

BUCKEYE REPUBLICANS

Meet in State Convention at Columbus Yesterday.

Was Almost Free From Factional Fighting of Former Years.

The National Administration Republicans So Strong That the Opposition to Them Was Not Felt Anywhere—Congressman Grosvenor Chosen Chairman of the Convention.

COLUMBUS (O.), June 21.—The Republican State Convention to-day was almost free from the factional fighting of former years. The "National Administration" Republicans were so strong that the opposition to them was not felt anywhere. Of four Congressional districts in which there were contests, that of the Twenty-first district, in which the delegation of Mayor McKisson of Cleveland figured, was the only one of any proportions. The McKisson contest, which kept the Committee on Credentials in session all night, and all the other contests were decided against the already very small minority. The new State Committee did not organize, awaiting the report on Credentials, but it is understood that Cyrus Halling will be Chairman of the Central Committee, and H. M. Daugherty, Chairman of the Executive Committee, both close friends of Senator Hanna.

There are differences of opinion in the Committee of Resolutions as to the declarations of the State administration and the holding Republicans in the Legislature, and these resolutions may be ignored to-morrow.

Governor Bushnell occupied a back seat on the platform to-day, and many of the strongest Hanna men object to any resolutions regarding his administration, or on the action of the holding Republicans in the Legislature.

When Hon. H. J. Daugherty called the convention to order at 4 o'clock the only disturbance was that in the section of the hall assigned to the Twenty-first Congressional District. The Hanna delegate from that district, and the tickets, but the McKisson delegates got in early through the indulgence of an assistant sergeant-at-arms, and preempted the seats. The other delegates crowded into the same seats, and both delegations participated, but Chairman Grosvenor put every thing through viva voce voting, so that there was no collision.

Chairman Daugherty, in opening the convention, strongly indorsed the war against Spain and the President's policy and had read a letter from Senator Hanna, who expressed regret at being unable to accept the invitation to preside over the convention, as he believed he was better serving his party by remaining at his post in Washington.

Congressman Grosvenor was temporary Chairman, and later became the permanent presiding officer, the temporary organization having been made permanent.

On being introduced as temporary Chairman, Congressman Grosvenor at once entered upon a review of the record of the present National Administration. He praised President McKinley for having resisted the great pressure to rush the nation into a war with Spain before any preparation could be made for carrying on the war. Incidentally, he denounced the element in Congress that had so persistently demanded war during the earlier stages of the Administration to raise the necessary funds to carry on the campaign.

Referring to the policy of the Administration in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, Mr. Grosvenor said in part:

"We are confronted with some new questions; new questions of national policy. One of them relates to the question of whether or not we will take, hold and fortify, and eternally, with the blessing of God, defend the Hawaiian Islands as part of the territory of the United States.

"It will be the policy of the Administration to plant the flag of the United States in Hawaii; to occupy and fortify it, and make it a part of the territory of the United States, and when the war is over we will then settle the question of what sort of a government we will have over there. (Enthusiastic cheers.)

"Momentous issues are before us. Great questions of politics growing out of the capture—as I believe, we shall capture—of foreign territory; questions that will be new in American politics; questions that will challenge the statesmanship of the hour; questions that can better be settled by the party that made McKinley President than by any other party that can be formed in the United States. Let us wait. It is not important to settle the status of the Philippine Islands now. It is not important to settle the character of the government, the stable government which we promise to Cuba. It is not proper just now to settle the status of Porto Rico, for we have not got soldiers on the soil of Porto Rico, but when the time comes, you know, and I know, and all the world knows, that William McKinley, backed and supported by the Republicans of this country, backed and supported by the loyal, patriotic sentiment of the Democratic party of this country, will settle all these questions patriotically, wisely and from the standpoint of American progress in the century that God has marked for us in the world." (Applause.)

Hon. Charles L. Kurtz, a member of the National Republican Committee of Ohio, and for years Chairman of the State Committee, who led the opposition to Senator Hanna in the Legislature last January, went West over a week ago, and none of his close associates in the recent bolt are attending the convention, Mayor McKisson of Cleveland being the only prominent exception.

Governor Bushnell took no part in the preliminary proceedings, and the custom of delegates calling at the executive office was not observed.

It is understood that the resolutions will indorse the management of the State departments without the usual specific commendation to the Governor's administration. The delegates are almost unanimous in favor of Senator Hanna, as well as favoring the National Administration, and no compromises were entertained in the organization of the Campaign Committee.

On account of the contest from Cuyahoga County between the Hanna and McKisson delegates, special attention was given to the selection of the Committee on Credentials. The Hanna men not only controlled this committee, but also selected as its Chairman Hon. Park J. Alexander, who was the Hanna candidate for President pro tem of the Senate last January, and defeated by State Senator Burke of Cleveland voting with the Democrats on the organization of that body, as well as for United States Senator.

The McKisson delegation from Cleveland gave a parade this afternoon, passing the Neil House, where the State Committee and the candidates have their headquarters. Mayor McKisson was in the front rank of the line, which included over 200 marchers. Some of their friends had joined the procession when the special train arrived from Cleveland with the contesting delegates. The band played "There Will Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" as the parade passed the State House and the Neil House, where the largest crowds were assembled.

