Madisonville, La.

A sentimental young man thus feelingly expressed himself: "Even as nature benevolently guards the rose with thorns, so does she endow women with pins."

A bachelor, upon reading that "two lovers will sit up all night with one chair in the room," said it could not be done unless one of them sat on the floor. Such ignorance is painful.

When we are out of sympathy with the young, then, I think, our work in this world is over. That is a sign that the heart has begun to wither—and that is a dreadful kind of old age.

A long housewife article has been written on "How to make a rag rug." It is a long process. The quickest way to make a rag rug is to knock "a" letter out of the rag and put "u" in the middle.

A rich snob who married a lady of brilliant genius, said at a dinner party: "When we were married my wife declared, 'With all my worldly gifts I thee endow,' when she hadn't a penny in the world."
"But then there were her splendid talents!" said a lady. "Oh!" exclaimed a wit, "but she didn't endow him with them."

Two raw Highlanders, Donald and Dugald, are walking along a street in St. Mungo, when they came on a water-cart. "Hi!" shouts Dugald to the driver, "hi! you're losing all your water!" Then Donald comes in. "Oh, Dugald, Dugald, dinna show your ignorance.
The water is meant to keep boys from riding on the back of the cart."

A poetess sings: "I love thee every hour." That's right. Girls who love a fellow only four or five hours out of the twenty-four, and bestow their affections on several other chaps during the remaining hours of the day, are what the custom house officials would call "frauds in silk." They should love every hour or not at all.

"And how is your daughter, Mrs.
Brown?" inquired one nicely dressed lady of another. "She's well enough, I suppose. I haven't seen her to speak to her for six weeks."
"Why, I thought you two were on the most friendly terms." "Well, we used to be, but we've exchanged servants."

The last straw that breaks the back of your patience in the apoth-ecary's shop, after the polite pharmacist has carefully put your three cents' worth of medicine into a ten-cent bottle, wrapped it up in two cents worth of paper, tied it with a cent's worth of twine, and used up about five dollars' worth of your time, is to have him light a small lamp and use up fifteen minutes more in sticking the parcel together with sealing-wax. Then, having, in a half-hour, gradually goaded you to frenzy, he blandly says: "Only forty cents, sir."
