RECEIVED TRAVEL PAY. Not in Any Way Responsible for Discharged Troops.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—It is stated at the War Department that there are no discharged troops in Porto Rico to which the Government is responsible in any way.

When Secretary Alger was in Porto Rico a large number of men who had enlisted in the regular army for the war with Spain asked to be discharged.

and in lieu of being returned to the United States by the Government to receive travel pay in money. It was believed that these men would settle in the island and go to work to improve the conditions.

It is supposed that the money that was paid to them, amounting to two or three hundred dollars each, has been expended, and they are now without means of subsistence.

The Adjutant-General telegraphed General Davis to-day asking him if there were any discharged men there who had not been paid off.

It is the intention of the department to pay such men once. Most of the men discharged from the regular organizations have returned at different times on Government transports to the United States.

Strikers Return to Work. KANSAS CITY, May 15.—A special to the "Star" from Pittsburg, Kan., says: A majority of the coal miners in this district, ordered out last week by National President Marshall of the U. M. W. A., went to work to-day as usual.

A peculiar phase of the agitation is noticed in the fact that it is principally the union men who are opposed to a strike, and that the majority of the non-union men are in favor of it. Mass meetings were held in various camps yesterday, and were well attended, and the anti-strike feeling was freely expressed at all of them.

Do not put off the duty that ought to be done to-day. If your blood is out of order take Hood's Sarsaparilla at once.

STUFFED DATES. San Bernardino, June 1, 1899. Years ago a friend of mine, Catherine Denny brought from India the recipe for stuffed dates prepared for the Rajah of the city where she had resided. The recipe was often used by the family, and Miss Denny, at her mother's suggestion, concluded to sell some of the dainty confection to sell some of the dainty confection.

She went to wholesaler who had been inquiring for just such sweetmeats. He proposed that she supply him with dates stuffed with English walnuts, and gave her immediately all the work she could do in fact, more than she could do alone.

The little building was fitted up and the work done on a large scale. There are in the house three rooms in which now work the seeders, stuffers and packers. The dates, which come in large boxes, are unpacked, the seeds removed, and in the "stuffing room" a quarter of

LONDON MILLINERY!

On Thursday, May 18th, WE SHALL EXHIBIT THIRTY Beautiful Imported Hats and Bonnets Direct from England

These hats and bonnets were bought for us by our specially appointed representative in London and shipped direct to Sacramento per steamship "St. Paul" to New York and from there by rail.

This is the London season, and it is just such hats as these that are being worn this May by the fashionable people of the world's greatest city.

The hats present many pleasing new ideas, while the color combinations are perfect.

This is the first time that any such collection of London millinery has ever been brought to Sacramento, and we are sure that it will prove educational as well as highly interesting to all who visit it.

A special feature of the collection is the fact that it includes some very attractive small bonnets for middle aged women.

Agriculture and Horticulture.

The following news will be read with pleasure by all who are interested in agriculture and horticulture, two great local industries.

BOGUS FRUIT JUICES. Riverside Press: The New York Legislature has just passed a most important law against bogus fruit juices, which is of marked interest to California fruit-growers.

The Act, which has been approved by Governor Roosevelt, is as follows: "Any person who shall knowingly sell, offer or expose for sale, or give away, any compound or preparation composed in whole or in part of any other natural fruits, representing such compound or preparation to be the pure, unadulterated and unfermented juice of any of such fruits; or who, in the mixing, decoction or preparation of food or drink shall knowingly use any such compound or preparation in place of, or as a substitute for, the pure, unadulterated and unfermented juice of one or more of such fruits, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $250, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

It is well known that in soda fountains, and in various food and drink preparations all sorts of stuff is served up under the name of pure fruit juices, and many of the compounds not only are untrue to name, but they are composed of chemicals injurious to health. It is obviously in the interest of the public health and incidentally highly important to the people who produce fruit, that these alleged fruit products should be "busted out" of the markets.

When one buys lemon juice he wants lemon juice and not some cheap and hurtful preparation of some acid flavored to imitate lemon; and when he buys apple jelly, he wants some guarantee that he is getting the genuine article and not some concoction of doctored gelatine. This New York law, if enforced, will make the manufacture of these bogus compounds unsafe and unprofitable; and the fruit-growers will rise up and call the New York Legislature and its level-headed young Governor blessed.

STANISLAUS CANALS. Modesto News: At last it can be definitely stated that the Turlock Canal through the heavier part of it is an accomplished fact. Water is now running steadily through the waste gate at the Dallas ranch near Hickman. This proves that canal work from the dam to the plains has been placed in a substantial condition and will hold water. The water was first turned in from Dawson Lake on Tuesday last and on Thursday last was turned in from the head gates at the La Grange dam. The flow that was turned on at the La Grange dam was sixteen inches deep at a width of fourteen feet. At Dawson Lake six inches of the water was run into the lake to store water to take the place of what had been drained from it, and the remaining ten inches sent down stream. The water reached the waste gate at noon yesterday and was gradually growing in size during the afternoon and by midnight the entire force of ten inches was coming down. The force will be gradually increased from the head gates until four feet of water will be turned in. It is intended now to keep the water permanently in the canal as far as the waste gate. A large force of men are stationed along the line to watch the equilibrium holes as the water rises and by preventing them from washing through no fear is entertained but that the canal will hold the water. All of the ravines on the head of the canal have been cemented to a width of one foot in addition to a double batten of boards from the bed rock which is surely strong enough to hold the water. Quite a number of people visited the waste gate yesterday to see the water running through. The waste gate dumps the water back into the Tuolumne River from a bluff about 100 feet high. The drop has four breakfalls so the force is broken in the fall. The woodwork of the gate is securely cabled to the bluff so that it does not seem possible for it to break out.

S. J. Ervin was in town to-day and he informed us that the water in the canal rose much higher than the waste gates could run off, which was caused by the rapid flow of the water at the head of the canal, and this morning the gates into the main canal were opened and the water allowed to run down the main ditch. At noon it reached the Hickman drop, about a mile from the head of the canal. A number of shad came down the canal with the water and some were caught by hand. They must have got into the canal from Dawson Lake.
