

TRAGEDY AT LOS ANGELES.

George M. Hubbard, a Prominent Real Estate Dealer of Colton

Shoots and Seriously Wounds a Woman With Whom He Was Consorting.

Then Turns the Weapon Upon Himself, Sending a Bullet Into His Brain, Dying Instantly—The Would-Be Murderer and Suicide Leaves a Wife and Four Children.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—George M. Hubbard, a prominent real estate dealer of Colton, this evening shot and seriously wounded Edna Howard, a lewd woman, and then fired a bullet into his own brain. He died instantly.

Hubbard has a wife and four children in Colton, but he frequently visited this city and consorted with the Howard woman. He came here about a week ago, and has been drinking heavily ever since. Early this evening he visited Edna Howard, and she tried to prevail upon him to return to his wife and family. He started to leave the house, but turned suddenly and shot her in the right shoulder blade, inflicting a serious wound. He then ended his own life with a bullet in the brain.

FIGHTS AT THE BAY.

Contests in the Rooms of San Francisco Athletic Club.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—There were several exciting pugilistic encounters in the rooms of the San Francisco Athletic Club to-night.

Ben Hart of Stockton knocked out Kid Johnson in the third round of an eight-round bout. The fight was lively from the start, the men being well matched. The finishing blow was a right swing on the jaw.

The contest between Kid Wilson of Angeles Camp and Joe Long was stopped by the police during the fourth round. Wilson was no match for his antagonist.

C. Fredericks knocked out Mort McGee in the first round of their encounter.

The best fight of the evening was that between Mike McClure and Charles Reveni. After four rounds of good hard slogging Reveni was put to sleep by McClure. Both men showed their ability to administer hard blows, but neither exhibited much science.

BETTING AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Money Wagered on the Jeffries-Sharkey Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—While the Jeffries-Sharkey contest for the pugilistic championship of the world has apparently caused little excitement in this city, the betting has been heavy. Though in most cases the amounts wagered have been comparatively small, the aggregate is estimated to have reached $100,000.

The odds early to-day were 10 to 6 in favor of Jeffries, but late bets were being placed at 10 to 7. Some local sports who otherwise would invest heavily, anticipate police interference, and for this reason are restrained from placing their money.

The biggest bet of the day called for $5,000 to $3,000. Jerry Driscoll took Sharkey, while Henry Harris, the baseball magnate, secured the ticket on Jeffries.

In the mutuels a total of 3,069 $1 tickets have been sold up to the present time. Jeffries is most in demand on every line, but is pressed closely by the sailor.

SUESSEY TRIAL.

The Required Men to Complete the Jury Secured.

SALINAS, Nov. 2.—The work of securing a jury in the Suessey murder case was resumed this afternoon, and after the defense had exhausted its peremptory challenges the two men required to complete the panel were secured.

The jury is composed of the following citizens: J. K. Hendrickson, W. T. Harvey, T. C. Herbert, D. P. Crawford, M. L. Landrum, R. S. Williamson, D. Upton, R. H. McGowan, H. V. Wescott, J. P. Snyder, C. R. Macomber and W. Patton.

The case was continued until to-morrow morning, when the hearing of evidence will begin. Although there are only five direct witnesses to the crime,

Spanish Cruisers Reconstructed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—A few days before the steamship China left Hongkong the announcement was made that three ex-cruisers of the Spanish fleet at Manila—the Isla de Cuba, Isla de Luzon and Don Juan de Austria—were ready to proceed to Manila and join Admiral Watson's squadron. The reconstruction of the vessels has been under the supervision of Lieutenant Hobson. The vessels will be on blockade duty in the Philippines. The three cruisers were sunk at Cavite by the ships of Admiral Dewey. The estimated cost of raising and reconstructing the ships, exclusive of armament, is $304,000.

Wachendorf Discharged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The case against Dr. C. Wachendorf, who was on trial before Judge Cook and a jury for the murder of John Kohlenbeck, was dismissed to-day. The District Attorney was compelled to admit that he could not hope to secure a conviction. Yesterday counsel for the defense objected to the testimony of the prosecution, which tended to show the object of the murder, which had not been proven to have occurred. It was shown that the deceased had but one-sixth of a grain of morphine in his stomach—not enough to kill.

