Joe Madron, a well known ex-convict, had a narrow escape from being shot last night. During a slight unpleasantness between some belligerent individuals "Joe" drew a mediator and the thing went off with a bang. A leg of his pantaloons passed through a hole in the bullet passed through a hole in his pantaloons below the left knee, glanced from the side of his foot and struck the ground. It was a close shave.

Shortly a night goes by that there are not acts of lawlessness and violence in Barrio Libre. Last night eight doors of two houses were kicked in, and the people threatened with the police force in a promiscuous firing of revolvers. The rowdy element dominate and make it unsafe for travel. No arrests are made but not sufficiently numerous to spread itself all over the town. In a border town of about 8000 people, scattered over an area of two miles square two policemen are not enough.

Rev. Mrs. Serra the Mexican Evangelist had a large congregation on the Plaza Sunday evening and delivered a very interesting discourse. The Sunday school under her charge started three months ago, has grown to be quite large. Sunday the attendance was greater than at any previous time.

Every county in Arizona derives its name from some historic source. The name of the early existence in either Indian or Mexican tradition with the possible exception of one and that is Graham. The latter sounds like a familiar name of Apache, Coconino, Cochise, Gila, Mohave, Maricopa, Navajo, Pima, Pinal, Yavapai and Yuma. Graham is an "aching word" and should fall in line if it has to go onto that Geromino.

Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide for 1905 is out today. The guide is edited by the Spalding Co. and is the most valuable statistical book and reference guide ever issued. This year's book is larger than ever and contains 21 large pages of statistics of the leading ball players of the country. The new rules are published in full. This year's guide should be in the hands of all the cranks. Price, 10 cents, from any newsdealer.

The Warsaw mill, which has stood for years on the site of the Oro mine, and which has for a long time been a familiar landmark, will be no longer. This fine plant is now torn down and is being used for the Oro mine. The mill was to work for Oro and Julia should get back.

"Jack" Muir son of Col. A. Muir, a lieutenant of the Southern Pacific railroad at Los Angeles, and formerly division superintendent at this place, has been successful in his examination for appointment to the government naval academy at Annapolis. He heads the list having received the highest credit in all. He was number 45 of the applicants. Another examination at Annapolis must be submitted to and if successful in this, as in all probability he will be, he will be a lieutenant in the United States navy. The boy is but little over fifteen years of age.

The old Silver King mine north of Florence is bound to have another boom. Another bonanza has been uncovered and another rush in that direction may be expected. It is reported that in January last Supt. Champion almost concluded to abandon work till silver should take an upward turn. He went to San Francisco to get orders to continue the work of development with a small force. Shortly afterwards they tapped the body of ore referred to. A 200 foot deep shaft was sunk and the ore was found. It does not lie in the old Silver King property, but in a claim adjacent to it.

The changes in the Arctic ice plant are marked for the success achieved by the winter's moving of parts of the machinery such as the water cooler, which reduces the temperature below 10 or 22 degrees below freezing, last week in a trial run the works were shut down at 2 o'clock p. m. below zero for fear of freezing the brake lake and pipes solid. After standing until next morning the temperature was at 10 degrees. The ice frozen at this temperature as the best ever made at the works. It has been found necessary to stop the donation of the vast amount of condensed water. When inwards wanted the water to drain, they were forced to use buckets for head washing, clothes washing, etc., and inasmuch as the greatest drawback at the works has been in securing condensed water it was found necessary to stop this drain.

SAFFORD.

One of the Growing Towns of the Gila Valley. Extensive Improvements in Progress. (From our regular correspondent.)

Safford is the coming town of the valley. The new paper is located here and the G. V. G. & N. R. R. has its principal depot here. The town has lately begun to put on a little "shape." The people here are becoming enthused with a spirit of improvement. New homes are being erected, and business is brightening up. Jacobson's new brick store, Fry's new social hall, and the new depot building, all point to Safford's future greatness.

Thousands of choice fruit trees have been planted this spring in this beautiful valley and many acres of new land have been cleared and sowed to grain. The principal means have been cleared and energy and industry are preparing on being made for a bounteous harvest.

The Los Altos mining district is coming to the front, and in the near future there will be a good camp established. It is believed that the mines and the supporting farming communities are more favorably situated one to the other than in Graham county. Many first class prospects have been located and filed on in this district within the past few months.

A company has been organized for the purpose of constructing a large canal, tapping the Gila river at the narrow a few miles above S. Lomoville and following the foot of the mesa, across the divide and extending to the base of Mount Graham. This will be known as the Enterprise canal and will completely reclaim thousands of acres of our best land.

District court will open at Safford on the 15th of April. We are glad to be pleased to see Judge Rosen back again and trust that in the future he will live with us as the law requires. The last clause of the organic law of Arizona, which was passed in 1892, page 32 reads: "Each (the) judge after an assignment shall reside in the district to which he has been assigned. Judge Rosen's presence here would doubtless have prevented the "reign of terror" carried on a few weeks ago at Saffordville. Safford, March 29, 1895.

