

MRS. BOTKIN MAY NOT BE EXTRADITED.

Governor Budd Makes the Positive Declaration

That He Will Not Grant the Request Upon the Showing Thus Far Made.

Questions the Right of Delaware Authorities to Send Such Papers When the Laws of That State Demand Absolute Proof of the Guilt of an Accused Person Before Extradition Would be Permitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The proceedings in the Botkin extradition case were resumed before Governor Budd to-day. The question of the status of the extradition papers, which has come to a vital question of law, was first resumed, the attorneys on both sides being laden with additional evidence and extracts from court decisions to support their respective cases.

Governor Budd rather indignantly questioned the right of the Delaware authorities to send such papers to this State, when the laws of Delaware require absolute proof of the guilt of an accused person before that State would permit of extradition by another State. He made the positive declaration that he would not grant extradition upon the showing made by the Delaware authorities, unless the papers in the case were absolutely perfect, which he denied was possessed by the papers now before him.

Attorney Wheeler, for the defense, began a long dissertation on the definition of the word "fugitive" as applied in the law. He argued that Mrs. Botkin was not a fugitive from the State of Delaware, for the reason that she had never been in that State, and because the poisoned candies had been sent from California was no reason why his client should be taken to Delaware for trial, even though the sequel of the crime had taken place in that State.

At the afternoon session Frank McGowan closed for the defense. Governor Budd asked for further information, and a long discussion ensued, participated in by Chief Lees and all the attorneys. The Governor declared that there was no complaint among the papers presented, and practically said that the Constitution of the United States was against her extradition.

The case then went over for two weeks, when new papers to arrive from Delaware will be presented, though the Governor said he did not see how they could change the status of the matter.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE.

Fitzgerald Submits His Second Biennial Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Attorney General Fitzgerald has submitted his second biennial report to Governor Budd. It shows that damage suits brought against the State to the amount of $647,277 during his term of office have been defeated. The cases lost by the State aggregated $2,000. The State contested the payment of $415,000 of interest on the bonds, a sum many times in excess of the value of the bonds, which were issued under Acts of 1851 and 1852, and came out victorious.

During the past four years the Attorney General has written official letters and delivered opinions to the number of 5,098. The criminal cases on the docket for the past period numbered 359. For the past two years the criminal docket contained 217 cases, and the civil docket 408 cases.

Mention is made of the work of the Attorney General's office in the Durrant case, and the Southern Pacific injunction suit in the Federal Court against the Board of Railroad Commissioners. Evidence is still being taken in the latter case.

ARIZONA DEMOCRATS.

The Territorial Convention Meets at Prescott.

PRESCOTT (A. T.), Sept. 16.—The Democratic Territorial Convention met here to-day. The only business of importance was the nomination of a delegate to Congress. There were four candidates in the field—Mark Smith, E. E. Ellwood of Flagstaff, J. F. Wilson of Prescott and Wiley E. Jones of Graham County.

A wrangle was precipitated on a vote for Temporary Chairman, which resulted in pandemonium reigning for over an hour. Finally the Smith men secured the temporary organization, but the convention wrangled all afternoon.

After all the nominees were announced Smith withdrew from the contest for the reason, his friends state, that he could not accept the nomination with so much opposition in the field. Five ballots failed to disclose a choice for delegate, and the convention adjourned until to-morrow.

DEFAULTER MADDEN.

His Wife Knows Nothing of His Whereabouts.

STOCKTON, Sept. 16.—The wife of Madden, the defaulting County Treasurer of Modoc County, resides in the city with her mother. To an Associated Press representative, in relation to the published statement that his whereabouts in Peru had been discovered by detectives corresponding with his wife through Attorney Stewart of Alturas, Modoc County, Mrs. Madden said to-day: "I have not heard from him since he left. The first I knew of his whereabouts was what I read in the papers. If he sent Mr. Stewart any message for me it was not delivered. I was openly charged that he left Mr. Stewart money to be given to us, though we never corresponded with Mr. Stewart. We would not have taken the money anyway."

SAN JOSE HIGH SCHOOL.

No Funds on Hand for Occupying the New Building.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 16.—At a meeting of the City Board of School Trustees it was found that there are no funds for occupying the new high school. The shortage is $6,900. Unless this can be provided for the new $100,000 building must stand idle. There is some talk of cutting salaries of teachers, but it was not known if this can now be done.

There is also a proposition to take the funds from the grammar and junior grades, but this may not be legal. The questions were referred to the City Attorney, and another meeting will be held Monday. The serious trouble which has arisen in regard to the high school seems further from settlement than ever.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The gunboat Bennington came down from Mare Island to-day, under sailing orders for Honolulu. She will probably depart to-morrow. It is possible that she may ultimately go to Samoa, though the Mohican, which went to the navy yard to-day, is destined for the Apia station. The Bennington will relieve the flagship Philadelphia at Honolulu, and the latter vessel will probably return to this city, where Commander Kautz is expected to relieve Admiral Miller.

