DUSKY AMAZONS.

Chick Dorsey and Georgie Cameron Exchange Shots.

"Chick" Dorsey, a colored woman who resides on lower L street, is in trouble. On Friday night she visited a white woman named Georgie Cameron, who occupies an adjoining house, and while passing through the rear door somebody hurled a heavy pitcher at her head. The pitcher missed her head, but hit a door and was shattered into a thousand fragments, and both women were badly frightened.

About 10 o'clock last night they were again together, and either heard, or thought they heard somebody at the back door. Both women, it seems, had armed themselves with revolvers and both turned loose, "Chick" firing two shots and her companion one.

The only result of the fusillade was to perforate the house of a Japanese family living across the alley, one of the bullets going within a few inches of the head of the domestic.

Officers Douglas, Dolan and Hayes were soon on the ground, but found nothing startling. The Japanese said he ran into the alley when the shots were fired, but there was nobody in sight. The Dorsey woman told the police she believed her husband, who is in town, was trying to kill her. Both women were advised to curtail their stay in Sacramento, and will probably act accordingly.

Kragness Makes a Record.

E. O. Kragness of the Olympic Club Wheelmen of San Francisco, the well known long-distance rider, recently attempted the run from San Francisco to San Diego, 620 miles, calculating to do it in something over three and a half days. He was compelled to quit at Los Angeles, however, owing to an excessive hot spell that was prostrating. As it was, he made Los Angeles, 462 miles, in 91 hours and 54 minutes, which is to that point the record four hours. The old record was 66 hours between the two cities.

Mr. Kragness was in attendance at the meet of the Capital City Wheelmen on the 4th instant, but did not enter any of the events. Ladies well set about to plan a record establishment between San Francisco and Sacramento. The distance has been frequently ridden, but never for a record. Accordingly, Mr. Kragness, getting himself into condition, started from the City Hall in San Francisco at 12 o'clock noon yesterday, and the ferry slip at the foot of Market street at 20 minutes past 12.

He took to the wheel on the main land near the foot of Broadway, Oakland, at about a quarter to 1 p. m., and was recorded at the Oakland City Hall at 12:50. He rode by way of San Leandro, Hayward, Dublin, Livermore (over the high grade), Altamont, Mountain house, Banta, French Camp and Stockton, arriving at Stockton at just 6 p. m. Keeping right on, making no stops, he reached Sacramento at 12 o'clock noon yesterday, and the ferry slip at the foot of Market street at 20 minutes past 12.

Thus he made the record from the City Hall in San Francisco to the State Capitol in Sacramento in 9 hours and 51 minutes, losing considerable time at the ferry waiting for the boat. He had two punctures that had to be mended, and he made several stops for refreshment, etc. He was paced from Stockton to Galt, about 20 miles, but on no other part of the road.

Considering the fact that Kragness could not ride between the San Francisco City Hall and the land end of the Oakland Mole, and that he lost time waiting for the ferry, he beat the speed of A. Hubert January 1, 1885, when the latter twice made the round trip from Sacramento to Stockton, 290 miles, in 17 hours and 38 minutes, exclusive of stops. This, however, is not reliable in record riding, but if Kragness were to allow for his stops and delays, his time would be reduced to less than 9 hours.

Kragness has now established the record between San Francisco and Sacramento, and it remains for someone to beat it. Kragness, including all delays, rode the distance at the average of about one mile in four and one-third minutes, or something less than fourteen miles an hour.

Kragness will ride his wheel to Stockton on his way home, and thence go by rail or boat to San Francisco. He was accompanied to this city by Mr. Seybold of the Stockton Athletic Club Wheel Annex, but left him behind at Elk Grove and rode into Sacramento considerably ahead of him.

Had a Narrow Escape.

Last evening as J. C. Bruce and family were riding in a carriage one of the wheels came off the vehicle at Eleventh and L streets and the occupants were thrown to the ground. Some of them received painful bruises, but none were seriously injured.

Mysterious Shot.

Early yesterday morning somebody fired a shot in the alley between Third and Fourth streets, I and J, but when Officer Douglas arrived on the ground nobody could be found.

Hunters Beware.

Superintendent John Mackey of the Rancho del Paso announces that any person found shooting thereon will be arrested and prosecuted.

Fruit Shipments.

