

PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

Debate on the War Revenue Bill Begun in the Senate.

Carries an Estimated Revenue of Over One Hundred and Fifty Millions.

Made the Unfinished Business, and Will be Pressed to Passage as Soon as Possible—The House Sustains a Veto of the President.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The debate upon the war revenue measure was begun in the Senate to-day. The opening statement for the Committee on Finance was made by Allison of Iowa, the ranking member in the absence of Morrill of Vermont. It was estimated that the bill as it came from the House would raise $100,000,000 a year. As reported from the Senate committee, Allison estimates that it will raise $151,497,066. At the conclusion of Allison's statement the bill was made the unfinished business, and it will be pressed to passage as soon as possible.

Morgan of Alabama introduced a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Interior for information in his possession concerning the progress of work and concerning the financial affairs of the Maritime Canal Company. The resolution was referred to the committee. The Senate, 35 to 11, voted down an amendment by Pettigrew to a local railroad bill providing that the Government might purchase the road at its cash value at any time after ten years.

Allison said that as the bill came from the House of Representatives it was an internal revenue measure and as reported to the Senate it was still an internal revenue measure. Comparatively small changes were made in the bill for the purpose of increasing customs duties. He said that the Finance Committee had carefully examined all of the schedules of the House bill, and had been led to believe that schedules A (stamp taxes) and B (proprietary articles) were too general in their scope. Consequently they had been amended. On the beer and tobacco taxes on schedules A and B and on the tonnage tax matter the committee was substantially a unit.

Allison said that the committee had obtained the best possible estimates from the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy. Secretary Alger estimated that his department would need $150,927,527. To this sum must be added at least $15,000,000 to pay expenses authorized by Congress after the estimate was made. The estimate of the Secretary of the Navy of the expense of the revenue provisions in the period was $75,556,250, but in addition to this sum the amount carried by the naval appropriation bill must be considered as a part of the expenses of the navy. In addition to the $50,000,000 already appropriated as a war fund, which Allison estimated had been practically expended, the forthcoming general deficiency bill would carry a deficiency appropriation for the current year of about $37,000,000, and there is a naval deficiency of about $27,275,000. The Senate Finance Committee therefore estimated that it would require a total of $379,193,600 to pay the expenses of the war from the present time until the first of July, 1899, not taking into account any emergency expenses that might arise at any moment.

When they carefully analyzed the ordinary receipts and expenditures of the Government. In the course of this statement he expressed the opinion that the estimate of the Secretary of the Treasury that the present tariff bill would this year raise $200,000,000 was too high. In the present circumstances and conditions he doubted whether the bill would produce more than $180,000,000.

The important question, he said, was how much money should be provided by taxation and how much by loan. In committee he had been willing to increase the revenue by the amount of $125,000,000. On this point the committee on Finance had been divided, some members desiring to raise as much as or more than $150,000,000, and he thought that the bill would produce this amount, irrespective of the Democratic opposition. In the House he thought that the bill as agreed to by the members would produce even to exceed $150,000,000, while he thought the House bill would not produce to exceed $105,000,000.

Taking up the amendments inserted without the co-operation of the Republican members of the Finance Committee, and known as the Democratic amendments, Allison expressed the opinion that in addition to the green-back and seigniorage provisions, this would yield $75,000,000 in the aggregate. In addition to the estimate of $150,000,000 already given, his estimate included from five to six million dollars on transportation companies, $750,000 on telegraph companies, two or three millions on insurance companies, $15,000,000 on the banks and $45,000,000 on corporations.

Allison criticized with considerable severity the provision for taxing corporations, saying that it would be especially severe upon stockholders in small corporations, and that it was also liable to cause double taxation.

In conclusion, Allison said it was one duty of the Secretary to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to borrow from time to time $300,000,000, or so much thereof as might be required for war purposes exclusively, and to issue 3 per cent. bonds therefor. It was also the purpose to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to issue certificates on the indebtedness for $100,000,000 to meet any deficit in the running expenses of the Government.

White admitted that it did, but thought the Senate ought to have full justice and equity in view. Allison said that the bill would be laid aside for the day, Berry of Arkansas having the floor, with the understanding that it was to be the unfinished business, and would be called upon each day immediately after the morning business.

The Senate then, at 2:45 p. m., went into executive session, and at 3:05 p. m. adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE.

Veto of President McKinley on Court of Claims Bill Sustained.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The House today received its first veto from President McKinley, and voted unanimously to sustain the Executive. The veto was of a bill conferring upon the Court of Claims jurisdiction in a private claims case of long standing. The day was given to consideration of bills under suspension of the rules, the measures of chief importance being one ratifying an agreement for the allotment and opening to settlement of the Comanche, Kiowa and Apache lands in Oklahoma, and to establish an assay office at Seattle, Wash.

