

SHAFTER'S NEPHEW SPEAKS.

HE ARRIVES IN THIS CITY FROM SANTIAGO.

Tells Many Interesting Things, and Says There Is Yet Much Trouble Ahead.

Captain J. H. Aldrich of Company F, Ninth United States Infantry (Immunes), arrived in Sacramento yesterday. He is a nephew of General Shafter, and only recently came from Santiago, where he has seen service since the beginning of the war with the Spaniards.

Captain Aldrich was fully interviewed by a "Record-Union" reporter on July 28th, at which time he was quarantined in his family here during his absence, and, though he has dodged reporters all over the country, he submitted to an interview again last night, because, he said, "I've been treated right by your paper."

At the outset the Captain flatly refused to say anything about the question, except that he asserted that the reconcentrados are getting fat on American beef. In the same breath he remarked that the health of the soldiers is good in spite of the fact that they are in the yellow fever belt during the yellow fever season. He has great faith in American sanitary science.

"Though the Philippine question now overshadows all Cuban matters," he said, "I want to prophesy that our trouble in Cuba has scarcely begun. It is just dawdling on the people there that Uncle Sam has never said a word about letting go his hold of the country; and I agree with Uncle Bill (meaning General Shafter) that there'll be trouble all along the line, but Cuba will be a paying investment in the long run; and rich countries like that'll bring us in $100 for every dollar we spend there."

Captain Aldrich was detailed to sit on a court of claims soon after the battles on Cuban soil, and he has been busy for months helping to investigate claims against the United States. He said that he has scarcely begun. It is just dawdling on the people there that Uncle Sam has never said a word about letting go his hold of the country; and I agree with Uncle Bill (meaning General Shafter) that there'll be trouble all along the line, but Cuba will be a paying investment in the long run; and rich countries like that'll bring us in $100 for every dollar we spend there."

Captain Aldrich denounced the sensational methods of Richard Harding Davis and Sylvester Seovel, correspondents, who, he says, tried to write lurid dime novel stories about the war and pass their stories off as history. He said Davis was bombastic and unpopular, while Seovel was impudent and void of the instincts of a gentleman; that he tried to force his way beyond the lines at the Santiago flag raising, for which he was arrested and sent to general Shafter, and afterward hustled beyond the country.

"How do you slap General Shafter," said the Captain, "for he was fully six feet away; and I will say here that if he had slapped the General he would have paid for it dearly, but I won't say just how."

"How about Richard Harding Davis?" "As to Richard Harding Davis' criticisms of General Shafter," was the reply, "they are beneath serious notice, but one point I'll mention. He says the General erred in entering Santiago by Siboney instead of by the railroad. Now, I've gone over every inch of the grounds in question, and photographed them, and I will simply say that to have marched the men down there—even if there had been a million of them—would have been like sending men four abreast into a tunnel, with the enemy at the other end with rapid fire guns. Not a man would have reached Santiago Davis' way, unless Spanish ammunition had been exhausted."

"How do you account for the correspondent's animosity to General Shafter?" "Twas this way," came the reply. "When the troops started for Santiago Davis was aboard the Seguravilla with the General; and when they were about to land Davis said: 'In a writer of renown, known all over the world as a high grade novelist, and I represent the leading journals of America, for which reasons I think I'm entitled to a great deal of consideration, and I want to stand in the bow of the first boat that lands, and be the first man to step on Cuban soil.'"

"Shafter told him he did not care how great he was as Richard Davis, etc., etc., but that the purpose of the expedition was to conquer Cuba with soldiers, and that a soldier would be the first man to step on Cuban soil. Davis said that the General of the army could not accede to the request, for the reason that such favoritism would not be just to other correspondents. Well, ever since that moment Davis has been furious at the General, and as he is a most bombastic and self-conceited fellow he's never quit lying and abusing for a moment."

The soldier had nothing but praise for Fighting Joe Wheeler, whom he pronounced a brave man, a hero and a gentleman. A somewhat remarkable statement made by General Shafter's nephew was the following concerning the Cubans: "They are usually thought to be chumps," he said, "but, I will say that 1,000 Cubans of the better type, placed alongside of 1,000 Americans, picked up hot-potch from all over the United States, would outrank the Americans."

Nature makes the cures after all. Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out. Things get started in the wrong direction. Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with hypophosphites can do just this. It strengthens the nerves, feeds famished tissues, and makes rich blood.

If women are foolish it's because they were made to be the companions of men.

ALL BUT A FEW.

Company E's Membership Roll is Nearly Full.

That the reorganization of Company E, Second Infantry, N. G. C., will be completed and the roll accepted by the State within a few days, is now a certainty. There has been some slight hesitancy on the part of the members of the old organization to re-enlist, but they kept coming in, and only a few names are needed to bring the company up to the required number of fifty. The smoker given by the boys of the company at their quarters in Army Hall last evening was a jolly affair. There were cards for those who were lovers of whist; there were pipes for those who preferred to think (and smoke); there was drilling for recruits; there was speech-making galore, and there was a jolly, good time for all present.