PRINCIPALS IN THE BIG FIGHT.

JEFFRIES AND SHARKEY TO MEET TO-NIGHT.

Both Pugilists Break Camp at Their Training Quarters and Go to New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Jim Jeffries and Tom Sharkey will fight to-morrow night in the arena of the Coney Island Sporting Club for the heavyweight pugilistic championship of the world. Although Jeffries, as the champion and the bigger man, is the favorite of sporting men, many strange stories have been told of him since he went to England and since his return.

Billy Delaney of San Francisco, who trained Corbett for his successful victory against Sullivan, said to-day: "My man Jeffries will be heard from to good advantage to-morrow night. I told you five months ago before he met Fitzsimmons that it was sure then for him. Now take my advice. Don't worry about all these stories which you hear of Jim's sickness. He's all right, and he'll win sure."

The Allenhurst training quarters were deserted late this afternoon. Jeffries, Delaney, Tommy Ryan and a party of attendants closed up the shop and packed up their belongings. Early in the morning Curley, the English featherweight, left Allenhurst cottage, accompanied by two of his sparring partners. Eight hours later the entire fighting colony came to this city. Before Jeffries left Allenhurst he had gone over several miles at a jog trot, after which he skipped the water, and without a misstep, and his leg movement was all that could be desired. Other than this work, he did nothing and prepared himself for his "move on Sharkey," as he facetiously expressed it. When the camp moved from Allenhurst all hands were in the best spirits, and none of them was more cheerful than Jeffries. They arrived here this afternoon, and immediately repaired to the Vanderbilt Hotel, where Jeffries will rest until to-morrow morning.

The seaside resort at Newdorp, Staten Island, where Sharkey has been training for some weeks, was also the scene of an exodus this afternoon. Sharkey, who never seems to tire of work, was on edge late this afternoon, when a message came from his manager to break camp and come to the city. George Dixon, who had a very interesting engagement to fight to-morrow, has been in training earnestly with Sharkey for the last few weeks, and both fighters took their release as a boon. Sharkey said: "I'm in tip top condition. So is George here, aren't we?" said the Irish-American sailor, addressing his little dusky partner.

"You bet yer life," replied George. "Both of us will be on top at the end of the outfit. I'm surer of your success than I am of mine, and that means neither of us can lose."

Sharkey was never in better condition. He has trained faithfully, and in every sense of the word has lived up to the instructions given him by his manager. A comparison between his condition and that of Jeffries could be scarcely drawn. Both are fit. Each has trained assiduously. Notwithstanding rumors to the effect that Jeffries is in an unfit condition, he seems to be fit to fight for his and a dozen men's lives, and as for Sharkey, to use the vernacular, "there is nothing doing" if he needs any improvement to win the championship.

A prominent man up town who is in the habit of holding a great many bets, said to-night: "There seems to be no lack of sporting blood, so far as bets go on to-morrow's fight. Interest seems to be at fever heat, and yet men never will wager their money. Quoter reports in the respective training quarters as to their inability to put up a good argument seem to have had a deterrent effect in the betting market. To my mind both men are in the best possible condition. The most conservative and well informed patrons of the ring agree with me that the contestants will have a hard battle for eight rounds, and if it lasts longer it will be a question of the man with the stamina to win out."

Many sporting men from different parts of the country arrived in the city to-night. Many of the visitors seemed to favor Sharkey, but they asked odds of 10 to 6, and as a result they made few wagers.

The sale of seats for the contest has been enormous, and the indications point to the largest assemblage ever seen at the ringside in this country. Every box and more than half the reserved seats have been sold up to midnight to-night. As the management of the Coney Island Club is charging $10 more for boxes than was ever asked for a championship battle in this vicinity before, all concerned will reap a rich harvest. The winner of the contest will receive three-quarters of $2,233 of the gross receipts. It was estimated to-night that the winner's share will be about $30,000, quite a snug sum for an evening's work.

Jeffries and Sharkey are scheduled to go into the ring at fifteen minutes to 10 o'clock. Each has been sold up to midnight to-night. MUST REMAIN WITH THE REBELS.

Gen. Otis Will Give American Protection to Women and Children, But Men Who Joined the Insurrection Will Not Be Looked After.

Lieutenant Slaven, With Eighteen Men, Charges and Rout a Body of Rebels Entrenched Before Angeles, Killing and Wounding Several of the Enemy, Without an American Being Hit—Aguinaldo Out With Another Proclamation.

MANILA, Nov. 2.—5:40 p. m.—Aguinaldo has issued a proclamation announcing that the American Congress will meet in December to decide whether the "imperialist policy" and "this bloody work" are to be continued. He exhorts his soldiers to conduct themselves so that Congress will consider them worthy of independence, and requests the priests to abstain from politics, and to redeem the church from the bad name the misdeeds of the friars have given it.

A crisis in the Filipino Cabinet is predicted as a result of the resignations of Paterno and Beunacmino, two Filipino leaders who have lost the confidence of the radical revolutionists.

Some Filipinos who attempted to come to Manila with the Spanish Commission received a message from Major General Otis saying the women and children would be given American protection, but the men who had cast their lot with the insurrection must remain with it. The party included a brother of General Luna, who was assassinated by the guard before Aguinaldo's headquarters, with his family, and the Filipino Secretary of the Treasury. The families returned to Tiarac.

Lieutenant Slaven of General MacArthur's staff, reconnoitering with eighteen men in front of Angeles, discovered a Filipino outpost in a trench. The Filipinos numbered forty men. As the Filipinos had sighted the Americans, some Filipinos who attempted to come to Manila with the Spanish Commission received a message from Major General Otis saying the women and children would be given American protection, but the men who had cast their lot with the insurrection must remain with it. The party included a brother of General Luna, who was assassinated by the guard before Aguinaldo's headquarters, with his family, and the Filipino Secretary of the Treasury. The families returned to Tiarac.

The feeling of disquiet aroused at Iloilo by the arrest of Santiago, the wealthy Filipino who is charged with forming a revolutionary junta, has subsided. The natives in the quarter of the town were sullen and restless and were heard chanting the death song at night, with the refrain "The Americans Sleep." A provost who's force surrounded the quarter and drove the suspicious looking natives outside the lines.

The Americans occupy Iloilo and the adjoining towns of Jaro and Molo, with 4,000 men, consisting of the Eighteenth and Twenty-sixth Regiments, two battalions of the Sixth Regiment, a detachment of the Nineteenth Regiment and a battery of the Sixth Artillery.

The insurgent force is now supposed to be between 300 and 500 armed men, and many more unarmed. Their lines are about 900 yards from Jaro, which is occupied by the Twenty-sixth Regiment. The insurgents are supposed to have the smooth bore cannon. For a long time past they have been building trenches between Jaro and the stronghold, Santa Barbara, eight miles north.

BATSON'S SCOUTS ROUT THE ENEMY. MANILA, Nov. 3, 10 a. m.—The insurgents attempted to ambush Captain Batson's scouts between Santiago and Saragossa, but Captain Batson charged them and drove them out from their position, killed and wounded several of them. One American officer was killed and a private wounded.

General Young's troops are beginning to live on the country, trying buffalo meat and rice partly in lieu of army rations.

The captures at the Talavera arsenal include thirteen small brass howitzers and 800 one-pound projectiles.

Major Bell's regiment yesterday advanced from Guagua on Florida Blanca, which was found to be deserted. Bishop's battalion is stationed there. Bell also made another descent upon Porac, pursuing the Filipinos thence into the mountains and capturing their horses and baggage. The American loss was one killed and two wounded.

Major Bell reports that the entirely destroyed the insurgent cavalry that was operating in that section.

CHINA AND MEXICO.

Negotiations for Treaty Relations Have Been Successful.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—For some time negotiations have been in progress in Washington toward establishing treaty relations between China and Mexico. The negotiations have been carried on by Ambassador Aspizzo of Mexico and Minister Wu Tong Fang of China, and are now so far along that the signing of the instrument is expected to occur early next week.

Its terms are such as to yield large benefits to each of the contracting parties. Provision is made by which Mexico will receive benefits of the "favored nation clause," insuring as low duties on imports as those given to any other country. Mexico will also receive the right of extra-territoriality in China.

