

HENRY SAT DOWN ON THEM HARD.

San Juan Officials Declined to Obey Him.

He Threatened to Imprison Them if They Did Not.

Then They Sent in Their Resignations, as They Had Once Before Said They Would Do—The Commission Appointed For Cuba and Porto Rico Preparing to Leave For the Islands.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Feb. 19.—The Mayor and majority of the Municipal Council of San Juan have tendered their resignations.

A few days ago the question of killing cattle for municipal consumption was referred to General Guy V. Henry, Governor-General of Porto Rico.

General Henry thereupon told them if they did not stop trifling and obey orders he would have them imprisoned.

A meeting of the council was held today and the Mayor and council members tendered their resignations.

Considerable feeling has been excited by the incident.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The commission named by the President to consider questions pertaining to the civil affairs in Cuba and Porto Rico is busily engaged in completing preparations to leave for the islands.

Henry C. Curtis, a member of the commission, has not arrived yet from Iowa, but George Kennedy and Charles W. Watson, the other members, are proceeding with the work.

The chief questions before them are those of taxation, public schools, public highways and franchises for private enterprises.

At present the commission is in the island, but the former laws have been suspended.

With a view to preparing and recommending a desirable system for property taxation the commission is making a complete compilation of the tax laws of the several States.

The plan will be agreed upon after the members of the commission have visited the islands and personally given their conditions thorough study.

The question of public schools and highways will receive early attention, but it will be necessary to give more immediate attention to the applications for franchises which have accumulated in great mass through the War Department.

All applications for franchises of a quasi public nature are referred by the department to the commission and the latter must pass upon them.

To date, the capital represented by the applications on file aggregate $80,000,000, among the applications being one for the construction of a railway from the eastern to the western end of Cuba.

The distance is 600 miles. The commission has not determined upon its itinerary, but it probably will go first to Cuba.

NICARAGUAN REBELLION.

FOREIGNERS ARE SUPPORTING THE INSURGENTS.

Tyranny of President Zelaya Was What Has Caused the Rising.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—A special to the "Times-Herald" from Mobile says: The fruit steamer Sunniva of the Bluefields Banana Company arrived at that port, Nicaragua, with the following advices up to February 15th:

General Mena has been for three days above Rama with 700 insurgents. It is reported that the Liberals are coming under Irenon Estrada. Formis Diaz, Liberal leader, was wounded and captured with fifteen followers above Rama by an insurgent force under the Rough Rider scout, Sansen.

A battle is expected here in a few days. General Reyes' boats have been returned from Greytown to defend this place. The man-of-war San Jacinto is also here.

Three hundred Americans from Cuba are due here to join the insurgent (Conservative) forces. Gatling, Krupp and Hotchkiss guns are also expected here as additions to the insurgent arms.

Greytown was surrounded by the Rough Riders and the guns were left. A force of Liberals is at that place. Colonel G. W. Winchester, Chief of Police at Puerto Barrios, has joined Reyes. Four hundred men are awaiting Reyes' arrival in Granada to flock to his standard.

The Conservatives are volunteers and engage in their ordinary tasks during the day, while ready at any time to respond to the bugle call. If a choice were given them they would prefer Clarence, the exiled Chieftain, to President Zelaya.

The foreigners here support the Conservatives. Order is generally prevailing. The Norwegian and British vessels that were impressed by the insurgents to carry troops have been released.

The Liberal Espinoza says the revolution will last only a month. Among the leaders of the movement the steamer Sunniva was Adam Espinoza of Bluefields, nephew of General Juan P. Reyes, the revolutionary leader.

Senator Espinoza states that his uncle, General Reyes, had proclaimed himself provisional President of Nicaragua, had armed the Mosquito Indians in the country and with the aid of Americans in the Bluefields had probably an army of 900 or 1,000 men. The Government at Managua, Espinoza learned, has sent 800 men to attack Reyes at Bluefields.

The troops under Reyes had gone up the river to Rama, and the insurgents in Bluefields, to meet Zelaya's force, and it was probable that a battle had already been fought.

Senator Espinoza says the cause of the discontent against President Zelaya is widespread and well-grounded. His uncle had heretofore been an intimate friend and supporter of Zelaya, but recently he had not been able to approve nor support Zelaya's conduct as President.

In addition to levying tariff taxes on the eastern coast, Zelaya has caused to be arrested the leading industrialists of the country and declaring them to be enemies of the Republic, had caused them to be mulcted in fines, in most instances equivalent to their entire available capital.

The departmental fiscal agent failed to collect the fines and the unfortunate were committed to the penitentiary without trial or form of law, placed in chain and kept incommunicado, in many cases denied food or water, until the fine was paid, which, in all cases, purged the prisoners of their declared treason.

Esposito says these acts have estranged the good people of the Republic from Zelaya and that Reyes confidently looks forward for support from the Conservative party of the Republic.

Esposito says he learned before leaving Bluefields that the Honduran Government has dispatched men and arms from Tegucigalpa to Zelaya's aid. The Honduran allies were said to be commanded by General Surra, a General under Borliva.

