

DIXON MEETS HIS EQUAL.

Eddie Santry Stays Twenty Rounds With the Colored Champion,

Referee White Declaring the Contest a Draw at the End of the Bout.

The Fight Between Australian Billy Murphy and Patsy Magner at Sioux City Breaks Up in a Row in the Second Round, the Men Fighting Like Dogs on the Floor of the Arena When the Police Stopped the Mill.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—George Dixon, the colored featherweight champion, and Eddie Santry of Chicago, met tonight before the Broadway Athletic Club for twenty rounds at 125 pounds, and Referee John White declared the bout a draw. The clubhouse was crowded to its utmost limit, nearly 5,000 persons being present. Dixon put up a game exhibition, and Santry showed wonderful improvement since he appeared here last. Santry's advantage in his hand and feet in the second, and the way he dodged his head away from a great many of Dixon's clever leads was extremely clever. Dixon at times was wild, and he frequently overreached himself, using poor judgment as to distance. Santry went right to his man and from the very beginning showed that he meant to fight without adopting sporting tactics. Tom O'Rourke, Tom Sharkey and Charley Miner were in Dixon's corner, while Johnny Gorman, Charley Burns and Jack Quinn were in Santry's.

In the opening round Dixon was the aggressor, with honors about even. A left swing from Dixon in the second landed on Santry's eye, and the Chicagoan fought back viciously, driving his right to the body, and at close quarters bringing it up to the head. George was wild with his hands and feet in the third round as well as in the third, but he managed to get his left hand to the wind.

In the fourth round Dixon's right eye was re-opened with a right swing from Santry, and the latter paid attention to this mark throughout the rest of the fight.

At the close of the eighth round Dixon swung his right on Santry's head, and Eddie replied with a similar blow, landing back of the neck, and Dixon stumbled as the gong sounded. When Santry went to his corner his nose was bleeding.

During the ninth Dixon's left ear was burst with a right swing, but he kept throwing his left to the body.

From this to the end of the nineteenth round it was a ding dong contest, with Dixon mainly on the aggressive and Santry blocking very cleverly. Dixon came like a whirlwind in the last round, forcing and rushing, but neither had any decided advantage at the finish.

Tommy Sullivan of Brooklyn and Jimmy Devers of this city met in the preliminary. They also fought twenty rounds, each weighing 120 pounds. Sullivan won.

FIGHT BROKE UP IN A ROW. SIOUX CITY (Ia.), Aug. 11.—Australian Billy Murphy and Patsy Magner of Yankton, S. D., met before the Sioux City Athletic Club for a fifteen-round battle to-night, but the fight only lasted one and one-half rounds, breaking up in a row. The police interfered and arrested the fighters, backers, etc. In the first round the men fought bravely, and Murphy also began to rough it. In the second, when the police interfered, the men were fighting like dogs on the floor of the arena. The bout was supposed to be a boxing match for points. A big crowd witnessed the affair.

WORLD'S BIKE MEET.

Ben Goodson Wins the Five-Mile Handicap at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—The extra day's racing of the world's meet attracted about 1,000 people, indications of rain keeping many away. The principal feature of the card was the five-mile handicap, which was won by the Australian rider, Ben Goodson, who beat the Scotchman, Cladow, in a rattling finish by half a wheel, with Sherritt and Boisvert, two Canadians, close up.

There was a nasty spill in the third trial heat of this race. Large of Charlottetown went over the embankment at its highest part, bringing down three other riders. All were cut and bruised.

In the preliminaries of the five-mile professional handicap Nat Butler made a great race in the first heat, only being beaten out by a short wheel by his brother Frank. Nat's time, 10:44, made a new handicap competing record for the distance. Major Taylor was the scratch man in the second heat. Some miscreant stuck a pin into the tire of the Major's front wheel. It was discovered before the start, and an effort made to change the wheel. Finally the Major started on the injured wheel, but had to give up after going a couple of miles. Tom Butler, who had lagged behind the Major, had to do some great sprinting in order to beat out the sixth man. The first four men made a nice race of it, Boake winning nicely in the stretch. The added race was a three-mile amateur sprint. Scratches robbed the preliminaries of interest but the final was a race all the way. Cladow the Scotchman, being in the best position at the stretch and raced home a comparatively easy winner, while Boisvert, the Montreal man, by a big sprinting beat out Goodson of Australia.