Another advantage secured by Mexico will be access to important treaty ports of China, which serve as the gateways to the commerce of the empire. Up to this time Mexican trade has been admitted at the treaty ports, not of right, but on sufferance.

On the part of China, other important advantages are gained under the treaty. There is a considerable number of Chinese in Mexico, so that the far here had the protection secured by a treaty and by the presence of Consuls and a diplomatic representative of the Government. China also receives favored nation treatment and a number of other advantages in trade and navigation.

When the treaty is consummated the two Governments will proceed to establish their respective Ministers and Consular representatives in each country.

A unique feature of the treaty is that English is selected as the "official language," instead of French, which is the universal language of diplomacy.

A ROSY PICTURE.

AT LEAST ONE CONTENTED SOLDIER IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Fred Grassell Writes From the Dominions of the Sultan of Sulu.

The following letter from Fred Grassell of this city, gives some information of a new locality in the Philippines, and the employments and enjoyments of the soldier boys there, and indicates that he is only one of many who are contented to stay there.

Headquarters 23d Regiment, Jolo, Sept. 11, 1899.

My Dear Brother, I now take pleasure in writing to you a few lines and telling you something about the city and climate and its people. Of course I have told you all about Manila in my other letters—that is, if you have received them.

Well, we arrived at Jolo August 12, 1898, on A. T. S. Pennsylvania, and were sent right to headquarters, and then to my company. There are six companies in the city, and two outside, one at blockhouses and the other at the water works. We are quartered in the only church, and a big one at that, on the same street as the headquarters are on. Company C is all right; of course, that is my company. About the city, it is clean, and the climate is just as far ahead of Manila as K Street is ahead of Chinatown, the finest climate in the land. Natives look ugly, but are quiet and waiting for the peace treaty. There is always a gunboat or two here and the Charleston.

Sunday, August 20, 1898.—Peace treaty is signed. The Sultan is in town and all the companies turned out with the band. There are two battalions here, the other is up at Cebu, further north.

Sunday, August 27, 1898.—Company C plays all the other companies baseball and wins 15 to 2. There have been only three deaths here since the 19th of May, so you see that there can be no sickness here. Well, we live on the finest in the land, and everything grows here—corn, tomatoes, cucumbers, onions, greens, sweet potatoes and anything you want, and chickens—well, you can live on chickens, buy them for 5 and 10 cents each. The companies all eat chicken, and we have plenty of fresh meat which we kill here, and just think of beefsteak and eggs. You will be in the States a long time before you get these things as cheap as here.

I tell you a regular soldier gets just what he wants. I am glad I came in just when I did. There are three of the old battery in my company, Parnell, Naughton and Jeff Armstrong and myself, and there are a few more here. They are Kelly, Fowler, Hessel, Delahmidt, Shomperle, Schmidt, and Wenzel, and at Cebu are Wilson, Vivian, Monsinger and a lot more of them. Frank Ryan of Sacramento is here. The boys all look healthy and fat, and are saving money. I put away $20 this pay day with the paymaster at 4 per cent, and I can't wait to get it, and charged, and when I come out you bet I will have several hundred dollars for my finale. You don't need any money here—the drinks are all poor and no ice, and what good are the drinks, and we get good Government food. Just think of rice pudding and tapioca and beefsteak and onions.

I tell you, I will never believe the papers any more of what they say about the Philippine Islands. I am satisfied now. Of course in Manila on the firing line is a different thing, but they really live better in Manila than here. Of course, when the mortar comes, I home they say that things are a great deal worse than they really are. I tell you that most of them are getting their discharge here and re-enlisting again. Well, the natives are a different class of people. They are the Moors, and are ruled by a Sultan. The only arms are the bolos and spears, and they are something fierce. A Moor cut a Filipino's left arm off at one cut the other day. The Moors haven't any use for a Filipino at all, not even the Chinese, and there are lots of Chinese here. Things are all right at night. Moors come out during the day to market, and have to be out of the city at 5:30 p. m., except those that live in the city.

