

The Daily Crescent

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF the Council of the Second Municipality. PUBLISHED DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAYS, BY J. H. WARD.

THE END OF LIFE. By Mrs. R. S. Mott. 'Do I feel all the while as if I were in a dream?'

An old man sat by the window. For the spring was not yet come. And the snow of the winter had melted...

For all his affliction and sorrow, For all his sorrows and grief, For the night of his childhood, and the day of his old age...

Mrs. Farshaw in California. A San Francisco correspondent of the New Bedford Mercury gives the following description of a lady well known in these parts:

In Santa Cruz, I called on Mrs. Farshaw. I found her not at home, but her maid, a Miss Fern, familiarly, smilingly, and with a friendly air...

Lefts and Shadows of Life. On the evening of the 14th inst., a lady attended by her lover and a party of friends, left her home in Washington City...

Report of the Boston Fire Department. During the past year of the department ending the first of September, the Bureau have been called on 218 times from fire in the city...

Natal Court of Inquiry. A grand court of inquiry, composed of Captain John D. Hoyt, President, Captain Frank Paulding, and Commander Charles H. Talbot...

Musicians. The Washington Republic has the following news: 'For many years we have known the city to be so much infested by these scorching insects as at this season...

Negro Minister. According to the Orange Grant, there is now at Danvers, the Rev. Dr. Ramon, a full-blooded African, who regards himself as the commercial minister of the Emperor Faustin of Haiti...

Not to be Outdone. They tell a good story of a very polite merchant who was once being outdone by a pauper in the line of his duty to help...

The French Academy. We clip the following from a recent issue of the Paris correspondent of the Washington Republic:

The French Academy held its annual session last Thursday. The body is fast falling in public estimation, and is in the process of giving the French language in charge of some literary society...
