

FINALLY GETS TO A TRIAL.

THE VON LOBEN SELS-BUNNELL CASE.

Points Involved in the Suit for Pay for Pumping Drainage Water.

The trial of the suit brought by P. J. Von Loben Sels to recover $1,800 from C. Bunnell and others for pumping drainage water in Reclamation District No. 551, was commenced in Judge Hughes' court yesterday.

From the testimony taken it seems that Von Loben Sels entered into a contract with Bunnell to pump the drainage from a 100-acre tract of land for a period of six years for $3 per acre per year.

The testimony of Von Loben Sels was to the effect that at no time during the pumping season of 1894-5-6-7 did the water reach the five-foot mark on the gauge, and his attorney held that that was sufficient evidence that he had complied with his part of the contract.

H. C. Ross, attorney for Bunnell, and Devlin & Devlin, attorneys for the Germania Building and Loan Association, claimed that, as much of the time during the seasons mentioned the water had been low and no pumping was necessary, the plaintiff could not recover on the contract, inasmuch as he had had little pumping to do.

After the evidence for the plaintiff was in the attorneys for the defense moved for a nonsuit, which was denied. The attorneys for the Building and Loan Association attempted to introduce evidence to show that the association, and not Von Loben Sels, owned the pumping plant and adjoining land had been borrowed from the association for that particular purpose, and that a mortgage deed had been given for the same.

Objections to most of their questions were sustained. The hearing of the case will probably consume several days.

ABOUT A CHILD.

Why J. Mezger Asks to Have an Order of Court Modified. On October 8, 1898, Judge Hughes made an order granting P. J. Mezger, who resides at Rocklin, Placer County, the custody and control of his minor child Euphemia, at that time five years of age, with the restriction that she should be allowed to visit John White-law and his wife, both of whom now reside in this city, and that they be allowed to visit her.

E. J. Mezger is tired of the restriction. He wants complete custody and control of the little girl, without restriction of any kind, and to attain that end has filed in Judge Hughes' Court a petition setting forth his reasons and asking for a modification of the order of October 8, 1898.

After the usual preliminary statement, the petitioner recites that it will be greatly to the injury and detriment of the child to be taken out of school for the purpose of visiting the Whites, by retarding her progress in her studies; that the Whites are related to the child only through Mr. White-law, who is the uncle of her mother; that Mrs. White-law, who is an aged woman, is a sufferer from a chronic blood trouble, and that Mr. White-law is 66 years of age.

The petitioner further states "that the said John and Ann White-law are so indulgent to the said child when she is allowed to visit them that she is permitted to do as she pleases, and when she returns to her home she is so headstrong, stubborn and disobedient, when corrected by petitioner's wife that she replies that her step-mother is not her mother; that the child is taught by John and Ann White-law to distrust, and to hate, her father and step-mother; that said John White-law uses profane language in the presence and hearing of the child, and on several occasions, as the child has told the petitioner, and as he believes and so alleges the fact to be, has told the child that he would kill her, meaning the petitioner, and that the child on one occasion cried nearly all night because her father was going to Sacramento, and she was afraid that 'Uncle,' meaning John White-law, would kill her father."

The petitioner further states that the Whites are not fit and proper persons to have the custody of the child, and that their influence on her moral nature is very injurious. He further sets forth that the Whites have no moral nor legal right to the child except that made by the order of the Court in 1898, and in conclusion prays the Court to modify its order so as to give him absolute and exclusive custody of the child.

Judge Hughes set the hearing of the petition for to-morrow at 1:30 p. m. It appearing in him that good cause exists for shortening the time of notice of hearing the same, and ordered a copy of the petition served on John White-law.

THE UMPIRE AND OLD SOL.

SANTA CRUZANS TELL WHY THEY LOST. Somehow a Hoodoo Attends Them When They Play in Sacramento. A dispatch from Santa Cruz has this to say concerning the defeat of that town's pet ball tossers here last Saturday and Sunday:

"The Sand Crabs boldly sallied forth to meet the Sacramentos on the latter's own battle ground, determined to defeat the Old Edges, but have returned home defeated heroes. It is so out of the ordinary that the fans can hardly realize it. Usually the Crabs come home with victory inscribed on their banners, but this time it is different.

Never yet has Santa Cruz been able to win a game at Sacramento. Had the original schedule which announced the games for the Santa Cruz grounds, been adhered to, the result might have been different and instead of suffering the anguish of defeat the Crabs would probably be shouting for joy and have the fans point to them as the great and only aggregation of champions, unrivaled and unbeaten, and still our own peerless players.