Well, time flies; we have a nice band here, and music at guard mount and at 5:30 dress parade. Chicken fights every three inches long and as sharp as a razor and a fight don't last long. Generally one or two passes and then one or the other is cut in two, and sometimes both of them die. Well, you give all the boys my regards and tell them that I am in the best of health and I think they were foolish for not coming in again. I forgot to tell you that we are eighty miles from Borneo and six degrees from the equator, and Jolo is in the Sulu Islands, but it belongs to the P. I. (Philippine Islands). Company D left Saturday for Salsals, fifty miles south of here, and Company L left for Bangat this morning. There are fifteen miles from Borneo, Pineapples and bananas are growing in our yard; things are cheap, bananas a half cent apiece, that would sell in the States for 75 cents a dozen. Oh, we have any thing here.

We are just told that the rainy season has just begun here, and it is raining as hard now, but we don't care. We only drill one hour a day, from 7 until 8 a. m., and then we are done for the day. Reading matter is very scarce, for there are lots of Sacramento boys here, and they told me to write and I will. Now don't forget, well, I must close for a while, and will finish as soon as the next boat comes in. I expect lots of mail on the next boat, but may be disappointed. Good-by for a while. It is raining very hard, but it is warm; the wind is blowing hard, it seems just like a breeze. We got in a dozen barrels of Anheuser Busch bottled beer and it is fine; seems like home, and we have nothing to do at all but eat and sleep this kind of weather, so you see there is nothing to do. We have plenty of room in the Jesuit church—all on the same floor. We are getting our company files up very fast, and there are a lot of old discharged soldiers coming one at a time. There are 102 men in now, twenty-six men short yet. Most every one tries to get in Company C, but they can't make it. Well, Charley, when I came off the Sheridan I looked

DIXON THE WINNER.

Given the Decision in His Fight With Curley. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—George Dixon, featherweight champion of the world, more than held his own to-night against Will Curley of England, and after fighting twenty-five rounds, many of which were rather tame, the American was declared the winner, and no one complained.

Curley is a clever, game boy, but Dixon is a little bit cleverer, and not the less game. Dixon's victory was well earned, and by his defeat of Curley he re-establishes what has always been claimed, that he is the superior of Jordan, Palmer and all Englishmen who have forfeited to Curley. Curley has no excuse to make for his defeat to-night other than that he was outclassed.

Dixon was a big favorite, as much as 100 to 30 being wagered on him. Before the Englishman donned the gloves he demanded an assurance that the purse of $4,500 was guaranteed.

Death of a Former Congressman. ST. JOSEPH (Mo.), Nov. 2.—Former Congressman Daniel D. Burns died at an infirmary in this city at 1:30 o'clock this morning. He was a son of the late Congressman James N. Burns, succeeding to his father's seat in the House of Representatives in 1891.

A Man Burned to Death.

WICHITA (Kan.), Nov. 2.—Fett Snyder, formerly a man of great wealth, died of late a rag picker, and was burned to death in this city this morning. His house burned to the ground.

Fell Down an Elevator Shaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—A young man named Hercules Schwartz was killed to-day by falling down the elevator shaft of the Slesbe Shoe Factory. He was seen to enter the cage and start it, and when the cage reached the first floor he attempted to jump out, missed his footing and fell. He was taken to the hospital, and died an hour later. Schwartz was aged 17 years, and an employe of a local leather firm.

Debs at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Eugene V. Debs, the labor leader, arrived in the city this morning from San Francisco. It had been supposed that Mr. Debs would not arrive until to-morrow and consequently there was no reception for him. He is at an uptown hotel and evidently trying to keep in retirement. He speaks here to-morrow night.

Major General Miles.

SEATTLE, Nov. 2.—General Nelson A. Miles and party arrived here at noon to-day, and left this evening for an inspection of the new army fortifications at Fort Townsend. He declined to discuss the Philippine situation, further than to say that peace depended upon circumstances, and that he would go to the Philippines if ordered.

Tax on Stanford's Bequests.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The collateral inheritance tax on bequests from the Leland Stanford estate was paid into the city treasury to-day by the estate. It amounted to $235,766, and $77,523 additional was paid as interest from the time that the tax was due, the contest over it having been taken to the Supreme Court.

A Member of Stevenson's Regiment.

SOMOMA, Nov. 2.—Captain William Green, the oldest resident of this valley, died to-day, aged 78 years. He came to California as a member of Colonel Stevenson's regiment in 1847, and in 1852 located at Embarcadero, four miles from here, where he resided until the time of his death.
