NATIONAL HONOR AND NATIONAL DIGNITY.—Among those who believe that the Spanish authorities are far from being satisfied with the offer to the national question by the return of Rey. Several papers have asserted that the renunciation of Garcia in New Orleans, settles at once the difficulty between this country and Spain; while one, at least, maintains that the position of national parties is not at all changed. For ourselves, we believe that the latter opinion is correct. We are satisfied that a man had been forcibly carried from our shores by foreign agents or foreign emissaries, though the man were brought back in all the pomp and ceremony of a triumphal procession, (see the accounts of Rey's reception here,) we could not be disposed to rest satisfied. The insult is none the less; the indignity can only be removed by a full acknowledgment of the wrong, accompanied by the humblest and most submissive apology.

But satisfied as we are that no violence was ever done to the cowardly criminal Rey—convinced as we are that the highest official in the Spanish realm has too just an appreciation of American power and American influence, to dream for a moment of outraging American honor and American dignity—we do not look on a war with Spain as at all probable or possible under present circumstances. Spain knows too well the relative strength of the two nations to desire a contest with the United States; and we have no cause of quarrel with her. There is a nobler opponent with whom there is now more probability of our engaging. Let the eagle check at the falcon, that flies in the highest atmosphere, and stoop not to pound the meaner birds that keep amidst the clouds, unable to soar higher and pierce deeper.

England offers us fight. She has really stronger than words, declared her disregard of American policy. She has virtually said that we had no right to interfere with any relations she might choose to establish between herself and the nations or tribes of this continent. It remains for us to teach her that our wishes are not to be disregarded.

We have been charged with a want of patriotism and an undue disregard of public opinion because we did not join in the hue and cry against the Spanish government, and because we had declared our conviction that Rey was not abject from New Orleans. As Americans, we would almost seem to be angry with a government like the Spanish, tottering at its base, and evidently in the last stages of decadence. If an indignity were offered by one of its agents, it might anger us for a moment; but when we consider the vast difference between our strength and the strength we could bring to bear against it, we are not disposed to be angry with it. It is not for Americans to treat a nation just trembling on the verge of the grave with any degree of violence. It is for us to strike the fiercer boasts of prey—the English lion, vigorous in health and powerful in his attacks—not the Spanish leopard, that hardly has strength enough to drag his feeble body or to use a claw.

But we have shown a disregard of public opinion because we would not believe in abdication. There has, as yet, been no public opinion formed as to whether Rey was or was not abjected. There has been a popular passion excited by false statements and calumnious misrepresentations. There has been a cry of retribution for an imagined indignity offered to the American honor. But this is all. We are one hundred persons taking the vindictive which was addressed to the investigating court and weighed its value. Have our hundred men in this city thrown aside as worthless the absurd and ridiculous stories which public passion has magnified into reliable rumors and well-ascertained facts?

Had, however, the Rey excitement which has just passed been an opinion of the people, and not a passion—had it been the result of convictions founded on facts, and not of reports and rumors received from the most unreliable sources—we would have treated the matter far more seriously than we did. But when men would not listen to reason and common sense—when they had been blinded by passion that they could not see truth—rendered so deaf that they could not distinguish the tones of truth from the notes of falsehood—stirred to the general impression of the community. With us, it was a question of time; we felt that it was only a matter of days, and every one who reflects, must think as the Crescent does in regard to the great abduction here.

We think Capt. Thompson of the steamship Acadia for Galveston papers.

THE FIGHTERS SARATOGA AND RABAYAK.—On the 18th inst. the brig Patrick Henry was boarded in latitude 25° 30', longitude 84° 05', from the U. S. frigate Saratoga. The Saratoga was in company with the U. S. frigate Haritan, and they had been out from Pensacola seven days. All well.

THE TEXAS RANGER.—The Texas Ranger is publishing the confessions of the men Grigg, Sap and Short, in regard to the organized band of desperadoes, assassins and robbers said to exist in Texas. They implicate a large number of persons.

We think the Captain of the schooner Renouanceur a Tainigo paper.

THE COURT'S CREDIT STAYS.—We learn by a notice in the "Star" that the firm of Barnard & Callahan has been dissolved. Mr. Callahan retiring from the concern. The "Star" under the last firm, was conducted with much spirit and ability, and from our knowledge of Mr. Barnard, we feel confident that, under his control, it will lose none of its well-deserved reputation. We learn that Mr. Callahan, with several others, left Corpus Christi on the 10th inst., to overtake Gen. Cazenav's party, by way of Chihuahua. Wherever "Charley" may go the best wishes of our selves, and his numerous friends in this city, will accompany him.

STOCK.—The rebel Renouanceur, arrived yesterday from Tampico, brought $10,000 in specie, consigned to order.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.—The company of U. S. troops stationed at Savannah, left for St. Augustine the afternoon of the 23d on the steamer Cockburn, Capt. Wilson. The officers are: Major Major Land, commanding; Lieut. Taylor, A. Q. M., and Lieut. Merchant. The company consisted of thirty-five privates.

THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE GREAT.—Nothing more strikingly shows a great want to be grateful for kindness and civil to our benefactors. The following list of history is in proof of our remarks: An immigration had assembled in front of the office of the U. S. District Attorney, on Exchange Place, as the news had spread like wildfire that "Rey had arrived." A carriage was procured to take "him" to the parish prison, where he will be well cared for. On his entering the vehicle with "Rey," Marshal, the crowd gave three hearty cheers for "him," and the Great Abductor, graciously waving his Panama hat to the crowd, drove off in triumph. Some may doubt the truth of this fact. For ourselves, the authority is indisputable. It is related in that faithful chronicler of the times, the Daily Picayune.

MOUNTED MEN ON THE TEXAS FRONTIER.—Gen. Brooks has made a requisition on the Governor of Texas for three companies of mounted men. The proper orders have been issued by John S. Ford, John J. Grumbles and Henry Smock, to send volunteers, and they are to be mustered into service at Austin as soon as possible. The requisition of Gen. Brooks is contained in the following orders:
