

ONE DOLLAR THIRTY CENTS

TRUSTEES FIXED THE TAX LEVY LAST NIGHT.

Two Items Changed, But the Rate Is as Reported by the Board of Estimates.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees last night to fix the tax levy, Trustees McKay, Douglas, Paine, Dolan, Tebbets, Kent, Brown and Devine were present.

Mayor Land said the Board of Estimates had figured very carefully on the needs of the city. Next year the sewer system will be submitted to the people for bonding, and he did not think it wise to build the sewer asked for at present, as it might not fit the rest of the city sewer system, and that Mayor Mullenney thinks the Twentieth street sewer is not large enough now.

Dolan said he did not propose to leave the matter to the mercy of the veto of the next Mayor. The people of the Ninth Ward have no sewer north of N street and are entitled to one, as they have helped pay for the down town sewers. He insisted on his motion.

Brown wanted the tax rate kept down to $1.30. He was willing, however, to take 5 cents off the 18 cents for bond redemption fund and make it up next year. He asked City Auditor Young if it would make any difference.

Mr. Young said there was no telling how many bonds might be presented next year, and the Board of Estimates had thought best to provide for them, to save trouble and comply with the law. He thought there would be a surplus in the general fund that would build the sewer and could be used for that purpose.

Dolan said the Fire Department fund was short over $2,000 now. If the surplus was taken from the general fund the other funds would suffer. The sewer would cost about $7,000.

Auditor Young said they would, if the Trustees spent money as recklessly as in the past. Devine said the board must provide in this levy for the purchase of a 10,000,000 gallon pump for the waterworks. He advocated building the sewers by direct tax levy and was in favor of Dolan's motion. The sewers could be built that way in six or seven years and save interest.

Tebbets thought the board should act in a businesslike manner and not be pennywise or be criticized for its action. This is the most pennywise city in the State in the expenditure of money and has nothing it wants. If the city wants to advance, it must spend money. The board wants to reduce taxes, but it should not fix a very low rate this year and have to raise it next year. The city needs more and pure water and 75 per cent. of the citizens demand it. They demand also that good sewers be built and are entitled to it. The Mayor and Board of Estimate have made no provision in this levy for any needed improvements. The board should proceed in a businesslike manner and give the people what they ask. They want water and protection from fire. The city jail is a rotten affair and is not provided for in this levy. He was in favor of bonding. The present generation has paid the bonded debt of the preceding one. Why should not their children do likewise in paying for their needs.

Mr. Devlin asked that it be placed upon the minutes that the board will improve the Twenty-eighth street plaza from the general fund.

Kent called attention to the fact that the law says the tax must be levied on or before the first Monday in September and an adjournment till Tuesday might invalidate the levy.

Mr. Devlin said it was a question among lawyers as to whether or not Monday was a legal holiday for State purposes. He knew the Supreme Court would set on Monday.

Corporation Counsel Devine advised the Board not to delay fixing the levy. Devine favored the motion of Douglas. McKay said every man in his ward wanted the taxes reduced to $1.25 if possible.

Tebbets said the Water Works is the goose that lays the golden egg—the only profitable part of the city government. The people are begging for more water and the Water Works are handicapped by poor machinery. It is necessary to raise $50,000 for new machinery and the people will hold responsible those who vote against granting it, if a contingency occurs.

Kent said the charter prohibits the purchase of anything costing over $30,000 without submitting the proposition to the people. Those who wish to retain their seats in the Board must vote to keep down the tax rate.

Mayor and said there are more pumps now in the Water Works than there are mains to carry the water they can pump into them. The talk of the need of pumps is all rot, for the pumps for the next three years will pump all the mains can carry. We do not yet know from what source the city will supply the water. If from wells or the North Fork, more pumps will be needed. He had done all he could during his term of office to reduce the taxes and he wanted the people to get the benefit of it. There is no need of more pumps until we have water mains. The charter does not allow an expenditure of $50,000 without the consent of the people.

Tebbets said that was true, but the Water Works are in bad condition and the people want water. The Board should therefore make haste to place the proposition of pumps and mains before the people.

Douglas denied that there were three pumps in condition. The Holy pump needs $15,000 of repairs and if it breaks down the city can have very little water. He withdrew his motion.

Devine renewed it and Douglas seconded it.

Devine gave a long dissertation on the bond question and Mayor Land replied, after half an hour's argument, the water question was returned to and Devine said that the purchase of a pump was a matter of emergency and the Board could act.

Chairman McKay declared the motion out of order, as it was in contravention of the charter.

Brown moved that the estimate of 18 cents for the Bond Redemption Fund be reduced 5 cents, thus equalizing the 5 cents raise for the Sewer Fund. He believed that it would leave plenty of money to meet probable calls for redemption of bonds.

Mayor Land thought it would leave enough.

Kent thought if the Water Works pumping were let by contract to competent engineers, it would save the city $10,000 a year.

Brown's motion was carried unanimously, leaving the levy 13 cents.

The General Fund levy was fixed at 31 cents; the Fire Department Fund at 16 cents; the Police Department Fund at 11 cents; the High School Fund at 9 cents.

Devine moved that the Library Fund be fixed at 7 cents, but the motion was lost and it was fixed at 6 cents.

The Sprinkling Fund was fixed at 10 cents, the Sewer Fund at 13 cents, the Levee Fund at 1 cent, the Bond Redemption Fund at 2 cents, making the tax levy $1.30. This is in accordance with the report of the Board of Estimates, except that the Sewer Fund is increased 5 cents and the Bond Redemption Fund decreased 5 cents.

The necessary ordinances to that effect were passed and the Board adjourned.

ASKS TO BE GUARDIAN.

Alfred Olsen Says Mr. and Mrs. Nusbau Are Incompetent.

Alfred Olsen has applied to the Superior Court for appointment as guardian of A. B. C. Nusbau, and alleges that he is an incompetent person, on account of old age, disease and weakness of mind that renders him unable, unassisted, to properly manage and take care of his property.

The petition alleges that Nusbau is the owner of property valued at over $25,000, situated in Sacramento, Placer and San Joaquin Counties, that in Placer and San Joaquin Counties consisting of farming lands valued at more than $10,000.

The property in Placer County consists of the north 32 feet of the south 42 feet of lot 4, H and I, Tenth and Eleventh streets, valued at about $2,500; the north 70 feet of lot 5, C and G, Ninth and Tenth streets, valued at $2,000; 35.90 acres in swamp and survey No. 223, valued at $2,000; 75.50 acres in swamp land survey No. 224, valued at about $4,000; household furniture valued at $250 and cash in bank of amount unknown.

The petitioner further states that judgments aggregating several thousand dollars have been entered in various courts against Nusbau because of Nusbau's incompetency to attend to business, and he is liable to lose part or all of his property from this cause.

A similar petition has been filed by Olsen in regard to Lucretia J. Nusbau, wife of Nusbau, and who has an interest in the same property.

Judge Johnson has set next Friday for the hearing of the petitions. Miller & Brown are attorneys for petitioner.

ANOTHER FOR SACRAMENTO.

LOCALS A PEG NEARER THAT PENNANT.

A Big Saturday Crowd Witnesses a Good Ball Game of Ten Innings.

Ten innings. Sacramento 5, San Francisco 3. It was nip and tuck and tuck won. The dust rolled up in clouds and swarms, and in the thick of the murk the locals and Henry Harris' picked men played ball. There was no doubt about the grit in the players. On them, too, for that matter. Real estate was flying around in all directions and none poorer but that they got a corner on a lot of it.

Regardless of the mixed conditions of the earth and the ether, the article of ball offered to the big Saturday crowd was high class. There was nothing slow about it, and "Uncle" Harris' men gave the hard-hitting locals a race for their money.

Five and one-half innings were fought out before anything of importance happened, though in the first, the visitors pulled out of the nine-hole in a manner which befuddled the cranks. It looked like a cinch that the Sacramento people would do something, but they didn't. McLaughlin drove a safe one to right field for two bags, and advanced to third on Harvey's safe punt. O'Connor dropped a hard one to Sullivan and was out, and Harve was pinched between first and second. Eagan rolled one to Krug and was out at first, and Sprinter McLaughlin made a comfortable slice of it at third, and the chance had vanished.

As heretofore stated it was not until the sixth inning that anybody pressed the button, and it was San Francisco that did the trick. Hilderbrand, the hard-hitting right fielder, hit a safe one to Eagan and took second on Muller's sacrifice. Krug added variety by flying out to McLaughlin, and Sullivan came to the scratch with a base hit in center field, scoring Hilderbrand.

In the next inning, the seventh, the locals tied the score like this: Iberg gave Eagan free transportation to first and Stanley struck three times and out. Doyle was out by flying out to McLaughlin, and Sullivan came to the scratch with a base hit in center field, scoring Hilderbrand.
