR.

Chosen for Both Long and Short Terms in Joint Convention.

Receives the Same Vote as Cast in Both Houses the Day Previous.

The Opposition Kept Up the Fight Till the Last Moment but Were Unable to Win Back Any of the Doubtful Members—Enthusiastic Demonstration in the House When the Announcement of His Election Was Made.

COLUMBUS (O.), Jan. 12.—Marcus A. Hanna was elected to-day to represent Ohio in the Senate for seven years and two months. If McKinley still be re-elected Hanna would still be there to the end of the President's second term.

Less than two years ago Senator Hanna entered politics in advocating William McKinley's candidacy for the Presidency. He was successful as the leader of the McKinley forces at the St. Louis Convention, and afterward as Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

During his short service in public life Senator Hanna has participated in hard fighting, but he never before won such a victory as that of to-day. Factional fighting was waged among Ohio Republicans for years. Others had been fighting under cover; Senator Hanna came out openly at the State Convention in Toledo last June, and defeated Charles L. Kurtz, the close friend of Senator Foraker, Governor Bushnell and others, for Chairman of the State Committee.

Kurtz had been a member of the State Committee for many years, and its Chairman for the two preceding years. He was the Ohio Republican Chairman in 1885 and again in 1886. In the latter year Senator Hanna, who was then managing the Presidential campaign, was not satisfied with the work in Ohio, and he did not want Kurtz in that position in 1897. Hanna defeated Kurtz at factional war upon himself ever since.

Although Mr. Hanna was duly declared Senator at noon to-day for both the long and short terms, yet the opposition continued its fight in the afternoon, and is still fighting to-night. Just previous to the senate balloting yesterday the opposition was disappointed by the withdrawal of Jephtha Gerrard, the silver Republican candidate for Senator. It was thought that Gerrard would get the votes of Representatives Droste and Lane, who voted for Hanna.

Gerrard's friends say he withdrew because he was being used as a means for creating a deadlock for the benefit of others. Previous to the joint balloting to-day the opposition offered to support Senator Dodge of Cleveland for the short term, with McKinley for the long term. Senator Dodge is a neighbor of Senator Hanna in Cleveland, and was nominated and elected on pledges for Hanna.

SENATOR MARCUS A. HANNA.

Senator Dodge stated that the Senators and Representatives from Cleveland were instructed for Hanna, and indignantly rejected the proposal. The proposition was also made to Mrs. Dodge, who was equally as indignant as her husband. While there have been many negotiations with the wives and other members of the families of Senators and Representatives during the past week or more, the effort to secure the influence of Mrs. Dodge was the last one reported.

The opposition to-day knew they were defeated before the joint balloting began, but fought to the last on the charges of bribery and coercion.

In the joint balloting to-day there were no changes whatever by the Senators over their two ballots of yesterday, for the long and short terms. McKinley received 10 votes and Hanna 17. When the roll of the House was called it resulted in the ballots for both terms as follows: Hanna 56, McKisson 51, Lantz 1, absent 1, Cramer.

The joint ballot for both terms resulted as follows: Hanna 73, McKisson 70, Lantz 1, absent 1, Cramer.

The official declarations showed that Hanna had a majority of three over McKisson, of two over all voting, and of one over all the members in the General Assembly. The demonstration in the hall were unusually enthusiastic.

Governor Bushnell and other State officers were not present. When Foraker was elected Senator on joint ballot in the same hall two years ago, McKinley and Bushnell were both present, the one having just retired and the other having just been inaugurated as Governor. It has been customary in former years for the Governor to be seated beside the Lieutenant-Governor when the newly-elected Senator was escorted into the hall.

Senator Hanna was very busily engaged in the contest last Monday, and did not participate in the inauguration exercises. It is stated that no invitation or special arrangement had been made for him on that occasion, and that the same was true regarding the Governor to-day.

Previous to the two houses of the Legislature going into joint convention at noon for the election of Senator, resolutions were offered in both houses, and there being no concurrent election, the two houses should proceed jointly to ballot for Senator.

to-morrow, with its resolution still under consideration. Consideration of this resolution was resumed in the Senate this afternoon, and adopted by a vote of 22 to 6. The dissenting votes were Senators Blake, Carpenter, Gardfield, May, Sneyd and Volght, who explained that they regarded the matter as unbecomely. The Republicans voting with the Democrats for the adoption of the resolutions were Senators Burke, Cable, Crandall, Lutz, Riley, Weightman and Wolcott. There were eight Senators absent, or not voting. The committee of five appointed under this resolution began its work to-night, but nothing additional was developed.

After their session to-morrow both branches of the Legislature will adjourn until Monday. After the adoption of the resolution to investigate all bribery charges the Bramley bill to repeal the fifty-year street railway franchise law was discussed at length, with many passages on the recent Senatorial contest.