The other delegation from Cleveland had a banner out at the Neil House reading, "Holding Republicans of the Loyals Republicans of Cuyahoga County." The convention adjourned until 9 a. m. to-morrow, and if the resolutions are ready it will soon complete its work.

prehensive that Aguinaldo, the rebel leader, will assume to dictate in any matters relating to the government or disposition of the islands when captured. On the contrary, it is said, that the official information received here leads to the belief that he will not question the supreme authority of this Government, and will cheerfully acquiesce with whatever steps are taken to bring the islands under the complete jurisdiction and control of the United States.

BLOCKADE OF CUBA.

Spain Has No Ground to Assert That It Is Not Effective.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The Washington "Post" will say to-morrow: The Spanish Government is endeavoring to prove to the European Powers that the blockade of Cuba is ineffective. Naval officers in Washington yesterday discussed with no small amount of interest the published statements that supplies were being smuggled into Cuba in large quantities.

Secretary Long, in speaking of these reports to a representative of the "Post," pointed out that the President's proclamation did not propose a blockade of the entire Cuban coast, but only of certain ports, among them Havana and Cienfuegos.

"These ports," said the Secretary, "are effectively blockaded. I am confident that no ships have been able to enter Havana, even while the larger vessels of our navy are at Santiago.

"We are confronted with some new questions; new questions of national policy. One of them relates to the question of whether or not we will take, hold and fortify, and eternally, with the blessing of God, defend the Hawaiian Islands as part of the territory of the United States.

"It will be the policy of the Administration to plant the flag of the United States in Hawaii; to occupy and fortify it, and make it a part of the territory of the United States, and when the war is over we will then settle the question of what sort of a government we will have over there. Two questions with common-sense answers. "How long should a man's legs be," somebody asked Abraham Lincoln, and he said, "Long enough to reach from his body to the ground." Perhaps a few small schooners may have slipped in at night. The blockade of Havana is as tight as wax. I am also sure that the entrance to the harbor of Cienfuegos is absolutely closed. Probably at other places along the coast some small vessels have been able to run in and out, but there are small towns against which a blockade has never been proclaimed.

As soon as the campaign against Santiago has been concluded, several ships will be stationed off Batabano. It is not believed, however, that the smuggling of supplies has reached the extent indicated in the dispatches.

The Navy Department officials are also disposed to accept with considerable allowance the statement that the entrance to Santiago harbor is not blockaded by the Merrimac. No information upon this point has been received since Admiral Sampson officially reported the complete success of Hobson's exploit, and until definite word is received to the contrary, the Department will believe that the Merrimac absolutely corks up the bottle in which Corvera has been trapped.

It is believed at the Navy Department that Santiago will fall within a few days. Plans for co-operation between our land forces and the Cubans were made by Admiral Sampson and General Garcia before the arrival of the hospital ship Relief, and the organization of the troops.

HOSPITAL SHIP RELIEF.

Will be Ready to Put to Sea by the First of Next Week.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Surgeon General Sternberg of the army has returned from New York, where he spent several days in a thorough examination of the hospital ship Relief, being fitted out for the use of the army in the West Indies. The final touches are being put on the vessel, and General Sternberg reports that she will be ready to leave for her destination, which, presumably, will be Santiago, the first of next week.

The capacity of the vessel ordinarily is for 300 beds, but this may be doubled. The equipment of the vessel consists of a complete outfit for all kinds of surgical and other branches of work, which must come under the supervision of the hospital branch. One of the most desirable features of her equipment is an ice-making plant with a capacity of about two tons per day, which, in addition to supplying the needs of the ship, will be adequate also to supply the field hospital in the vicinity of the ship. There is also a water distilling plant and a carbonating plant, the latter installed with the money given by one of the relief associations. The capacity of the latter plant is more than necessary for the vessel, and the surplus will be used for the hospitals near by.

The navy ambulance ship Solace is now in Cuban waters, and this vessel, with the Relief, will be used interchangeably so far as the occasion therefor may arise. Unlike the navy ship, the Relief is distinctly a hospital ship, and will be kept at its temporary destination until its beds are filled with sick and wounded men, when it will take them to the most available and convenient United States hospital.

CIVILIAN PHYSICIANS Will Be Engaged to Make Examinations of Recruits.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—General Miles has issued an order authorizing the recruiting officers, in the absence of commissioned medical officers or contract surgeons, to employ civilian physicians to make examination of recruits preceding enlistment required by army regulations, at compensation of 40 cents for each man examined.

In order that all parts of gun carriages and guns assembled or mounted in sea-coast fortifications may be in proper working order, General Miles has directed that they shall be subject to the inspection of an officer of the Ordnance Department both during the process of erection and after completion. Ordnance officers are under instructions from the Chief of Ordnance to take all measures necessary, including, if deemed desirable, the firing of the pieces, to give assurance of the perfect serviceability of armament before it shall be turned over for use.

SPANISH PRISONERS.

All Persons Captured on Prize Ships to Be Held.

KEY WEST, June 21, 4:15 p. m.—United States Marshal Horr received instructions from Attorney General Girsby to-day to hold all persons captured on Spanish prize ships until further orders.

The message created much surprise among officials here, as all but military prisoners had been recently paroled, and were to have sailed for Spain this week. The prisoners concerned have been penned up on the prize ships in the harbor ever since captured. There are more than 200. The military prisoners are at Fort McPherson, Atlanta.
