

NOT ENTIRELY HARMONIOUS.

THE POPULISTS HAVE TROUBLES OF THEIR OWN.

But the County Convention Followed the Program Laid Out For Them.

Very little interest was evinced in the results of the Populist County Convention, which met in Pythian Hall yesterday morning. The delegates themselves were indifferent, and the only flickers of trouble came from the four violent members of the readers, who at every stage of the convention by poking non-fusion sticks between the spokes.

No enthusiasm followed the naming of the candidates. Everything in the line of nominations had been definitely settled days and days ago, and while a few walls, accompanied by a like number of threats, were uttered by a country member or two, the surface of affairs was scarcely ruffled by their efforts.

As a matter of fact, very little had been cut out for the Populists to do and no single vote by either of the old parties was more than that that set up for them to shy at.

Brooke was a "dead sure" thing for the Twenty-second Assembly District, and nobody even questioned D. McKay's nomination for Supervisor for the First District.

There was considerable talk of turning down William B. Hamilton, candidate for County Clerk, and it was whispered about that his nomination for the position would be fought on the floor of the convention.

The anti-fusionists did a great deal of talking toward the small end of the convention, but they were sadly in the minority, and were beaten at every turn.

Only four candidates were to be named, and the slate could not be broken. As a consequence the William B. Hamilton was named for County Clerk by acclamation; H. N. Bauman, for County Assessor, Morris Brooke, for Assemblyman from the Twenty-second District, and Daniel McKay, for Supervisor for the First District, were nominated without serious opposition.

Following is a list of the delegates composing the convention: First Supervisor District—Dr. W. H. Henderson, Chris. Hellrath, C. Iser, C. F. Simmermacher, H. L. Allen, Walter Reed, August Wall, W. If death had to sign the warrant for every man and woman who gets up in the morning happy and clear-headed and alert, both mentally and physically. They have a hearty appetite for breakfast. They go about their work with a sense of pleasure. The days end find them tired, but not fatigued out. They still have the energy for an evening's enjoyment. At night they go to bed with a feeling of ease. They do not have frightful dreams during their sleeping hours, nor are they drawn away during their waking hours. They are not ill-tempered or fault-finding. When men or women find their condition the opposite of this, they need a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the weak stomach, corrects the impaired digestion, invigorates the liver, and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It strengthens the muscular system, gives bloom to the complexion, regulates the functions of every vital organ and imparts both mental and physical elasticity and energy. Medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

"I had been troubled for several years with spells of liver complaint. My 'M. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery' cured me, and about two years ago my health gave way. I tried a doctor and he said I had a weakness in my left side and limbs, palpitation of the heart, cramping pains in the stomach after eating, nervousness, and if I had a headache I could not get it away. The party had no doubts as to the cause, and if it had they could not deliver the goods. Mr. Bradford then came forward and withdrew his name, though not in favor of Hamilton, who, he said was a shrewd politician. He had been dropped by the Republican party, and came over to the Populists for vindication.

The nomination of Mr. Hamilton was made by acclamation, though Delegate Dalley insisted that the Secretary should not cast his vote. Mr. Hamilton appeared before the convention, returned thanks for the nomination, and said he believed he could win the fight. At this point a motion that each candidate be assessed $5 toward defraying the expenses of the convention was carried.

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION.

The convention met at 10 o'clock, and was called to order by Daniel McKay, Chairman of the County Central Committee. Temporary organization was effected by the election of D. McKay temporary Chairman, A. Dittmar Secretary, and Dr. W. H. Henderson Assistant Secretary.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

On motion of Dr. Henderson, a committee of five on credentials was appointed as follows: W. H. Burtless, First District; G. P. Dean, Second District; H. Clemens, Third District; A. Crawford, Fourth District, and Peter Schulp, Fifth District.

The following committee was appointed on Permanent Organization and Order of Business: First District, Dr. W. H. Henderson, William Boyne, G. H. Jost, John Aiston and James Bradford.

A committee of five on Platform and Resolutions was appointed as follows: W. E. Bowles, W. Thompson, S. H. Phillips, J. G. Shaw and Eugene Bradford.

It was unanimously agreed, in accordance with established principles of the party, to allow no proxies.

At 11 o'clock a recess was taken until 1 o'clock to allow the committees time to report.