The bill was amended and passed. After the Representatives during the afternoon there was considerable agitation of a proposition to reorganize the House by ousting Speaker Mason and all other officers of that body that had been elected by the fusion ten days ago.

It was claimed that the fifty-six Representatives who voted for Hanna to-day, and constituted a majority of three in the House, would stand together for that purpose.

IN THE HOUSE AND SENATE.

Proceedings Preceding the Joint Convention.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12.—Although the joint balloting for Senator did not begin until noon to-day, the legislative halls were crowded early in the morning with an overflow crowd in and about the State house. At the hotels the opposing headquarters presented the same anxious scenes. The workers on both sides showed more plainly their weariness than on former mornings. The Hanna hustlers were up all night on the watch. Their opponents spent the entire night in getting some members out of bed, and staying near others. There were several collisions in the hotels between opposing workers and the watchmen before daybreak, and their feelings had not abated any when they met again in the State house. There were reports about attempts to abduct certain members during the night, but none were lost in any of the alleged escapades.

There seemed to be less curiosity over the result of the joint ballot for Senator than over the well advertised dramatic performance in connection with charges of bribery, conspiracy and other wrongs charged by both sides against each other. And in the midst of all the cheering there were signs of relief from the wearying suspense over the action of doubtful statesmen.

It will be two weeks next Friday since Senator Hanna arrived here, but most of his workers had been here over two weeks and some of his opponents had been on the sleepless vigil for months. Even those who had everything to gain and nothing to lose seemed to despair of their own success. All were ready for the curtain to drop.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

When the House convened at 10 o'clock, Representative Otis was promptly recognized on a question of privilege. He made a long statement regarding the Boyce bribery charges. He said it was due the House and himself to have an investigation before proceeding further in the election of a United States Senator, and offered a resolution accordingly.

On a motion to suspend the rules for immediate consideration of the resolution, the vote stood 52 ayes, 56 nays. On the motion being declared lost, there were cheers on the Republican side.

The vote was precisely the same on all the votes cast on the two ballots for the short and long term Senator. There are 109 members of the House, and the 56 Hanna men always stood solidly. Representative Cramer was absent, and is still very sick. The other 46 Democratic members and the six bolting Republicans voted together for an investigation before electing a Senator.

Representative Stewart, one of the Hanna leaders, said there would come a proper time for the investigation, but this is the time for electing a Senator. He moved to take a recess until noon.

There were calls of the House and other dilatory motions, on which a return of the vote stood 56 to 52.

The motion for a recess five minutes was defeated—ayes 52, nays 56; Branley, Mason, Jones, Otis, Rutan and Scott always voting with the Democrats.

IN THE SENATE. Soon after the Senate assembled Mr. Burke of Cleveland offered a resolution demanding an investigation into the charges that $1,750 had been offered by alleged agents in the interest of Hanna for the vote of Representative Otis. The resolution provided for a committee of five, consisting of Senators Burke, Robinson, Flinck, Gardfield and Long.

Senator Burke afterward requested to have his name stricken out, and that of Senator Sullivan was substituted. The committee, as constituted, consisted of three Democrats and two Republicans. A long and bitter discussion followed, led by Senator Burke, for immediate consideration at the proper time. During the discussion it was charged that consideration of this resolution had been defeated in the House by a vote of 56 to 52, and that it was a matter of 56 to 52, and that it was a matter that concerned the House and not the Senate, but that it had been precipitated.

Here a vote upon the resolution could be taken a message was received from the House, stating that that body was ready to vote upon the question of a long term United States Senator. The President held that further discussion was out of order, and the matter was laid over.

JOINT CONVENTION.

Hanna Elected for Both Terms, Receiving 73 Votes.

COLUMBUS (O.), Jan. 12.—At noon to-day Lieutenant-Governor Jones and the Senators arrived at the bar of the House and the bribery discussion was shut off. The two houses went into joint convention for the election of a Senator. Lieutenant-Governor Jones warned the crowds that order must be preserved or the galleries would be cleared.

The senate journal of yesterday was read, showing nineteen votes for Robert E. McKisson and seventeen for M. A. Hanna for both terms.

The House journal of yesterday was next read, showing the following vote for both the short and the long terms: Hanna 73, McKisson 70, A. J. Warner 1, A. J. Wiley 1, John J. Lantz 1, Mr. Cramer absent. Lieutenant-Governor Jones then announced that McKisson was the choice of the Senate and Hanna of the House, and there being no concurrent election, the two houses should proceed jointly to ballot for Senator.

of Marcus A. Hanna in an eloquent speech, and others seconded the nomination. Senator Burke, the one dissenting Republican Senator, presented the name of Robert E. McKisson, the Republican Mayor of Cleveland, as a candidate and inflammatory speech that commanded the closest attention. In one of his climaxes he said: "James A. Garfield would have voted for McKisson if he were alive and a Senator here to-day."

