Sweet Breath and Good Digestion.

The breath sweetened, fowl odors from the body removed, food thoroughly digested, good health permanently maintained, by using Brown's Iron Bitters. A true strengthener; a sure reviver.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.
 The Clinton Watchman contains the following synopsis of the proceedings of the Circuit Court in that town last week:

Judges McVea and Pcell were here on Tuesday last, and at 10 o'clock a. m. opened the Circuit Court for business, and there being no cases on the Circuit docket, the court was adjourned sine die.

Peter Cooper says: If I could live my life over again, I would go fishing three days in the week.

When you are throwing the mantle of charity over an erring man, do not let it be a wet blanket.

It is said that rum is being made from old shoes. It ought to be just the brand for mixing cobbler's.

Enquirer: A school teacher is a person employed to give parents five hours of peace and quiet per day.

For sick headache and acid stomach, Bailey's SALINE APERIENT will give entire relief.

A lady, in reply to some guests who had praised the table, said: Oh, yes; my husband always buys the best. He is a great epicure.

It isn't exactly because a woman is afraid of a cow that she runs away and screams, but it is because gored dresses are not fashionable.

"Do you believe in a future life, in which we shall renew the ties that bind us together here?" "I do," said the hen-pecked husband, "but I don't want to."

A club of sixty anglicised young Bostonians are about to introduce for hunting. The suburban farmer's clubs are laying in duck shot, and will introduce fool hunting.

It is a sad but true fact that the range of a voice cannot cook a dinner.—Musical Herald. We know a man who had his goose cooked by letting his voice have too much range.

New style of Western joke: Suppose there was a man named Icular, and he had a dog. When they were together they could not lie down, because they would have to remain purp and Icular.

Scientists say that the best brain food is cornmeal; so if you wish to flatter a scientist by some allusion to his mental capacity, all you have to do is to call him a mush head—then run.

"Intelligent!" said the man of his setter dog. "He knows a heap, sir. Why, once he took a dislike to a man, and went and induced the man to kick him, so I would lick the man. Fact, sir."

When a young man swears off smoking, commences to turn his collars, and runs his shoes over at the heels, you can make up your mind that he's going to make some confiding lady miserable in a very short length of time.

A Miss Buchanan, once rallying her cousin, an officer, on his courage, said: "Now, Harry, do you really mean to tell me you can walk up to a cannon's mouth without fear?" "Yea," was the prompt reply, "or to a Buchanan's either." And he did.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes dependency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex. Home Journal.

Mr. Alexander Grunnell, of Albany, N. Y., says: "I had been for years troubled with great weakness of my digestive organs, which seemed to be always out of fix. Most usually I suffered from constipation, and at other times a severe running-off at the bowels would set in. No remedy I ever tried would regulate this function until I tried Brown's Iron Bitters. It really benefited me from the first day I used it. My habits are now perfectly regular, and as a strengthener of the digestive organs, I think Brown's Iron Bitters worth its weight in diamonds."

A LITTLE MIXED.

A fashionable young lady visited a cooking school, recently, where her attention was equally divided between a new dress worn by an acquaintance and the directions for making a cake. Upon returning home she undertook to write down the recipe for making the cake for her mother, and the old lady was paralyzed when she read:

"Take two pounds of flour, three rows of pleating down the front, the whites of two eggs cut bias, a pint of milk ruffled around the neck, half a pound of currants with seven yards of bead trimming, grated lemon peel with Spanish lace fichu; stir well, and add a semi-fitting paletot with visite sleeves; butter the pan with Brazilian topaz necklace, and garnish with icing and jetted passementerie; bake in a moderately hot oven until the over-skirt is tacked from the waste down on either side, and finish with large satin bows." Her mother said she wouldn't eat such a cake, and she thought these new-fangled ideas in cooking ought to be frowned down.

While going down Cambridge street, Boston, a University car became derailed, and went jolting over the pavement in such a manner that the big round waist-coat of the obese passenger shook like jelly. "Not a very aesthetic movement, this," quoth he. "It should be," growled an Englishman from a corner, "it is a 'oss car wild.'"

Any woman who feels poorly, and is full of aches and pains once a month, should not hesitate to use Dr. Droungole's ENGLISH FEMALE BITTERS.

OUR VERB.

An educational journal thus describes the trouble a Frenchman had with the word "break":

"I begin to understand your language better," said my French friend, Mr. Dubois, to me, "but your verbs trouble me still; you mix them up so with prepositions."

"I am sorry you find them so troublesome," was all I could say.

"I saw your friend, Mrs. Murkerson, just now," he continued. "She says she intends to break down housekeeping. Am I right there?"

"Break up housekeeping," she must have said.

"Oh, yes, I remember, break up housekeeping."

"Why does she do that?" I asked.

"Because her health is broken into."

"Broken down?"

"Broken down? Oh, yes; indeed, since the small-pox has broken up in our city—"

"Broken out?"

"She thinks she will leave it for a few weeks."

"Does she leave the house alone?"

"No; she is afraid it will be broken—how do I say that?"

"Broken into."

"Certainly; that was what I meant to say."

"Is her son to be married soon?"

"No; that engagement is broken—broken - broken off."

"Ah, I had not heard of that."

"She is very sorry about it. Her son only broke the news down to her last week. Am I right? I am anxious to speak English well."

"He merely broke the news; no preposition this time."

"It is hard to understand. That young man, her son, is a fine young fellow: a breaker, I think."

A broker, and a fine young fellow. Good-day, sir!"

So much for the verb "to break."

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, and elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

D. HARTER'S
IRON TONIC.
 A combination of Ferrous Sulfate of Iron, Ferruginous Bark, and Phosphorus in a palatable form. The only preparation of iron that will not blacken the teeth, so characteristic of other iron preparations.

GENTLEMEN: I have used Dr. HARTER'S IRON TONIC in my practice, and in an experience of twenty-five years in medicine, have never found anything to give the results that Dr. HARTER'S IRON TONIC does. In many cases of Nervous Prostration, Female Debility, Dyspepsia, and an impoverished condition of the blood, this peculiar remedy, has in my hands, made some wonderful cures. Cases that have baffled some of our most eminent physicians, have yielded to this great and incomparable remedy. I prescribe it in preference to any iron preparation made. In fact, such a compound as Dr. HARTER'S IRON TONIC is a necessity in my practice.
 Dr. ROBERT SAMUELS,
 St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25th, 1881.

It gives color to the blood, natural healthful tone to the digestive organs and nervous system, making it applicable to General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Prostration of Vital Powers and Impotence.
