

NEW ORLEANS:

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 30, 1881.

Continued—Examination Fixed.—W. C. Carper and Ferdinand Casper, his son, were arrested yesterday, before Recorder Caldwell, on the charge of being concerned in the coinage business. Capt. Forno stated, in his affidavit, that on the 18th day of June, he seized a complete set of dies and a milling apparatus, which he had no doubt were for the purpose of making quarter-dollars and dimes, of American coin, in the house occupied by the prisoners on Tchoupitoulas, between Galienne and Delord streets, that having such in their possession was contrary to the fifteenth section of an act of the Legislature, approved March 20, 1818—therefore the arrest. Remanded to Saturday next for examination.

Couldn't come it.—Amada Scurge's 'Ye Gods' what a combination, in the way of names! appeared before Recorder Caldwell yesterday to prosecute John Riley for stealing a counterpane, a blanket and some tumbler, worth all in all about $5.50, from her room, 217 Canal street, on the night of the 15th of June inst. It will be remembered that Riley was arrested on suspicion of having stolen the above articles, which were found in his possession at the time. He was sent before the First District Court.

Delicately Suspicious.—William Thompson will be examined to-morrow, before Recorder Caldwell, touching his being found, about three o'clock yesterday morning, in one of the staterooms of the steamer Western World, with a "bag" in his possession, a fact disclosed to his Honor by the "steamer unvarnished tale" of one George Allen.

Insolence of a Slave.—One of the watchmen of the Second Municipality seeing the slave John telling out some gold, asked him where he got it. "None of your business," was the reply. "What's your name?" Reply similar. Recorder Caldwell, yesterday, ordered the administration of twenty-five lashes, as the best antidote to the slave's insolence in future.

Robbery.—Robert Robertson was presented to the Court by John O'Neill, a police officer of the First Municipality, on the charge of having robbed one Henry Harper fifty-two dollars, in Franklin street, on Saturday last. The prosecutor stated that on the day named, he saw Robertson pursued by Harper, who crossed Canal street and escaped at the time. Learning that Harper was robbed of a sum of money, he afterwards succeeded in arresting the prisoner. Harper is absent from the city, but is expected to return in fifteen days, until the expiration of which time the accused stands remanded.

Insult.—The City Coroner, Capt. Spedden, held an inquest yesterday on the body of a white man, name unknown, found drowned in the Mississippi river, opposite Girod street. Had on when found, a check shirt, red undershirt and cottonized pants. The body was in a very decomposed state. Verdict—Found drowned.

Guave Bail.—Charles Lummenger, charged with perjury by R. B. Woodford, and Hugh Pedegast and Baron Havre, charged by the keeper of the Third Municipality with forcibly taking away four horses in charge, gave bail yesterday before Recorder Sturgeon, to answer the several accusations when called on.

Honorably Discharged.—Charles Hall, charged by John Booth with having committed the crime of perjury, was examined yesterday before Recorder Genou, and after the strictest scrutiny, was honorably discharged.

Larceny.—Eliza Jane Johns was arrested yesterday by Officer Geo. First Municipality, at the request of William Huston, who charges her with larceny.

Larceny.—John Smith, Joseph Landon, John William and Davis, charged with stealing from the schooner Robert Spedden, M. M. Radsch, watch, eleven hundred and forty-five dollars, notes and gold, a gold watch and chain, and some wearing apparel, were, on examination yesterday, discharged by Recorder Genou.

Dear Tom, this Brown Jug.—Anne and Bridget Klein, charged yesterday, before Recorder Caldwell, with striking Anne Kelly with a jug, in Girod street, were remanded for examination to the 30th inst.

Slave Remanded.—The slave Howard, belonging to Captain Merrit, was remanded yesterday on the charge of having in his possession a shawl, mantilla and other articles, believed to be stolen.

Breach of Trust and Robbery.—Ulysses, a slave belonging to Labodreyer Kelson, charged with breach of trust, and Cherry, a slave belonging to Mr. Conville, charged with robbery, were yesterday bailed, before Recorder Genou, to appear when required on the several charges.

Committed.—Francis Campani was sent before the First District Court, yesterday, for a petty larceny committed on board the steamship Neptune the evening before.