And as the evening wore on the rolls filled up, and what Company E still lacks will, it is believed, be more than made up at the camp. The boys of the Army and Navy League at Pythian Hall to-night, and at which the men of Company F volunteers, will appear in uniform.

The new names enrolled last evening brought the number up to forty, and before the end of the week the officers of the company expect to be able to hand the rolls in to the Adjutant General and ask for admission into the National Guard. The returns must be sent in giving each officer the rank he held when mustered into the volunteer service. Thus, Captain John T. Hughes, who was a Lieutenant in the old company, will be reported as Lieutenant and not as Captain, to which position he was promoted while in the volunteer service, and Lieutenant C. C. King, late of Battery Heavy Artillery, will go on the roll as Sergeant.

Fifteen of the signers of the company's rolls were members of Company F volunteers; seventeen were members of the old company—E—and ten are new men. The names of the forty men who have signed the roll follow:

- Leutenant J. A. McMartin, Lieutenant John L. Hughes, Sergeant Pollard, Corporal B. F. Nutting, Corporal W. C. Measure, Corporal C. C. King, Corporal M. L. Perkins, and Privates F. F. Cannon, Fred Gunter, John L. Sykes, Nelson D. Westfall, James Friche, Ed Latham, Francis M. Poole, W. L. Thompson, Albert Fisher, Charles M. Gunther, Ed L. Ried, M. B. Adams, Mayberry, Frank L. Stack, Lewis L. Shearer, Frank L. Ross, Joseph W. Baker, Loyd Moore, John L. Sykes, Howard B. Goslin, Judson Smith, Ed Glaner, Oscar J. Addison, James Crowley, Charles Gardner, Frank A. Garder, Charles H. Steigler, F. C. Korell, Bert Beasley, H. F. Wilson, John B. Flockenstein, F. A. Townsend, F. E. Ficheno, Alex. A. Silva, Charles S. Radonich.

VETERANS ENTERTAINED.

Nothing Was Too Good for the Old Soldiers.

The reception and entertainment given to the veterans of the former Company No. 1, to the veterans of Summer Post, No. 3, G. A. R., at Forrester's Hall last evening, was a pronounced success in every particular. It was rather in the nature of a fraternal visit on the part of the veterans, and they were right royally entertained.

An excellent program had been arranged, which was thoroughly appreciated by all. It consisted of a piano solo by William Adams; recitation, Miss Burton; piano solo, Mrs. Kerr; piano solo, Miss Pearl Jackson; piano duet, Mrs. Deane and Boyd; recitation, Mr. Deane. Most of the numbers were encored.

At the conclusion of the regular program a number of the veterans of the post were called on for remarks, and they were as prompt as in the early days. They responded to a call for a different kind of service.

After all had been said the veterans were escorted to the banquet-room where hot coffee and a bounteous repast was served.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Clunie Opera-house Monday evening next the Belasco-Thall Company from the Alcazar Theater, San Francisco, will open for a week's entertainment at popular prices. Monday evening and Saturday night the troupe will present "The Girl I Left Behind Me"; Tuesday, the curtain-raiser "Lost for a Day"; and the three-act drama, "The First Born"; Wednesday evening Sol Smith Russell's drama "Peace-ful Men"; Thursday, "The Man With a Past"; Friday, "In Idaho"; Sunday, "The Man With a Past"; Saturday matinee, "The First Born"; and "Yellow Roses." The company is well known. At the head are the favorite and finished actor, George Osborne, and Miss Gertrude Foster, an accomplished and rising actress who comes commended by the press in strong terms. The support consists of Frank Denton, Russell Bassett, Charles Bates, Frank H. Crane, Asa Lee Willard, Frank Thompson, Gerald Howell, William Curtin, Ward Skilton, James Horne, A. Theo. Hall, Daisy Grogan, Ida Banning, Mrs. George Osborne, Mai Wells, Little Venie.

The company will be under the immediate management of Louis Morgenstern, one of the best known and most accomplished and thorough managers of the day whose long experience fits him admirably for the direction of this troupe. The company has given in each of the plays listed for Sacramento to crowded houses in San Francisco recently, and the present tour through the interior has been a phenomenal success, if we are to believe the Fresno, Stockton and the press of other interior cities. The variety the company gives here ought to be satisfying to all tastes. "The Girl I Left Behind Me" is a military drama on the Indian frontier, with fine mountain scenery and thrilling and realistic situations, and through it all a charming love story. "Lost for a Day" is a charming one-act drama in parlor setting, full of pretty sentiment and being a pretty story. "The First Born" is the famous Chinese play given here, but will bear seeing a half dozen times. Most of the cast on this occasion will be of those who created the parts in the play two years or more ago. "Peaceful Men" is a quaint, dry-wit comedy, which Sol Smith Russell has made famous. "A Man With a Past" is an amusing farce-comedy, bubbling over with clean fun. "In Idaho" is George Osborne's great play with Bret Arne's idyl, "Gabrielle Coray," and is conceded to be one of the strongest dramas of the time. "The Man With a Past" is an amusing drama full of crisp humor and merry situations. It is all in parlor setting. The company brings a carload of scenery from the Alcazar Theater, San Francisco. The box office is open for reservation of seats to-morrow morning.