COL. MORTON'S DEATH

Killed by a Chiuaman Ovar a $300 Debt.

A Queer Murder. Speedy Punishment of the Perpetrator of the Crime.

The Cananea region, where Col. R. F. Morton was killed by a Chiuaman a few days ago, has the highest mountains, the best mines and the most dangerous reputation of all Arizona. From almost every foot of its trails a knife or pistol blade would be presented against a man's body before danger was suspected. Col. Morton was the third man killed over the finances of the Cananea property, two mining men having come to untimely ends growing out of that same property.

The telegraphic report was to the effect that Col. Morton was killed unintentionally, the Chiuaman having fired at the superintendent. Then another report was published that the Chiuaman had owned the mines and shot Morton because he did not get his money.

The facts in the case are as follows: Col. Morton effected the sale of the old Cananea smelter and group of six mines the price being $200,000 in gold, which was paid. "Jim" the Chiuaman was made trustee of the property, by the former management. When Col. Morton arrived a few days ago to take charge, Jim told him that he had been watching them, and that $300 was due to him. For a fact his watching had been very lax indeed. Everything portable was gone, even to the doors and windows. But Jim claimed the $300; and not to be bothered with him nor liking his supplies and food the money to be carried on a few weeks ago at Saffordville. Safford, March 29, 1895.

Reports from Needles refer to the gold fields across the river in Arizona about ten miles east of the Eldorado, the "King Solomon's Mines." To go back some days it is related that a Chinese man had been killed by a pack of one to Henry Lambert, a cattle man who rode the vein to be from 50 to 400 feet wide and ten miles long, in what is known as the Warm Spring section, Mohave county. It is a low grade of highly auriferous formation and although it is claimed, by assays, from $2 to $16 per ton in gold. Some say it can be mined in the mountains, and others claim it must be brought to the river. Francisco, on the Atlantic Pacific, is the nearest station, say seven miles, from the district.

The Stronghold of Health is soon carried by the assaults of malaria, but if Hostett's Stomach Bitters is employed as a bulwark against the disease, absolute safety is attained. The most correct form of disease bred by miasms, tainted air and water, soon yields to the creative and combative influence of this efficient safeguard, which fortifies the system and cleanses the blood. It is a safe and reliable remedy in all cases of indigestion, nervousness, constipation and liver troubles, improves the appetite and promotes digestion. Taking for all, it is probably the most useful family remedy in existence, and is popularly known as "the best of all." It is systemically, not at irregular intervals.

On Top. The Baner Gold Mines Still in Bonanza. The Baner gold district, about one-half way between Tombstone and the Pierce camp, has been temporarily lost sight of, but it is still as solid, from a standpoint of value, as anything in sight in southern Arizona.

At the present time he has two shafts upon the ledge one 20 and the other 21 feet in depth. These shafts are all in ore, and assays from the bottom show an average of $18 per ton in gold and about 100 ounces of silver. On one side of the ledge is a porphyry dike, it is mixed with quartz and assays $8 per ton. Free gold is visible to the naked eye in many places. The owners have over 50 tons of ore on the dump, taken from the shafts.

The richest ore is a lively looking quartz containing pyrites of iron in abundance, showing also all the mineral elements, but nothing else of a base nature.

Mr. Bauer is erecting a house on the mine and will work his claim in a systematic manner.—Prospector.

Strike Next to Congress Mine. Journal-Miner. Arrivals from Congress yesterday yesterday bring news of an exceedingly rich strike in the Roman mine, a parallel claim to the famous Congress mine owned by Messrs. Hale, Bushford, Brunister and Parker, of this city. The strike made was at a depth of about 250 feet, the ledge showing a width of four feet of solid sulphurets, in character with the Roman mine. The width of the big mine above named. Our informant says that many miners visited the bottom of the shaft to view the ledge, and all pronounce it nothing more than a rich strike. The ledge is a geological feature of the Congress, in formation and character of the ore.

The Exodus. The exodus from Tombstone for the new gold camp continues. Wednesday night not less than twenty persons left in the night for the scene of operations. They left in all kinds of conveyances, and varied with each other in getting dirt on the ground.

The find made by Frank Engle was the objective point, and he was followed closely on his way thither by several parties. He got to the ledge first, however, and no doubt reached his bonanza and located it before any one reached it. As far as heard from no one had found it until he was located.

The whole country is being prospected and locations made by the dozens, and the county recorder would feel that it were not for the fact that he is so completely interested in this matter that he would not accept of fees at present.—Prospector.

Specimen of Russian Justice. A tax collector in Russia is the most trusted official of that empire. Invested as he is with the power to remit the taxes due from impoverished peasants he, also, has a chance to appropriate them to his own use.

Three years ago a certain Mr. Pastichoff was found to be systematically appropriating the sums collected. Arrested and tried for the embezzlement of government funds he was found guilty. "My pay is smaller than my expenses," "Curiously enough the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty on the ground that Pastichoff was not a Russian citizen, and kept up the style of his social manner of living.