The Gold Washers of Hungary.—Dr. Clarke, in his travels, passed through Hungary and visited the mines of Kremnitz. The description he gives is remarkably similar to those which now reach us from California:

"The Gipsies of the Banat get their livelihood, like those of Wallachia, by ransoming about as blacksmiths and musicians. They wear the same smocks, laths, trousers, and other implements of wood. During the summer they go nearly naked, and are rarely employed, except in the sand and gravel of the rivers and plains. Their manipulations are fully described by Francis Demeher, in an appendix to the Letters of Born to Feber; in its simplicity, it differs little from that practiced now, by these Gipsy. As it consists in nothing more than pouring the sand, mixed with water, into an inclined plane, which is covered with gold remaining upon the surface, while the lighter siliceous particles and impurities are washed away. This, in fact, is the plan pursued in the great washing houses at Schemnitz, and is still retained there. Sometimes the inclined plane is covered with woven cloth, to which the gold adheres; wanting the cloth, the Gipsies now and then use, for the same purpose, the more ancient substitute of a sieve. The manner of collecting gold dust in sheep's fleeces, upon inclined planes, is represented in the curious old wood of George Agricola. In the rivers of Galicia, the custom is still retained of placing sheep-skins in the beds of the Pannia, and other superficial streams, to collect particles of gold; hence the dedication of such fleeces to the gods, and the fabulous riches of Gipsies as far as it related to the golden fleece. The more common manipulation among the Gipsies of the Banat is very like that of Wallachia, which we have already described. It is performed by means of a plank of lime tree, six feet in length, and an inch and a half in thickness. At the upper extremity is a small trough; and across the board are ten or twelve grooves, or furrows cut in the wood. The plank is elevated at one end, at an angle of about forty-five degrees. The sand is put into the trough, and the upper end; and the water is poured over it, washed down the sloping of the plank, and the gold dust falls, during this process, into the higher grooves, where it is scraped or brushed off. It may be supposed that a great deal of gold is lost by this careless method of collecting it; but the Gipsy experience has made the Gipsies very expert; they know how to distinguish the richer from the poorer sands; and a careful examination of the sand, after it has been washed, it proves that hardly a particle of gold escapes them during the operation. The families supported by gold washing are very numerous; but the mine of gold is not so abundant, although the value of thousands of dollars of gold is annually produced in this manner. The auriferous sand is not only taken from the beds of the rivers, but likewise from the banks, and even from pits in the adjacent ground. These pits are commonly four feet or more in depth. In digging them, the workmen find four strata. The first is a stratum of vegetable mould; the second loam, and an alluvial deposit of pebbles; the third consists of the auriferous sand and pebbles; and the fourth of slate, clay, and coal. The auriferous stratum is so constantly parallel to the bed of vegetable mould, and the coal so constantly lies below it. The gold obtained by washing is always native, and in the form of a fine dust; the sand containing it is also mixed with black and splendent particles of highly magnetic iron, garnets and mica.

Police Operations in New York.—The Chief of Police in New York has presented his annual report to the Mayor of that city. There were seven thousand nine hundred and sixty-six arrests during the quarter ending March last, being the largest number in any one quarter, and fifty-six less than during the previous quarter. This decrease in the number of arrests has occurred mainly in such offences as assault and battery, and intoxication and disorderly conduct; while there has been an increase in the number of arrests for violating corporation ordinances, of one hundred and thirty-five, and for grand larceny, of one hundred and thirty-five. The whole number of offences committed during the quarter amount to eight hundred and thirty-five, and the number of persons arrested during the same period, to five thousand and seven hundred and thirty-five. Fifteen hundred and ninety-eight persons were committed to the various stations; five hundred and sixty-eight children restored to their parents; one hundred and forty-five sick or injured persons aided; fifty-one rescued from drowning; fifty-two fire extinguished; two hundred and fifty-one stores and dwellings found open; two hundred and seventy-two cattle, one hundred and one horses found astray and restored to their owners; and nine thousand five hundred and sixty-four dollars and eighty-eight cents taken from loggers and drunken persons and returned to them again. A river police, to protect property along the wharves, is again recommended.

Licenses Law in Wisconsin.—On the day of the new license law of Wisconsin went into operation, large numbers of Germans paraded the streets of Milwaukee, carrying banners and carrying trading banners inscribed with the words, "Free Trade and Equal Rights." From this we infer that the participants believe in the right of all to vend ardent spirits in any quantity.
