

FOLSOM HIGHWAY BONDS.

A Supplemental Action to Determine Their Validity.

C. T. Hughes, Secretary of the Folsom Road Commission, served a notice on the Board of Supervisors yesterday that Charles L. Wright intends to contest the validity of the issue of Folsom road bonds.

There is already an action now on appeal before the Supreme Court, said Mr. Hughes, but the Attorney-General desired to have the matter presented more fully to the court.

"To the county of Sacramento, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Sacramento, J. M. Morrison, William McLaughlin, John Dremann, William Curtis and Thomas Jenkins, as members of and composing the Board of Supervisors of the County of Sacramento; A. S. Greenlaw, as County Treasurer of the county of Sacramento and individually; and R. T. Cohn, as County Auditor of the county of Sacramento and individually;

"You and each of you are hereby notified that Charles E. Wright is the owner of a large amount of real property situated within the corporate limits of the city of Sacramento, in the county of Sacramento, State of California; that said property for a long time heretofore was taxable and was taxed for municipal, county and State purposes, and now is taxable and is taxed for such purposes for the fiscal year 1898-99, and that such taxes are a lien upon said property; and among the other taxes and charges imposed upon and to be imposed upon and enforced against said property by the county of Sacramento, the said county of Sacramento intends to and threatens to levy and enforce a tax and charge thereon for the fiscal year 1898-9, and for the nineteen years next ensuing thereafter, for the purpose of raising revenues and moneys with which to pay the principal and interest of and upon certain bonds and coupons of said county of Sacramento, prepared, signed and sold to N. W. Harris & Co. on the 24th day of February, 1898, for the purpose of improving a certain wagon road or highway in Sacramento County between the city of Sacramento and the town of Folsom, and amounting to $75,000.

"And you are further notified that said Charles E. Wright intends to and will resist the enforcement or collection of said, and of any and all tax sought to be imposed or collected for the purpose of raising money or revenues to pay any of said bonds or coupons, or any part thereof, and intends to and will resist the payment of said bonds and any and all interest upon such bonds, upon the ground that said bonds and said tax sought to be enforced and levied are illegal and void.

"Dated Sacramento, April 5, 1898.

EVERYBODY'S COLUMN.

Under this heading the "Record-Union" will publish short letters, from correspondents on topics of interest to the community. The matter in these communications will only be the views of the writers. All communications should be accompanied by the name of the writer, not for publication unless so desired, but as a guarantee of good faith.—Eds.

Love of Country.

Eds. "Record-Union": In view of all the discussion going on in regard to our affairs with Spain and Cuba, permit me to give expression to some thoughts on the subject of the human soul. There is a name whose sacred spell, my heart with rapturous joy can swell, And fill my soul with anxious fears, And bid my eyes with gushing tears, My country, it is thine.

While the love of kindred, home and native country may be considered one of the noblest attributes of the human soul, yet it should be governed by reason and not be carried to that excess which would blind our better judgment in regard to what may be properly considered our own defects as a nation, or the wrongs of other nations, or refuse to apply necessary remedies which needed reforms in our social or political systems may require.

It has been truly said that "who can forget the tree under which he played, or the fountain from which he drank in his youth, is a stranger to the sweetest impressions of the human soul," yet an intelligent preference for one's race and love of country, do not necessarily imply prejudice, jealousy or hatred toward other countries or inhabitants thereof; on the contrary, we usually find that foreign-born citizens who have cherished a proper regard for kindred and the land of their birth usually make the most conscientious, upright and loyal citizens next to the native-born; for true patriotism usually implies intelligence and absence of extreme prejudice, and it requires enlightenment and proper education to fully understand and appreciate the privileges and rights of both self and native-born into whose country the foreigner immigrates, even although such change of residence is usually made for the sole purpose of bettering the condition of the latter without regard to the advantage or disadvantages which may result to the conditions of the former; hence, gratitude, which should exist, if exercised at all, usually springs from an intelligent patriotism and an unprejudiced, enlightened sense of justice. While duty may lead us to the protection of our own individual rights and to the defense of our own country from foreign invasion or aggression, yet however powerful our nation may be, we should not cultivate a disposition to use force against other countries without sufficient cause. While seeking to advance our own interests by all fair and honorable means is commendable, we should not in a mistaken zeal suppose that by injuring others' interests ours will thereby be promoted. If we are wise, even self-interest will influence a proper regard for the welfare of our neighbors, for the more comfortable, prosperous and happy are they the better prepared they are to do justice to us financially and otherwise, and the more peaceful and affectionate is the life among them; while pecuniary losses, unjust taxation and most of our troubles and consequent unhappiness arise from the presence of unfortunate neighbors, who, through their innate lack of honesty and thrift or neglect or oppression, become paupers and criminals, and the more contact between individuals and communities is equally applicable to nations. In place of very many dishonest politicians, our country ought to produce the noblest patriots that ever walked the earth; men, who, having the honesty, courage and desire to uphold the honor and dignity of our country, will seek to be equally honorable and dignified in dealing with other nations. But our country first, our glory and our pride; Land of our hopes, land where our fathers died. When in the right we'll keep thy honor bright, When in the wrong, we'll die to set it right. MECHANIC.

THE COBBLESTONE CASE.

John Sullivan Pleaded Guilty to Simple Assault.

Early on Monday morning John Sullivan, disfigured John Nordstrom's face with a cobblerstone and was subsequently arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Attorney J. Brown appeared for the accused in the City Justice Court yesterday morning. He said his client though only technically guilty, would enter a plea of guilty if the charge were reduced to simple assault.

He recounted the incident, leading up to the assault, and showed that Sullivan had acted in self-defense.

City Attorney De Ligne agreed with him, the felony charge was dismissed, Sullivan pleaded guilty to a charge of simple assault, and was fined $5, which he paid.

NINE MONTHS.

Justice Davis' Sentence Surprised Mr. James Owens.

James Owens, the hard-featured citizen, who on Tuesday attempted to steal a coat from H. Marks' store on K street, between Fourth and Fifth, and who, when he was detected, attempted to "clean out" the entire establishment, was before Justice Davis yesterday to answer to charges of battery and attempted petty larceny.

He entered a plea of guilty to the last named complaint, but stood trial on the battery charge, which resulted in his conviction.

"Six months on the battery charge," said the Justice, "and three months on the larceny charge, the latter sentence to begin on the expiration of the former."

"Yes," said Owens, "but de charge for stealin' was only attempt to steal. See?"

"Yes, I see," returned the Justice, "if it had been for stealing it would have been six months, instead of three."

So it happens that Owens will be next in the clink of Sheriff Johnson for the next nine months.
