

OPENING OF LEGISLATURE.

Gage's Inauguration Will Be on January 4th.

Candidates and Their Hopes—Legislation on Various Matters That Will Be Asked For.

It will be but a few days until Sacramento and politicians from all parts of the State and there will be the excitement and hum incident to the inauguration of the new Governor, the organization of the Legislature, and the departure from office of those who have held for the last four years.

Already there are the preliminary symptoms of political excitement. Newspaper correspondents began to arrive yesterday, there were many strangers within the gates of the city, and here and there officers-elect and their known appointees were to be seen fitting from office to office—sending in patches, writing letters, submitting to interviews, indulging in whispered consultations, and doing the things that characterize men of affairs.

One of the quietest, yet busiest men in the city yesterday, was Governor-elect Gage, who was quartered at the Golden Eagle. He has little to say concerning political matters, and many of the newspaper men said that they could not get "within a thousand miles" of the new Governor when probing him on probable appointments. It was rumored that he was buried in the midst of his inaugural speech most of the day, but he charmed, and his meals sent to his rooms nor gave out the story that he was not in town, as certain other Governors in California have done. He ate his breakfast and lunch in the main dining room, and at the noon hour he gracefully submitted to brief interviews in the corridors of the hotel, pausing here and there to greet "Jim," "Bill," or "Tom" as they passed. The Governor wore a soft military hat of light color, and his manner was quite democratic in its simplicity.

Many persons sent their cards to Mr. Gage, but they were usually answered by Private Secretary Foley or Executive Secretary Davis, who were quite graceful and accommodating in their manner of receiving visitors and transacting the business that fell to them. The department of these gentlemen is dignified and charming, and they continue to comport themselves with the calm decorum that has so far characterized them they will win multitudes of friends during their residence in Sacramento.

Unlike his predecessor, the new Governor is making real in the corridors of the hotel, pausing here and there to greet "Jim," "Bill," or "Tom" as they passed. The Governor wore a soft military hat of light color, and his manner was quite democratic in its simplicity.

It seems to be settled that the inauguration of the Governor will be on the 4th. That statement was positively made to a "Record-Union" reporter by Secretary Davis yesterday. "You may say," said he, "that that date has been positively decided upon."

The air is full of rumors concerning probable appointments and candidacies for offices in the organization of the Senate and Assembly, but it may be said that very few, if any, of the sure things have yet been announced, if, indeed, absolute decisions have been made by those who have the matters in hand. The most that can be done with certainty is to name some of the more prominent candidates.

Judge G. E. Plumas and Judge L. R. Works of San Diego are prominent candidates for the Chairmanship of the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly. Dibble of San Francisco, Belshaw of Contra Costa, Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento and Valentine of Los Angeles are prominently mentioned as candidates for Chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly.

Ex-Senator William Banks of San Francisco is a prominent candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly. Major Kyle of San Francisco is prominently mentioned as a candidate for mentally mentioned as a candidate for clerk of the Assembly. For minute details of the Legislature, the same line before. Frank Brandon of San Jose is mentioned as the probable Secretary of the Senate. He has already served as such for six terms. Miss Phoebe Jones of Orange is likely to be assistant.

Lou Martin of San Francisco is prominently mentioned as a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. It is generally understood that Howard E. Wright of Alameda County will be Speaker of the Assembly. He denies from office to office—sending in patches, writing letters, submitting to interviews, indulging in whispered consultations, and doing the things that characterize men of affairs.

Of course the question of questions pertains to the election of a United States Senator. This problem and its ramifications is all-absorbing in interest, and it has already involved many politicians, journalists and others in bitter troubles, vituperations and emulations. Irving M. Scott, General W. H. L. Barnes, M. H. de Young, U. S. Grant, Colonel E. P. Preston, Senator Bulla and Daniel M. Burnes are prominently mentioned for the place.

Mr. Gage has denied that he is taking any part whatever in the Senatorial fight, though he has been accused by some of Grant's friends of favoring Burnes.

The latest wrangle has arisen between John D. Spreckels and the new Governor. The latter came out in an interview in a San Francisco paper yesterday and stated that Spreckels had asked that he be appointed a Police Commissioner in the place of Moses Gurns. Mr. Gage says that he refused to carry out his pledges to the people. He said also that he did not set the inauguration date on the 4th so that he could have the appointment of Gurns. Mr. Spreckels admits in his paper that he asked for the appointment, but says he did it to sound the Governor.

CHRISTMAS DINNER AND TREE

PROTESTANT ORPHAN ASYLUM'S CELEBRATION.

The Little Tots Were Not Forgotten and Had a Season of Great Enjoyment.

The children, big and little, at the Protestant Orphan Asylum, were a happy lot yesterday. It was the annual recurrence of their Christmas dinner and Christmas tree, long looked forward to by them and now realized, and they made the best of it. At noon the long line of tots of both sexes, big and little, marched into the dining-room like a lot of veterans, took their seats at the tables without the slightest disorder and waited patiently till the blessing was asked and they were helped, and then they fell to with a will. There was abundance of roast turkey and all the other delicacies that especially belong to Christmas cheer, and it was thoroughly appreciated.

After dinner they rested until 3 o'clock, to prepare themselves for the rest of the program. At that hour they were marshaled into the lower story, in the playground, and there introduced to two Christmas trees, ornamented in dazzling colors and filled with gifts, besides many more bulky ones that had been collected on the tables. First came a program in which the children themselves bore a prominent part, their voices swelling in unison and eliciting much applause from the friends who were present. Other and attractive numbers by grown people were rendered and much appreciated. The presents from the Christmas tree were distributed to the little ones who testified their delight and compared their prizes with pride.

The program was as follows: Chant, "The Lord's Prayer," school; song, "Welcome to Winter," Charles; song, "A Merry, Merry Christmas," school; recitation, "Harry's Letter," Fred Probert; recitation, "Christmas of the Birds," Annie Sundholm; song, "I Hang Up My Stocking," kindergarten; song, "O, Blessed Star," kindergarten; song, "The Christmas Tree," kindergarten; recitation, "A Christmas Wish," George Harnett; recitation, "The Three Kings," Laura Grumens; singing, "Have You Heard," the children lyric quartet; recitation, "At Auntie's Home," Miss May Gleason of New York; remarks, Rev. Hoskinson; doxology, school.

The Contest Denied. Judge Johnson yesterday heard arguments in the will contest over the Waterbury estate at the petition for probate of the will. The contest was denied and the will was admitted to probate as soon as some defects in the petition are amended.

Finley's Case Continued. The case of Ed Finley, charged with disturbing the Mayor's peace, was continued today.