"The Crabs do not have very much to say regarding the game. Bill Devereaux, who asked about the game, avoids the subject and tells what he dancs the Sacramento girls are. He declares that Sacramento has the best dance floor he ever tripped the light fantastic on. Bill had so confidently predicted that 'We'll skin 'em alive this party' that his reputation as prophet went down with a dull thud.

"As far as heard from the Sacramentos still have whole skins, but the Crabs had their faces literally skinned by the hot, broiling sun. To the warm weather he ascribed the defeat for one thing and Umpire O'Connell's rulings for another. If O'Connell had been fair to the Crabs, he has lost them, for all the fans are wildly indignant at him. 'Our Patsy' Carroll's stock has correspondingly gone up. The fans have no use for O'Connell, but 'Our Patsy' can have the best in the land when he comes here. Rube Levy also has the admiration of the fans.

"The black eye that Rang Pace brought home with him as a souvenir of the trip is regarded by the fans as a mark of honor, for it was received in a good cause. The hand that struck O'Connell was heartily shaken by many of the Crabs' admirers, for, like Santa Cruz powder at Manila, that hand is considered to have done its work well. Pace says that he hit O'Connell twice on the jaw, and then Devereaux stepped in between them and while Pace was held O'Connell landed on his eye.

ALL CROPS DOING WELL.

PROSPERITY ATTENDS THE FARMERS' LABORS.

Harvesting Now in Full Blast in All the Big Valleys—A Fine Outlook.

Continued high temperatures have retarded the great valleys during the past week and the average for the State has been considerably above the normal. A light north wind occurred in the Sacramento valley on the 13th, but no material damage was reported. Grain and deciduous fruits were benefited by warm weather, and are ripening rapidly.

Harvesting is in progress in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys. In some sections the yield of wheat is reported to be in excess of earlier estimates, and the general output thus far appears to be above the average. Barley is also yielding well, though rather inferior in quality in certain localities.

A large crop of hay, generally of excellent quality, has been harvested. Deciduous fruits are becoming plentiful. The yield of peaches will be far above the average. Apricots will be a light crop. Vineyards are in excellent condition, and a fair crop of grapes will be gathered if later conditions are favorable. Walnuts are making good growth. Sugar beets in the extreme south are reported as being light, owing to scanty rainfall.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY. Fruit—Pears and late peaches are looking well, and the yield will be large. Almonds on the four-year trees will give a heavy crop. Grapes are making good growth. Orange trees are in good condition and large yield is probable. Deciduous fruits are being shipped freely.

Grain—Severe north winds on the 12th and 13th caused light damage to wheat in places. The latter part of the week was extremely hot, and all crops are ripening rapidly. Harvesting is in progress in many places; the yield of wheat is excellent; barley, good.

Hay—Nearly all the crop has been cut; the yield is above the average, and quality good. The damage by rain was light.

COAST AND BAY SECTION. Fruit—All deciduous fruits and grapes have benefited by the hot weather during the week; vines are very thrifty, and promise a large crop. Apricots are yielding better than had been estimated. Cherries are nearly all gathered.

Grain—Wheat is filling well, but in some sections a great amount of the extreme heat is shrinking the grain. Harvest has commenced. Corn has been benefited by the warm weather, and is growing rapidly.

Hay—In some sections the crop has been harvested, and the yield and quality are excellent. Harvesting is in progress in other sections. Very little of the crop was injured by rain.

Minor crops—Early potatoes are going to market; medium crop. Hops are growing rapidly and promise a large yield. Beans are thrifty.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY. Fruit—The clear, warm weather has been favorable to all fruits. Apricots are ripening rapidly; the yield will be very light. Peaches are in fine condition, and promise a large crop. Vineyards promise well.

Grain—Barley harvest is in progress, and what harvest has commenced in places. Barley in some sections is yielding more than estimated, but the quality is inferior. The yield of wheat is meeting the expectations of farmers; in some cases it is better than expected. In the irrigation districts the rivers and ditches have abundance of water.

Hay—The yield is abundant, and quality good. Haying nearly completed.

Minor crops—Potatoes are a good crop. Pastures continue fair.