In the House to-day Marsh of Illinois presented the conference report upon the bill authorizing the army officers to furnish food to the Cuban people and equipments to the Cubans to increase their fighting effectiveness against Spain during the present war.

The report was adopted without objection. A joint resolution appointing William J. Stewart of New Jersey, Martin T. McMahon of New York, John T. Mitchell of Wisconsin and William H. Bonsall of California, members of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, was called up.

Loud (Cal) attacked the action of the Committee on Military Affairs in not permitting him a fair opportunity to be heard upon the selection of the California member of the board. He declared that Major Bonsall was unknown to the volunteer soldiers, and at length charged the naming of Major Bonsall to have been done at the dictation of a Senator from California, "to pay a political debt," and he (Loud) regretted the "debauching of the Soldiers' Home to pay political obligations."

Replying to these charges Hull (Ia.), Chairman of the committee, denied them in toto, and asserted that the committee had simply followed the rule, and named two Democrats and two Republicans. As to Major Bonsall, he had been urged by a Republican Senator and two Representatives from California and the California Republican State Central Committee, a "recommendation," Hull declared, "quite as much entitled to consideration as that of the gentleman from California who has just addressed the House."

MURDERED MISSIONARIES.

Efforts to Ascertain if Mr. and Mrs. McGrew Were Among Them. WASHINGTON, May 16.—Secretary Day has telegraphed Ambassador Hay at London to procure all the information he can in regard to the alleged massacre of American missionaries and the destruction of mission property at Sierra Leone, on the west coast of Africa, and to make special efforts to ascertain whether Mr. and Mrs. McGrew were among the number killed.

On the 9th inst., Ambassador Hay sent a cable message to the Secretary of State, saying that he had received the following message from the London Foreign Office, being an extract from a telegram of the Governor of Sierra Leone, Sir F. Carden, to Mr. Chamberlain: "Regret to inform you that the following American missionaries were killed by insurgent bands at Rotundunk: Mr. and Mrs. Cain, Misses Archer, Hatfield and Stibbenck, and that Miss Ward, as well as the following named missionaries, are here quite safe: Mr. and Mrs. Buntner and Mr. and Mrs. Min-you! If so, why? You are the man that when you were born you were fairly treated by Dame Nature. Then why are you puny today? There may be a secret about this, but you may be certain that you are not the only weakling in the world. Thousands of others keep you company. You have been drawing too freely on the bank account of time. The important question, he said, was how much money should be provided by taxation and how much by loan. In committee he had been willing to increase the revenue by the amount of $125,000,000. On this point the committee on Finance had been divided, some members desiring to raise as much as or more than $150,000,000, and he thought that the bill would produce this amount, irrespective of the Democratic opposition. In the House he thought that the bill as agreed to by the members would produce even to exceed $150,000,000, while he thought the House bill would not produce to exceed $105,000,000.

Be sure the London of the Democratic opposition. In the House he thought that the bill as agreed to by the members would produce even to exceed $150,000,000, while he thought the House bill would not produce to exceed $105,000,000. "Done up." That is what you think you are. But if you can find vigorous life again; if you can become a whole man once more why not do it? You enjoy no single one of the other signs of blood taint must be attended to. Ask for free "thirty-day blood cure" circulars. That quickly disposes of all blood taint and surely. It makes no difference what the stage of the disease may be. No charge whatever for all the information you may want.

White admitted that it did, but shall from Shelgen, and Miss Mullen from Hiniaigi." This message makes no reference to Mr. and Mrs. McGrew, and their friends in this country are becoming apprehensive as to their possible fate. Secretary Day instructed Ambassador Hay to make further inquiry about them. Ambassador Hay replied on the 13th inst. that Mr. and Mrs. McGrew were stationed at Robetta, and were safe. On the following day the Secretary of State cabled the American Ambassador at London that they were at Taima at last accounts. All of these missionaries were Americans, who were sent to Sierra Leone by the United Brethren of Christ Mission of Dayton, O.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A dispatch from Avalon, N. J., says Senator Quay is spending a few days at Senator Becker's cottage, says that after a conference with the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Mr. E. A. Tamm, Senator Durham and other Republican leaders, the Senator pledged himself anew to the candidacy of William A. Stone for Governor. Mr. E. A. Tamm, after the conference, stated that W. A. Stone was sure to be nominated. He says 301 of the 392 delegates have been elected, and of this number he claimed 165 are for Stone. Of the sixty-one yet to be elected he said thirty-six would be for Stone.

A Mistake!

Our buyer shipped us two cases of Golf Shirts (50 dozen), the kind that others sell on bargain days at 25c and 35c. They are a cheaper class of shirts than we carry.

TO MOVE

them out of the house as fast as possible we place them on sale at 20 cents. Six different colorings.