Supplies for Manila.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The British steamer Condor has almost finished loading Government stores, and some time to-morrow will start on her voyage to Manila. The steamer Coptic, which sails to-morrow, will also carry a large amount of Government stores, which will be reshipped to Manila from Hongkong.

Sutro Will Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Dr. Emma L. Merritt and W. R. H. Adams, surviving executors of the will of the late Adolph Sutro, to-day filed a demurrer to the contest commenced by Adolph Sutro, son of the dead man. The demurrer is set up on the grounds that the complaint filed by the contestant is ambiguous and does not show that the decedent was of unsound mind, nor that he was unduly influenced, and that the contestant does not give sufficient reason for the making of a contest.

Fund for Mrs. Hildebrandt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The Seventh California Regiment has started a subscription for the widow of Henry Hildebrandt, who was killed by Walter Rosser, the young Tennessee soldier. The men expect to raise between $200 and $300, and their example will probably be followed by other regiments. Quite a number of young men of the Seventh California Regiment propose to go to Manila as private citizens immediately after being mustered out, their intention being to engage in business there.

Home for Convalescent Soldiers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The Red Cross Society is considering the expediency of building a large home for convalescents in the foothills back of Oakland, but will not do so unless the Government first consents to allow convalescent volunteers to be sent there. If this project is not carried out, a large annex to the present home at the Presidio will be built to accommodate the demand from the division hospital, and also to make room for convalescents returning from Manila.

Not Guilty.

EUREKA, Sept. 16.—The jury in the case of A. W. Randall, ex-President of the Randall Banking Company, charged with felony embezzlement, brought in a verdict to-day of not guilty. He was accused of appropriating $500 placed in his care by Mrs. Floy Binsdale. This was the third trial on this charge. There are still two indictments against Randall in connection with the Randall bank failure, but it is not thought they will be brought to trial.

The amendment was carried by an affirmative vote of 147, negative 2.

Matthews' Trial Continued.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 16.—The trial of Constable John Matthews for the murder of Henry Hopkins, set for Monday, has been continued to October 3d.

A Time For Action.

The early ending of the war makes it entirely probable that this fall will witness a great expansion of business prosperity. The signs of this are already seen in many quarters, and business men unite in predicting a large and increasing domestic and foreign trade. Even the Atlanta "Constitution," a rabid free silver organ, says: "The outlook is wonderfully bright."

WEST INDIES HURRICANE.

Worst Visitation Ever Experienced in the Islands.

Center of the Storm Swept Over St. Vincent and Guadalupe.

Unparalleled Destruction of Life and Property at the Former Place—Three Hundred People Killed and Twenty Thousand Injured and Rendered Homeless.

KINGSTON (Jamaica), Sept. 16.—The hurricane of Sunday was undoubtedly the worst visitation the kind experienced by the West Indies during the century. Two hurricanes swept along the island chain, from Barbadoes westward to St. Vincent, and thence northwest to St. Kitts, where it was last heard from. Barbadoes suffered mostly from a rain which destroyed the crops and roads, as it did at St. Lucia and other islands, while the center of the storm swept over St. Vincent and Guadalupe.

Details received from St. Vincent show that an unparalleled destruction of life and property took place there. Out of a population of 41,000, 300 were killed and 20,000 were injured and rendered homeless. Beside this, owing to the complete destruction of the provisions, they are all starving.

The island has been absolutely gutted by the wind, and food from the mountains, in addition to the waves along the coast. There has been great loss to shipping along the track of the cyclone. Relief funds are being raised in response to an appeal of the Governor of St. Vincent, where all descriptions of food and clothing and other necessities were lost in the general destruction. The demand for building material is unlimited.

No details of the work of the hurricane have been received from Guadalupe.

MANY VESSELS LOST.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—The hurricane which swept the Windward Islands on Saturday last was encountered on Sunday morning by the Norwegian steamship Avon. The Captain stated that the barometer indications before the storm struck the vessel warned him, and that he was therefore not unprepared to meet it.

The storm sprang from the southeast early on Sunday, and lasted until the next day, when there was an intermission of a dead calm lasting for six hours. After that the hurricane returned with renewed force.

Captain Frostad believes that many vessels foundered and will never be heard from.

SITUATION AT SANTIAGO.

Troops Have Ample Supplies of All Kinds Except Fresh Meat.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 16, 8:15 p. m.—Contrary to reports that seem to have been circulated in the United States representing the American soldiers were dying of starvation—reports that elicited an inquiry from the War Department regarding the matter—the every kind except that the fresh meat supply has been unsatisfactory.

From the sickness that is incidental to acclimation, the trouble among our soldiers is chiefly mental rather than physical, and a better mail service would do much to remedy it.

Yesterday fifty Cubans who had been employed about the docks were placed on easier work by Lieutenant Hanna. To his surprise they went on strike, absolutely refusing to work at all. Of course they were discharged. They have been paid in rations, and the opportunity to steal at the docks was too attractive to be resisted.