Representative Roberts of Cleveland seconded the nomination of Hanna, and Representative Bramley of Cleveland that of McKisson. The Democrats presented no names, and made no seconding speeches. The Senators and Representatives rose to their feet when they cast their respective votes.

The roll-call of the Senate was called, first in joint session, and there were no changes in the vote of yesterday—19 for McKisson and 17 for Hanna, as follows: For Hanna—Allender, Blake, Cable, Carpenter, Crandall, Dodge, Gardfield, Lutz, May, Plummer, Riley, Sheppard, Sullivan, Volght, Wightman, Williams, Wolcott.—Total 17.

Fos McKisson—Broren, Burke, Cohen, Crowley, Decker, Doty, Flinck, Harper, Jones, Kenner, Leet, Long, Miller, Mitchell, Nichols, Pugh, Robertson, Schafer, Valentine.—Total 19.

The House members were then called, resulting: For Hanna—Allen, Arbenz, Armstrong, Ashford, Baldwin, Beatty, Bell, Bennett, Bossard, Bowman, Boxwell, Breck, Brecount, Chapman, Clark, Clifford, Davis, Davies, Droste, Dutton, Griffith, Childs, Galt, Gorbach, Hindsdale, Howard, Johnson, Joyce, Kemper, Lane, Leeper, Leland, Love, McCormick, McCurdy, McKinnon, Manuel, Meachan, Means, Morrow, Norris, Parker, Rankin of Clark, Rankin of Fayette, Redkey, Reynolds, Roberts, Shaw, Smith of Adams, Smith of Delaware, Snyder, Starn, Stewart, Mahoning, Strimple, Swingle, Taylor, Waddell.—Total 56.

For McKisson—Adams, Adkins, Alger, Bartlett, Bowlin, Booth, Bower, Bracken, Bramley, Cline, Connelly, Cox, Doran, Gayman, Gerrard, Hayden, Hunter, Haslett, Hess, Heyde, Hull, Huler, Jones, Kemper, Kenny, Lamb, Ludwick, McCook, McCauley, McGlinchey, Magee, Melber, Monter, Niles, O'Neill, Otis, Payne, Piper, Powell, Ross, Roth, Russell, Rutan, Schneider, Scott, Smalley, Spellmeyer, Stivers, Swain, Mason, Williams.—Total 51.

For Lantz—Wiley. Absent—Cramer.

The vote in the House was the same as yesterday, with the exception that Haslett, who voted then for Wiley, and Hess, who voted then for Warner, to-day voted with the other Democrats for McKisson.

General Wiley was the only Democrat not voting with the coalition, and he voted again for Congressman Lantz. Lieutenant-Governor Jones announced the result of the joint ballot as Hanna 73, McKisson 70, Lantz 1, absent 1, and declared Marcus A. Hanna elected Senator for the unexpired term, ending March 4, 1899.

Owing to the cheering and noise, the Chair allowed the jollifiers to retire before the less exciting vote for the long term was being taken. The ballot for the long term proceeded without much interest being manifested. The result for the long term was the same as that for the short term. General Wiley again voted for Lantz. Hanna received 73, McKisson 70 and one absent.

After Hanna was declared elected Senator for the long term, pandemonium reigned supreme in the hall of the House. The galleries went wild, and Senators and Representatives participated.

On motion of Senator Alexander, which was unanimously carried, a committee of five was appointed to escort Senator Hanna to the hall. The galleries and lobbies loudly vied for the committee to escort Senator Hanna to the hall.

Sensors Alexander and Sullivan and Representatives Stewart, Leland and Bolin were appointed as the escorting committee, and while they were en route to the Neil House the crowds in the State house and outside indulged in all sorts of demonstrations.

THE DAWSONS FREED.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), Jan. 11.—The Dawsons, father and son, are free men. The two remaining indictments against them were suddenly to-day, like the others.

The trial of the indictments for embezzlement of $17,000 by overdraft against William Dawson, Sr., short as it was, was not without sensational interest. One was the withdrawal of Attorney-General Childs from the case, owing to the ruling, and another was that the State must elect on what specific charge the case will go to the jury.

Another notable incident was the remark of Judge Willis, both to the counsel and jury, that as no evidence whatever had been presented, and as the State witness had fled, it only remained for him to direct a verdict of not guilty.

At the conclusion of the case another indictment was called for trial. This was a joint indictment against the Dawsons, charging the embezzlement of $261,223.

