

Little Folks

Our Little Ones (now incorporated in the Record-Union) is a weekly magazine for the young people of the city.

Health for the current month (Alameda County), published by Dr. Burke is at hand, and has this table of contents besides the regular departments: "History of Mechanotherapy," "Fruit as Food," "Hindrances to Health and the Advancement of Sanitary Science," "Cholera," "Metaphysically Considered," "The Care of the Skin," "To prevent Diphtheria," "The Physician's Study," "Social Health," "Woman in the Home," "The Cooking-School," "Queries."

Cooking, in its every-day phases, and also as a fine art, is among the attractions always held out by "Table Talk," and in the April issue the recipes; the menus, with the outline of their practical application; the notes on serving and table decorations; an article on "Spring Fruit," a study of the Docks; of special interest to housekeepers. The magazine is also publishing a series of papers on the helpful books to read preparatory to a trip to Europe at the time of the exposition. Other articles are: "Easter Time," by Lucy Elliott Keeler; "The Ethics of Shopping," by Mrs. Burton Kingsland; "A Curious California Clam," Isabel M. Winslow; "Mothers Who Need Help and How to Keep Them," etc. The Table Talk Publishing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

The current number of "The Arena" (Boston) has among other papers these articles: "The Paullist Fathers and Their Work," Ruth Everett; "The Origin of Race Antagonism," Rt. Rev. James T. Holly, Bishop of Hayti; "Is There a Negro Problem?" Professor W. H. Council, Ph. D.; "Disfranchisement as a Remedy," J. M. Garrison; "The Possibility of Racial Amalgamation," W. S. McCurdy; "Educational Possibilities," Booker T. Washington; "Spanish Character Studies," Felix L. Oswald; "The Failure of the Death Penalty," Hon. C. G. Garrison; "The League for Social Justice," William H. Tolman; "Possibilities of the Moral Law," Horatio W. Dresser; "In a Manager's Office" (a story), Alfred Henninger, Ph. D.; "Russia's March on Europe," S. Ivan Todoroff.

"Trained Motherhood" for April (New York) is rich in suggestive and helpful papers—too numerous to catalogue here. We have seen no better number of this invaluable magazine.

"Two Sweethearts of Mine" is a song received from the publishers. It is melodious and words are so melodious and pretty that we reprint the chorus: One has hair of silvery gray, The other just like gold, One is gay and the other is old, One dearer than life are both to me, And from neither will I ever be free, One is my mother, God bless her I love The other is my sweetheart.

This song complete, words and music, is in sheet form by The Groene Music Publishing Company, Cincinnati, O.

The current number of the "Quarterly Journal of Economics" (Geo. H. Ellis, Boston), has these papers: "The Theory of Savers' Rent and Some of its Applications," C. W. Mixer; "The Study of Practical Labor Problems in France," William F. Willoughby; "The Gas Supply of Boston" (H. H. John H. Gray); "Can We Keep a Gold Currency?" Charles F. Dunbar; "Recent Railway Legislation in Kansas," Frank Haigh Dixon; "The Twelfth Census," Carroll D. Wright; "Comparative Municipal Statistics," John Archibald Fairlie. Recent Publications Upon Economics.

An unusually interesting portrait of the late Stephen Johnson Field, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, appears in the current issue of "Harper's Weekly." It is drawn from life by the well-known artist Arthur Jules Goodman, whose skillful pencil has produced a faithful likeness. A brief but comprehensive review of the late Justice's life accompanies the picture. Street cleaning in Havana has made rapid strides under the able tutelage of American experts. Franklin Matthews, a special correspondent for the "Weekly," after a careful study of the situation, writes in the current issue, that Havana's streets are as clean as those of New York City under the Tammany regime. He cites many of the problems that confront General Ludlow and Colonel Black in their effort to purify one of the dirtiest cities in the world.

The last art exhibition is now being held in the old building of the Academy of Design, New York. It is the spring exhibition of oil paintings, and in the current issue of "Harper's Bazar" Charles H. Caffin, in an article profusely illustrated, describes the pictures. In the same number of the "Bazar" Colonel Thomas W. Higginson writes of "The English Gentleman."

