

HEROES TO BE REMEMBERED.

PREPARING FLOWERS FOR SOLDIERS' GRAVES.

Memorial Day Parade This Afternoon—Exercises at the Cemetery.

The basement hall in the Foresters' building was piled high with choice flowers yesterday, and the Memorial Day Floral Committee of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic and of the two Relief Corps were busy shaping heaps of blossoms into bouquets, wreaths, etc., to deck the graves of the soldier dead.

Flowers and smilax and laurel were brought in from all parts of the city and worked into shape by deft fingers, preparatory to being to-day taken to the cemetery and laid with reverent hands upon the mounds which mark the final resting-places of the nation's dead.

And the veterans have concluded all arrangements for a big parade, and will present a programme appropriate to the day. They are thoroughly in earnest, and with them the words immortalized by Dickens has a world of meaning: "Lord, keep my memory green."

A meeting of Grand Marshal Carroll and his aides was held at Foresters' Hall yesterday afternoon, and all preliminaries for to-day's parade were finished. The parade will form on I street, right resting on Seventh, and the start will be made at 1:30 p. m. sharp. The march will be on Seventh to J, to Third, to K, to Tenth, to the cemetery.

The first division will consist of the local military, the second of the local Grand Army Posts, President of the Day, Orator and Chaplain, the Ladies of the G. A. R., and Sumner and Fair Oaks Relief Corps. The third will contain the Uniformed Rank of Knights of Pythias, public officials, citizens and invited guests. The second Infantry and the Sacramento Institute Bands will furnish the music.

The Orator of the Day, G. W. Arbuttle, is one of the best speakers on the coast. He stands in the front rank of Grand Army workers, and his effort to-day will be fully appreciated, not only by the veterans, but by the thousands of people who pay homage to the memory of the men who fought that the Republic might live.

The services at the Grand Army plot at the cemetery will be followed by an elaborate literary programme, which will be given in Masonic Grove.

AT FAIR OAKS. There are quite a number of war veterans in Fair Oaks and vicinity, and they will observe Memorial Day in a fitting manner. In the forenoon George W. Ficks of this city will deliver an address, and in the afternoon there will be a reunion and camp-fire.

REUNION. Memorial Day will be well observed at Galt. There will be exercises by the school children, an oration by Rev. J. W. Brier, Jr., an address to the children by Monsignor Capel of Arno, and a flag presentation with a speech by Hon. Seymour Carr.

VINE HOPPERS. Professor Hilgard's Novel Plan for Destroying Them.

To find a way in which to overcome the "vine hopper," the destructive insect which is doing much damage in the vineyards of the State, is a problem on which the agricultural scientists of the University of California are working. Professor C. W. Woodworth, the entomologist, has returned from Fresno, where the University has established a temporary laboratory for the study of the pest. He spends several days each week in the neighborhood of Fresno, investigating the habits of the insect.

The vine hopper has appeared in the San Joaquin Valley and other parts of California by myriads. Unlike most insects it is active at all seasons of the year, never hibernating. It does most injury in the vineyards, where it sucks the leaves and grape stems, greatly injuring the quality and quantity of the yield of the vines. It also attacks other forms of vegetation. With the growth of the grape industry the vine hopper has grown more common.

As the insect breeds at all times of the year, the only way to destroy the pest is to destroy the adult insects. Professor E. W. Hilgard, dean of the College of Agriculture, has devised a method of ridding vineyards of the pest, which he is anxious to see put in practice. It is to mount a suction apparatus operated by a gasoline engine, upon a wagon, and drive it up and down between the rows. A large funnel is to be operated on each side of the wagon. As a man walks through an infested vineyard, the vine hoppers rise in clouds. With a sufficiently powerful suction apparatus with twenty-four inch blowers, the insects would be drawn into the funnels, trapped and then destroyed.

"The only way to destroy the vine hoppers is when they are on the wing," said Professor Hilgard. "A suction apparatus could be easily constructed, for blowers can be obtained at the drying-houses, and most farmers have gasoline engines. Co-operation is necessary to obtain results."

The Case of S. D. Worden. On Friday next, June 3d, the respondent by the Governor to Salter D.

Worden, the convicted train wrecker, will expire.

So far as known, doctors appointed to report as to his mental condition have not done so, though Governor Budd—who is living in San Francisco—may be in possession of the doctors' conclusions.

TO THE GRAVE.

Obsequies of Sarah O'Connell, Ira J. Case and Michael Favero.

The funeral of the late Sarah O'Connell took place yesterday afternoon from the Cathedral. The children of Mary and members of the Catholic Ladies' Relief Society, of which deceased was a member, turned out in a body. Father Brady officiated at the church and cemetery. Many beautiful floral pieces were placed about the grave.

