

Covington, July 3, 1880.

SHEEP HUSBANDRY.

There is no other kind of live stock which has, for so many years, proved so profitable for the farmers to raise as sheep, and it will be many a long year ere sheep husbandry will cease to command the attention and produce the comfortable profits which it now does, under proper systems of management. There are some exceptional years, when prices rule low, that breeders in some sections get scared, yet we doubt whether the price of wool has ever gotten below the profit mark and brought the breeder in debt for his labors. Is there any other kind of stock which has so much to its credit as that? Virginia and many other parts of the South are eminently fitted for sheep raising, and we hope to see her flocks yearly increasing, both in numbers and excellence, for with good lands, genial climate, and nearness to markets, those who adopt sheep husbandry in suitable localities will receive a liberal reward for their labors, provided they give the sheep that care and watchful attention which must be accorded to make success assured, not merely with sheep, but with all kinds of live stock. Large flocks of fine sheep mean enriched fields, and enriched fields mean better crops, and better crops mean prosperity to the tiller of the soil, and he who brings up a poor farm to a good state of fertility, deserves every penny he receives, and more to. There are many farms in our large State where sheep could be found profitable, and where there are but few, if any. Some are rough and uneven of surface, where it is not possible or profitable to cultivate with the plow, but on which grows a good coating of grasses, and here sheep would thrive splendidly, other things being in unison. There are other places where a young growth of tender shoots are beginning to come up on cut timber tracts, and it would not pay to clean up the land at present. Sheep will keep this young growth down nicely and make the best possible use of it, though it is not good policy to keep them entirely on this, if you wish to get the greatest profit from your sheep, for a generous feeder is sure to make more profit from his stock than one who stints his animals, compelling them either to hunt up their own living, scanty though it may be, or else go without. Most of our wool now goes to Northern markets, either for manufacture there or shipment abroad, and comes back to us in the form of manufactured goods, with all the profits and shipping expenses added. While it may be, and no doubt is, necessary to find a market for our produce outside of our own immediate State, to a certain extent, it should be remembered that the cost of shipment, whether by rail or boat, is but little, if any, more on manufactured goods than on the raw material, while in the former case the cost of manufacture is distributed among our own people.

While we may not now be able to support large factories with our clips of wool, it will not be so long, we hope, for we are anxious to see this branch of industry—sheep husbandry—grow soon to the proportions and importance it so richly deserves at the hands of our farmers and planters generally. Statistics, as well as individual and collective experience, amply prove the profitability of sheep husbandry, especially for the wool crop, which is always in demand.—American Breeder and Planter.

To Take Ink Spots Out of Linen—Dip the ink spot in pure melted tallow, then wash out the tallow and the ink will come with it. This is said to be unfailing.

ROGERS'

LINIMENT.

CELEBRATED

The most remarkable curative discovery ever made in any country. A Liniment that penetrates the Muscle, Membrane and Tissue to the very bone itself, curing Disease; banishing Pain with a power that is astonishing in the extreme. The Proprietor of ROGERS' LINIMENT has been using it for the last twenty-five years, and the numerous certificates attached thereto will testify to its Curative Powers. It was just being started at the breaking out of the late war, and the Proprietor being entirely broken up then, is just now getting it revived, and it only needs a trial to insure success.

No Farmer or owner of Stock should be without a supply of this truly valuable Medicine. It is the only Medicine now in use that will permanently cure that fatal disease among cattle, called "hollow horn." ROGERS' LINIMENT has never failed to accomplish a speedy and permanent cure; it also prevents Flies and Gnats from troubling Animals. It is the greatest destroyer of Bed Bugs ever offered to the public, and will not injure Furniture; on the contrary, it will cleanse and put a gloss on it equal to a coat of varnish.

The Proprietor of ROGERS' LINIMENT does not claim that it is a cure all, but does claim that it will cure any and all of the diseases mentioned; also do just what it is represented. It is the best article in the world for cleaning Guns, Pistols, Knives, etc.; for taking Rust off anything, and preventing anything from rusting on which it is used.

HEAR WHAT PEOPLE SAY WHO HAVE TRIED THE MERITS OF ROGERS' LINIMENT.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—Having tried and seen tried "ROGERS' LINIMENT" on Old Sores, I pronounce it the best remedy of the kind I ever saw, and recommend it to all who are in need of such an article. Yours, etc.,
P. BOSSIGNEUR, 334 south Basin st.
New Orleans, La., Aug. 1, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—A neighbor of mine had a young cow down with Hollow Horn. He told me he had tried everything he could think of without doing any good. I told him to get a bottle of "ROGERS' LINIMENT" and try it. He procured one bottle and commenced using it, and the cow began improving from the very first application, and before one bottle was used she was able to get up without help, and was cured sound and well, and is now as fat and fine as any cow in his stock.
Yours, etc.,
PHILIP MAGEE, St. Tammany Parish.
New Orleans, Aug. 20, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—"ROGERS' LINIMENT," put up for sale by you, is, I believe, the very best preparation of the kind in use. It ought to be in every farm and in every house. It is invaluable. Yours truly,
E. NORTH CULLOM.
Bayou LaCombe, Dec. 6, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—Please ship me by schooner Mary Ann five dozen more of "ROGERS' LINIMENT." The sale is increasing rapidly. And oblige, yours truly,
JOE H. BLACK.
Pearlington, Miss., Sept. 1, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—Please send us two dozen more of "ROGERS' LINIMENT." It is taking well here, and we think the sale will increase. Yours, etc.,
POITEVAULT & FAYRE.
Bayou LaCombe, Nov. 25, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—Please send me a half-dozen bottles "ROGERS' LINIMENT." I am entirely without it, and need it very much. And oblige, yours etc.,
W. C. ERMERT.
Abita Springs, La., June 31, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—I have been using "ROGERS' LINIMENT" in my family and on my animals for the last seven years, and it has exceeded my expectations in every respect. I would not be without it for a single day. I recommend it to every one, both for Man and Beast. Yours, etc.,
FRANCOIS FIOT.
Mobile, Alabama, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—I have used "ROGERS' LINIMENT" in over a hundred cases in my practice, and find it an invaluable Remedy. Yours, etc.,
L. W. WHITAKER, M. D.
Mobile, June 30, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—Please send me one-half dozen bottles "ROGERS' LINIMENT," as my stock has suffered very much for the want of it. Since you left Mobile I have been without it. Yours truly,
JACOB MAOSE, Planter's Cotton-Press.
New Orleans, Aug. 22, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—I have tried "ROGERS' LINIMENT" for Fresh Cuts, Old Sores and Sore Back on animals, and find it to be as recommended. It is the Best Remedy of the Kind in use. Yours truly,
L. ROCA, Lumber Yard, Old Basin.
Mobile, Alabama, 1879.

W. H. Toomer, Esq.:
Sir—Having seen "ROGERS' LINIMENT" used for Rattlesnake Bites, I can say that it is the Best Remedy I ever saw to relieve and cure snake bites of any kind. Yours, etc.,
W. S. MITCHELL.

The Proprietor is in receipt of thousands of testimonials, too numerous to mention, testifying to the wonderful merits of ROGERS' LINIMENT.