Companion" contain a number of the special articles and stories engaged last year for the 1899 volume. In the issue for the week of April 6th appears "The Flood in Number Three," in which Homer Greene recalls an instance of the herodism of rivers. The issue for the week of April 13th contains Sir Clements Markham's article with the fascinating title, "Opportunities for Young Explorers," and the first installment of Charles Adams' story of "A Boy's Expedition." Hon. Carroll D. Wright's article, "Where Living is Cheapest," appears in the issue for the week of April 20th, and in that for April 27th Surgeon General Wyman describes the United States quarantine service in an article entitled, "Maritime Quarantine."

The current number of "The Black Cat" (Boston) has these complete stories: "The Stolen Sky-Scraper," Frank Lillie Pollock; "The Mysterious Book," W. Macpherson Wiltbank; "The Bicycle That Ran Itself," F. W. Sage; "The White House of Miss Polly," Johanna Duran; "The White Jack Rabbit," A. W. Disposit.

The current number of the "New England Magazine" (Boston), freely and handsomely illustrated, has these leading features: "The New England Ballistae Bate," The Early History of Children's Books in New England, Charles Welsh; "Through an Old Southern County," Calvin Dill Wilson; "A Forgotten Danger to the New England Colonies," Frank Strong; "The Southern Old Salem," Max Bennett Thraher; "Samuel May of Leicester," John White Chadwick; "Anti-Slavery Times in Plymouth," Abby Morison Diaz; "Connington, Connecticut, Illustrated," Henry Robinson; "Hiram's Majority," a story, Harriet A. Nash.

The illustrated articles of the April magazine number of "The Outlook" (New York) include one by F. Marion Crawford, the famous novelist, on "Le XIII," a French novel; and an article on M. Loubet by Elbert F. Baldwin, called "A Peasant President"; "The Face of Christ in Art," a collection of opinions from prominent clergymen of all denominations, with many reproductions of famous paintings; a somewhat unusual poem called "The Violin," which has four full-page pictures; and a curiously entertaining article by W. H. Richardson, called "A Day With the Pennsylvania Amish." There are also several important unillustrated articles, of which the most is the article by Charles B. Spahr in his series "America's Working People" and the usual full news, editorial and critical departments. "The Outlook" continues to be unique in that it is at the same time a monthly illustrated magazine and a weekly newspaper in one.

"Gunter's Magazine" for April (New York) has these papers in addition to the "Institute work" and notes: "The League for Social Justice," William H. Tolman; "Possibilities of the Moral Law," Horatio W. Dresser; "In a Manager's Office" (a story), Alfred Henninger, Ph. D.; "Russia's March on Europe," S. Ivan Todoroff.

"The American German Review" (New York) is a new monthly magazine richly and freely illustrated, and edited with marked ability. It is typographically very handsome. Its leadings papers are: "Germania Sends Us Our Best Citizens," Mrs. John Sherwood; "Soldier Song," by Johann Wolfgang von Goethe; "Lombard and Max," by old Goethe; "The Triple Alliance of the Future," A. C. Wheeler (Nym Crinkle); "Princess Pretzel," Kate Masterson; "Germans That Helped to Make the Great West," Ludlow Brownell; "Makers of American Industries," Hon. Chas. A. Schieren; "Jos. Howard, Jr., German Hero of the Revolution," Historical; "Alma Mater, Dum Vivimus Te Salutamus," a boater of souvenirs by the Alumni of Göttingen; "Germany's Relations with America," Hon. John J. Sawyer; "The German Artist and Man," Vance Thompson; "Ships That Made Trade for America," James B. Townsend; "Vierlanden," Walter O. Eschwege; "American Trade Opportunities in Germany," Daniel T. Pierce; "Books and Writers," a Review of the Important Publications, James Hings-ton.

"The Living Age" (Boston) comes weekly to hand, and the best eclectic magazine of the world. It presents weekly the cream of current English literature of both worlds, with translations from German and French current literature also. No magazine of the world comes to the "Record-Union" so highly prized.