Jimmy Drury, the best of the Canadian amateurs, made an attempt to smash the world's amateur paced record of 1:39 made recently in England, but the best he could do was 1:43, a second slower than the American mark of 1:42, but considerably better than the Canadian amateur record of 1:54. Drury was timed by a steam motor and had no difficulty in keeping the pace. Summary:

Five mile handicap, amateur—Ben Goodson of Sydney (scratch) won, J. Cladow of Glasgow (scratch) second, A. Sherritt of Bradford, Ont. (75 yards), Time—13:33.

Five mile handicap, professional, first five men to qualify in final, to be run to-morrow—First heat, Frank Butler of Cambridge (100 yards), won, Nat Butler of Cambridge (scratch), second, John J. Colgan of Trenton, N. J. (125), third, E. B. McCarthy of Toronto (350) fourth, R. E. Blaney of Brantford fifth, Time—10:44. Nat Butler's time 10:44, world's handicap competition record. Second heat, Alf Boake of Toronto (150) won, Watson Coleman of Boston (225) second, Harry Gibson of Cincinnati (225) third, Hugh McLean of Chelsea, Mass. (425) fourth, Tom Butler of Cambridge, Mass. (25) fifth, Time—11:07.

One-third mile, amateur—J. Cladow of Glasgow won, C. H. Boisvert of Montreal second, Ben Goodson of Australia third, Time—0:42.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

Does Not Know Whether He Will be a Candidate for President.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The following telegraphic correspondence passed today between the "Tribune" and William J. Bryan:

"Chicago, Aug. 11.—W. J. Bryan, Petersburg, Ill.: Correspondents at Rome and Litchia, Springs, Ill., report you as saying that you do not care whether you are the Democratic nominee for President one year hence or not, if the precepts of the party are carried out. Will you kindly wire the 'Tribune' what you did say and your exact position in this matter?"

"THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE." "Petersburg, Ill., Aug. 11.—The 'Tribune,' Chicago: I have not seen the report mentioned. Whether I shall be a candidate depends largely upon the platform. The platform should fit the party, and the candidate should fit the platform."

"WILLIAM J. BRYAN."

HEAVILY FINED. A Market Man Who Was in Possession of Ducks in Close Season. As an evidence that the Fish Commission is awake to the violations of the game law and has found a Police Court in San Francisco where a conviction can be secured of which there have been numerous failures in the past from various causes, the following from yesterday's "Call" will be interesting to many sportsmen: The market men who violate the law by selling game out of season received a great setback yesterday at the hands of Police Judge Treadwell. A week or so ago Henry Mitchell, head salesman for O'Brien & Spoto in the California Market, was arrested by Deputy C. A. Vogelsang for having a lot of mallards, teal and other ducks in his possession out of season. Many of the ducks were so young that even the pin feathers had not disappeared. It is doubtful if ever a case of violating game laws has been before a Police Judge where there was so much "influence" brought to bear as in this. When the man was convicted every conceivable effort was made to have the Judge impose the smallest fine, which is $20.

When the Judge pronounced sentence he stated that the "pull" and the "push" had done everything possible to get the fellow let off lightly, and even one of his brother Judges had come down from the bench to influence the Judge. Judge Treadwell said that if the market hunters are encouraged to violate the law by the market men it will be only a short time before all of our native ducks and other game will be exterminated. The only way to put a stop to this unlawful business is to make the violators of the law feel the full force of the same. Therefore he would impose a fine of $150 upon Mitchell. Judge Treadwell said that he would deal out the full measure of the law in all such cases. Mitchell's fine was the heaviest ever imposed here for such an offense.

Weather Reports. The Weather Bureau reports show the highest and lowest temperatures yesterday to have been 78 and 54 degrees, with fresh southerly winds and clear weather prevailing.

The highest and lowest temperatures one year ago yesterday were 110 and 72 degrees, and one year ago to-day 106 and 73 degrees. The average temperature was 66 degrees, and the normal 74 degrees, showing yesterday to have been 8 degrees cooler than usual for the 11th day of August.

Death of Thomas Hinkley Clark Occurred Yesterday. The death was announced yesterday afternoon of Thomas Hinkley Clark, after an illness of several months. "Tom" Clark, as he was familiarly called, was well known in this city and was popular with all who were acquainted with him, his genial disposition making him a favorite. Born in Jersey City in 1852, he caught the gold fever and came around the Horn in 1850, arriving in California in August. For several years he ran on the river steamers as steward and afterwards named.

He came to Sacramento and was employed in several hotels and restaurants, being steward of the Golden Eagle for several years when D. E. Callahan was its owner. In 1858 he went to Frazer River mines, but returned to Sacramento. He went to Virginia City in 1860, and mined for several years, finally returning to this city and taking up his residence a number of years ago.