County Attorney Anderson said that under the ruling of the court the State did not think it could make out a case, and therefore moved that the indictment be nolle. The motion was granted.

Haggin is the largest nominator, heading the list with 106.

TRAINMAN'S TOOTH ACHED.

So He Decided to Get a Train to Pull It.

"Say, did you hear about my friend, Bill?" said a trainman. "Well, that fellow has made me laugh more times than once. Not long ago Bill gets a jumping toothache. He wants to have that tooth out, but he don't want to pay the money, nor he ain't got the nerve to have the dentist. All he can do is to lie in bed, and he waxes and waxes till he's almost gone wild. 'Either me or that tooth,' says Bill; 'one or the other, I ain't going to stand this sort of life.'"

"All the same, when Bill starts to go to the dentist his knees begin to bend and he is so scared that the tooth stops hurting. But when he turns back and reaches the house the tooth is plugging him again. Now, Bill thinks of a great scheme. What does he do but buy a piece of strong string (say, you know this kind of string?) and he waxes and waxes till he's almost gone wild. 'Either me or that tooth,' says Bill; 'one or the other, I ain't going to stand this sort of life.'"

He finds a freight and ties the string to the coupler of the last car, and stands round to wait until the train starts. Well, sir, he begins to feel chilly about the gills. The more he thinks of the time when the train is going to move the worse he feels. "Well, I guess I'll better untie," thinks Bill, "and come again another day," but when he goes to loosen the string he finds that it's no go, and he can't jerk the thing loose because the other end is on the tooth.

"Well, sir, that train begins to start, and Bill he doesn't have the nerve to stand back, so he trots on behind like a little pup on the other end of a chain 'Where are you going, Bill?' hollers out a fellow. 'You seem to be in a hurry.' Well, sir, Bill starts to swear like mad, and while it stopped he borrowed a knife and cut the string. But, say, it was funny to see Bill chasing the freight."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

CLARA MORRIS' ONLY SERMON.

Words Which Brought Relief to Her Loyal Coachman.

Clara Morris, the well-known actress, makes her first appearance as an authoress in the "Ladies' Home Journal," presenting a grateful tribute to an old and loyal servant—"John Hickey: Coachman." In her maiden effort as a story teller she recounts the only sermon she has ever preached. It was delivered to relieve her faithful retainer's suffering—brought about through some fancied quarrel with his church (the Catholic Church)—in response to his wail: "It's hard, madam—it's hard that a man should be made to lose his soul."

"Never say that again, John," cried, writes the actress of the incident. "There is just one man created who can lose your soul for you, and that man is John Hickey!"

"He looked at me a moment, then putting one forefinger on my arm he asked solemnly, 'Madam Clara, are you talking as a Catholic or as a Protestant now?'"

"Laugh I had to, though I saw it hurt the poor, bewildered one before me, and belied the tears in my own eyes. But I made answer quickly: 'I'm speaking neither as Catholic nor Protestant, but simply as a woman who, like yourself, has a soul, and does not want to lose it! Don't look so unhappy! Your church is beautiful, great and powerful, but there is One who is greater, more beautiful and more powerful. In all the ages there has been but One who left the unspicable joys of heaven to come to earth to suffer and toil, to love and lose, to hope and despair, and finally to give up His perfect life to an ignominious death, because His boundless love saw no other way to save us from the horrors of eternal death! He paid too great a price for souls to cast them easily away. There is but one Savior for us all, be what we may! There is but one God whose smile makes heaven. We travel by different paths—oh, yes! We wear different liveries, some showing the gorgeous vestments of the stately Catholics, some the solemn drabs of the Quakers, others black robes. But the paths all lead to the same place, and the great questions are, do we love the One we seek, and have we loved and helped those we traveled with? John, make Christ your church, and the mightiest cannot harm you! and, catching up the scant folds of my riding habit, I fled from the only sermon I ever preached in my life."

The Sultan and Our Missionaries.

The Porte has demanded the recall of two American missionaries from the province of Aleppo, on the pretext that their mission for distribution of relief is likely to cause disturbances. The sick man of Europe, as he is derisively termed, is as unreasonable as his political health is feeble. As a bright contrast to his obstinacy and stupidity, the people of America are acknowledging far and wide the beneficence of the mission of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, namely, to relieve and prevent malaria, rheumatism and kidney complaint, chronic dyspepsia, constipation and liver trouble. The nervous, the weak and the infirm derive unspeakable benefit from its use, and it greatly mitigates those infirmities specially incident to advancing years. Sleep, appetite and a sensation of comfort throughout the system ensue upon its use, which should be repeated every year. An early resort to this fine preventive is logically suggested to those who seek its aid.