The four April issues of "The Youth's Companion" contain a number of the special articles and stories engaged last year for the 1899 volume. In the issue for the week of April 6th appears "The Flood in Number Three," in which Homer Greene recalls an instance of the herodism of rivers. Fair Oaks Letter. (Correspondence Record-Union.) Miss Jessie Pierce, who had been spending a few weeks at San Francisco, has returned.

Mrs. Bell's flowers and children have come up from San Francisco to spend the summer on her place. Messrs. Watkins & Phillips have been very active in getting plants growing in the new nursery which they have started in this place. Mr. Watkins has started many rare tropical plants which have never been grown in California. A fine shower Monday evening made everything look very refreshing. Alfalfa cutting of the first crop is nearly finished.

The irrigation of the land is now arranged in runs. The first run takes the water for seven days, beginning the 24th. This will prove a great advantage over the former method of watering the plants. Professor Loughridge's lecture on "The Conservation of Moisture in the Soil" will save much irrigation for those who apply his instructions. In fact, the information furnished at the late institute will be of very great value to this community. Growing out of this there will be organization for the purpose of securing such advantages as can come by no other way. Mr. Weinstein gave a practical address on this idea of organization, which will not be lost.

Mr. O'Donnell, wife and child spent a day in Sacramento this week in company with S. W. Pilcher of Orangevale. The planting of trees has been going on for the past two weeks with great energy. Three carloads of oranges have arrived, besides the many loads arriving by teams from the adjacent nurseries. The olive planting is also going to be very large this season. The pomelo is not so popular as last year in this place. Mr. Sitt's house is being moved to the community, but Mr. Sitt has some varieties of apricots which are heavily loaded with fruit. His almonds trees are also well loaded.

THIS BEAUTIFUL HAIR IS THE RESULT OF CUTICURA AND CUTICURA SOAP. I have washed my child's head every week since birth, with warm water and CUTICURA SOAP, and occasionally rub in a little CUTICURA (ointment), and she has never been bothered with a rash or any scalp humor peculiar to infants. Now at the age of three and one-half years her hair is fine, thick and long, reaching below her waist when standing erect. Mrs. C. GRAHAM, 1087 No. California Ave., Chicago, Ill.

How Emery is Quarried. Emery comes from the island of Naxos, in the Eastern Mediterranean, whence it has been exported for the last two centuries or more. The beds are in the northeast of the island, the deposits descending into some of the neighboring islands, the emery being found in lenticular masses, resting on layers of schist in limestone, almost identical with Parian marble, the finest marble known, which comes from the island of Paros, close by. There are about 300 men engaged in the trade, all of whom have to be married before they are admitted to the fraternity. The material is much too hard to be dug out, or even blasted. Great fires are lighted around the blocks till the natural cracks expand with the heat, and levers are then inserted to pry them apart. This system is continued until the blocks are reduced in size to masses of a cubic foot or less, and they are then shipped as if they were coal. There are said to be 20,000,000 tons yet available at Naxos, and the last reported year's export was $1,000,000. The hardest substances known—Ironmongery.

Our high respect for a well-read man is praise enough for literature.—Emerson.

WHAT OTHERS SAY. The Words of Friends are Genuine and Reliable. It is easy for people to talk about themselves and state what they may have done, but it is far better to have other people speak for you. The words which follow are the frank expressions of people who know of what they speak.

Mr. John K. Chase, Amesbury, Mass., says: "For some six years past my wife has been suffering from nervous prostration. For years she was troubled with insomnia and nothing recommended by the most eminent physicians would induce sleep. Under the advice of physicians she recently tried Duffy's Malt Whiskey in small quantities, and with the most satisfactory results. While Mrs. Chase has always been staunch in her adherence to principles and consistent in practice, she has no hesitation in recommending to invalids who need a gentle stimulant Duffy's Malt Whiskey. I have used it myself for the past two years, having suffered from severe headaches and nervous prostration. I have been very much relieved by the use of the whiskey and have gained seventeen pounds in weight." The above statements speak for themselves.
