

NEW ORLEANS:

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9, 1845.

CHARGE OF ARSON.—Between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday a fire was discovered in the second-story of the building on St. Charles street, between Gravier and Common streets, occupied by Mr. Cassidy as an oyster saloon, but being almost immediately quenched, little damage was done.

THE NEW RACE COURSE AGAIN.—Two omnibuses, one of the Rough and Ready line and one of the Old Line were reported on Saturday evening for racing on Tchoupitoulas street.

CHARGE OF STABBING WITH INTENT TO KILL.—John J. Cassidy was arrested late yesterday afternoon, in the Third Municipality, on a charge of stabbing Cass. Myers with a knife in the abdomen, with intent to kill, in the Star Coffee-house, kept by Dan'l Ritchie.

THE MRS. FORD CASE.—A colored woman who resides next door to the house in which the late Mrs. Elizabeth Ford lived, on Washington avenue, appeared before Recorder Setzeau, on Saturday, and made affidavit that John Hawley, the man who has been imprisoned on suspicion of having caused the death, assumed and beat the deceased, striking her on the head with an axe and with an iron pot, about 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the day on which she died, and that she expired about 7 o'clock the same evening, as the deponent believes, from the injuries received from Hawley.

THE ABDUCTION CASE.—At the request of the father of Marguerita Nick, the charge of abduction made by his daughter some days since against George Kuntz and his wife, Elizabeth, was allowed, by Recorder Setzeau, to be withdrawn.

FATAL AFFRAY.—A man named Patrick C. Daly was stabbed and cut in several places with a Bowie knife, in a house at the corner of Philippe and Hevia streets, on Saturday morning last, by a young man named Joseph B. Chandler.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT AND LYNCHING.—Yesterday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, says the New York Tribune of the 29th ult., great excitement took place at the pier foot of Roosevelt street, on account of an affray on board the ship Thomas H. Perkins, lately arrived from Liverpool, between the Captain, James Baker, and one of the crew, named William Leonard, under the following circumstances: Leonard had shipped at New Orleans, as an ordinary seaman, on board this vessel, then bound to Liverpool, and on the voyage to New York the Captain placed him and another, named Cockley, on duty as cabin attendants. Shortly after the departure of the vessel, Leonard, in one of the fore-cabin, attacked the female passengers, and that mutual palimony led to the unfortunate occurrence. Whatever be the real cause, the Captain and Leonard, who came on board in his Sunday dress to receive his pay, were heard speaking angrily together, and both went to their cabins. Leonard, however, the latter was observed to struggle violently in endeavoring to prevent the Captain from ejecting him, but without success; the Captain then ran ashore, and immediately returned with a pistol in one hand and a cut-throat in the other. When about five feet from Leonard, he fired, but missed his object, and then violently struck him with the cut-throat in the hand, breaking the blade, and with the fragment hurling several gashes on both arms. Leonard did all he could to defend himself, and finally wrenched the broken cut-throat from his hand, when the Captain cried out for help to his mate, J. N. Barker, and a woman named Hines, one of the passengers. The female threw herself between the combatants, and with the assistance of the mate, succeeded in separating them. Word spread at once among the sailors on the dock, that the Captain had shot a man down, when the deck was thronged by an infuriated mob. The Captain was knocked down several times in escaping from the vessel, although the mate endeavored to protect him. A body of police from the Fourth Ward promptly hastened to the rescue and succeeded in getting him on shore, but the mob increased to such an extent that the police were compelled to draw a reinforcement, the Policemen battled their way through the mob, and brought him to the Tombs. Two of them, named Sheridan and Langdon, were severely injured, and three of the mob were taken into custody. One of them, a sailor named George W. Cowley, had a knife in his hand when taken. Leonard was conveyed to the Hospital, where he lies in a dangerous state, though it is hoped he may recover from his wounds. Justice Latrop committed the Captain and mate to prison to await the examination, which takes place to-day.

AN ACCOMMODATING SHOT.—As a gentleman was grouse shooting at Camille Lake, in England, lately, his dog made a dead stand among some deep bogs, when up sprang an old cock, which was quickly brought down, when, singular enough, a dog farted from the corner, picked up the prize and bore it off in safety.

Mrs. Mitchell, the wife of the "Irish felon," with her family, will soon visit the United States, it is said.

A tremendous storm visited Paris on the 20th August. The lightning struck in no less than eighteen different places, and according to an average calculation made by scientific individuals, no less than 24,000,000 cubic feet of water fell in the space of three hours.

They are indeed happy who owe not their dignities to wealth, nor their reputation to dignities.

At the meeting at Fort Harrison, Indiana, on the 5th ult., the anniversary of his defence by Col. Taylor, a venerable lady was present who was in the fort at the time of the siege, and assisted in moulding bullets for the soldiers. While Governor Leitch was dwelling upon the former hope of the garrison, and paying a high compliment to Gen. Taylor, the old lady became much excited, and with tears streaming down her cheeks, raised her arms and cried out in a loud voice, "Glory to God and everlasting thanks to Gen. Taylor!"

QUADRATURE OF THE CIRCLE.—Saba Smith delivered a lecture in Portland, on "The Quadrature of the Circle," in the course of which he claimed that this problem, the solution of which has from time immemorial set at defiance the ablest mathematicians, has at length been accurately solved by John A. Parker, formerly of Portland, and now of New York. Mr. Smith further stated that several important astronomical calculations have already resulted in consequence. The process which led to this solution are in preparation for the press, and will soon be published.

It is mathematically demonstrable, remarks the New York Courier, that this thing cannot be done. Therefore we may be permitted to doubt the statement that Mr. Parker has done it.

The following important decision in criminal law was lately made by the Supreme Court now in session at Pittsburgh. Commonwealth vs. Dumm—murder case. Judge Cooper, in delivering the opinion of the court, reported in 6 Barr's Rep. 385, lays down the law thus, which doubtless will surprise the public as something new in physiology: "If the prisoner is a female, she may, after conviction, and up to the moment of passing sentence, plead pregnancy when the sentence is that of death, so as not to destroy the innocent and offending with the guilty, which plea shall be tried by a jury of twelve men, and the law on this subject is a rule of female."

The Irish police is to be augmented to 30,000 men, and 10 pieces of artillery are to be appropriated to the police force of every county. The military are only to be employed in garrisoning a few important posts.

The publication of this paper will hereafter be conducted by HAYES, M. CLARK & Co.—the firm consisting of A. H. Hayes, J. E. M. Clark, O. P. Johnson and J. C. Lewis. Under the new arrangement, no change will take place in the editorial department of the paper, the proprietors regarding it as a point of personal honor to preserve unimpaired the character, which has hitherto sustained, of an independent and impartial newspaper. The number of proprietors has been increased with the view of adding to the resources of the journal, and increasing the means of making it one of the best papers in the Southern country. The Crescent has already a circulation larger than most of the papers in the city, and from the rapidity with which it is increasing, it is hoped that it will soon equal the most flourishing of its competitors, if not surpass them all. On the 1st of November, a large and splendid weekly paper will be issued for circulation in the country; and it will be of such a character, and published on such terms, as will ensure success with a reading and intelligent community. In the course of a few weeks, a large and well assorted Job Office will be added to the establishment, thus enabling the proprietors to do for their customers every kind of Book and Job Printing. In short, no effort will be spared to make the Crescent the best and cheapest newspaper in the Southern States— one which will be for the interest of every class of the community to support, and of which will give entire satisfaction to the liberal and enlightened of all parties. Relying on the public opinion for their success, the proprietors have fully availed themselves of every opportunity for securing it.