The funeral of the late Ira J. Case, which took place from Foresters' Hall yesterday afternoon. Delegations were present from Sunset and Sacramento Parlor, Native Sons, and the pallbearers were William Henderson, P. B. Johnson, J. H. Pond, Robert Alexander, A. Kaufman and Harry Kenschler.

The funeral of Michael Favero took place from Odd Fellows' Temple yesterday under the auspices of Industrial Lodge, Rev. W. A. Hoskinson officiating. The pallbearers were James Collier, Robert Emery, W. Watson, George Murray, James Taylor and W. B. Oldfield.

HERMANN-SONS.

They Had a Great Gathering Yesterday at Woodland.

The Hermann-Sons' picnic at Woodland yesterday was attended by fully 1000 people from this city, who took advantage of the excursion rates to have an outing and a general good time. Excursion trains were also run from Marysville and other points, and the Woodlandites received and properly cared for a vast number of members of the organization from surrounding towns and cities.

The excursionists arrived home at 8:15 o'clock last evening, and reported having spent a pleasant day and that they had received excellent treatment at the hands of their Woodland brethren.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Fatal Accident to a Stranger at Roseville.

On Friday last a stranger named William B. Hunter was struck at Roseville Junction by passenger train No. 15. One of his arms was badly lacerated, and he was internally injured. He was taken to the Auburn Hospital for treatment, but his injuries proved fatal and on Saturday night he breathed his last.

On Hunter's person were found papers indicating that he has a brother at Thompsonville, Conn.

UNIFORMS FOR THE BOYS.

Proposed Recognition of the Institute Band's Services. In view of the spirit shown by the students of the Institute Band, who have so freely and often volunteered their services to play at the depot at the receptions given to incoming soldiers, there is a movement on foot to raise the money necessary to provide the boys with uniforms.

The "Sunday Leader" has started the ball rolling with a subscription of $10, and will receive voluntary contributions to the fund.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Orpheum season closed last night. What the next will be is unsettled, despite published and street stories. While it is probable that Manager Clifton will have charge of the Opera-house and run it as a "combination" theater, the matter is not settled by any means, or to what the next season will be, when it will open or under what management.

Irish Nationalists' Picnic.

The fourteenth annual picnic and games of the Irish Nationalists, under the auspices of the Robert Emmet Club, were held at East Park yesterday, and the usual good time was had. The attendance during the afternoon was fairly large, and the games, races, were fully up to the standard. The Second Infantry Band, C. A. Neale, leader, furnished the music. The picnic was an orderly affair throughout, and was an enjoyable event.

GILT EDGES AND STOCKTONS.

THEY WILL MEET ON THE DIAMOND TO-DAY.

An Exciting Contest Expected at Snowflake Park This Afternoon.

It should be red-hot baseball at Snowflake Park this afternoon, when the tilts will try to take the edges off the Stockton boys. Much enthusiasm is manifested, and the indications are that a big crowd will be in attendance. The great game played here a week ago is still fresh in the minds of all ranks, and that in itself will be sufficient to draw a large crowd to the game. Then, again, whenever the Stockton team plays here there is a great crowd to see them as they are good ball players and come from our rival city.

Stockton has a great team this year. Their two twirlers, Whalen and Fiegl, are good manipulators of the sphere and excellent hitters. The old favorites, Selna, Peters, Nick Smith, White brothers, Stewart and Billings are still lined-up with the windmill city lads, and every baseball "fiend" remembers what kind of players they were last year.

The game does not begin till 3 o'clock, which will give everybody a chance to witness the Memorial Day parade. Loye and Stanley will be the battery for Chicago, and Stewart and Peters for Stockton. There is talk of quite a delegation coming from Stockton to help their club along, and the Stocktonians are the liveliest and noisiest rooters that ever visited Sacramento.

Shanahan will be in his old position in center field, and it is pretty safe to say that no ball going into that territory will get away from him. Nick Smith plays his old position at second base and is hitting the ball hard this year. He will doubtless be given a great reception when he goes to the bat. The teams will line-up as follows: Gilt Edge. Position. Stockton. Stanley Catcher Peters Doyle Pitcher Stewart Caverly First Base Selna Hughes Second Base Smith Lochhead Shortstop Billings Peeples Third Base H. White Borland Left Field Rice Shanahan Center Field Babe White Harvey Right Field Miller

The Columbian on Saturday went to Nevada City, where they met the "Colts" of that burg in a game yesterday. To-day they go to Grass Valley to play the Monarchs of that mining town. Griffin pitched in the Nevada City game, and Trainer the Grass Valley contest, where the former will take care of third bag. The Columbian line-up as follows: Cowden, catcher; Griffin and Treichler, pitchers; Pope, first base; Just, second base; Smith, shortstop; Treichler and Griffin, third basemen; Miller, left field; Gray, center field; Smith, right field; Hall and Root, extras.