SEATTLE, Feb. 19.—The "Post-Intelligencer" today publishes the facsimile of a Spanish document which shows that the Spanish were in actual military possession of Vancouver Island between 1790 and 1792.

It is stated that the document, if it had been in possession of Emperor William of Germany when he submitted the Canadian boundary between England and the United States, would have incontestably proved the right of the United States to Vancouver Island. The document in question is a report of Pedro Alberni upon the condition of his forces on his return from Nookka Bay to Mexico in 1792.

The original document, which is now in Seattle, was sold to a British citizen over forty years ago, and it has been withheld for personal reasons.

He Will Go to Europe to Try to Enlist Sympathy There.

MONTREAL, Feb. 19.—Senator Agoncillo and Senator Marti left Montreal this evening for New York en route to London, expecting to call on Wednesday. Their decision to depart was sudden. terat the powers of Europe in the Philippines. In the meantime, Rios and Rivera will remain here and put in a week educating Canadians in the social status and ambitions of the Philippines. Then they expect to follow Agoncillo to Europe.

ARMY REORGANIZATION.

WAR DEPARTMENT'S STATEMENT CONCERNING IT.

Shows the Relative Merits of the Cockrell and Hull Bills.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—A statement from the War Department on pending army legislation and the needs of the service was issued to-day. In part it is as follows: "On Monday the Senate will take up what is now conceded to be the most important subject before Congress—the reorganization of the regular army. The Military Committee has submitted two bills for its consideration. One of these, the House (known as the Hull) bill, is reported with few amendments by its Chairman, Senator Hawley, an expert in matters relating to military organization. It has been perfected by the committee, including the Democratic members, in several particulars; the most noteworthy and valuable being, perhaps, the provision increasing the corps of cadets by 100 and insuring an adequate source of supply for vacant Second Lieutenantcies. The measure preserves the present organization and slightly strengthens the cavalry, augments the artillery and organizes that arm on a scientific basis.

In our opinion, gives to the infantry the much needed three battalion organization and makes only such additions to the staff as are absolutely indispensable.

"The other bill is brought forward by Senator Cockrell. Its first section disbands the volunteer army within a specified period after the peace treaty with Germany is ratified by Spain. Sections 2 and 3 contain its principal provisions. By the former authority is conferred for continuing the regular army at its war strength until July 1, 1901, while the third section authorizes the President to raise military forces to the number of 35,000 in Cuba, Porto Rico and the islands of the Pacific, to be known, respectively, as the Army of Cuba, the Army of Porto Rico and the Army of the Islands of the Pacific, to be composed of the inhabitants of such islands. No organization is provided in the bill for this force, nor does it determine what relation it shall sustain toward the permanent military establishment of the United States and no professional, educational or other test is prescribed for the persons who are to officer it.

"The bill does not provide for any additional general officers greatly needed in the administration of affairs in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. It would leave the army as now organized with but three Major Generals and six Brigadier Generals, which allows but one general officer for each of the military departments in the United States and one for Commanding General of the army."

The criticism that has been passed upon the department has been the absence of sufficiently trained staff officers. The Cockrell amendment would perpetuate this alleged lameness. The Hawley bill fixes the permanent military establishment at the minimum of 50,000, a force less in proportion to population and wealth of country than fixed by any other Act of Congress. The passage of the Hawley bill would enable the department to meet this urgent requirement and also to re-establish the schools at Fort Leavenworth, the artillery school at Fort Riley, all of which are now closed for the want of officers. The passage of the Cockrell bill would discharge at once all the volunteer quartermasters, medical officers, commissaries, among whom are officers of the regular army holding volunteer commissions and would leave the department with a corps of officers wholly inadequate for the increased demands that are being made from every quarter. The bill reported by Senator Hawley provides only for the absolute needs of the service, on lines of efficiency and economy.

It was at the instance of Mr. Hull, prepared under the supervision of the Adjutant General of the army, of General Schwan, Colonel Carter, Majors Helstead, Johnston and Simpson, officers of long service and high ability. The passage of the Hawley bill would give promotion to officers that have earned it by the hardest and most gallant officers must go without reward beyond a sense of duty well done.

The statement concludes as follows: "The natives of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines do not understand our purposes and ways of government sufficiently to admit of their being made part of our military establishment to the extent of organizing them into companies, battalions and regiments at once. Our officers of greatest experience with them are of this opinion. In time this could doubtless be done, but it will require education. By degrees a company could be given to a regiment; further on a battalion could be added, and in time, things working well, regiments could be organized, but it will take time, so much time, that for the uses of the immediate present and some time in the future, they could not be wisely counted as affording any considerable strength to the service, however many might be provided for by a Congressional Act. They are a possible factor of the future, but not for the present."

Plaudit, with 125 pounds in the Brooklyn, and 122 pounds in the Suburban, has a pound more in each event than that speedy filly, Briar Sweet.

St. Cloud 118 in the Brooklyn and 119 in the Suburban, on the strength of his performances in England, is considered a match for The Huguenot, whose weights are the same, and Voter gets in for a few pounds less. As compared with Banaster, George Boyd, Warrenton, Previous, Sailor King, Firearm and Candlerack, the Western four-year-olds Lieber Karl and Pink Coat are pretty heavily weighted.