SOUTHERN COUNTIES. Fruit—in the extreme southern counties the weather has been cool and cloudy, with fogs and light sprinkles of rain in some sections. Deciduous fruits have been benefited by these conditions, and the yield will be fair. Apricots are being gathered. Grapes are in fine condition, and promise a large crop. Vineyards in some sections, and has the appearance of an average yield. The wheat crop will be extremely light in nearly all counties. Haying is still in progress, and in some places the yield is quite satisfactory.

Minor crops—It is reported that beets will not average ten tons to the acre, in some sections. Walnut trees are doing well.

rather than immoral. It is a farce dealing with the sacred rites of matrimony in a way no modest person would speak of them. It deals with situations which suggest looseness of morals in that a wife has a lover, but who protests that she has nevertheless been true to her marriage vows. It deals with divorce in a way to suggest that many a separation would be prevented if only a second thought were taken and analysis of one's affections were entered upon. It is immoral in that it is neither moral nor immoral. It is what the French find the word 'frisque' to best describe. It is no coarse, but it is indecent. It is a play that is best unplayed and better unseen, in that it appeals to the low and morbid tastes, but yet does not fully gratify them. It is indecent if not indecent, in suggestiveness. It excites laughter of a matter which excites neither for laughter nor prayer. It is a play that indicates in its attractiveness the decline of the stage to the low level of amusement through appeals to the grosser tastes.

The box office of the Clunie Opera House opens this morning for reservation of seats for the engagement of the Keelcey-Shannon company in the new society drama, "The Moth and the Flame." From all criticisms we have seen of it, we judge that the public can be assured that it is worthy of its name, wholesome and natural; and especially brilliant in dialogue and wit.

DRUNK AND NOISY. "Vick" Anderson Sent to Jail for Two Days. "Vick" Anderson was in the criminal docket yesterday morning, charged with malicious mischief and drunkenness. It appeared in evidence that he had broken a window at 207 K street, but he was relieved of the charge on payment of $2.50, the value of the window. As he was still drunk and talkative, however, Judge Henry sentenced him to jail for two days.

Just Like Thompson's Colt. A horse hitched to a dump cart backed his burden into China slough yesterday and then swam across to the side near the railroad shops, where he was pulled up the bank by means of a derrick.

A Shakespearean Discovery. The most scholarly men of the world have devoted years to study of one of Shakespeare's great creations. Hamlet has been discussed by the ablest minds of all countries. What his malady was has vexed more than one scientific brain. It remains for America and the producers of America's greatest remedy—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—to make the discovery. Nothing but Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which upset his liver, polluted his blood and made him nervous. If it makes any keens stomachs strong, and with hearty digestion and pure blood no disease is possible for both men and women. All druggists sell it.

ALOHIA NIGHT. Pythians Give an Interesting Hawaiian Entertainment. Capitol Lodge, No. 157, Knights of Pythias, gave an "Aloha Mu" entertainment at Pythian Castle last night. It consisted of a brief talk by Dr. Sutthif and lecture entitled, "My Recent Trip to Hawaii," by H. Thorp.

There was orchestral music during the evening, and the entire affair was a great success. Dr. Sutthif, who was in the Islands fourteen years ago, entertained the audience for a few minutes by giving an outline of the climate and their customs, the islands, their plants, animals and resources. He said the first Hawaiians were supposed to have come from Polynesia, though there was much obscurity as to prehistoric Hawaii. "The people are very honest and simple in their manners and ambitions," he said, "and their climate is equable, the scenery beautiful."

Mr. Thorp delivered his well-known lecture, treating of the Hawaiian group, the natives and the great scenic wonders. He was a close observer while in the islands, and all that he saw he noted with interest and accuracy, so, whether he talked of Kilauea, Halea, Pele, the Paoli or chances of making money on sugar, he was accurate in his data, and painstaking in his marshaling of facts.

An interesting part of the lecture was an exhibition of curios, such as leis, shells, calabashes and images.

AMUSEMENTS. "The Turtle" drew a large house at the Clunie last night. There were present about 800 men and 100 women. The play is a broad, suggestive farce comedy, clever in plot, novel in situations, bright in dialogue, rich in stage setting, laughable throughout, cleverly acted by a company of very capable people, among whom Miss Eyvesson and Mr. Collins shone especially strong in dramatic work, while Miss Deaves' low comedy assumption was a bit of rough hewn art reminding one of the old school of acting. The play is broad and suggestive. It is not vulgar in the sense of being offensive in language. It is immoral