There was no amateur game in this city yesterday, as several of the players are sick. The league managers will hold a meeting on Tuesday and decide on a complete schedule for the entire season, and it will be adhered to the same as the big league schedule.

The Union House ball team went down to Walnut Grove yesterday, where a rattling game was played with the home nine. As usual, the Union House lads were victorious, the score being 12 to 9.

The Pommers (formerly the Second-street Strorrs) went to Woodland yesterday to play the crack juvenile team of that town. Before the second inning was concluded the Capital City kids had made 20 runs to 2 for the Woodlanders, and the latter threw up the sponge and quit. The battery for the visitors was Roscoe and Burke. The Pommers have now won ten straight games, and the little fellows are as proud of themselves as so many young peacocks.

ROBBED AND BEATEN.

John Stader's Rough Experience in the Klondike Saloon.

John Stader of Stockton, according to his story to the police, had a variegated bit of experience in this city Saturday night. He visited the Klondike Saloon on K street, where women are employed, and there succumbed to the wiles of an alleged siren who he declares succeeded in doing him to a turn. So well was he done, in fact, that when she finally cut him adrift he found she had rifled his pockets to the tune of nearly $100, all the money he had.

Stader told the police he reported the matter to one of the proprietors of the place, or who purported to be one of them, and was bounced bodily out upon the street. He there further complained, and says he was promptly knocked down with a pair of brass knuckles and beaten and kicked in a merciless manner.

Stader, as a result of the drubbing, has a cut on the jaw several inches long, and various other contusions. He says he was deliberately robbed and then thrown out of the Klondike saloon. Complaints of the Klondike saloon have been of considerable frequency since Tom Norton, the former proprietor, went out of business, and Chief of Police Dwyer says he will go before the Board of Trustees to-morrow night and recommend that the license to conduct the place be revoked.

FIGHTING DRUNK.

A Belligerent Fellow Who Got the Dose He Needed.

Officers Bailey and Talbot last night arrested a man at Six and K streets who was raising a big row on the streets. He was "fighting drunk," and did not hesitate to give the officers a rattle, but they landed him in the city bastille all right.

The prisoner (who refused to give his name) was not then subdued, however. He called to Sergeant McManus for a drink of water, and when that gentle official opened the door of the cell to give it to him the fellow seized a broom and assaulted him.

McManus says he didn't do a thing to the fighter, but there must be some mistake about that, for when he left the cell the prisoner was as quiet as a sleeping babe.

THE "TERRORS" RIVAL.

The Denver Woman Has No Monopoly of the Street.

Lawyer S. R. Hart met Mary Roberts, better known as "Chin du Wan," at Second and I streets last evening, and Mary had been looking long and frequently on the foam of the beer. She was accordingly hilarious, and shocked the lawyer's morals by nominating him a great many things that gentlemen are not.

Mr. Hart evidently was not well acquainted with Chin du Wan, and concluded he had been insulted. He accordingly walked her to the City Prison and she was locked up.

JAMES H. WILSON.

Recently Appointed a Major-General in the Army.

The selection of James H. Wilson of Wilmington, Del., by President McKinley to be one of the Major Generals of the army was especially pleasing to those who know the man and his characteristics. He is a native of Illinois, having been born in the southern part of that State in 1840. He entered West Point when 16 years of age, and was graduated in 1860, standing fifth in his class.

When General Grant relieved Chattanooga, General Wilson was especially conspicuous for his brilliant services, and he was made a Brigadier General May 12, 1864. The following October he was placed in command of a cavalry division of the army of the Cumberland, with the brevet rank of Major General. He has held the brevet for over thirty years before succeeding to the real title.

Engineers for Manila.

About sixty United States regular soldiers of the Engineer Corps passed through this city yesterday morning en route for San Francisco, whence they will be sent to Manila. They are part of the force that planted the torpedoes in New York harbor and Hampton Roads, and will, it is understood, be employed to mine the harbor entrance to Manila. They are a fine-looking body of men, but as they came unheralded no reception was tendered to them.

Accident at the Prison.

The Folsom "Telegraph" states that Charles Nickerson, one of the Prison Guards, had a mishap on Tuesday that has since proven quite serious. In the morning he fell backward off a step, striking on his back. He at that time suffered no inconvenience from the fall, and proceeded with his duty as guard. About 4 o'clock he took suddenly sick, and suffered a partial stroke of paralysis.
