

FAVORITES TO THE FRONT.

FIRST CHOICES HAD THEIR INNING.

To-Day the Last of the California Jockey Club's Fall Meeting.

The attendance at the races yesterday was about the same as on previous days. The weather was lovely and the track in superb condition. It was favorites' day, all of them winning, but several had very close calls.

Eight horses started in the opening event, six and a half furlongs for three-year-olds and upward—Fig Leaf 8 to 3, Fred Gardner 20 to 1, Outgo 6, Eroica 6, Tenrica 15, Saucy Eyes 8, Magennis 60, Rose Maid 2.

In the six furlongs, selling race, for two-year-olds and upward, the starters were Pat Murphy 3 to 1, Viking 20, Estro 20, St. Isidor 40, Kaiser Ludwig 15 and P. F. 2 to 1.

Only three horses showed up for the one mile race—Marplot 4 to 5, Moringa 9 to 5 and Rey del Tierra 3 to 1. This was about as pretty a race as one could wish to see.

Six two-year-olds went to the post in the five furlong dash—Gilt Edge 2 to 1, Ojal 4, Jabez 20, Miss Reel 25, Inola 150 and Gold Fin 2 to 3.

The last race of the day was six furlongs, selling, and the starters were: Distinction 6 to 1, Dolore 2 1/2, Home-stake 8, Manzanilla 3 to 2 and Wm. O'B. 11 to 5.

MRS. TEATS' TALK YESTERDAY

HER VIEWS ON MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Has a Construction of Her Own to Fit the Injunction by St. Paul.

Mrs. Mary E. Teats delivered a brief talk at the English Lutheran Church on Saturday afternoon, talking for the theme, "Home, Marriage and Divorce."

Mrs. Teats devoted considerable time to explaining what she termed the rights of women. She believed the Creator never intended to set man above her. She dwelt on the subject of ideal purity in the home, as an instance that should be maintained by man as well as woman.

Under the head of marriage, she referred to the injunction given by St. Paul on the subject, and said that if she were to construe the chapter physically, she would conclude that Paul was not an inspired man.

In speaking of divorce, the speaker attacked the laws of the State and several States bearing on the subject. While the laws of the land provide against the commission of murder and theft, they legalize the violation of the seventh commandment.

Mrs. Teats submitted that one way to settle the difficulty would be to have commissioners appointed from the several States to settle upon a law which would bind all of them. She spoke of the bill which was before the last Ohio Legislature, which named, as a bar to marriage, insanity, confirmed drunkenness, immoral reputation, and violations on felony charges, consumption and others.

The speaker also touched upon the movement to extend the suffrage to women, and recounted her experience the first time she cast her vote in Wyoming. She had been shown every courtesy, and even a number of drunken men whom she met straightened up and tried to be gentlemen.

Mrs. Teats mentioned Kansas as a prohibition State, and asserted that in that State prohibition prohibited. She had stood before a Sunday-school class of 300 young people, in a Kansas town; two-thirds of the number had never seen a saloon or a drunken man.

Mrs. Teats also spoke of the prohibition movement in Iowa, and quoted statistics to prove that under prohibition the percentage of crime was much less than since the saloon had been reopened. On that line of moral reform, she said, great steps forward had been taken, and she firmly believed that the time was not far off when every saloon in the land would be wiped out.

The speaker told how she had gone through the State of Nebraska, and seen the farmers and their wives gathering an enormous corn crop—the first in the State—that was raised from 7 to 9 cents a bushel—barely enough to pay the expenses of raising, and she had tried to think out a plan by which the farmers might get better prices.

"Very in office," Mrs. Teats said, "should be clean men. Probably you think I believe our Governor is not one of them. I do, and I'll tell you why."

Mrs. Teats favored the initiative and referendum, and said she candidly believed the time was coming when it would be incorporated in the law of the land and the people would pass upon directly, and stamp out the life from vicious measures.