Forty-six cars of fruit were sent East yesterday—Peaches 6 1/2, plums 5 1/2, pears 3 1/2, grapes 1 1/2. On the same date last year 67 carloads were shipped.

Granted a Divorce.

Annie B. Hayes was yesterday, in Judge Hughes' court, granted a divorce from W. E. Hayes.

REPUBLICANS OF OAK PARK.

THEY HAD A ROUSING MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Spirited Addresses That Were Received With the Greatest Enthusiasm.

The Sutter District Republican Club of Oak Park held a grand rally last night, and sturdily fired its first real broadside of the campaign. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the light of the red, white and blue was to be seen everywhere.

Before the speakers' stand stood a stack of small arms, and upon the sounding board at the rear was stretched a large Union Jack, the centerpiece of which was filled in with the cross-ribbed, blanket and haversack of the American soldier.

Nearly the entire population of Oak Park and vicinity turned out, and the enthusiasm was as great as though the campaign was half over. The meeting was presided over by Edna County Auditor R. T. Cohn and Flood Flint. Most of these gentlemen, when called on by the President, spoke cheering words for the party and had only words of encouragement for the Sutter District Club.

After briefly stating the object of the meeting, Chairman Gettner introduced Secretary of State Brown, who, in his straightforward, crisp style, made a ringing address and gained the plaudits of the crowd. He assumed from the large attendance that Oak Park would do its duty in November and help to win a glorious victory at the polls.

He spoke of the present unpleasantness with Spain, and of the victories the United States has won, both on sea and land, and said that to-day it is as true of the Stars and Stripes as with the red cross of St. George—that the sun never sets upon its folds.

Secretary Brown briefly recalled the history of the Republican party, and said it has nothing to recall—nothing to be ashamed of—and predicted that as long as it stands no fear need be had from within or without the United States. He said it was a little too early to make a speech, as he might not be successful in securing the nomination for Governor at the hands of the party, but if he failed he would still be found fighting in the ranks. He spoke of the loyalty of the Republicans of Oak Park and promised to talk to them again sometime in the near future.

Sheriff Johnson was next called on and made a manly talk, straight from the shoulder. He had not, he said, come to speak, but had dropped in as a neighbor Republican. He had wanted to make the first speech, and was somewhat disappointed, as the Secretary of State had appropriated and used all his thunder. He was not present as a prospective candidate, but as a Republican, and if his name failed to appear on the ticket he would nevertheless help it along to victory.

David Reese made an able address, in which he reviewed the principal events of the history of the party, and by telling his audience a dog story that dovetailed in with his remarks and called out roars of laughter. Jud C. Brusie was next presented, and in the course of his remarks got to the bottom of the political situation, and outlined the course which will be pursued by the Republican party in the coming campaign. He spoke of the annexation of Hawaii, and in referring to the Philippines said they were but a step farther. The policy of the Republican party in the coming campaign will be to take, extension of territory, and wherever the Stars and Stripes have been set and sealed by the blood of American soldiers there will be the old flag stay as long as the Republican party is at the helm.

Democrats and Populists, the speaker said, are busy talking about "the initiative and referendum," and about what they might have done, while the Republicans are grappling with live questions and helping to uplift down-trodden humanity throughout the world.

The speaker referred to the swallowing of the Populists by the Democratic party, and in predicting ultimate disaster from that proceeding illustrated his idea by spinning a yarn. "Five little pickaninies sat on a log by the river, whittling away with their little knives, when along came a hungry alligator. The scaly monster opened its jaws, and without further ceremony swallowed the pickaninies. When the little fellows were introduced into the stomach of the saurian they were uncomfortable, and wanted to get out. So they set to work with their little knives and cut and cut, and the alligator squirmed and squirmed, and finally they got into his ears, and he, of Democracy too thick to cut through, and they will have to give up the ghost."

R. T. Cohn, County Auditor and Recorder, when called on said he did not come to speak but to sing a little song, and to his own accompaniment sang "The Red, White and Blue." His wondrous tenor voice filled the hall and overflowing. As an encore he gave "On the Banks of the Wabash," and the crowd was not satisfied until he again responded with "The Lad in the Scotch Brigade."

Too Heavy. "My wife cast some bread on the water," said, remarked the young man, reluctantly. "Did it ever return?" asked the other. "No," was the reply. "It sank," Brooklyn Life.
