EXTRACTED SPLINTERS.

One out of a hundred—99.

A citizen of Michigan has a beard seven and a half feet long.

A speculator in oil wells may be said to be in the hole—sale business.

Moses never had the gout. This, says the Boston Post, was one of the missed aches of Moses.

Women can never play ball satisfactorily until they are permitted to use their aprons to catch with.

A lady up-town, joking about her nose, said: "I had nothing to do with shaping it. It was a birth-day present."

A physician has discovered yellow fever germs in ice. The safest way is to boil your ice before using it. This kills the germs.

"Oh," she said, "I think soda water is soda licious!" He took the hint and soda dime in the harvest field of love.

Barber—"Thin your hair out a bit, sir?" Customer—"No; never mind. My wife attends to that; but just oil it well."

During the last ten years 21,000 persons in the United States have died from yellow fever. Of this number 14,000 died in 1878.

The same man who finds the weather too warm for church sits under the blazing canvass of a circus without a murmur.

Friend—"Look here, Tom, you have had enough." Topsy youth—"No such thing. Often had too much; never had 'nough."

"Investigator" wants to know what is good for cabbage worms? Bless your soul, man, cabbages of course. A good plump cabbage will last several worms a week.

The three proudest moments of a man's life, between the cradle and the grave, are when he gets his first pair of red-top boots, when the girls first call him "Mister," and when the doctor tells him "it's a boy."

Many cities are starting cooking clubs. That is a move in the right direction. Good cooking is better than poor poetry. It is a solemn fact, that the girl who knows how to grease the frying-pan is worth more about dinner time than the one who can fluently conjugate all the French verbs, and who can begin with omega and sing the Greek alphabet backward.—Modern Argo.

GOOD ADVICE.—A butcher enters the office of a lawyer.

"Is the owner of a dog responsible for any damage the dog may do?"

"Certainly."

"Then your dog has run away with a leg of mutton from my stall, and I will trouble you for ten francs."

"Very well, my friend. Have you five francs change?"

"Yes, sir." [Produces them.]

"That just makes us square; my fee for advice is fifteen francs."