Public Fund Depositories.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The statement was made at the Treasury Department that by reason of the excess of application from banks for deposits of public funds, the department finds it necessary for the present to limit the amount which can hereafter be granted to any one depository to twice the amount of its capital, the purpose being to distribute the funds as much as possible among banks in all sections of the country.

No Stringency in Money Market.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The amount of United States 6 per cent. bonds issued in aid of the Pacific Railroad maturing next January, so far received at the treasury for redemption under the Secretary's offer of September 3d, is $473,000. The fact that so few of these bonds have been sent in is regarded by the treasury officials as proof that there is no stringency in the money market in any part of the country.

RESULT OF EXPERIENCE.

Rules for the Maintenance of Macadam Pavements.

- 1. Never allow a hollow, a rut or a puddle to remain in a road, but fill it up at once with chips from the stone heap.
2. Always use chips for patching and for all repairs during the summer months.
3. Never put fresh stones on the road, if by cross-picking and a thorough use of the rake the surface can be made smooth and kept at the proper strength and section.
4. Remember that the rake is the most useful tool in your collection, and that it should be kept close at hand the whole year round.
5. Do not spread large patches of stone over the whole width of the road, but coat the middle, or horse track, first, and when this has worn in, coat each of the sides in turn.
6. Always arrange that the bulk of the stone may be laid down before Christmas.
7. In moderately dry weather, and on hard roads, always pick up the old surface into ridges six inches apart, and remove all large and projecting stones before applying a new coating.
8. Never spread stones more than one stone deep, but add a second layer when the first has worn in, if one coat is not enough.
9. Use a steel prong fork to load the barrows at the stone heap, so that the siftings may be available for "binding" and for summer repairs.
10. Never shoot stones on to the road and crack them where they lie, or a smooth surface will be out of the question.
11. Go over the whole of the new coating every day or two with the rake, and never leave the stone in ridges.
12. Remove all large stones, blocks of wood and other obstructions (used for diverting traffic) at nightfall, or the consequence may be serious.
13. Never put a stone upon a road for repairing purposes that will not pass freely in every direction through a two-inch ring, and remember that still smaller stones should be used for patching and for all slight repairs.
14. Recollect that hard stone should be broken to a finer gauge than soft, but that the two-inch gauge is the largest that should be employed under any circumstances where no steam roller is employed.
15. Never be without your ring gauge. It should be to the roadman what the compass is to the mariner.
16. If you have no ring gauge, remember that any stone you cannot easily put into your mouth should be broken smaller.
17. Use chips, if possible, for binding newly laid stones together, and remember that road sweepings, horse droppings, sods of grass and other rubbish, when used for this purpose, will ruin the best road in creation.
18. Remember that water worn or rounded stones should never be used upon steep gradients, or they will fall to bind together.
19. Never allow dust or mud to lie on the surface of the road, for either of these will double the cost of maintenance.
20. Recollect dust becomes mud at the first shower and that mud forms a wet blanket which will keep a road in a filthy condition for weeks at a time, instead of allowing it to dry in a few hours.
21. See that all sweepings and scrap-

ings are put into heaps and carted away immediately.

A Traveler's Earnings.

William Herbert Jones (32), a man of excellent character, pleaded guilty, on Wednesday, at Southwark Police Court, to "stealing" £16, belonging to his employer, Edmund Coleman, a vision merchant, of Great Suffolk street, Borough.

The prisoner threw himself upon the mercy of the court. Most of the money had gone in expenses incurred for his employer's benefit. His salary was 10s a week, and he was allowed 2½ per cent. commission, which made up his weekly earnings to about 22s a week in all. He was allowed nothing for his expenses out of pocket, which he put at 3s 6d a day, for tram and "bus fares" and "reading" new customers. He had to travel over the whole of North London upon those terms, which practically swallowed up the whole of his earnings; but as he was building up a new connection he was looking forward to better times. Meanwhile, he had a wife and four children to support, and also an aged mother; and (bursting into tears) he could not let them starve.

The prosecutor's manager admitted that the prisoner's statement was true, but added that if he had done £100 a week as he undertook when engaged, his commission would have been £2 10s. There was no suggestion that any of the money had gone in drink, betting or extravagance of any kind.

Paul Taylor expressed great sympathy with the prisoner, whom he regarded as an honest man, placed in a position which it was impossible for him to fulfill. He advised the prisoner never to take a situation upon such terms again, and released him under the First Offenders' Act—Birmingham (England) Weekly Post.

Telephone for a Deaf Parishioner.

A novel instrument was installed a few days ago in a church in Glasgow for the benefit of a member of the congregation who was too deaf to hear the minister preach his sermons. It is in the nature of a telephone, and the sound is transmitted from the pulpit by means of two transmitters, fitted to ornamental hammered scroll work brackets, in keeping with the other articles of the church, and these are secured to the ledge on the pulpit on either side of the reading desk, and far enough apart not to hamper the movements of the speaker. The wires are led from the pulpit behind the wainscoting to the pew, where a battery switch is placed, so the party using the telephone can switch the current off when the minister is not speaking.
