

ST. TAMMANY FARMER.

Covington, January 11, 1879.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The Mails.

The Covington mails will arrive and depart according to the following schedule, wind and weather permitting:

ARRIVE	DEPART
Tuesday... 7 P. M.	Wednesday... 7 A. M.
Thursday... 7 P. M.	Friday... 7 A. M.
Saturday... 7 P. M.	Monday... 7 A. M.

Religious.—Divine service may be expected at the Methodist Church in Covington on to-morrow (Sunday) morning, at 11 o'clock, at Mandeville, in the Protestant Church, on Sunday morning, the 19th of January.

As we are able to learn, the late Mr. Charles Koepkey, who was taken from his home, five miles from Covington, on Christmas Eve, still remains a mystery.

In another column will be found the card of Messrs. Holloway & Edwards, No. 12 Magazine street, New Orleans, wholesale dealers in heavy and light hardware, cutlery, nails, chains, iron, plows, rope, etc. Mr. Holloway is well known to many of our readers, having spent the summer months at Lewisburg, during which time he visited Covington frequently. Those of our merchants needing anything in the hardware line will do well to purchase their goods from Messrs. Holloway & Edwards.

This has been one of the best (or worst) weeks for weather we have had for several years. There was snow, sleet, ice, rain, slush, mud, cold weather, moderate weather, bright sunshine, dark nights and moonlight nights, all in the space of one week. For the first three days, the ground was white with snow, making pedestrianism extremely precarious, and many a venturesome spirit slipped and fell, but when they were beginning to think how easy it was to walk on snow, the fine sliding afforded rare sport for the boys, who made the most of it while it lasted.

L. Bloom & Co.—The advertisement of the old and well-established house of L. Bloom & Co., wholesale grocers and commission merchants of New Orleans, will be found in another column. Their place of business is at Nos. 82, 84 and 86 Magazine street, and 21 and 23 Tchatchez street. The merchants of St. Tammany and adjoining parishes, in replenishing their stocks, find it to their advantage to call on Messrs. L. Bloom & Co. All orders will be promptly filled at the lowest possible figures.

We saw a party of ladies and gentlemen enjoying a sleigh ride yesterday evening. The sleigh was a "thing of beauty," and the appearance of being hastily constructed, but, owing from the easy manner in which it glided along, we suppose answered the purpose very well.

Plenty of fresh pork in town this week. It sold as low as 3 1/2 cents a pound.

We call the attention of our readers, and especially of shippers of cotton, to the card of Messrs. Warren & Atkinson, cotton factors and general commission merchants, No. 48 Union street, New Orleans. All business intrusted to them will receive prompt attention.

The funeral of Mr. J. C. Barelli, which took place in Covington last Wednesday morning, was largely attended by our citizens. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. G. T. Vickers.

The card of Messrs. Keiffer Bros., wholesale dealers in boots and shoes, will be found in our advertising columns to-day. This is one of the largest firms in New Orleans, in their line of business, and we take pleasure in commending them to the merchants of St. Tammany and Washington parishes.

I have for sale the Kenney & Miller Early Amber Sugar Cane Seed, and Hand-Books on its culture. The cane ripens and matures in ninety days from the time of planting. Seed, per pound, forty, fifty-five and sixty cents. Hand-Books, fifty cents.