Delinquent Tax Sale Postponement

An expectant assembly was on the court house steps yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, the time advertised for the tax sales to commence, several parties were on hand with money for speculative purposes.

Treasurer Johnson appeared at 11 o'clock and announced that a law had been passed by the Eighteenth legislature extending the time for sale to June 25th, 1895, of all property where the sale is advertised to occur in March. Pima county's sale was advertised to occur on the first day of April, consequently was not within the strict wording of the statute, and if the stand was taken that Pima county had been left out, it made special legislation of the other counties and thus wiped out the law altogether.

Under these conditions Treasurer Johnson asked the district attorney's opinion, which was favorable to a postponement of the sale to June 25th.

The following is Judge Lovell's opinion: Royal A. Johnson, Treasurer of Pima County, Tucson, Arizona.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to your communication of this date, concerning the intended meaning and the construction to be placed upon council bill No. 88, passed by the last legislature, assembly, I have to say that the arrangement and grammatical construction of the bill is exceedingly indefinite and unsatisfactory, but taking the whole bill together I think that it is the evident intent to postpone all sales for delinquent taxes for the year 1894, until the 25th day of June 1895, in all of the counties of the territory; otherwise the result would be obnoxious to the provisions of the Harrison act, prohibiting special, or class legislation. The legislature could not postpone the sale in some counties, without postponing it in all. The law directing the advertisement of delinquent property for sale provides that on or before the first publication on April 1st, the year the tax collector must publish the delinquent list of the property, etc., to be sold; it also provides that the list must be published once a week for three successive weeks. Now the first Monday of March of the present year fell on the 4th day of the month. Doubtless many of the tax collectors of the territory have their first publication on or before that date, and the law provides, (see 4, act of April 13, 1893), that the time of sale must not be less than 30 nor more than 28 days from the first publication. The legislature undoubtedly presumed that all of the sales advertised would, under the law, commence in the month of March of the present year, and such would not necessarily be the case. In your case, for instance, you made the first publication on Monday, the 4th day of March, with a notice of sale on Friday, the 8th day of the month, and which was within the time prescribed by the law. The 4th day of the act of the 13th of the present year, for all of the foregoing reasons the evident and proper construction of the act under consideration, to my mind, is that the intention of the legislature to extend the time of sales for delinquent taxes in all the counties of the territory. Any other construction would render the whole act void.

Very respectfully, W. M. LOVELL, District Attorney.

It Just Was. Of all the delightful affairs given by the Tucson ladies during the present year season none excelled that given by Mrs. H. W. Fenner on Saturday afternoon last. It was "progressive" and as a whole, the most successful of the season. Twenty eight ladies were present. The refreshments were exquisite and served under the personal supervision of the mistress herself could not be excelled. The house appointments were very nice. The ladies present were: Mrs. H. W. Fenner, C. R. Drake, H. B. Jacobs, J. M. Ormsby, T. D. Fitch, Longacker, Serrano, T. D. Constock, B. L. Witty, C. Corbett, J. S. Noble, E. L. Crumb, O. T. Ross, S. A. Norton, J. M. Ormsby, J. D. Bethune, W. F. Hensel, J. S. Menefield, Pomeroy.

The Misses Williams, Hemme, Pomeroy and Bethune.

The prizes were unusually handsome and expensive. The first was won by Mrs. H. W. Fenner. The three remaining prizes were awarded to Mrs. M. Jacobs, Mrs. L. Witty and Mrs. T. D. Constock.

It May do Much for You. Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many to called kidney cures, but without any benefit. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. The trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At Dr. Geo. Martin, drug store.

A BIG MINING DEAL. The Old Desert Changed Hands Yesterday. Republican. An extensive mining deal involving a sum of money reaching way up toward six figures was consummated yesterday.

John Lewellen and C. J. Kimball disposed of a bond on the Old Desert mine to James Wakeman of Connecticut, retaining a one-third interest in property. They bonded the mine only three months ago. The deal just closed has been pending for several weeks.

The Old Desert lies about eight miles north of the Bonanza. It was located about twelve years ago and a great deal of work has been done on it since. There is said to be no not less than 200,000 tons of ore in sight. The ore is partly free-milling, partly concentrating and very rich. A mill will be erected at once. Enough power will be arranged to run a 60 or 100 stamp mill though it may many stamps will not be employed in the beginning.

Mr. Wakeman, the purchaser, is already interested in dividend paying properties in Colorado where he has been operating for several years. The transaction is said to be the heaviest consummated in this part of the territory since the sale of the Bonanza two years ago.

Mining men more intimately acquainted with this property than any other that development will show it to be one of the richest and most extensive mines in the United States.

Down the Colorado River. After an absence of seven weeks down the Colorado river and in the Gulf of California as far as San Luis Bay, Capt. Polhamus returned here Tuesday.

Captain Fuerte of the aloop Relampago, accompanied Capt. Polhamus on the return trip as far as the Colony. The journey from there was made by wagon. David Oriedo and Jose Salgado