At 1:30 o'clock the convention reassembled, and the Committee on Credentials reported recommending seating the list of delegates as above. The report was adopted.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

The Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business reported, recommending that the temporary officers be made the permanent officers of the convention, and that the order of business be as follows:

Appointment of Secretaries-at-Arms by the Chairman; nomination for candidates for County Clerk; nomination for County Assessor; nomination for Assemblyman for the Twenty-second District; nomination for Supervisor for the First District; election of members for the County Central Committee.

DEAN AGAINST FUSION.

George B. Dean moved that the report of the committee be considered by sections, and the motion prevailed. Thereupon the temporary officers were elected permanent officers of the convention, and Chairman McKay appointed Delegate Clemens as Sergeant-at-Arms.

Then George B. Dean got the floor and moved an amendment to the report of the committee by inserting the following words: "We recommend that this convention do not fuse with the Democrats."

Delegate Bowles moved as a substitute that the report of the committee be adopted as read. The motion was carried, Delegate Dean voting "no."

THE PLATFORM.

The Committee on Platform and Resolutions handed in the following report: "Resolved, That we endorse the platform of the People's party as adopted at Sacramento on July 12, 1898, by the People's party in State Convention assembled."

"Resolved, That this committee recommend the endorsement by this convention of the action taken by the special committee appointed by the County Central Committee in regard to fusion."

"Resolved, That this convention endorse the present State text-book system; and believing that it should be perpetuated in order to augment a more perfect system of free public school tuition in the State of California; and be it further

"Resolved, That the People's party, in County Convention assembled, is in favor of maintaining the State Printing Office as a necessity to the economic administration of State affairs."

"Resolved, That we nominate the candidates of the Democratic and Silver Republican parties, according to the agreement of the committees of the respective parties."

DEAN ON THE WARPATH. Then George B. Dean made a personal attack on James M. Morrison and Erskine Greer, Democratic nominees for Sheriff and Treasurer, respectively. He denounced them as corrupt to the bottom, and he protested against fusion.

D. J. Moynahan said that while fusion was a bitter pill, it would be unwise to break faith with the Democratic and Silver Republican parties. He contended that to stand shoulder to shoulder with their allies meant victory in November, and if it was found that the Democrats at that time threw the Populists down, in the future the Populists would flock by itself. He thought he saw a grand chance for a victory with James G. Maguire at the head of the ticket.

The name of Maguire was cheered to the echo. H. W. Woods followed in a talk for fusion, and said that from his experience, he asserted that the People's party had ever been a party of fusion.

William Boyne took exception to the assertion, and flatly declared that in the past the party had not stood on fusion lines. Woods said the party itself was a fusion of the dissatisfied elements of the old parties. He said the Democrats had acted fairly throughout, and that fusion with them meant victory in November.

A BULLET-HOLE IN HER EAR.

Thomas C. Bissett, a printer employed on the "Sunday News," fired two shots at his wife at their home at 814 L street last evening, the first of which pierced her right ear, the second going wide of the mark.

According to the story told by Bissett after the shooting, the peace and harmony of his domestic life has for some time past been broken by a young man named Herman Mealand, who, he said, insisted on paying attentions to his wife.

Mr. Bissett stated that about a month ago he forbade Mealand the house and told him that if he ever again came there he would kill him. Mealand, however, got a friend of his to take a room in Bissett's house, and without Bissett's knowledge, often slept there. The latter learned that Mealand and his wife were together last night, and he hastened home.

He tried the front door, which was locked, and then went around to the rear, and as he entered his wife let Mealand out of the front door. He went in with the intention of shooting both of them, but when he found that Mealand had escaped he turned his pistol on the woman and attempted to send her into eternity.

Mabel Gimblin, the servant at the Bissett domicile, told the officers that her mistress had for some time past been carrying on in a shameful manner with a man who would not let her work in the morning she carried food into the man's room, though she never got up to get her husband's breakfast. Miss Gimblin also stated that Mrs. Bissett gave Mealand wearing apparel and showed him other favors.

Bissett was arrested by Captain of Police Ash and locked up. His wife was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where her ear was patched up. While there she laughed and joked at her narrow escape, and said she was glad Mealand got away. She said, however, that though Mealand frequently came to see his friend in her house she had not been intimate with him.

Some time after the shooting a neighbor of Bissett's named Gray telephoned the police that after Bissett's arrest Mealand returned and carried Bissett's four-year-old daughter up and down the sidewalk. Mr. Gray protested against the child being turned over to his mother, stating that she was not a fit person to have the care of small children. He further said that all of the neighbors were acquainted with Mrs. Bissett's escapades, and that they would so testify if required so to do.

Bissett said that several friends had told him recently how for months past his wife had been carrying on with the clerks about certain stores, and latterly he had thought seriously of taking his child and flying from the State to avoid having to resort to violence toward his wife and any of her male friends.

VETERANS IN COUNCIL. Meeting of U. S. Grant Camp, Army and Navy League. A meeting of the members of U. S. Grant Camp, No. 5, Army and Navy League, was held in the basement of Pioneer Hall last evening, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing term and for electing delegates to the fifteenth annual encampment of the Army and Navy League, to be held at San Francisco on Saturday next.

The meeting was called to order by the Commander, Colonel George M. Mott, who stated its object and referred to the good work done by the club in the campaign of two years ago, when its 230 members were thrown into the fight.

Officers for the ensuing term were elected as follows: Commander, Colonel George M. Mott; Lieutenant Colonel, J. S. Jones; Major, W. M. Jenks; Adjutant, Captain L. Hawk; Quartermaster, Edgar M. Sheehan; Officer of the Day, Edward Radigan; Officer of the Guard, S. I. Hopkins.

Judge Buckles of Solano County, who is a candidate before the Republican County Convention for Assessor of the Supreme Court, was present and addressed the club. He advocated close and firm organization on the part of veterans of the Civil War, in order that they may be in position to demand the enforcement of the State law which provides that preference shall be given to old soldiers and sailors in filling positions in and about State offices.

Captain W. H. Seamans of the State Commission in Lunacy, formerly of Los Angeles, also addressed the club, and recommended that it take steps to present a resolution before the Committee on Platform and Resolutions, when one shall have been appointed, recommending the party to its pledge to give preference in employment to old veterans.

The suggestion was acted on favorably, and Captain E. L. Hawk was appointed a committee of one to draft a suitable resolution for presentation to the Platform Committee.

On motion of J. C. Medley, a vote of thanks was tendered General T. W. Sheehan for having secured the adoption of a "preference for old soldiers" plank in the platform recently adopted by the Republican County Convention.

Major J. Simons of San Francisco cited instances wherein veterans of the Civil War were discharged from the navy yard at Vallejo, in order that political appointments might be made. Major Simons said the secret of his opposition to the renomination of Congressman Loud lay in the fact that of thirteen letters addressed to him by Union soldiers, asking him to use his influence to secure pensions for them, he had not replied to any of them.

The meeting adjourned to the call of the Chair. Third Ward. The Third Ward Republican Club held its regular business meeting last night, and many new members signed the roll. The roster now contains 275 names.

A resolution was adopted endorsing the platform adopted at the Republican County Convention. The club also endorsed the candidates selected at the convention, and will do all in its power in support of the entire ticket.

THE MEANEST MAN. A Policeman Discovered Him at the Depot Yesterday.

Ingratitude, magnanimous cheek and superb gall was what Officer George K. Naghel struck in a Nevada County citizen at the railroad depot last evening. The address of the man was in a hurry. He was walking for a drink, and had got to the barroom door, when he dropped his purse. The officer saw the purse dropped, picked it up and followed the man into the barroom, where he was in the act of pouring something from a black bottle into a glass.

"Lose anything?" inquired Naghel. "Nope, I guess not," replied the man from the mountains. "Didn't lose this, eh?" persisted the officer, producing the purse. "Yes, that mine." Ironically replied the individual from Nevada County, as he swallowed his whiskey. He then poured from the purse onto the bar $240 in $20 gold pieces, replaced them, and put the purse in his pocket without so much as saying, "Thank you."

Are you a user of incandescent lamps? We've made a discovery. Found out that there is an incandescent lamp exactly as good as the Edison that we can sell for twenty cents instead of twenty-five. Saying a good deal, isn't it? But it's true. The lamp is a 115 volt of 16 candle power and experiments have proved that its period of life is about two thousand, one hundred and twelve hours. Several hotels, as well as many private residences in Sacramento, are already using these lamps and nothing but words of praise are heard. On sale in the kitchen store.
